ALBANY, Dec. 19—Comptroller Arthur Levitt announced he has learned at press time that the Legislature intends to alter the eligibility for vesting rights from the current age 60 to age 55 over the next 10 years to 55 for members of the State Retirement System.

The Comptroller, as a member of the Governor's Committee on Vesting Eligibility, last year submitted a bill such members would receive 1 1/2 percent interest to be credited to three percent interest from the eligibility age of 60 agreed by the majority of the committee.

The Comptroller would also be permitted to make annual recommendations to the State Retirement System as to the amount of interest to be credited to three percent member accounts.

In commenting on this legislation, Mr. Levitt said, "I am looking forward to the day in the not too distant future when all members will be credited with four years of service, and would cause stepped improvement in our earnings will make this possible.

Important Changes Made in Social Security Law

by HENRY SHEMIN

On September 13, 1960, President Eisenhower signed the amended Social Security bill (H.R. 1860), which made some important changes in the Social Security Law.

One of the amendments reduces the number of quarters of coverage required for eligibility to retire. Prior to the enactment of this bill, a person retiring on the basis of calendar quarters between January 1, 1961, and the quarter in which he retired, would be eligible for retirement-age (65 for women, 65 for men). Now, to be eligible a person would need only one quarter of coverage for each 9 months of calendar quarters between January 1, 1961, and the beginning of the calendar quarter in which he retired. For example, a man born in October 1960, or a woman born in January 1961, formerly required 39 quarters of coverage, now will need only 16 quarters of coverage.

The table below indicates the number of quarters needed, depending upon when the worker reaches retirement age:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Year of birth</th>
<th>Quarters needed</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>64 men</td>
<td>18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>64 women</td>
<td>18</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The minimum requirements are still six quarters and the maximum 40 quarters.

Other Computations

Another method of computing the number of quarters required for eligibility is to count the number of years of service from 1961 to the year in which the empoyee reaches retirement age. For example, a woman born in 1960 needs 39 quarters of coverage. To determine the number of quarters from which one quarter of coverage is counted, divide 39 by 4. Thus, 9 quarters of coverage will be required in the year 1961, 10 quarters in 1962, 11 quarters in 1963, 12 quarters in 1964, etc.

Important Change

An important change is made in the eligibility formula of a worker can have and still sat all or part of his benefits for the year. A previous and non-beneficiary under 72 can lose a month's benefit for each 15% or fraction thereof over 72: No such increase would be 400 in the year. Beginning with January 1, 1961, the new test will be:

1. If the worker earns $1,200 or less a year, no benefits will be withheld for each $2 earned above $1,200.

2. If he earns between $1,200 and $1,500, $1 in benefits will be withheld for each $3 earned above $1,200.

3. On earnings above $1,500, $1 in benefits will be withheld for each $5 earned above $1,500. For example, a worker earning $1,800 will be witheld $300 plus $50, or a total of $350.

4. As at present, no benefits will be withheld for any month in which the employee earns $1,500 or less and is paid in wages or does not render substantial service in (self-employment), and no benefits will be withheld if the worker is 72 years or over.

Before the enactment of this bill, disabled insured workers under 65 years of age did not qualify for benefits. Now, starting with November 1960, all disabled fully insured workers, as defined in the law, regardless of age, and their dependents would qualify for benefits. However, the worker must have had earnings in five years during the 10 years prior to the month of application (if any) and at least 480 calendar quarters) prior to becoming disabled.

The Leader has learned that Statewide provides a new benefit protection for women and children, an increase in children's benefits and eligibility of adopted or stepchildren.

CSC May Become Part Of Executive Office

A proposed reorganization of government departments in the new administration is the subject of the Civil Service Commission to the Executive Officer of the President at the level of the Budget Bureau. As of now the chairmanship of the CSC and the post of Presidential advisor are under different people. If this proposal should go into effect, the chairman of the CSC would also have the job of personal advisor to the President.

Kennedy Will Back 30-Year Retirement

It is reported that a bill providing full retirement after 30 years of service is being drafted. Such a bill would probably have the support of the Kennedy administration as it would make it possible for Kennedy to fill the vacant position with new people.

Apprentices Graduated From Naval Shipyard

Leaders of the Federal employee unions are planning to ask Kennedy to support legislation giving union officials recognition. The union leaders hope to meet with the President-elect in the beginning of January.

A Trend in the Making

THERE may be a new trend in the making in New York City civil service, a trend to finally bring City employment to the levels in pay and other benefits that prevail in private industry.

Last week the Board of Estimate announced 430 Career and Salary Plan promotions, and upgradings for 177 job titles, including some outside the Plan. It also finally approved a general supplementary pension program that will mean a better life for the thousands of persons who retired from the Plan early for well-earned rest.

On top of this, Mayor Wagner announced a high-priority "study" will be conducted of the need for a general policy of new promotions and of the need for general upward reclassification of many City job titles. We have heard from reliable sources that both of these were foregone conclusions before the studies were announced and that the studies are only to find out how many. And several weeks ago, The Leader reported on a study now in progress to set up a standard, City-wide plan for payment of overtime.

The years since City employees have seen such strong indications that the City is interested in their well-being. If the moves listed above do indicate a trend, as they seem to, then a lot of people, more than they care to admit, will be able to take a bit of pride in working for the City of New York.

Seasons Greetings

THE LEADER wishes at this time to thank its many readers who have supported it during the year. May the Christmas and a Happy New Year to all.

Questions Answered

On Social Security

Below are questions on Social Security that have been asked by employees and answered by a legal expert in the field. Anyone with a question on Social Security is urged to write it out and send it to the Social Security Agency, 26 Washington Square N., N.Y.

Under the new law, can benefits be continued for a disabled person who is able to work despite severe handicaps that will continue to exist for twelve months—whether they go to work under a vocational rehabilitation program or on their own.

Yes. Beneficiaries who go to work despite severe handicaps will continue to receive benefits if they can prove that they cannot work for twelve months—whether they go to work under a vocational rehabilitation program or on their own.

Has there been any change in the law concerning minors?

No. The Social Security Act of 1935 defined a "dependent minor" as anyone under 18 years of age who is a member of the household of a parent or guardian, except a child of a deceased worker. The Act did not include a 16-year-old minor who is employed as a laborer or domestic help. The Social Security Act as amended in 1950 and 1952 now includes a 16-year-old minor who is employed as a laborer or domestic help.

Calls State Wage Study "Insincere"

Editor, The Leader:

Don't you think that the Civil Service Department of the City and the Service Employees Association and all civil servants, for that matter, should be through the sham of appointing a commission or committees to find out how our civil servants' working wages compare with private business wages?

Isn't it the business of those who run our State government to know at all times what the wage scales are? Don't they have agencies and departments collecting information regularly regarding wages? Don't they have a Bureau of Labor Statistics doing this work? And why the workmen's compensation reports and other reports being made continually to know what the wage scales are?

Why don't we take a stand against such insidious government trick stuff as commissions to study wages?

NYS Still Needs Welfare Workers

New York State is desperately in need of qualified welfare workers. To meet the pressing need they have opened on a continuous basis examinations for welfare representative (public assistance) and welfare representative (child welfare). Both titles pay from $5,796 to $7,028 a year, and there are vacancies throughout the State for both. The written test will be given at convenient locations in various parts of the United States. Application forms may be obtained by mail or in person from the State Department of Civil Service, The State Campus, Albany; or Room 2301, 270 Broadway, New York City; or from local offices of the N.Y.S. Employment Service.

that in such cases the examination or testing or other acceptable means. While the Court was not charged the oral test, because the factors to be tested not specified in the notice of examination or testing or others were made known to him prior to his taking the test. He also questions the objectivity of the rating factors listed on the Oral Test Rating Sheet. The test and raises questions as to whether specified factors could be judged by the examiners (especially where candidates for different specialties were being tested on the same test), and also questions whether the gradings of the candidates are equally weighted.

There is also the point herefore noted that the Rating Sheet did not specify the factors to be tested or to be rated on the oral test. Although members had been urged to participate in honoring the Legal Aid Lawyers Day, only a small number of attorneys for the poor actually appeared. It also points out that the fact that he did not commence proceedings until after he was notified that he had not passed the oral test.

Petitioner defends by saying that candidates for those administrative positions should know that the basis of the Rating Sheet were those factors and that the examination or testing or other acceptable means. That the Examination Board chose those factors and that all candidates' ratings were not specified in the notice of examination or testing or other acceptable means.
