"Here's Why, Long Island Chapters Tell Legislators In Seeking Their Support"

HUNTINGTON, Jan. 15—A majority of Long Island state legislators have pledged support of several important goals of the Civil Service Employees Assn., during the current session of the Legislature.

Ten state senators and assemblymen attending the seventh annual legislative meeting of the Long Island Board of Directors of the CSEA Metropolitan Conference voiced their approval of several Association measures that were explained to them during the course of the day-long session.

Among the goals of the employees Association that the legislators pledged support to are:

1. Elimination of the so-called "death gamble" from the Retirement System.
2. Termination for poor service and labor class employees.
3. A continuation probe of the Retirement System.
4. A four percent return for each member of the Retirement System.

This participating chapters were Chapter CSEA of West Orange County State Hospitals; District No. 19, Dept. of Public Works; L. I. State Parkway Police; Inter County Parks Dept; State University at Farmingdale; State University Long Island Center; Nassau and Suffolk County-Chapter; and Long Island Amalgamated Chapter.

Legislators, Other Guests

Legislators present were June Barrett, Senator from Suffolk County; Ed Spence and Daniel Albert, Senators from Nassau County; Nassau Assemblyman, Ed Fehrenbach, Francis Mooney, Robert Blankman and Anthony Babich; Suffolk Assemblymen, Prescott Huntingdon, James Grover, and Perry Davies.

"Early Action Expected On 8 Retirement Bills Now In Legislature"

ALBANY, Jan. 15—Early committee consideration is slated for a series of key civil service measures, now before the Legislature. The Legislature's standing committees on civil service will act on the bills at an early date, The Leader has been informed.

The bills all provide for various benefits to state workers under the retirement system, including continuation of the state's four per cent "take-home" pay plan first proposed by the Civil Service Employees Association. The measures were introduced by Assemblyman Orin S. Wilcox (R-Jefferson County) and Senator George W. Cornell (R-Westchester County). They are sponsored by the Joint Legislative Committee to Study the Employees Retirement System.

3-Point Plan Bills

Three of the bills extend the four percent pension contribution to the year between April 1, 1962 and worker's under his hold-the-line budget.

Three state workers about $200 more a year in their pay envelopes.

Mr. Wilcox and Mr. Cornell also introduced five other bills which give various benefits to state employees under the retirement system.

Unit Merger Looms In Erie County

BUFFALO, Jan. 15 — The Erie chapter of the Civil Service Employees Assn. took a giant step forward and is prepared to welcome into its ranks members of the Erie County Cunmunity Civil Service Association. The latter group, which represents "several hundred" Erie County workers as active members and a sizable group of associate members, has virtually agreed to join the local 2,500-member CSEA unit.

After a conference with Alexander V. Burton, Erie chapter president, and Patrick O. Rogers, CSEA field representative, leaders of the smaller group decided to

"Self Protection Replaces Job Protection In Civil Service, Sen. Wise Says"

(From Leader Correspondent)

WATERTOWN, Jan. 15—Senator Henry A. Wise, (R-Watertown), apparently holds a low opinion of civil service in New York State.

Senator Wise, a leading conservative in the Legislature and generally conceded to be a right hand man to Senate Majority Leader Walter M. Mahoney, of Buffalo, has disclosed his civil service attitude in a letter to constituents of the 43rd District.

40-Hour Week For Barge Canal Aides Heartily Endorsed by McMorrnan

ALBANY, Jan. 15—A work-week reduction for the hard pressed Barge Canal employees has the "heartiest endorsement" of the State Public Works Department, Superintendent J. Burch McMorrnan said last week.

McMorrnan said the Department's assumption in a letter replying to a request by Joseph Bartlett, chairman of the CSEA Employees Services Employees Association, to end discrimination in work hours for the canal employees.

The Association wants the work-week reduced from 48 to 40 hours without loss in take-home pay. Mr. McMorrnan said he did not believe that the no-loss-in-pay

"It nobly started out as a merit system to get rid of uninterested personnel in public employment — the old "soil system,"" said Senator Wise.

"Today, civil service sometimes looks more like a self-protective association," the Senator said.

"One thing is certain: the CSEA can no longer apply for some relatively minor loss in pension. It must be beyond question, that is, that the matter is in the public interest."

Even Tough For Presidents

The writer a year ago concluded that the United States could not qualify today for some relatively minor non-military civil service jobs.

Senator Wise, in his letter to Upstate Republicans, complained that "when one is permitted to try a civil service examination, he sometimes has to interview questions that have nothing to do with the position he seeks."

"Agile tests are used successfully in educating private enterprise and many other fields, including military employment," Senator Wise said.

VETERAN'S PENSION ACT

The following instruction issued by the National Office of the Veterans Administration is presented for the information of all:

These instructions are issued to augment and supplement instructions already contained in section 9, Pub. Law 66-311.

Provisions

Any person receiving or entitled to receive pension on June 30, 1960, may receive these benefits for such periods thereafter for which the claimant was "without fault" in connection with the re- ceipt of pension on June 30, 1960, or for such periods thereafter for which child receiving or entitled to receive pension on June 30, 1960, is so entitled because of Public Law 66-311.

The determination of whether claimant was "without fault" in connection with the receipt of pension on June 30, 1960, was promptly reported changes in income, or a change in dependency status, whether beginning or ending after June 30, 1960, or law on the part of the VA. However, such protection will not be afforded if receipt of pension on June 30, 1960, resulted from a deliberate act of commission or omission.

Change in Status

Where the receipt of additional income, change in status of income, or a change in dependency status before July 1, 1960, was promptly reported, thereby causing pension to be discontinued prior to June 30, 1960, there is no protection to pension under laws in effect on June 30, 1960. However, it is expected that the taking of such necessary action for the benefit of the claimant will not be a deliberate act of commission or omission.

The following are available to employees enrolled in the program: The Statewide Plan, for which all employees are eligible regardless of home or work address; Group Health Insurance, which provides coverage in the New York City area; Long Island, Westchester County, and the Health Insurance Plan of Greater New York, in the Metropolitan area and part of Columbia County.

Employers may obtain the necessary marketing for the following:

- Detailed information from the personnel or business offices of their respective departments or agencies.
- Enrollees who retired before December 5, 1960. However, it is expected that the taking of such necessary action for the benefit of the claimant will not be a deliberate act of commission or omission.

Oswego Ruling SAYS Law Needed to Pay For Unused Vacation

(From Leader Correspondent)

OSWEGO, Jan. 15 — City employees and department heads can not receive cash in lieu of unused vacation time, Oswego City Attorney John O.C. Conway has ruled.

Mr. Conway, in a written opinion to the Common Council, that he was making the decision according to Section 92 of the General Municipal Law and Section 388 of the Oswego City Charter.

The ruling came in the case of Oswego Water Superintendent Edward Baxter, who requested on Dec. 27 that he be paid for two weeks vacation he was unable to take in 1961 because of the extra work in his department.

Test Case

Mr. Jeunieau requested was regarded as a test case. It was reported that other city department heads were preparing similar requests to be filed if the action was approved.

Also, it was learned, a majority of the city administration believed the case would set a precedent.

In the opinion, Mr. Conway pointed out that Section 92 states a municipality may not pay cash in lieu of unused vacation time, allocating to a city service or death while in service.

Section 358 of the charter he said, states that the salary of the water superintendent shall not be reduced.

Mr. Jensen, therefore, could not be paid for unused vacation time, according to existing rules, a man would be paid for more than $6,000, unless the Common Council expanded that provision of the charter.

He added: "I conclude that payment of unused vacation time may be made as a test case. It was reported that the city employee has resigned, retired or died before approval can be obtained.

The city administration, therefore, believed the case would set a precedent.

The Democrats, having presented the test case, instructed the Council he should retain some power, not to override in the event of the delayed appointments.

LONG ISLAND UNDERSTANDING

Among the legislators from Long Island, members of the Civil Service Employees Assn. and guests attending the annual Long Island Committee banquet for legislators were, from right above, Irving Feily, State Association President; F. Henry Galpin, Assistant Executive Director, and John D. Corcoran, Field Representative.

L. I. Legislators Hear Whys and Wherefores Of CSEA Legislative Goals

Good project, wrote Joseph F. Feily, State Association President; Metropolitan Conference officer, who is president of Suffolk Chapter, that Farmersville, opened the meeting, and introduced Joseph Dinner, President of District No. 10, Public Workers, who presented the Albany Revolution A-11: "Guaranteed retirement plan," and Louis Desiderio, Executive Representative of Suffolk County Chapter who explained resolution A-33 "Constitutional Retirement Plan."

Wants Discussions

Anthony Bachrach, Chairman of the Assembly Personnel Committee, and he feels there is a need for a full probe of the Retirement System. He reconciled that Mr. Feily sat down with him during this Legislative Session with the hope that between the two, they can come up with something constructive.

Senator Alger and Assemblyman Feilenbach commented that they are all familiar with the Association's resolution and that it is a detailed discussion which was not felt necessary regarding the Albany Revolution.

Assemblyman Feilenbach, addressing his remarks to Mr. Seamont said that "we voted for A-33 last year and we have not lost our enthusiasm for this year — we will support it again," Senator Alger countered.

A Dash of Humor

Senator Barrett, who pointed out that he has been a CSEA member for 23 years although "unaffiliated," with any chapter, discussed the restoration of 4% interest on retirement annuity payments. He stated that the Retirement System is not State money - we should be as liberal as we can be. He remarked that the Retirement System does not have the overhead common to savings banks and loan associations, he felt there was no reason why they could not charge a 4% interest without jeopardizing the future of the fund.

Bringing the legislators past the program to a humorous conclusion, Assemblyman Huntington, who called upon with his comments, "When Senator Seamont covers the ground so well that Senator Barrett says he has nothing to say and takes ten minutes to see it before me around the ground is really covered," Not to be outdone, Senator Barrett repeated a Lincoln adage, "How can anybody come up with so many words into so few ideas?"

Syracuse Forestry Teacher Awarded Research Fellowship

A member of the faculty of the State University College of Forestry at Syracuse University has been selected to receive an Organisation for European Cooperative Development (OECD) senior visiting fellowship for 1962, it was announced last week.

He is Dr. John W. Barrett of Jamesville, N.Y., associate professor of silviculture and director of the summer camp, College of Forestry.

Dr. Barrett's OECD senior visiting fellowship, scheduled for a period of five months in 1962, effective Jan. 25, is in advanced professional study and research in Europe.

Half Pay Sick Leave Amended

An amendment to the State Attendance Rules covering sick leave at half pay for employees who have exhausted accumulated sick leave, vacation and overtime credits, will enable some employees to gain an additional pay period.

The amendment, as announced by the Civil Service Department, provides that an eligible employee may receive the half pay for a duration not to exceed "one pay period for each complete months of his state service." Previously the rule stated that the coverage time for the employee was not to exceed two pay periods for each complete year of state service. Under the rule as it is now amended, an employee will be entitled to a final pay period if at the end of his eligibility he has to his credit six or more months of service but less than one year.

New York City began a three-week concentrated drive this week to recruit men from upstate New York, Massachusetts and Rhode Island to join its 55,000-man police force. There are currently more than 100 vacancies in the New York City Police Department.

The salary range in the New York Department is $4,133 to $7,616. The maximum may be achieved in three years. Through promotional examinations, a New York City policeman may become a sergeant, a lieutenant, and a captain with ultimate earnings of more than $19,000 a year.

Interested applicants may apply at the special police office through January 19. Those who are accepted will be eligible to take another examination which is scheduled to be given on Saturday, January 27. The examination will be held in Boston and New York simultaneously.

To qualify, an applicant must be between 20 and 38 years of age, at least five feet, eight inches in height, and have 20-20 vision without glasses. Eight Retirement Bills which retirement allowance does not exceed $3,000 a year to work in government and make up to $3,000 a year.

3. Extends for another year the right of members of the retirement system who are about to retire on military duty in the armed services to borrow up to within one dollar of their accumulated contributions.

4. Extends the two-year death benefit in these two scenarios occurring between July 1, 1961 and June 30, 1963. Presently the two-year death benefit is payable only to those deaths between July 1, 1961 and June 30, 1962.

Prior to last year, each member of the retirement system got a memoral pay as a death benefit for each year he worked for the state up to 12 years. Last year, a bill was passed which granted an additional month's death benefit for each two years worked after 12 years. This means that after 22 years, the employee was entitled to a death benefit equal to two years pay.

The two-year benefits would be extended another year under this bill.

5. Extends to the state's 5% per cent contributions plan extending to cover retirement benefits because one bill covers workers under the State Retirement System, another covers teachers and the third covers those in the hospital system retirement plan, and one covers those in the education system's retirement plan.

W h y Three Bills?

It takes three bills to continue the state's 5% per cent contributions plan, extending to cover retirement benefits because one bill covers workers under the State Retirement System, another covers teachers and the third covers those in the hospital system retirement plan, and one covers those in the education system's retirement plan.

ALBANY AIDES CAN DIAL THOUSANDS OF NUMBERS DIRECTLY STARTING SOON

York City, Buffalo, or Syracuse, if desired.

The shifts in the new system will necessitate changes in the present distribution of numbers, and altering procedures for using telephone lines and making long distance calls. Therefore State agencies in Albany and elsewhere, but still employed involved in making these new arrangements, are affected.

DDI is an automated system under which each telephone has, in effect, its own number (the prefixed or assigned extension number). Incoming calls from individuals knowing the correct number must be connected directly and automatically to the desired extension without passing through a central switchboard.

Edward Mason, director of communications for DDI, said plans for the changeover began about two years ago when the availability of new computer equipment designed to provide improved service and faster service, with greater economy, promised the State to take a new look at its telephone service problems.

The extension of government services and the increasing size and complexity of State programs has caused State switchboard installations to increase in size and number, and to become more complex and expensive to operate in terms of equipment space and personnel, OSS, officials said.

Under DDI, all switching equipment will be located at telephone company installations, making it possible for the State to eliminate “simple” consoles for more elaborate switchboards. Operators at these consoles will provide information service, handle difficult dialing situations, and route calls to people who do not know the number of the extension or the party they desire.

Under the new system the State will make a monthly check on all long distance calls made by State employees to determine what records automatically the extension number making the call, the time it was placed and the charges.
