Rumors Fly Again On Pay Raise

ALBANY, Feb. 20.—An air of uncertainty is surrounding the State Capitol over how Governor Rockefeller will propose to adjust State salaries.

One legislative figure, however, told The Leader the "form" the increase would take probably would follow along the lines of the McKinsey Company report, which advocated an approximate range of $200 at the entrance level to about $8,000 at the cabinet level.

A spokesman for State Budget Director T. Norman Hurd indicated that no decision would be reached on the State pay raises and how it would be distributed until the annual meetings of the Legislative and Minority Leader Joseph Zaretzki. Mr. Carino emphasized that no present Assembly executive officers, if the above range proposed by the McKinsey Company were accepted, would suffer a salary cut.

The plan has been put into effect for current session employees, but work for the period after the Legislature is meeting and will be effective April 1 for full-time employees.

The under-the-party system, the Speaker said he did not feel it was constitutionally possible to straighten out salaries or job titles for em"

Your Public Relations IQ
By LEO J. MARGOLIN
(Not the one with a beard)

With the income tax deadline just about due, we commend the public relations techniques practiced by individual agents of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service in performing their duties in a manner that would be painful surgery.

Putting people from their money is not conducive to a love match between tax collector and taxpayer. Yet there are some agents in the service whose sense of good public relations is so keen that they perform their duty efficiently, honestly and with maintaining equal fairness to both taxpayer and government.

We have one particular agent in mind, who proved to us that there are civil servants who can genuinely represent both sides of a question with an even break for two seemingly conflicting interests.

In the public relations in the civil service at its best when the government officer leaves the taxpayer feeling that he has been treated considerately and decently—even after the taxpayer has paid a whopper of an added tax.

This agent listened attentively to the taxpayers, intelligently examined records carefully, then announced he would like to consult further with some of the taxpayers in his office on some of the most polite.

At the second meeting, there was no question but that the agent had done his research, his homework and his consultation with the experts. Some points were resolved in favor of the tax payer, some against him. Up through there was understanding, without favoring, firmness without officiousness.

Although he did not have a degree in public relations, the agent had something just as good—common sense and an abiding respect for the taxpayer's privileges.

All of which contributes significantly to the cumulative total of our public relations for his service.

Tom Brady, moderator of the Society.

Get CSEA Group Life Insurance During Feb. Without Medical

New applicants for Civil Service Employees Assn. Group Life Insurance, under age 50, will not be required to take the usual medical examination if they apply during the month of February, according to CSEA President Joseph F. Felly. Applicants 50 years or over will have to take the usual examination at the expense of the Insuring Company.

Low Cost

A CSEA member, 29 years of age, younger, under the Group Plan, gets $1,000 term life insurance protection for $1.50 annually—older employees enjoy proportionately lower rates.

In addition to low cost, the plan provides double indemnity for accidental death and waiver of premiums if an insured member becomes disabled prior to age 60. Additional insurance of 20% of amount, minimum $1,000, is also provided without additional cost because of favorable loss experience. The program is made through convenient payroll deductions. Death benefits are paid within 24 hours after notice is received at CSEA Headquarters without red tape.

Who Can Join

The plan now covers 45,000 CSEA members. Any employee of the State or of the Counties of Westchester, Nassau, Suffolk, Monroe and Erie, and of the Districts of Orange, Rockland and Westchester, and of the City of New York, and the City of White Plains, and of the County of the Bronx, and of various other municipalities, is eligible to be a member of CSEA Group Life Insurance.

Where to Apply

Applications and explanatory material from any CSEA Chapter, or from CSEA Headquarters, 5 Eek Street, Albany, or from Branch Offices are welcome to this affair, and, are cordially invited by Samuel Gross, welcome to this affair, and, are cordially invited by Samuel Gross.

S. G. Selleck Dies at Dinner

Robert G. Selleck, 43, died unexpectedly Feb. 13 while attending the monthly civil service dinner at Hotel Syracuse. He was attending supervisor at the Syracuse State School.

Selleck, who suffered a heart attack, had been in poor health since last August.

At the dinner, he had rejoined on Warner Road, Camillus. He was a veteran of World War II who had been a member of the Lutheran Church, Esucaryss Club, the Auxiliary Chapter there.

There was no Winter Meeting under the name “Operation Snow Cancelled” which McKinsey Associates, which have been published, indicate that state employees are bound between 60 to 65 million dollars a year for cultural support. We, in our opinion, do not differ from that substantial cost.

Our State employees have been lagging every year to a significant degree and even more on this year. The State. In the Executive Budget, a proposal is to increase expenditures which would provide for somewhat more than half of the adjustment which McKinsey Associates indicate is required to bring State employees parity.

Our own studies, and our interpretation of the studies made by the McKinsey Developmental Unit, indicate that a greater adjustment is needed in the lower grades than is indicated by the McKinsey report. Our Association will do its utmost to make a substantial adjustment for our low paid employees than has been recommended.

We have no desire to detract from the antes recommendations for the employees in the higher grades, but we do strongly feel that the lower grade employees — more than 75% of whom receive less than $5,000 a year — should receive a fairer and more equitable salary adjustment than has been indicated.

Named School Visitors

Arthur Cornelius, Jr., who recently succeeded Francis M. Mac-dier as superintendent of State Police, has received the welcome and congratulations of the Civil Service Employees Association.

In a letter to Mr. Cornelius,reetings came from CSEA Pres- ident Joseph F. Felly, who wrote him saying:

“On behalf of The Civil Service Employees Association I should like to extend greetings to you and the entire staff of the State Police, and warm wishes upon your recent appointment as commissioner of State Police.

It is our desire to work closely with you for the improvement of the working conditions and personnel practices which make for effective, productive and efficient service to the people of the State.

Call for State Subdivisions to Pay Full Retirement Costs

The bill, which is co-sponsored by Senator Frank Com- posto, Brooklyn, Democrat, would provide for the state, and any participating retirement system, to pay the full amount of the contributions of its employees to the retirement fund for one year.

The plan was first proposed by State Comptroller Arthur Levit last fall. He said at the time that the move would correct the present retirement policies of many of the top industrial firms in the nation.

The measure, introduced by two Democratic lawmakers, has the backing of Mr. Levit, who said: “Under this measure, the present contributions now made by state employees to the Retire- ment Fund would be assumed by the state for a period of one year beginning on April 1st, or the ‘pay-period at that time’ effect of the bill would be to have the state or any municipal employee voting to do so, pay up to the full cost to the Retirement System above and over the five percent which is required by the Federal and State programs.”

The present terms of the bill, an employee, however, may elect to continue to make his full contribu- tion to the system in order to build up his retirement fund.

In the event of an employee’s death before retirement age, the state and local governments will not be considered in the establish- ment of the amount of death ben- efits.

A second bill proposed by the comptroller would provide, and increase the supplemental retire- ment allowance of members of the New York State Teachers Retirement System:

The bills, according to Levit, are designed to bring the percentages applied to the basic retirement allowance to the supplemental amount.

The age requirements of 65 for retirement, and a qualification for receiving a supple- mental pension is eliminated under these bills. Benefits would be based on your year of retirement, irrespective of age.

The Federal Aides Median Grade Raised to GS-6

The law raises the median grade for Federal employees not under the Classification Act moved from GS-5 to GS-6. The rise in median grade is due partly to the fact that less pay is now being paid to lower grades than previously. As of today 20 percent less typists and 18 percent fewer data entry keys are employed by the Federal government.

The rise in median grade can cause a backlog of the production of new occupations and changes in old occupation brought on by technological advances, increased responsibility to non-professional employees and the raising of job titles.

C.S.C. Reports on 1960 Management Training

The annual report of the Civil Service Commission reviewed the Office of Career Development last year, in March 1960 in the interest of management training.

The Commission decided to sponsor the seminars for management interest began the Four-States Regional Institute, a pilot program in Feb. 1954. The Civil Service Commission and state institutes have expanded with respect both to the number and kinds of subjects in meeting the increasing needs of Federal personnel for technical training. There are different courses in management techniques conducted by the Commission in the Washington area and by the Office of the Career Development.

Over 8,000 Civilians are Employed by 1st Army

There are more than 8,000 civilians at Army installations and activities in the eight state First U.S. Army area. This includes all the New England States, New York and New Jersey, and the Army Air Defense Command, based in Thule, Greenland.

The civilian employees comprise about 30 percent of the First Army authorized permanent military personnel, which is a strength of more than 50,000 people held professional, technical, and even clerical jobs.

Civilian members of the First Army team assure continuity of administration and operation under the constantly changing military personnel. They also provide a nucleus of trained personal essential in any emergency.

6 to Receive Federal Woman's Award Feb. 24

On Feb. 24, six government career women will receive the first annual Federal Woman's Award. The women selected for this honor represent high achievement in the fields of economics, foreign policy, medical research, personnel, and transport.

They are chosen for outstanding contributions to the quality and efficiency of the services of the First Army, for their influence on Federal career development programs, and for personal qualities of leadership, integrity, efficiency and leadership.

Bill Would Forbid Use of Firefighters in Labor Disputes: I.A.F.P. Backs It

A bill has been introduced in the State Legislature to prohibit the use of uniformed firefighters as strikebreakers, if the firemen are ordered into action to control labor disputes. The measure, which has the backing of the International Association of Firefighters and all New York State locals, was introduced in the Senate by Sen. Morton, Intro. 1141, Print 1989, and in the Assembly by Assemblyman Rosselet, Int. 2109, Print 1978.

In a memorandum supporting the introduction of the bill, I.A.F.P. vice president for the New York district, said: "The tendency to use uniformed firefighters in labor disputes, which held a four-day meeting in the Hotel New York, New York, April 19, 1961. The meeting was called at the request of the state's firefighters who have been experiencing difficulties with their employers in recent months. The meeting was attended by representatives of the International Association of Firefighters, the National Federation of Firemen, and the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

New Senate Resolves: Urged at Conference

A new hospital rank for nurses, the "clinical associate," was recommended by the New York State Nurses Association at a conference held in the Hotel New York. The nurses discussed the need for more hospital nurses and the importance of maintaining high standards of education and training for nurses. The conference also considered the implementation of the new nursing rank and the procedures for its establishment.

Unemployment Claims Clerk Test in State

Unemployment claims clerks are wanted by the New York State for jobs which pay from $3,500 to $4,000 per year, depending on "experience," with "specific training" existing throughout the State. Applications for this test will be accepted at the State Employment Office, 300 Park Ave., New York City, until June 15.

Candidates for this exam must have been employed in the construction of the Unemployment Compensation Law and must have had "specific experience" in collecting and maintaining records. The exam will consist of a written test, an oral test, and a practical test.

Correction

The New York City Uniformed Fire Officers Association has launched what it calls the "most progressive and ambitious legislation in the history of the city." The association, which represents virtually all the uniformed officers of the New York City Fire Department, said: "The need for corrective legislation regarding retirement and pension benefits has been established in a number of states. The association has enthusiastically submitted a number of bills which we propose." The U.F.O.A.'s legislative representatives, led by Vincent A. McCarthy, Capt. Harold I. Gold and Capt. Elmer A. Ryan are working to secure the unanimous support of the Legislature for their program. They said they have received "most encouraging responses." The bills for these bills have to be filed on time and at any rate of time.

The amount of work required to be "insured" depends on what you do and when you do it. For example, a person who retired in 1992 needs an additional 4 years of work before he can apply for benefits. The amount of work required to be "insured" is determined by the Social Security Administration based on factors such as your age at retirement and how many credits you have.
These reasons are dishonest and without merit. To remember. Comparability is RIGHT, this proposal is WRONG. It's that simple. Being right is of great advantage. I suggest Mr. Felly and his associates reconsider the situation and get back to the main objective, COMPENSATION — THIS YEAR.

City, Federal Aides To Meet, Discuss Purchase Techniques

Purchasing officers from New York City agencies and from local Federal Government units will meet Thursday, Feb. 29, in the City Health Department auditorium to permit an interchange of procedures and philosophies of purchase and supply as practiced by various government branches.

The meeting was arranged by the Fire Commission Officers Association of Greater New York with the cooperation of City Purchasing Commissioner Roger J.
Browne and other City officials.

Staff, commemorating the Arctic Expedition of 1899. Nobody took advantage of our good intentions even as we had to. It was the general consensus that it is a good thing because we have milk winters instead of the monotonous storms they used to have years ago. It seems, if the oldest items are correct, one of those old-fashioned winters would just
