Prisoners Faring Better Than Guards In Facilities

A policemen's lot is not a happy one, says the Citizens' and Cit-izens' duty, and Sing Sing Prison correction officers are complaining that it is not a very sanitary one, either. Their colleagues at Fishkill and Napanoch Ins- titute agree.

The grievance is that while prisoners have full sanitary facil- ities no matter where they are, the men assigned to watch them are often confined to guard posts. It is said no matter where they are, correction officers are complain- ing that it is not a very sanitary place to be.

A seminar to demonstrate methods by which employees pro- posals can be more surely brought to the attention of State legisla- tors will be held at 5 p.m., October 22, at Rehabilitation Hospital, West 14th Street.

Mr. Shemin is the Civil Service Employees Association, the sub- ject of the seminar will be "How to Make Effectively With Out Side Media".

Shear Heads Pupi Personnel Services

The letter to Mr. Leonard points out that the Employees Association has taken a number of steps to reduce the work week from 48 to 40 hours, has been of increasing concern to our membership.

In 1956 the State embarked on a program of reducing the work week from 48 to 40 hours for Institution employees. This was an important step in the struggle for the 40-hour week for Institution employees.

The problem of equalization of salaries has been one of the most pressing issues in recent years. The idea of equal pay for equal work has been a cornerstone of the CSEA's campaign for equalization.

The CSEA's Resolutions Committee has been working hard to ensure that all State employees receive fair and equal pay for their work. This year they have been especially active in pushing for equalization of salaries for employees in the State's educational system.

Shear promoted on the subject will be Mr. Shear, Dr. Clinton Dominick, III, from the Rockland-Orange County Bicentennial District; Harry Abbott, Jr., CSEA at- torney, who will represent the labor side of the agreement; and Arthur Hopper, assistant editor of the New York Journal, who will ex- plains the purpose of the seminar.

The seminar will be held at the State Education Building, 1080 Madison Avenue, and will run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The seminar will cover a variety of topics related to the grievance process, including the importance of maintaining records, the role of the grievance committee, and the steps that can be taken to ensure that grievances are handled fairly and promptly.

The seminar is open to all interested parties, including faculty, staff, and students. Admission is free, but registration is required. For more information, contact the CSEA at (518) 474-8710.

Shemin Urges All to Get Resolutions to Committee

Mr. Shemin urges all to get resolutions to the Committee on Salary Equalization.

The State Education Department (SED) has published a new pamphlet on the relationship between cigarette smoking and health. The pamphlet, "American About Cigarette Smoking," is available for free at your local health department or by contacting the SED directly.

The pamphlet provides information about the health risks associated with cigarette smoking, including the connection between smoking and various diseases such as cancer, heart disease, and lung disease. It also discusses the social and economic impact of smoking on individuals and society as a whole.

The pamphlet is part of the SED's ongoing effort to raise awareness about the serious health consequences of smoking and to encourage people to quit. The SED encourages everyone to read the pamphlet and to share it with others who may be interested in learning more about this important issue.

The pamphlet can be downloaded from the SED website or requested by mail. To order a copy, call (518) 473-4320 or email info@ed眺.gov.

Salary Study Awaits

Legislative issues such as salary increases, working conditions, retirement improvements, work hours, personal matters and other employee needs will be cov- ered by this resolution program, which will be approved by the hundreds of delegates scheduled to attend the annual meeting of the State Education Association (SEA) in October 6 through 8 at the Conrad Hotel, Kalamazoo Lake, N.Y.

Further actions of the Resolu- tion Committee will appear in coming issues of The Leader.

Corrections Officer

by Jack Solod

New Approach for Correction Officers

For the past dozen years I have attended meetings all over the State. My primary interest has been in an effort to promote the general and professional interest of the New York City Police. I have appeared before governors, lieutenant governors, majority leaders, speakers of the House, legislative committees, commissioner of corrections and other organizations. I have planned meetings on a national and international level. I have been trained in the art of coordination of effort. Without that, the less that can be learned by them and how the two forces can operate together is not clear. As such a force, we can provide for $1.50 round trip. All arrangements must be completed by September 15. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1.50 for children. Employees and members of the local union may arrange for their own transportation, but for those who cannot please send in a request so that arrangements can be made. There will be dinner, games and entertainment. The committee in charge of the arrangements includes chairman, Herbert Karp; treasurer, Mildred Ziegler; and general chairman, Dr. George Whyte.}

For this period. Dec., 1957 to May, 1958, the hospital received $277,725,762, or 1.5% increase of the same period total $25,502,000 for the same period. Total $13 million premium which had been approved for the period, but are awaiting start of the coverage.

Registration will take place between 9:00 and 10:00 a.m. The luncheon meeting will begin at 10:00 a.m. and run until 2:00 p.m. A buffet lunch will be served in the Stag Room and the session will end at 2:00 p.m. with the County Workshop meeting in the Stag Room and the State Division meeting in the Cooper Room.

Danemore Gets New Asst. Director

Dr. Ludwig Fish has been appointed assistant director of Danemore State Hospital. Born in Germany, Dr. Fish came to the United States in 1947 and entered N.Y. State Service at the same time. In 1953 he transferred to Kings County Hospital in Brooklyn and in 1959 he was appointed psychiatrist at Kings County Hospital. In 1959 he was named director of the Psychiatric Center, a psychiatric clinic in Queens.

Dannemore has had one of its best crop of tomatoes in many years.
Interagency Training Programs Announced

The Defense Department has published the Fall 1969, issue of its bulletin, "Interagency Training Programs," which lists more than 100 courses to be conducted by 19 Federal agencies for Government employees.

This record number of courses will be offered between now and January 1970. The bulletin is available for distribution to individuals interested in the courses, or from the personnel offices of the agencies.

In the section of the bulletin on the training programs, agencies interested in the programs should send requests to the personnel offices of the agencies.

Restrictions of Hatch Act Outlined by CSC

Because of the current political climate, the Civil Service Commission has outlined the restrictions of the Hatch Act, which regulates political activity on the part of Federal employees.

The Commission enforces the rules for the competitive civil service, and exempted employees are covered by existing Hatch Act regulations.

Any inquiries about the rules should be made to the Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D.C.

Generally, those affected by the Act are employees of the executive branch of the Federal Government and the Government of the District of Columbia, including temporary and part-time employees.

New York Post Office Gets New Truck Fleet

Implementing Postmaster General J. Harold rusty's intensified program to "Move Today's Mail Today, the New York Post Office has placed in service 234 of its new three-ton motor vehicles with new red, white and blue, 1600, two-and-half-ton trucks.

This program, being pioneered in New York Post Office, has resulted in improved depot, mail, intercity, and delivery service and a more efficient vehicle utilization, according to the Post Office.

On August 26, at the Post Office Center, the Director of the Post Office, Postmaster Roberts K. Christenberry officially turned over the keys of one of the trucks to John F. Ward, superintendent of Vehicle Services, for operation in New York.

Army Employees Win Performance Awards

Three civilian Army employees in this field alone have been given performance awards in the past year by Alice Greenfield, who retired recently from her job as secretary to the Chief, Training Branch of the First U. S. Army G-2 Section, on Governors Island, after 25 years of service.

The other awardees, Lydia P. Fernandez of the Headquarters, Post U. S. Army, was presented with two performance award certificates for outstanding superior performance and one for outstanding rating.

Tracy Younger, a secretary for the organization and movement branch, Operations Division, Headquarters, First Army, was recognized for her performance and award certificate and cash award for sustained superior performance.

Approval of Retirees' Health Bill Expected

A new health bill, similar to a one already passed by the Senate, will be given to U. S. retirees and survivors a health benefits plan will be established.

The President's advisors are reportedly in agreement about the bill — some would like to see it passed and others argue that it should be given preferential treatment to people who want to, or cannot, keep them in the Senate.

Three Major Employee Bills to Be Held Over

Two important employee bills, both sponsored by Rep. John Lust- dred (D-Mich.), will probably be held until next year, according to observers. Both have the approval of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, and both are pending on the House calendar.

House leaders are not pushing them, though, because there are no comparable bills in the Senate.

One of them concerns promotion and would, guarantee classified employees who are promoted from one grade to another a salary increase equal to at least two steps.

Twice in the past the Defense Department has accepted redemption orders without appeal, but this time it may not do so.

The Budget Bureau directive an- nouncing the proposal has al- lowed for protests from agencies that do not want to, or cannot, make the cut.

With both political parties expressing greater defense measures, it is unlikely that any cuts in civilian personnel will be justifi- ed, and some officials feel that any reductions now would just be shamelessly followed by Members of Congress.
Applications are currently being accepted for a third group of examinations. The duties and qualifications of the positions are described on pages 11 and 12.

Arbitration Is a Right

ROBERT editorial comment in a prominent New York daily newspaper, the Leader, expressed the hope that laws for pensions for firemen and policemen and retirement of these employees after 20 years, shows the continued lack of understanding of civil service employees and their problems by those outside the field.

When a usually well informed newspaper takes the stand that firemen and policemen should not be permitted to retire after 20 years' service, it is a perfect example of being out of date with the times and not understanding how the public feels on this and other problems. When a man puts himself into this work for a stretch of 20 years or more, he may or may not be willing and able to change over to some other work. At any rate, common sense and the happiness of all concerned should not be required. Therefore, fire and police must have decent pensions to live on. (The partially disbanding occupational hazards that an employee suffers during his strenuous work after they retire go without stating).

Like Rotation for G's

The fact that firemen and policemen may retire after 20 years' service, often shortly after reaching age 40, was criticized as "extravagantly expensive." Their retirement system can be compared to the rotation program under which American troops in Korea were assured there was a limit to the time they would be required to risk their lives against the North Koreans and Chinese. Or, it can perhaps be compared to the 20 or 20 missions World War II bombardiers flew, after which they knew they would be rotated to Stateside duty, if they lived that long.

The percentage of firemen's and policemen's pensions—and for that matter, all City employees' pensions—that the City pays is not really significant as such, since payments usually reflect hidden pay increases or the lack of them at various times during past years.

Many of the other fringe benefits various employees enjoy are the City's way of apologizing for withholding obvious and long overdue benefits for political reasons. Since switching these fringe benefits around into a more logical and consistent pattern would be merely taking the money from a different City pocket and putting it into a different employee pocket, no one probably would mind very much.

Coordon Wadlin Law

Another main issue here is the Coordon-Wadlin Law, which forbids civil service workers to strike, and what should be done to reverse the current prevailing sentiment that how and the Administration is loath to enforce the law or even recognize the strike as a strike, and the employees are well rewarded for their efforts. The Decision of the employees who accept the no-strike law do not fare so well, either in their salary goals or their efforts for better working conditions.

The daily paper referred to above agrees with this and suggests that the anti-strike law be softened to make it more "reasonable" in its punishments and therefore more enforceable. It is up to The Leader to state that this is unnecessary and could be dangerous to the public and to the employees. What is necessary, and what employees have been begging for for years, is COMPULSORY AND GENUINE IMPARIAL ARBITRATION.

Questions Answered

ON SOCIAL SECURITY

Must I have a birth certificate for my baby's social security number? Problems.

No. Although this is the best possible proof, other documents are acceptable.

I work for a husband who refuses to pay social security taxes for his wife. What can I do?

If your husband is the sole proprietor of the business, you cannot receive social security for this and, in fact, he cannot pay social security taxes for you.

Can I name a beneficiary to collect my social security when I die?

No. The law allows only certain relatives to collect under your name and the social security benefit. It is simply a question of whether they are alive or dead. They are, your children under 18, children who are totally disabled due to an injury which occurred prior to age 18, your widow, and your children if you die at age 65, or at any age if she has a child of yours in her care and the child is supported by your Social Security benefits to the extent of their income for three months beyond that it.

Do I get a different social security tax rate if my husband is self-employed?

No. You always retain the same number. However, you should visit your local Social Security office and have the name changed on your account to your married name.

My grandchildren are being supported by me and I plan to retire in two months. Can they receive Social Security if I die?

No. There are no benefits paid.

Questions Answered
You should apply as early as three months before retiring and this action will speed the delivery of your first benefit check.

Although I am 65 years old, I am still working on a part-time basis. Can I still collect my benefits?

You can make up to $1,200 a year and still receive a social security check for every month of that year.

My employer tells me that I will be retired in the near future. Should I wait until I have stopped working before I apply for my benefits?

No. Don't wait until you retire. You should apply as early as three months before retiring and this action will speed the delivery of your first benefit check.

Although I am 65 years old, I am still working on a part-time basis. Can I still collect my benefits?

You can make up to $1,200 a year and still receive a social security check for every month of that year.

I get a disability pension from the State. Does this prevent me from getting disability benefits from social security if I meet all their requirements?

No. You may collect a pension (Continued on Page 10)
We are expected to perform the duties of a City policeman most of the time, of a sergeant some of the time, and of a psychiatrist all of the time. Our complaints are many, our requests few. We ask not for peace officer status; our present status as special officer is sufficient. We want only to be given the means to protect ourselves in any situation, a salary upgrade from grade 5 to at least grade 7.

We further request a partner and finally, recognition by the State that our job is law enforcement, and not food walking.

ASK LEADER'S HELP FOR POLICE ELIGIBLES
Editor, The Leader:

My name was on the 446-name list for certification from the New York City patrolman eligible list that Police Commissioner Kennedy returned to the Personnel Department unmarked. I was not on the 115-name certification sent out later. At present there are about 1,000 vacancies.

The Commissioner is using unfair and poor judgment in this matter. The Civil Service Commission should do something to correct it.

The Personnel Department and the Police Department have cleared these men on the list for employment with the Police Department and they should be given a fair chance for the job.

Social Security Questions Answered

Where can I write to find out how much social security credit I have in my account?

To your local Social Security Administration office for a statement of your account. You may be examined free of charge at the Social Security Administration, Baltimore, Maryland, and asking for a statement of your account. You have the right to see and receive in writing any evidence used as proof of your age. Don't delay filing your claim because you don't have a birth certificate. Your date of birth can be proven from an old family Bible, insurance policies you've had for some time, and children's birth certificates showing your name at time of child's birth. World War II draft records or records of your voter's registration can also be used.

Is it necessary that I have reached 65 before I check my social security account?

No. We suggest that you check your social security account before you reach retirement age age 65 for women, age 66 for men) or before you plan to retire.

A woman's Social Security Statement.

I am a new June bride and I know my employer will use my married name in reporting my wages. My social security card shows my maiden name. What do I do?

The answer to that is quite simple. Contact your local social security district office for Form SSA-1695, Report for Change in Records. Fill it out, send it to your district office and a duplicate card will be sent to you showing your new name. However, it will have the same number as your original social security card.

Southern Conference Meet Will Devote Its Attention To Resolution Program

The Southern Conference of the Civil Service Employees Association on resolutions submitted by the Rockland State Hospital, Orangeburg, N.Y., at 8 P.M. on Sept. 34. The conference will be held in Scranton in September, immediately prior to the annual C.S.E.A. October meeting, to give Conference delegates an opportunity to review actions of the CSEA Resolutions Committee. If any of these resolutions should be disputed by the Conference, the delegates may authorize the Conference officers at the meeting to bring any such resolutions with additional information and appear at the special meeting of the Conference Committee to argue and discuss the resolutions.

A letter is being sent out to all Conference Chapters, requesting them to send representatives to the meeting as many members as they can. This is to be an important legislative year for all employees, and if employees interest is not developed one can not expect the Governor and Legislature to pay much attention to requests for salary increases and equalizations, and better working conditions in the coming year when political attention is focused on other groups.

James Anderson, Conference president, has sent invitations to the following officials:

CSEA: Albert Killian, Raymond Simmons, advance, President; Andrew DeWolf, the many employees, and speaking about these for so many years that I may be a little suspicious of this new and different and speaking about these for so many years that I may be a little suspicious of this new and different.
