Henry Shemin, Chairman of the resolutions committee of the Civil Service Employees Association, has urged all conferences, chapters, and CSEA members to send to headquarters promptly resolutions they wish to have considered at the Annual Convention in October.

The resolutions committee will meet in Albany on August 11th to get a good start on its task. It knows that most of the resolutions will be received before that date.

The CSEA By-laws provide that "all resolutions submitted at the Annual Convention shall be considered at the Annual Convention first shall be submitted in writing to the Resolutions Committee," and that all resolutions submitted on or before the then held at the Convention shall be reviewed, edited and consolidated by the committee, which shall, or before the fourth day of September, report to all Chapters of the Association the disposition of such resolutions.

Resolutions should be sent to Resolutions Committee, CSEA, 61 Duane St., New York, N. Y., c/o Chairman, Henry Shemin.

The committee hopes to complete much of its work at the annual meeting. Another meeting will probably be necessary shortly after the deadline for resolutions to be submitted at the annual meeting on August 10 in order that the necessary work can be completed before the end of the month. Resolutions are not considered after the deadline, and the CSEA Resolutions Committee urges that all resolutions being made with the By-laws so that they can be given full consideration prior to the annual convention and as that chapter can be aware of resolutions to be considered prior to the Annual Convention and submit their delegates accordingly. This affords more careful consideration of resolutions and is more preferable than having delegates present resolutions orally at the convention itself, said Mr. Shemin.

LEAVE 20,000

ON S.I. HANDICAPPED

Twenty thousand City employees in Staten Island are caught in a quagmire of confusion about medical insurance of City employees and a determined effort of the Jamaica Hospital on Staten Island to fight what they consider a first step toward "socialized medicine." Most City employees are covered by H.I.P., under a City contribution plan. Altogether H.I.P. has 600,000 subscribers, or nearly 160,000 members on the island, four-fifths of whom are City employees.

H.I.P. is providing all medical services, but for specialists, particularly orthopedic surgeons, Staten Islanders may find it necessary to use Manhattan doctors.

Dr. George Bahr, Chairman of the Public Health Council of the Staten Island Medical Society, and the Legislative Committee last week that the "afflicted, monopolized medical service of Richmond County." All Staten Island voluntary hospitals have "created a built-in monopoly of medical practice for themselves."

Dr. Bahr, who is also a member of the Board of Trustees of the City of New York and a director of the New York and Metropolitan Hospital, called that the Richmond County Medical Society and the Richmond County group hospitals "jeopardize the health and safety of over 24,000 residents of the island, who construct and defend the Health Insurance Law of the State of New York."

The charges were made by Dr. Bahr during a public hearing held Thursday in the auditorium of the New York Medical College, 1833 W. 1st St., New York. The audience was the Board of Hospitals of the Richmond County Medical Society, the Richmond County group of hospitals, the people of Richmond County.

It is "in the interest of their medical specialty that they have encouraged such experimentation," Dr. Bahr declared.

Many of them still resist introduction to the equalization of medical care which is reflected in their present status as the high caliber of present-day policemen is below the American average, Dr. Bahr declared. "It is the people with their families who perform non-hazardous duties who are the best qualified to represent the community."

John H. Martin, the New York City Health Commissioner, who is president of the Transfair Parolee's Benevolent Association, and the New York City Police Commission. He also stated that police officers, through first-hand experience, have the basic knowledge and know-how to make such examinations. "One employee who could make an examination could make an open competitive examination for distribution in September."

The schedule of examinations is as follows:

- September 16: home economics, substitute, women only,

Johnson Backed Pay Raise for U. S. Aides

The Democratic nominee for Vice President, Lyndon B. Johnson, should find a lot of support from Federal employees in November. He was the one who warned employee leaders that the nine percent wage increase granted last fall was too high to pass over a Presidential veto.

Observers say that if he hadn't fought as hard as he did for the bill, it wouldn't have gone through. Manhattan-Bricklers World's Largest Local

The Ladies' Union of Manhattan-Bricklers, with 12,000 members, is the largest single local union in the country. This union is affiliated with the world, according to Mrs. Miller, the organization's president. The union was founded with the Independent National Postal Clerks union.

Mrs. Miller said that during the midst of the pay raise drive in June, 3,000 new members signed up.

Blue-Cross and Aetna Sending Out 1D Cards

Blue-Cross-Blue-Shield Aetna Life Insurance Co., the two organizations offering Government-approved plans under the new Health Benefits Plan, are in the process of sending out identification cards to employees who subscribed in their programs.

Both organizations will take care of cases where employees use the benefits but do not have their identification cards yet. Aetna has guaranteed payment pending a check of employee and agency records.

Blue-Cross-Blue-Shield suggests that employees be prepared to tell the physician and hospital the name, address, and phone number of the person on file in the agency.

The Lady Greyhound campaign will use one of many ideas developed by local post offices in this case a directive issued by Miss Parlante, General Manager, First Transit Building, Fulton and Orange Sts., Brooklyn.

ASKS SOCIAL SECURITY FOR FEDERAL CLERKS

Editor, The Leader:

Since City and State civil service clerks have Social Security, as well as retirement pensions, and a private industry clerks enjoy both, Federal Government employees feel it is long past time that we should not have it when it is a government institution.

We know it could be offered to us on a voluntary basis as it was in the past. Not too many years ago, we were afraid of it, and those who don’t want to contribute do not need to.

The whole point is for the government clerks not to have a large retirement benefit even after many years of service due to the substantial amount of Social Security as well as do other types of clerks. Can’t we be included in it?

NEW YORK CITY

URGES ESTIMATE TO BOARD OF COMMUNICATORS TO SUPER CLERK, STENO

Editor, The Leader:

The following is a copy of a telegram by John K. O’Hara, member of the New York City Board of Estimate on June 5, 1960:

"In view of the Board’s consideration of the Department of Posts and Telegraphs for promotion to supervising clerk and supervising stenographer, urge Board of Communicators to furnish evaluations of some position classification so that some of the terrible freeze on promotions which has created widespread dissatisfaction and discontent among affected. This freeze has been caused by the Federal application of a provision of the so-called ‘Beame resolutions’ which established the present promotion formula. As an immediate relief in this instance, Board is requested to state the necessary action to provide for a reasonable number of promotions to super clerk and supervising stenographer, in view of the actual positions of the State Code, because the State Code has no enforcing Board. The City Code is live. It is administered by a Board which carries on an enforcement, and this is superior to the State Code, because the State Code has no enforcing Board. The City Code is live. It is administered by a Board which carries on an enforcement.

"The most frustrating complication is the extremely detrimental to the employees’ promotional opportunities is the lack of promotion to posts where professional reclassification requests now pending in the Department of Personnel. Since the promotion formula is based upon position classification, it is unfair unless these requests, appeals, and requests are heard and decided promptly and properly, the current system of promotion will inevitably lead to serious inequities and injustices and a complete breakdown in morale.

"Another serious problem for these employees is the failure of the Department of Personnel to furnish evaluations of some positions held by employees in positions of salary grade 10 or lower. Many of these employees cannot understand why evaluation of the original desk audit label was made when personnel in the same positions had been audited many months many months ago."

"If the problem is one of a lack of man-power in the Department, I request that you order the proper authorities to stop what must be considered deliberate delay in this matter."

of a groundless fear that he might be sued under a law, or take a chance and run the risk of getting into trouble. The Code has operated effectively in New York City. One of the reasons is that this Board’s Counsel is Mr. Kreutzer.

Employees have a fear of these Codes. They usually feel that Cudahy may prosecute what they are doing or what they intend to do.
I cannot write about codes generally. However, I can assure you that if they are like the New York City Code, a dishonest employer has a lot to fear and the average employer has nothing to fear. In fact the average employer is actually helped.

Code Is for Everyone

The Board is there, not just for the big officials, but for the employees. Anyone can walk right in and get an opinion. As to what the Board does, let us glance at some of its official opinions.

You know how often an employee may want to work for another Department of the same government for a limited number of hours a week. There used to be a fear about this sort of thing based upon the possibility of loss of the major job if the same employee learned about the other employment. Under Opinion No. 9, that is no longer the case. As long as there is no conflict of working hours, assignment of duties or violation of other reasonable conditions, the employer can work at both jobs. It sounds sensible.

Accountants are asked to do a lot of private work after their hours of public employment. One of them wanted to know if he could. In Opinion No. 8 the Board answered yes, as long as he did his private work in his private time and as long as neither he nor his partners prepared city tax returns. The opinion was fair to the employees and to the City.

Can a City employee buy stock in a company which does business with the City? That has long been a source of trouble. Opinion
No. 10 states that he can so long as he has no official contact with the company or with the City agency with which it does business.
And why not?

In the interest of public employees, I strongly recommend the adoption of effective Codes of ethics throughout the State.

JUDGE POSTEL

Although her parents had money they tavelled a great deal and as a result the child had developed a bitter hatred for both her mother and father which was carried over to the personnel of the institutions. The preparation of the psychiatric court psychiatrist, the intelligent examination of a probation officer, and the judgment of the Judge, permitted the girl to be placed in an institution. A two-year stay at the young girl’s home ended; today, at 16, she is a well adjusted member of the family.

"Not all decisions are the right decisions," Judge Postel points out.

There is a risk in every one of them both for the young person appearing before the Judge and for society. Every mistake is a very costly one for both. A Judge has to use all his background, knowledge and intuition as well as all the information the civil service staff can provide for him in order to come to the best answer on a proper course of rehabilitation.

Questions Answered On Social Security

I will be retired in the near future. Should I wait until I have stopped working before I apply for my social security benefits?

No. Don't wait until you retire to apply for your social security benefits. You should apply as many as three months before retiring and this will speed the delivery of your first social security check.

Just how disabled do you have to be to qualify for social security disability benefits at age 50?

The law defines disability as an inability to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or to be of long-continued and indefinite duration.

How long must I work under social security in order to qualify under the disability provisions of the law?

You must have worked in employment or self-employment covered by social security at least twenty out of the thirty years eligible for quarters (that is, five out of the last ten years) before you became disabled.

I am drawing social security benefits. If I earn over $1,200 per year, what must I do?

First, you should report to the Social Security Administration as soon as you are reasonably sure you will earn over $1,200. Second, you must file an annual report of your earnings within three months of the last day of your taxable year. For most people this taxable year coincides with the calendar year, which means that you must have until April 15 to file the annual report.

Does everyone who receives social security payments and earns over $1,200 a year have to make this annual report?

No. The law does not require a report by a beneficiary who is age 72 or over for the entire year.

How long does it take to get a decision on a claim?

There is no set time for deciding a claim. It is always necessary for us to secure a record of your earnings from our central office, which usually takes a week or more. Simultaneously, we obtain the other proofs and information required, make a determination, and forward it to the appropriate payment center for review. The check is then issued by the Treasury Department.

My employment has been covered by social security since 1956 and I've earned $12,000 every year. How much could my wife and children receive if I should die?

Your wife could receive a lump-sum death payment of $125. She would then receive monthly payments totaling $254 for herself and the children. The monthly payments would continue until the youngest child reaches age 18.

I have been drawing social security retirement benefits for a number of years now. A friend recently told me that my benefits would soon be exhausted. Is this true? I am dependent upon my benefits for my income.

No. Your friend is misinformed. Your benefits do not have a time limit on them nor are they ever exhausted. You need have no worry that your social security payments will run out.

But does the disability law help anyone who has no job and no savings? I am only 34 years old and I understand you have to be 60 to get any payments.

Yes, the Social Security Act created a new disability program in 1956 to provide payments in the future. All this is in the Social Security Act. About 100,000 people now receive this new disability program.

My husband is disabled and I have no income. I want to know if I can get any help from the Social Security Administration.

If you are the wife of a disabled person and there is need, we would make a deduction from his basic benefit which would place you in a class of beneficiaries who are entitled to children's benefits if they are under 16 years of age.

I have a brother who is disabled and we want to know if we can get any help from the Social Security Administration.

If you need help in any way we will be glad to give it.

I have a disabled child who is receiving disability benefits. Can I get any help from the Social Security Administration?

Yes, we will be glad to help you.
