Correction Officer Appeal Reaches A Showdown Stage

ALBANY, Dec. 4 — A four-year fight to gain adequate salaries for Correction Officers entered its final stages last week.

Conducting arguments on an appeal for a reallocation from Grade 11 to Grade 13 for Correction Officer, Correction Hospital Attendants and Women's Correction Officers were presented by the Civil Service Employees Association at a hearing here before J. Earl Kelly, Director of Classification and Compensation.

Five-Point Appeal

Association spokesmen based their appeal on five main points:

1. Modern penological methods have increased the duties and responsibilities at the Correction line personnel.
2. Compensation of salaries paid in other public jurisdictions demonstrates the need of a higher allocation.
3. In-service training program has broadened the scope of the position.
4. The amount of dual job holding shows the need to supplement income.
5. An in-service line personnel are not appropriately reflected in the grade allocation.

Leading the Arguments

The Association representatives were led by CSEA President Joseph P. Feily, who introduced the Association appeal by outlining what he called the invisible arc.

Our members of the Jewish Faith are now observing Chanukah, the Festival of Lights. May the joy of this season bring joy to them throughout the year.

Still 'Nonsense' Says Kaplan To CSEA Charges of Compromise

ALBANY, Dec. 4 — “Nonsense!” remains the reply of H. Elie Kaplan to charges that the State Civil Service Commission is compromising the true spirit of the Merit System.

Mr. Kaplan reiterated this viewpoint on charges by the Civil Service Employees Association that the Commission, under his presidency, was giving way to a frontal attack on the Merit System by placing an unwarranted number of positions in the exempt or non-competitive class.

His stand, which was contained in a statement issued to The Leader, also took issue with CSEA statements that interested parties were given insufficient notice of Commission calendar hearings. Mr. Kaplan and Joseph P. Feily, CSEA president, were invited to two meetings — including an “enter- vise” one — but declined on the grounds of prior commitments.

Mr. Kaplan did not explain the agenda of the October 31 meeting, to which Mr. Feily objected.

Full Statement

The complete text of Mr. Kap- olan’s statement to The Leader reads:

“I call to understand the initia- tions of the President of the Civil Service Employees Association when he charges that the State Civil Service Commission is compromising the true spirit of the Merit System by placing an unwarranted number of positions in the exempt or non-competitive classes. When the charge was made known in Albany last week, I termed it ‘nonsen- se’ and that is what I call it now. Nonsense. Mr. Polv’s attack is completely unwarrant- ed. Furthermore, his condem- nation that the CSEA was not given an opportunity to be heard at the Commission’s Oc- tober 31 special meeting is simply not based on fact.

ALBANY, Dec. 4 — Immediate action to eliminate basically “indecent” sanitary conditions suffered by Barge Canal System employees was demanded by the Civil Service Employ- ees Assn. last week.

The Employees Association also called for administrative action to end the discrimination in work hours for Barge Canal System employees and was demanded by the Civil Service Employees Assn. last week.

Questions and Answers

I recently received a letter from a Credit Corporation regarding non-payment of a loan on a vehicle which I was forced to sell due to family obligations. The Credit Corporation indicated that they were very sympathetic to my situation, but that they would do all they could to make arrangements for reduced monthly payments. They inserted a notarized form which they asked me to sign and I have not signed this form. Should I sign this form?

Since you indicate that your family obligations have been temporarily reduced, you should not sign this form that you received from the Credit Corporation. It is important to remember that although a credit corporation may agree to reduce a monthly payment and extend the term of the loan, this action could possibly divert you from paying your full monthly payments, the loan company may agree to reduce the amount of your monthly payment and extend the term of the loan, but such agreements should be in writing for your protection.

I have been in the army for the past five months. I recently got married and for personal con- vention, I purchased an automobile on time credit six weeks ago. My wife is presently employed, but we are unable to meet the payments, but I am wondering what protection I will have if she stops working since I cannot make these payments on my military pay.

Since you entered into an installment agreement after you were married, you are not protected under the NYS Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief Act. This is only available to those persons entered into prior to the time you entered military service. If, in the future, you are not able to make your full monthly payments, the loan company may agree to reduce the amount of your monthly payment and extend the term of the loan, but such agreements should be in writing for your protection.

Your Public Relations IQ

(Mr. Marcignon is Adjunct Professor of Public Relations in the New York University School of Public Administration and is a vice-president of the Public Relations Society of America.)

Public relations is an area of specialization with a high degree of difficulty and sensitivity. The profession is based on political activity, which, of necessity, must be led by political leaders, then we must accept the military service, you of life. It is unrealistic to kick politics under the rug.

Political activity is the foundation of political activity, which is the key to success in this profession. It is important to remember that although political leaders have the ability to influence public opinion, it is not always the case that political leaders have the ability to influence public opinion. The fact is that a political leader, without a public job, is just as much a public official as one who does hold a public job. Not infrequently, political leaders without a public job can have a significant impact in legislative and executive matters than those who have a title, a budget line, and a salary.

There is not such an thing in the system of government-by-political-activity, the violation of a civil-service com-

Give Welfare Patrolmen Better Status and Salary

The Welfare Patrolmen’s Benevolent Association is now seeking independent status, having submitted check-off cards to Labor Commissioner Harold Felix. Thus, they are severing all ties with the Welfare Department local organization. Their reasoning is that they have not received any benefits from the affiliation with the group.

These patrolmen have been fighting for years to have salaried status improved on the basis that their work is dangerous. There have been replies from the Department of Labor to Commissioner Harold Felix. Thus, they are seeking full-time peace officer status, and the Police Department to be worthy of part-time peace officer status.

They are seeking equal pay with police of the Housing Authority. The job has become a professional one.

They feel these additional responsibilities keenly. The men feel these additional responsibilities keenly.

The decision has provoked controversy in the community. The條men have been active in the Salvation Army, Chautauqua and Cattaraugus.

Correction Officers Case

Correction Officers in state institutions have reached the final stages of a four-year struggle to have their title reclassified to grade more fitting to the duties involved.

Through the efforts of the Civil Service Employees Association and the State Correction Control, concrete evidence has been gathered to illustrate how this state job has grown in complexity and responsibilities over the past years.

They have the support of the Commissioner, Paul McQuinn.

Now, J. Earl Kiley, State Director of Classification and Compensation, will decide in the next 30 days whether or not an upgrading is desired.

Should he decide in the affirmative, we hope this will put an end to all unnecessary bickering and vitriol.

They have proved their case. Let’s not let it go by.

Social Security Questions Answered

My brother became disabled in 1946 after ten years of fairly steady employment. He never filed for disability benefits and is under the impression that the time limit for filing has expired. Is this correct?

Yes. Beginning with age 72 both employees and self-employed persons may receive benefits even if they still continue to work and earn any amount of money.

Do the recent changes in the social security law allow me to get checks?

No. You will receive $33 a month. Although the widow's benefit is usually three-fourths of her husband's monthly rate, a widow alone will not be paid less than $33.

Is it usual for anything from social security? How about my wife and children?

Yes. Because of recent changes in the law, you need to be married only a year. You and your husband should go by the social security office right away. Your payments can start with less delay if you take your marriage certificate and some old record of your age.

I am 35 years old, married, and have four small children. Eleven months ago I was in an automobile accident and haven't worked since. Am I eligible for anything from social security? How about my wife and children?

No. Your date of birth.

My husband died in 1938. I am 63 years old and was told that the recent changes in the social security law allow me to get checks. Is this true?

Yes. If your husband worked a year and a half under social security. To get these checks you must visit the social security office and apply for them. Be sure to take your husband's social security number, if you can find it. You will also need your marriage certificate and proof of your age.

A family birth record, old life insurance policy or other old record of your age can be used to prove your date of birth.

I am 67 years old. My husband gets social security checks each month. We've been married a little over a year. Can I get payments as his wife?

Yes. Because of recent changes in the law, you need to be married only a year. You and your husband should go by the social security office right away. Your payments can start with less delay if you take your marriage certificate and some old record of your age.

I have my own business. I am now 71 years old. I understand that employees who work after age 22 can receive benefits no matter how much they earn. Does this also apply to people who own their own business?

Yes. Beginning with age 72 both employees and self-employed persons may receive benefits even if they still continue to work and earn any amount of money.

When are the reports of wages paid to domestic help due and how are they filed?

Reports for domestic help are due one month after the close of a calendar quarter. The return for October, November, and December 1960, is due by January 31, 1961. The report for January, February, and March 1961, is due by April 30, 1961. They are filed with the nearest social security office.

What types of benefits are payable to a worker and his family when he retires?

Monthly benefits are payable on retirement to retired men at age 65 and to women at age 62. Also to these dependents: a wife age 62; a dependent husband age 65; a child under 18, or over 18 and totally disabled; a wife of any age caring for a child entitled to benefits.

District Director of Internal Revenue

For information on how to get the report forms, contact your nearest social security office.
ALBANY, Dec. 4 — Twenty-three State employees received cash awards totaling $685 in November for time- and money-saving ideas submitted to the Employee Suggestion Program, H. Elgie, Mayr, President of the State Civil Service Commission, has announced.

The top award of $150 was shared by five employees of the State Conservation Department. Robert Masse, Albany, principal statistician clerk; Shirley Parker, Green Island, senior clerk; and Richard Bauer, Albany, laborer, submitted a method for sampling licenses to obtain data on game taken by hunters. The new method, which replaces the old "gum card," provides more accurate, comprehensive, and up-to-date information than was formerly obtainable.

Two employees of the Department of Mental Hygiene's Rome State School shared the second highest award — $100. Robert Cornelison of Canada, a teacher; and Karl McCormack, Rome, electrician, designed and built a tower for servicing pole-type street light fixtures on the school grounds. The rig, constructed from scrap and surplus iron, would have cost approximately $1,000 if purchased commercially.

Cash awards went to nine others in the Albany area. Virginia Smith, Albany, principal clerk in the Department of Taxation and Finance, received $72; and William Stupkey, Rexford, offset printing machine operator in the Labor Department's Division of Employment, $65.

Mr. Stupkey also shared a $50 award with three other Division of Employment offset printing machine operators. They are: John Foster, Albany; Nelson Isdell, Albany; and Edward Preston, Rotterdam.

Other Albany area winners are

- Walter Way, Albany County, $100
- William Shippey, Rexford, $150
- Kenneth Nicholson, Albany, $75
- Roselle Perry, Castleton-on-Hudson, $75
- Jon Borba, Guilderland, $50
- James Barr, Rensselaer, $50
- John DiPietro, New York City, $50
- John O'Leary, Troy, $50
- Isaac Humes, Rotterdam, $50
- Robert O'Neill, Troy, $50
- Redmond Sheehan, Cohoes, $50
- Anna Marie Deits, Albany, senior clerk in the Labor Department's Division of Employment, $15;
- Kenneth Nicholson, Albany, senior file clerk, Department of Taxation and Finance, $15; and
- Robert Marney, Catletto-n-On Hudson, chief clerk in the executive Department's Division of Alcoholic Beverage control, $25.

Courto Vetoed

BUFFALO, Dec. 4 — A civil serv-ice appointment of an acting asso-ciate chief engineer for the City-buffalo has been upset in a sup-reme Court action.

Justice John F. Deaver ordered Mr. Mekis removed from the post in an action brought by Pat-rick Grady, now senior stationary by — City Engineer. Grady contend-ed the appointment of Mr. Mekis had been made with- out regard to civil service listings.

Justice Deaver ordered the Civil Service Commission to canvass the eligibles list, which includes Mr. Grady and John J. O'Neill, for an-other appointment to the post.

Golds, who represented the city in the action, indicated the ruling's validity.

Albany Aides Approve Returning Downtown

-ALBANY, Dec. 4—State employees, in the main, approve of the new state plan, which calls for keeping state office buildings in the downtown section of the Capital City, rather than on the state's Campus Site on the western outskirts of the city.

The Rockefeller administration recently indicated that it would approve no further buildings for the Campus Site and instead would build in downtown Albany as part of the revitalization of the city.

Eventually, the state office buildings at the Campus Site will be sold over to the State University for its expanded college facilities, including a liberal arts university and graduate schools.

This will mean, within the next six to eight years, that all state employees will be housed in the downtown section of the Capital City. Buildings at the Campus Site will be under construction or in authority.

Local merchants have banded the decision as putting new life into downtown businesses.

The decision was reached by Governor Rockefeller after the State Commission on the Campus Site recommended it for easier inter-office communication.

In addition, the State Civil Service Department and the Conservation Department are two of the state agencies based on the Campus. Eight other buildings are under construction or in authority.

Levitt Hits Present Age

-For Vesting

ALBANY, Dec. 4—State Comptroller Arthur Levitt hits the present state law providing vesting benefits for state employees "does an injustice" to members of the 55-year improved plan.

He made this comment after signing the 1952 Legislature to approve a 10-year vesting eligibility age for vesting benefits from 60 years to 55 years.

Mr. Levitt said vesting benefits, as now constituted, do not cover those employees who are members of the 55-year plan and find other employees "leaving their contribution.

Unless the Legislature acts, the comptroller said these employees will not be able to receive the total benefit to which they are entitled unless vesting payments begin at age 55.00
