ATTENDING TO CSEA BUSINESS—Delegates to the 52nd annual dinner meeting are seen here during the business session as they studied resolutions.

Governor Cites Record
In Claiming State Pay
Among Best In Nation

ALBANY, March 5—New York State employees are now among the best paid public employees in the nation—or soon will be, Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller told delegates attending the 52nd annual dinner meeting of the Civil Service Employees Association.

With the major portion of his civil service program already submitted to the Legislature, Rockefeller sprang no surprises at the meeting in the Sheraton Ten Eyck Hotel here.

Rumors that the Governor would make a major announcement at the dinner session did not bear fruit, although a large section of the Albany press corps was on hand as the result of such rumors. It was said later that Rockefeller might still have "an important message" before the session ends, but its nature could in no way be determined. It is almost certain, however, that any such message would not deal with state workers' salaries.

Speaking on that issue, Rockefeller cited his past record which, he declared, had raised state salaries by an average of 24 per cent over the past four years, not counting the increased take-home pay provided by reducing contributions to the state retirement system.

Fully Sought Change

Mandated Grievance
Machinery Top Goal
For Local Employees

ALBANY, March 5—Mandated grievance machinery for political subdivisions ranks as the number one goal of the County Division of the Civil Service Employees Association for 1962.

At a meeting of the CSEA County Division here—held in conjunction with the 52nd annual dinner meeting of the entire Employees Association—Vernon A. Tapper, chairman of the Division and CSEA, third vice president, declared "grievance procedures are the most cherished item for the average worker in political subdivisions."

Cites Increased Contacts

A bill mandating such machinery died in the last days of the Legislature session of 1961, but hopes are high that the measure will be approved before adjournment this year.

"Until the average employee can get a fair hearing and fair treatment on just grievances he is not getting justice at all," Tapper said. "The present paternalistic methods of dealing with employee complaints—methods that exist in the majority of local governments—are not only 19th century but also a denial of ordinary working rights," he continued.

Tapper congratulated County Division delegates for increased contacts with state legislators and local officials. "There is no doubt," he said, "that the growing recognition of CSEA and the increased employee gains in many areas are due to these contacts."

As a matter of fact, numerous officials of town and county organizations—representing officials locally were on hand during (Continued on Page 3)

Arriving at Dinner

ARYING AT DINNER—Obviously in high spirits, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is seen as he arrived at the CSEA annual dinner meeting in Albany last week, where he was the major speaker. William J. Rea, Secretary to the Governor, is accompanying him.

Next Week

Many more pictures and news stories on the 52nd annual dinner meeting of the Civil Service Employees Association will appear in next week's issue of The Leader, because the meeting ends near Leader deadline and it has become necessary to report the meeting in two issues. And please forgive the delay if your regular news takes a little time to appear. — The Editor.

The Veteran's Counselor

Veterans are entitled to compensation for service-connected disabilities. If a veteran is entitled to compensation, he and any dependents who are also eligible are entitled to medical care in VA hospitals.

To be eligible, certain prehospital and posthospital medical services for service-connected veteran patients are available.

TO BE ELIGIBLE; the veteran must have served during any war, or the Korean conflict, and discharged or released under conditions other than dishonorable.

Licensure and other information will be furnished by the Placement Officer at the Veterans Administration Hospital, 130 West Kingsbridge Road, Bronx, NY.

Questions Answered

I'm a nonservice-connected veteran of World War II veteran. If I die, who will receive my pension?

If your income and estate do not exceed limits, and you have no dependent children, the veteran's pension will be paid to the veteran's next of kin. If you have no next of kin, the pension will be paid to the veteran's surviving spouse.

Is there any way to determine the eligibility of a veteran's heirs for benefits?

A veteran's heirs are entitled to benefits if the veteran's death was service-connected.

Jay and the First Army headquarters, now on Governors Island, are considered hard-core families, which the army intends to retain. But there is an open question, which Army Secretary asked, stated, comprising over half of the island, which might be utilized on a jobs Defense basis. Secretary cared this could become a site for a national shrine of the American Revolution or a National Park for peace. There is a precedent for each kind joint usage in the recently-created Sandy Hook conservation area in New Jersey. Land was released by the Navy Department there specifically for that purpose.

First Army FeteS Charter Member Retiring At 71

Senator Henry F. Hoover, Class of1927, Thursday, the only active charter member of the First United States Army, was honored recently by the Brooklyn Terminal Command for a distinguished career of service.

Delaney has spent the past thirty years of his life either on the Terminal or on army transport ships sailing out of New York harbor.

A native of Nova Scotia, Delaney came to the United States in 1916. After attending Columbia University, he spent several years as purser aboard commercial ships.

Delaney's career began in 1931 when he became a revenue and quarterback on the USAT Chateau Thierry, an army transport vessel. He spent seven years aboard this ship and the USAT Republic. In 1938 he came to the Terminal as a clerk in the Murica Superintendents office, and, eleven years later, became assistant marine superintendent. Since that time, Delaney has filled numerous related posts, and, last December, he took over as ship's clerk in the Terminal Command's Cargo Control Division.

Senior Biophysicist Exam Scheduled for April 28 by State

The New York State Civil service examination for senior biophysicists will be held on April 28. Qualified biophysicists across the country will be invited to take this 3-hour examination for a starting salary of $7,000 a year. The pay increases in five annual steps to $8,480.

The New York State Department of Health in Albany has an opening for a senior biophysicist, and similar positions exist with other State agencies. Wherever practical, the written examination will be held at locations convenient for the candidate.

The position concerns experiments determining the biological effects of radiation exposure on animals, bacteria and viruses. Applicants must have a bachelor's degree with at least eighteen credits in physics, six in the biological sciences, and six in either chemistry or biophysics. Two years' experience in the biological sciences or a related field are also required, though college courses may also be satisfied, however, by an equivalent combination of experience and education.

Recruitment Unit 84, New York State Department of Health, The State Campus, Albany, N. Y., will provide forms and additional information to interested individuals applying in writing.

Specialized Preparation Leads To Success!

Success in any field is rarely the result of "luck." This is certainly true of Civil Service exams. Both Intelligence and Preparation are required.

It is possible to depend on past performance or "holy knowledge" to pass any Civil Service exam. RESEARCHED PREREQUISITES has helped thousands of men and women to pass Civil Service tests. Our students average 70 percent on first four sections of the examination and have a high pass record on the final sections.

An investment in our "Highway Test" will result in a gain of approximately 10 to 20 percentage points. The complete test will examine vocabulary, reasoning, number and name comparison, spelling and grammar.

The test will be held at a place of your choice. It will include alphabetic, numeric and arithmetic reasoning, name and number comparison, word meaning, reasoning, interpolation, spelling and grammar.

Examinations for these positions will be given in Brooklyn, Rochester and Manhattan. All applicants must agree to fingerprinting at the time of the examination.

Applicants may be obtained from main post offices in Brooklyn, Plattsburg, Jamaica, oceanside and Manhattan Island. Twenty-five applicants must be fingerprinted and examined at the time of the examination.

A written test, taking about 2½ hours will be given to test applicants for aptitude for learning and administrative skills in areas ranging from $7,500 to over $10,000.

The Test

The written examination will be held in six sections. A minimum score demanded on the first four sections of the examination is required. A minimum age of 18 years is required for filing for the test. There is no maximum age. Applicants must be physically able to perform the duties of the position. Good distance vision in one eye and ability to read with at least four lines numbered matter larger than typewritten characters is required. Hearing aids and artificial limbs will be allowed. Some positions are also suitable for amputees and the deaf. However, any physical condition which would cause the applicant to be a hazard to himself or others will cause disqualification.

NEW YORK City employees and public workers in political subdivisions throughout the state have their eyes and hopes on a piece of legislation this year that means a great deal to them—mandated grievance machinery.

New York City policemen in particular and local government employees feel that only by mandating grievance procedures will they be able to obtain the justice that grievance machinery can offer.

Too often, an employee either fails to get a fair hearing on a just complaint of his own or charges against him. With no legal machinery to protect him, he quite often fails to find a grateful civil service behind them.

But it is not enough to have judicial sentiments and keep silent about them. Supporters of this bill who speak out will find a grateful civil service behind them.

There's Still Time

I n addressing the annual dinner meeting of the 100,000-member New York State Civil Service Employees Association, it was announced last week in Albany, that Rockefeller spoke on the August 1 effective date for his proposal to raise state worker salaries five per cent this year.

Along the way in his talk, Rockefeller pointed to his record on employee benefits and, in general, recited some impressive history. He has, in many areas, kept his word to the electorate.

However, we still feel the affective date for the proposed five per cent raise will not begin on time. If they've earned it, then it should begin on time.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Just about all types of electrical work, maintenance installation, troubleshooting, repair, etc. etc.

You name it, we do it.

I am sure we possess as much skill as most union men and perhaps more than most. The union electrician is finished with most machinery after installation. We must maintain and repair most of it for as long as it is in use.

As proof that all union men are not all knowing, I point to the new Local 2 rule that all new men are required to go to school for intensive electrical training. The local knows that there are many men in the field who fail short of the desired status.

This is not possible with percentage raises. If we were to be paid close to the wages of outside industry, that is, not all knowing, we would have to be paid close to the wages of outside industry.

This is not possible with percentage raises. If we were to be paid close to the wages of outside industry, that is, not all knowing, we would have to be paid close to the wages of outside industry.

If we continue on small percentage raises we will not catch up to outside industry, ever. Not including professional titles. (I have no knowledge of these salaries). I feel that the small groups of mechanics in all institutions are made to suffer by being grouped together with all other labor, skilled and unskilled.

In health insurance the true cost to you is the premium payment PLUS what you have to pay out of pocket for additional doctors' charges.

This means you should look for hidden extra charges before you select any medical insurance program. Unfortunately for you, in some medical programs these extra charges will not long remain hidden after you have selected one of them.

H.I.P. is the only health plan in the New York area that fully protects you against extra charges of this kind. With one exception—a possible $2.00 charge for a home call between 10 P.M. and 7 A.M.—there is no cost to you beyond the premium for any service rendered by H.I.P. physicians.

In H.I.P. you need have no worry that a plan's cash allowance will fall short of the doctor's actual fee. You need not worry over "deductibles" or "co-insurance." In other words, in H.I.P. you do not have to "share" additional costs after having already paid a substantial premium.

Nurses From 3 Hospitals Meet

The Kings Park, Pilgrim and Central Hilltop Hospitals nurses' association convened at Kings Park State Hospital a few weeks ago at York Hall. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the classification and renumeration of nurses in state service.

At the meeting a film was presented, titled "With One Voice" which discussed the advantages of belonging to the American Nurses Association. This was followed by an impromptu talk by Mrs. Maren-Hodgson, R.N. of Pilgrim State Hospital.

The main topic of discussion was the lack of recognition of their professional status and renumeration for their duties and responsibilities.

After the meeting, informal discussions were held wherein it was brought out that if something is not done in regards to better salary scales for nurses in state service, nurses will continue to leave the field for higher paying jobs. In turn, patient care will suffer substantially due to the inadequate supply of nurses.

Oneida Supervisor Bd. Vetos CS Classification For Civil Defense Aides

(From Leader Correspondent)

UTICA, March 5—The Oneida County Board of Supervisors opposed to classifying county Civil Defense employees under Civil Service regulations. The board's position would result in the county paying federal matching funds or the states paying for the federal aid if it did not classify county employees as such.

The supervisors voted their position in a resolution which was adopted without debate or dissent.

In part, the resolution stated: "It is deemed inadvisable to classify the Civil Defense Agency of Oneida County, and to submit and adhere to federal rules and regulations, rather than to be subject to the executive control of the Board of Supervisors..."
