It is the first school district in Nassau and Suffolk Counties and among the first in the State to grant the plan, which was brought to it by Andrew J. Jonson, president of the Freeport Non-Teaching Unit of the Nassau Chapter. Mr. Flammangbaum added in the sel-

Long before this writer can remember, employee groups in this nation have contended that management did not understand the problems of administration. Somehow there is a loss of meaning and understanding in the transmission of rules, regulations, procedures, and policy from the top administrator to the line employees. This has been the crux of the problem.

Employee-Managers Committees

It seems to me that we are obsessed with the workers' level. Most of our CSEA Chapters now have an employee-management committee. At this time I would like to urge all local committees to continue these committees should plan with their CSEA field representative to establish this committee which will be beneficial to both employees and management.

Nassau Chapter Offers Cruise

The 15th annual dinner dance of the Ray Brook chapter, Civil Service Employees Union Association, was held recently at the St. Moritz Hotel Lake Placid. Approximately 110 members and friends attended.

Harry Sullivan was toastmaster, with Father Camillus giving the Invocation and Dr. Lionel Monroe, past president, being honored guest. With the attendance of the local district supervisor, Chief Probation Officer John M. Sprole, the discussion which followed the dinner dance was an outstandingly good in some respects. That will set you apart and give you distinction. Probably you can't do all things in the superlative degree but you can certainly do some one thing exceptionally well.

Health Benefits Plan

The new Federal employees health benefits program, which is the largest voluntary program of its kind in the world, went into effect June 30 for the first group of employees to be covered. By July 10 the remainder of the 18 million employees and their 2.2 million dependents who have enrolled in the program will be covered. The difference in effective dates is due to different pay periods.

There are 38 health benefits plans approved by the Commission for participation in the new program. These include two Government-wide plans, which are open to all employees, 11 plans sponsored by Federal employee organizations, which are open on a membership basis, and 21 comprehensive medical plans which are not affiliated with employee organizations working or residing within the geographic area served by the particular plan.

The Government will contribute, up to the half of each health benefit plan, with the employee paying the balance of the cost of the plan he selects through payroll deductions. The volume of flex-wage coverage is expected to approximate $250,000,000.

NEED To Push For Civil Service Planks

The National Federation of Federal Employees has announced that it will urge the Democratic and Republican National Conventions to adopt strong civil service planks in their 1960 platforms.

Congressman presentations will be made to the platform committees of both parties.

Van Owen, NFPE president, said the union will urge a stronger plank of the merit system, that all promotions except a few at the top, be based under the competitive system, and that both political parties place themselves in these objectives.

He said the NFPE would "urge the parties to support the strongest plank of the Civil Service Commission, that the examination system be used both in the recruiting process and in the Civil Service Law of 1933 and to repeal the bipartisan Civil Service Commission by a single Director to be named by the President."

"We shall urge the adoption of a progressive and forward-looking Federal pay policy which will enable the Government to lead and not be a led by its employees. This is necessary to achieve compensation for its employees," he concluded.

As an alternate to the 14 per cent pay raise bill, because he believes Congress will not be able to override the Presidential veto, Rep. Edward H. Rees (R-Ill.), has offered a 6 per cent bill for postal employees only.

About 530,000 postal employees would benefit from the bill, but it would leave the government's classified white collar workers without a raise.

Rees has proposed the setting up a temporary commission to recommend a pay policy which could be used to fix salaries of the 13 million government employees not covered by the postal and wages board fields.

It has been reported that the union's plan has not been heeded by the Administration even though he has often in the past been the Administration's employee on legislation.

CIVIL SERVICE LAW & YOU

What Price Savings?

IT IS ONE of the fantastic anomalies of American attitude that a public good is looked upon with suspicion, while a private good—however wasteful—is seen as part of our way of life.

Thus, we think nothing of spending an extra two hundred dollars for more chromium on the car, but a fifty dollar raise in the tax rates to provide for a new school or a new hospital is received with hue and cry.

One aspect of this false public economy became apparent last week when one of New York City's ablest jurists resigned from his bench because of the court's inability to place him on the permanent active list. We were giving up justice ... I was sick at heart not to be able to give true justice ... You can't tell if a young fellow is a hoodlum just by looking at his teeth; his school record has been even more lenient. His decisions are mean- ingless, for if it is a violation of the Ethics Code if it is a conflict of interest, and if it is a violation of the Ethics Code, it is a conflict of interest, and if it violates the Ethics Code. Is it not a conflict of interest, it does not violate the Ethics Code, if it violates the Ethics Code.

The result may be catastrophic in terms of human lives and human resources. It is axiomatic in penology that reform is to be expected) that turnover is fantastically high—12 to 15 per cent below that of the county courts (where raises, too, are ex-

Montgomery County Unit Meets on Pay

The Educational Unit of the Montgomery County chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association met recently with the superintendent of schools, Dr. Stanley L. Raib and members of the Amsterdam Board of Education to discuss revision of salary schedules and other matters pertaining to vacations, sick leave, increments, classification of non-classified employees.

The secretaries of the Board of Education were represented by B. Joseph Donnelly, field representative of the CSEA. A lengthy discussion followed, regarding a new salary set-up which entails longer work hours and a wage scale that is considerably lower than the average of other school systems comparable in size to that of Amsterdam.

Another question was brought up with regard to some of the stenographers who have not been given an opportunity to become classified employees through a Civil Service test, after a period of several years, and it was promised that such action would be forthcoming.

Other grievances were discussed and the Board offered to make a further study of the matter and to let the secretaries know what the Board intends to do.

The Board also took under advisement the New York State Retirement System's recently enacted legislation regarding five percent wage increases for members of the system. The Superintendent was supplied with the information and the Board promised to study the matter report later.

NASSAU SUPREME COURT WELFARE GROUP PICNICS

The Welfare Organization of the Supreme Court, Nassau County, held its initial picnic at Salisbury Park, East Meadow, recently.

The program for the day consisted of the usual children's games, and prizes were awarded for first, second and third place winners.

Also, a softball game between husbands and wives was held.

At the organization's last meeting, the following officers were elected: Robert Lesin, president; William Newman, secretary; and Joseph Mathews, treasurer.
Social Security Questions Answered

I have been covered by social security since March 1956 when New York City employees were no red I will be on 65 on December 29 1941 if I retire from Civil service in January 1941 will I be fully covered? How much will my benefits be if I retire in January 1941? How much will my benefit be if I work until the end of the year? I have earned maximum wages in all years since I have been covered by social security.

During the first quarter of 1961 you will acquire your 25th quarter and therefore, be fully insured. If you retire in January 1961 your benefit based on maximum wages since 1956 will be $210 per month. If you work throughout 1961 and earn at least $6860 that your benefit will be $121 per month.

I lost an arm in the Korean War, but it has not kept me from working full time. I receive disability payments from the VA on account of this impairment and was wondering if social security disability benefits would also be payable.

Disability benefits under social security are payable only if you are disabled and unable to engage in any substantial gainful work. Since your impairment does not prevent you from working, you are not eligible for disability benefits.

My husband was paralyzed in 1947 and has been receiving social security disability benefits ever since. In 1956 and I've earned over $5,000 now at age 62 than it will be if I wait until age 65. I wish to retire on that date. I plan to move to Florida in April. Do I have to return all the money I've received if I apply for age 65 and have 25 quarters of coverage.

I recently married. What should I do to change my name on my social security card? Your wife could receive a lump sum payment of $585 and you would receive monthly payments totaling $314 for herself and the children. The monthly payments would continue as long as the youngest child reaches age 18.

Will my benefit on my deceased husband's account be lost if I file for benefits at age 62? It will be if I wait until I am 65. I would suggest that you file your application as soon as possible if you are already 62 years old as there is no reduction in benefits for a period of 62 and 63. The reduction in benefits is for the first time between those ages only applies to a wife and a working woman.

I recently married. What should I do to change my name on my social security card?

Obtain form SSA-517 from your local post office or social security office and complete it and return it to your social security office.

Instead of taking whatever the Commissioner hands us let’s get our just deserts whatever way we can.

With that, the patrolmen took the case to Mayor Wagner, who was still studying it, and to the N.Y. Supreme Court, where the judge told them to have a bit more patience.

Several weeks saw the United States Supreme Court refuse to hear the case, claiming it had no jurisdiction, and now it is strictly up to Mayor Wagner, according to the P.E.A.

John Cassese is proud of the fact that free insurance to P.E.A. members has been raised under his administration from 80 to $1,000 with no increase in premium costs. For an extra 75 cents a month (optional), P.E.A. members can get a $1,000 life insurance policy for $1.50 a month.

“Another thing we started,” said Ptl. Cassese, “was the P.E.A. can- nie for policemen like the second Patterson-Johnson fight, when hundreds of our men were on the goal and, in order to get some- thing to eat.

“One of our fellows gets some- thing to eat, and Hardart, loads them into a station wagon and takes them where the men need them. The P.E.A. saves the bill.”

State Classification Board

The State of New York within the framework of the Civil Service Commission has a division called "Division of Classification and Compensation." The Director is J. Earl Kelly, a career employees who knows civil service. The similar setup in New York is the "Career and Salary Board." The procedure of these two boards are related; they serve to ensure the fairness in establishing and reviewing the salary structure of the State employees. But here the similarity ends. The State agency seems to labor under the impression that it must act as a buffer between the civil servant and the State, consequently not many appeals are taken before the board and even fewer are granted. While the City board is constantly being urged by City employees who are in most cases granted relief and receive equitable treatment. On June 20 the N.Y. Career and Salary Appeals Board granted upward reallocation in 114 out 128 cases; this will result in annual salary increases to thousands of N.Y. City employees. Probation and Panel Officers were granted a three-grade reallocation, making their new salary $5,450 to $6,890 a year.

In the last four sessions the City appeals board 419 titles were upgraded and only 29 denied. In the same period of time what has the State board done to adjust salaries? Are you kidding?

The State employees disheartened by the past performances of the Division of Classification and Compensation are no longer making effective use of this agency. Thousands of employees would like to avail themselves of the Services of this agency but feel "what's the use?"

At the last legislative session the State appeals board was reconstituted. Now the procedure is to take your reallocation to the Division of Classification and Compensation and if denied, the Civil Service Commissioners have the power to override the Director.

I personally believe this is a change for the better. The State employees are sufficiently protected by the changing and very efficient appeals board. The State now sees the trend towards granting salary adjustments through reallocation. The Civil Service Employees Association with its staff of attorneys should again take up the cudgel for those thousands of State employees who are not being paid salaries comparable to those in private industry and other governmental jurisdictions.

With the present reallocation in the hands of the Civil Service Commissioners, no longer do we have one-man rule which has been prevalent for a long time.

300 Westchester Members Meet

The Westchester County Civil Service Employees Association Chapter held its regular monthly meeting on June 20th in the Surrogate's Courthouse in White Plains. An overflow attendance of over 300 members heard speaker County Executive Edwin O. Michaelian. Mr. Michaelian thanked the Association for the manner in which the officers introduce and discuss the wishes and desires of the employees with the Executive Staff of the County Government. He stated that he was well acclimated with the Association's aims and, incidentally is now in the discussion stage with personnel officer Department of County civilians.

"The County Executive spoke about the importance of informing the public about the public servant. He stated that "in the minds of some of the public, there is a feeling that the career public servant is someone who is taken completely for granted; someone who is incapable of holding a job of its public industry. There is nothing further than the truth about that," Mr. Michaelian advised that the employees should be active in public industry. There is no substitute for the public servant."

President Gabriel Carabas opened the meeting by addressing the Association, especially in view of the fact that the County Executive has such an extreme busy schedule.
