Supplemental Pension Bill Signed; Will Benefit Some 20,000 Retirees

State Controller Arthur Levitt today called upon the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to revise a ruling by that office which will have serious economic consequences to the thousands of retired State and local employees who have been granted supplemental pensions.

Joseph P. Felly, president of the Civil Service Employees Association, expressed whole-hearted agreement with Controller Levitt's position. He said a tax audit procedure proposed would neutralize the effect of the new increase granted in supplemental pensions.

Controller Levitt said in his statement: "The Albany office of the Bureau of Internal Revenue has ruled that supplemental pensions are income subject to Federal taxation. Supplemental pensions are designed to protect retired employees from the constant erosion of their fixed income by inflation. Federal taxation by reducing the money available to such persons will have the effect of negating the supplementing purpose of these payments."

Levitt, in his letter to the Commissioner, claimed that such payment will be retroactive from the date of the convention's spring meeting as an example.

Roets Elected Buffalo S. H. Chapter Head

BUFFALO, April 30—Arthur Roets has again been elected president of the Buffalo State Hospital chapter, Civil Service Employees Association.

Other officers are: vice president, Charles Whitfield; secretary, Florence Moench; treasurer, Margaret B. Dugontis; director, Edward Liszanski; parliamentarian, Nicholas Masso.

Levitt aid: "There are always promotional examinations that come up and to qualify, you must pass the examination. The people strive to move ahead."

"The competitive system prevents the built-in stability where a person sits and does nothing." Robert A. Sullivan, president of the Binghamton chapter, said he did not think Civil Service encourages mediocrity.

Correction

The April 17 issue of The Leader erroneously reported that Louis C. Havivna had succeeded John J. Feony as deputy controller in the State Department of Audit and Control.

Instead, Havivna succeeded Penney as internal auditor director when Penney became deputy controller.

CSEA Leaders Assail Mediocrity Charge Against Civil Service

BINGHAMTON, April 30—Civil Service does not encourage mediocrity, as critics occasionally contend, but rather has built-in incentives.

This view was expressed in an interview by Michael P. Vadala, president of the Civil Service Employees Association, Inc.

Mr. Vadala and two other Civil Service leaders were interviewed in Binghamton at the recent Spring meeting of the Civil Service Employees Association.

Mr. Vadala, who has been elected president of the Buffalo State Hospital chapter, said he did not think Civil Service encourages mediocrity.

People strive to move ahead.

Tax on Supplemental Income Is Decried by Controller Levitt

Controller Levitt said in his statement: "The Albany office of the Bureau of Internal Revenue has ruled that supplemental pensions are income subject to Federal taxation. Supplemental pensions are designed to protect retired employees from the constant erosion of their fixed income by inflation. Federal taxation by reducing the money available to such persons will have the effect of negating the supplementing purpose of these payments."

Levitt, in his letter to the Commissioner, claimed that such payment will be retroactive from the date of the convention's spring meeting as an example.

Mr. Florencio Drew of Binghamton, president of the Central New York Conference, said civil service employees are constantly seeking self-improvement and often the convention's spring meeting as an example.

The following is a brief description of some amendments to the provisions of the Veterans Administration and Service Act which became effective September 10, 1950.

The law prohibits employees from requiring employees to take their vacations coincident with summer encampments or cruises. Employers are required to reschedule an individual with such seniority, status, rate of pay and vacation as he would have had if he had not been required to fulfill his military obligation.

Employees who leave their positions to perform weekly or week-end drills, summer encampments or cruises and other types of encampments or cruises in connection to his training, rejection, leave of absence to perform such training and their employers must grant leave as authorized for the required training.

Travel Time
The above employees must report for work at the beginning of the next regularly scheduled week-end drill, week-end encampment or cruise, travel or inactive duty training, and rejection training and as a result of the training, the employee's absence from work is extended by the amount of time the employee is not on the roll of the employer due to the required training.

Veterans' Questions Answered
How many veterans have thus far taken advantage of the VA home, farm or business loan program? More than 6 million veterans had made such loans up to Dec. 31, 1950. Are any survivors of the Mexican War eligible for any benefits? No, since this war ended in 1848, more than 116 years ago. However, there are still benefits available to veterans of Mexican War veterans alive in the United States.

Does the VA have standards for prosthetic devices in this country? The VA has a leading role in supporting and conducting research and development of prosthetic and sensory aids. In cooperation with other Government agencies and private industry, the VA is the first single purchaser of prosthetic devices in the United States. Thus far, the VA has had an influence on the quality of appliances and services furnished by private industry to both veterans but to all disabled persons. Primarily as a result of this influence, prosthetic devices have been greatly improved in the past 18 years.

This Week's Civil Service Telecast List
In-service-training programs for teachers, policemen, firemen, nurses and other Government employees are being telecast daily over television channel 31, New York City's high frequency, municipal television station.

In addition, other departments are preparing series designed to keep telecasting in the near future. The Department of Personnel is now preparing a series of programs training applicants for various jobs in the Federal Government.

UHWP Channel 31 can only be received on television sets equipped with high frequency signals. Most new sets are equipped but older sets must be converted in several new ways. There are some 30 dealers in the metropolitan area stocking these sets. For information on the location of these dealers, write: In Service Training, Civil Service Leader, 57 Duan Street, New York, N.Y.

Re-employment Rights
The above employees must report to work at the beginning of the next regularly scheduled week-end drill, week-end encampment or cruise, travel or inactive duty training, and rejection training and as a result of the training, the employee's absence from work is extended by the amount of time the employee is not on the roll of the employer due to the required training.

Hospitaization
If hospitalized incident to training duty or rejection, his time for reporting to work is extended by his stay in hospitals plus such time as may be required to travel from the hospital to the place of work. Provided hospitalization does not exceed one year. No rights are provided if hospitalization extends beyond one year.

Normally, employees required to report for work at the beginning of the next regularly scheduled week-end drill, week-end encampment or cruise, travel or inactive duty training, and rejection training and as a result of the training, the employee's absence from work is extended by the amount of time the employee is not on the roll of the employer due to the required training.

Cattaraugus County
Chapter Meets, Hears
Talk on Retirement
OLEAN, April 30—David Bishop of Little Valley has been elevated to the presidency of the Cattaraugus County chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association.

He succeeds Mrs. Gordon Kline of Olean who voluntarily "stepped down" to become the chapter's social chairman.

Frank H. Simon of Albany, representing the State Retirement System, told chapter members April 23 at the annual dinner meeting that the "death gamble" bill sent to Governor Nelson Rockefeller was "the most significant advance in civil service benefits" in more than 30 years.

Other speakers at the annual meeting included Mrs. Malcolm Bick of Sandusky, chapter secretary; Assemblyman Jeremiah M. Moriarty of Framingham, mayor of Rochester, mayor Edward J. Morris of Olean and James Powers, CSEA field representative.

A resolution was made by Chapter secretary Mrs. Malcolm Bick and accepted by John Pansa, of Olean, State Civil Service Employees Association, who substituted for Chapter President Mayor Edward J. Morris of Olean and James Powers, CSEA field representative.

The next meeting of the membership will be held in the spring.

Princeton Sets Up Mid-Career Training For Federal Officials

Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs has instituted a mid-career training program for federal officials. It was announced recently by Gardner Patterson, director of the School.

Essential features of the program include seminars, policy conferences and research projects designed to further the development of the mid-career official. For the profession of the public service by relating his own function to the whole government and to the society and the economy he serves.

To do this the regular faculty is supplemented by public executives in residence. Last August, the School received an anonymous gift of $35 million. Princeton's President Robert P. Geiger said it would be used "to establish professional education for the public service at a level of excellence comparable to the country's best schools of medicine and law."

With this general objective, various committees headed by Professor Patterson and Professor M. W. Gotte, associate director of the Woodrow Wilson School, have been exploring new teaching methods, curricular combinations and possibilities for incorporating government expertise into the graduate program as a whole.

Civil Service Sponsors Conference at Berkeley

The Civil Service Commission is sponsoring a two-day conference at the Berkeley Campus of the University of California May 6 and 8 to improve programs to produce stronger civil service leadership in the future.

"The Federal Government's ability to serve the public interest depends largely on the quality and competence of the career civil service," said Civil Service Commission Chairman W. S. Macy Jr. in his invitation to participants. "If we are to meet successfully the complex challenges confronting our society, we continuously need to seek means to improve the capabilities of Federal employees in responsible positions."

6,500 To Be Drafted By Army During June

The Department of Defense has requested the Selective Service System to provide the Armed Forces with 6,500 men for June, "for the purpose of building up the Armed Forces in August, 1961, through June of this year." Selective Service will have called 141,500 men in order to bring the Army to the strength established for the build-up in June.

This will bring the total number of youths requested Selective Service to 2,744,484 since the September 1960 call.

Minor Changes Made in MDLC Structure

Two minor changes have been made by the Army in the structure of the General Equipment Command and Logistic Command being formed as part of the current Army reorganization.

As originally planned, a Weapons and Technical Services Command was to be one of the subordinate units of the MDLC. It has now been determined that the Weapons and Technical Services Command will be retained, with headquarters at Rock Island, Ill.

In addition, the ACTIVE ARMED FORCES STATIONS will be activated as part of the current Army reorganization.

The General Equipment Command, which was provided for in the original concept, will not be organized. The Quartermaster Research Engineering Laboratories, which would have been part of the General Equipment Command, will now report to the research and development section staff officer on the MDLC staff.

Army to Reorganize Reserve Components

Effective June 1, the Army's Reserve Component forces, to include realignment of four Army National Guard and four Army Reserve infantry divisions, retention of the headquarters of the divisional training areas as operational headquarters, and activation of eight brigades and some non-divisional units, were announced today by the Department of the Army.

The Army's plan is designed to improve the overall combat readiness of the Reserve Components by increasing the strength, amount of equipment and mobilization readiness of high priority units needed early in any call to active duty.

Army National Guard division to be realigned are: The 85th Infantry Division of Kansas and Massachusetts, the 37th Infantry Division of Nebraska and Idaho, the 46th Infantry Division of Connecticut and Vermont, and the 51st Infantry Division of Florida and South Carolina.

Army Reserve divisions to be realigned are: The 189th Infantry Division of Massachusetts; the 99th Infantry Division of Maryland, and Delaware; the 48th Infantry Division of Massachusetts; the 189th Infantry Division of Michigan; the 44th Infantry Division of Wisconsin; and the 182nd Infantry Division of Louisiana, Iowa, and Wisconsin.

Army Explains Policy On Early Discharges

In an attempt to clear up the question of early release discharges, the Army has issued a statement explaining its policy for personnel who have requested regular seasonal employment before completing the remainder of their term of active duty.

The statement said:

"The current Army policy for an early release stipulates that the individual, if otherwise qualified, may be released as early as three months prior to his expiration of term of service.

"This means that the two-year man, for example, may apply for and be released after completing 21 months of active duty.

"In the case of the reservists to active duty last year, the date to be used in the computation of term of service has been changed, so that the 12-month anniversary date of their call to active duty.

"For example, a reservist called to active duty on 15 Oct. 1961, could, if otherwise eligible, be released after 10 months service or 15 Oct. 1962, 30 months prior to his 12-month anniversary date of call to active duty."

Study Shows 68% Of Youths Qualify

Sixty-eight percent of American youths liable for military duty during the past years have qualified for service in the Armed Forces, according to a study published by the Secretary of Defense Personnel Office covering the post-Korean War period.

Of the 20 percent who were disqualified for medical reasons, only about half have been turned down for medical reasons. The remainder either failed the mental test or were referred for administrative (primarily moral) reasons.

Of the 22 percent of the total manpower pool not qualified for duty, 80 percent, or about half, have been turned down for medical reasons. The remainder either failed the mental test or were referred for administrative (primarily moral) reasons.

The study, prepared by Bernard D. Karplnos, Ph.D., of the Medical Statistics Division, Army Surgeons General Office, is the first to analyze the results of the examinations of all segments of the youth population liable for military service, and includes data not only on draft draftees but also for those who voluntarily enlisted in the Armed Forces.

MAY 16th is the date the Board of Estimate takes up the change in Health Insurance Plans for the New York City. A “rider” to include granting health insurance to the boards of education. New York City will at the present time be given to find this change.

I trust your paper will carry this story before May 10th to further efforts so the citizens of New York City are given us health coverage. We who need it so badly can not afford it. I believe it is a public duty to everyone in New York City to call upon a neighboring city for assistance. Six companies from New Jersey had to be requested to help protect the city.

Although it is said by some that firemen spend most of their day just waiting for alarms, nothing could be further from the truth. Firemen are planned and maintained detailed reports. Reports must be filed, building inspections must be made and the program of public education must be continued. While on these field duties, the men must be prepared to answer alarms. During the night, in-service training drills are required and the men spend a large amount of time studying the newest methods of extinguishing fires and the constantly changing building code.

All this and firefighting too.

Below are questions in Social Security problems sent in by our readers and answered by our legal expert in the field. Anyone with a question on Social Security should write to the Social Security Editor, Civil Service Leader, 97 Duane St., New York 7, N.Y.

When I applied for social security benefits, my estimate of this year's earnings was "less than $2,500," and I have been getting my checks ever since the first of the year. I based this estimate on my salary at the end of the year, which was $1,200. I have been getting my checks since the first of the year. This shows the injustice heaped upon a group because of our estimate.

Questions Answered On Social Security

Below are questions in Social Security problems sent in by our readers and answered by our legal expert in the field. Anyone with a question on Social Security should write to the Social Security Editor, Civil Service Leader, 97 Duane St., New York 7, N.Y.

When I applied for social security benefits, my estimate of this year's earnings was "less than $2,500," and I have been getting my checks ever since the first of the year. I based this estimate on my salary at the end of the year, which was $1,200. I have been getting my checks since the first of the year. This shows the injustice heaped upon a group because of our estimate.

Brooklyn
Attention all 630,000 H.I.P. Medical Group Members:

The new H.I.P. program for polio protection without injection starts in a few days

No charge for either vaccine or service. Whether or not you have had Salk shots, your Medical Group doctors urge you to get this new, long-lasting immunity,

WHAT IS THE NEW ORAL POLIO VACCINE? A vaccine taken by mouth which has NO TASTE! NO SMELL! NO COLOR! There are three types of vaccine to protect you against three types of polio. Vaccines I and III are most important because they are for the most common kinds of polio. They must be given four to six weeks apart. Protect yourself against them before the summer. More than 100 MILLION PEOPLE throughout the world have received these vaccines. No after effects have been reported, and it has been approved by the U.S. Public Health Service.

WHO SHOULD TAKE IT? The whole family! Everyone over six weeks old should be protected, but especially infants and pre-school children. Bring the whole family in together. Even if you are taking medicine, or are diabetic, or pregnant—you may take this vaccine.

HOW IS IT GIVEN? This is a vaccination WITHOUT A SHOT! You will get it in a small paper cup. Infants will be given the vaccine directly into the mouth with a dropper. It actually takes only a few seconds.

WHEN SHOULD YOU REPORT? By now you should have received a bulletin from your H.I.P. Medical Group notifying you when to report for Type 1 (about four to six weeks later). Type II will be given in September. If you have not received this bulletin or if you have any other questions, call the HEALTH INSURANCE PLAN, Plaza 4-U44 for Subscriber Service. Please do not telephone your Medical Group. You will be informed after you take Type 2 when you should return for Type III (about four to six weeks later). Type II will be given in September.

Please bring your H.I.P. Identification card with you.

Part-Time Jobs Open As Crossing Guards: To $1.75

The New York City Police Department has reopened recruiting for school crossing guards for part-time jobs which open in September. The examination will be held on May 26 for these jobs which pay from $1.65 an hour. Top pay of $1.75 is received after two years of service. Filing will close May 20.

School crossing guards are responsible for protecting students at designated traffic points. The work is part-time during a five-day work week throughout the school term. An average day involves an hour each in the morning and in the afternoon, with a two-hour tour at noon.

It is desirable that guards live no further than one third of a mile from their assigned crossing sites; other duties require them to commute from home three times a day. Successful candidates for these positions will receive training at the Police Academy prior to a regular assignment.

Applicants must be U.S. citizens between the ages of 25 and 50. Female applicants may not be less than 5 feet 1 inch tall; males not less than 5'8". Weight should not be abnormally out of proportion to height. Other prerequisites are good hearing, a grammar school diploma or the equivalent, and a good character. It is stressed that anyone presently employed by the City of New York is not eligible. Interested persons may apply now at their local precinct station house. Candidates may select as many as four school crossings upon which the time of application, provided each is within one-third of a mile from residence.

The examination will consist of a medical examination, character investigation, and oral interview, along with the previously mentioned written test. Applications for these positions will be notified by mail concerning the exact time and place. The Department gives all guards a uniform allowance of $13 after six consecutive months of service within a fiscal year.

Government Needs Financial Analysts; $6,435 to Start

Financial analysts are needed by the U.S. Government to fill positions throughout the country and in Puerto Rico. The vacancies are in the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

No written test is required. To qualify, applicants must have had appropriate experience including specialized experience of a comprehensive nature in the analysis, evaluation, or supervision of loans to private or public corporations or municipal governments. Pertinent college study may be substituted for part of the required experience.

Applications for these positions will be accepted until further notice. Full information on the requirements to be met and instructions on how to apply are given in civil service announcement 176 R. The announcement is available from the Board of U.S. Civil Service Employees' Examinations, 410 Post Office Building, or General Post Office in Brooklyn, from other post offices, except the main one in Manhattan; and from the Civil Service Commission's Information and Examination Office, New York, N. Y., Washington 25, D.C.

All-Woman Slate Wins Leadership of Jefferson County CSEA Chapter

(from Leader Correspondent)

WATERTOWN, April 30—An all-woman slate of officers defeated the male candidates in the annual balloting of the Jefferson County chapter, Civil Service Employees Association. Mrs. Evelyn Reischauer, Mrs. Amelia Enrich, Hattie Winter and Dorothy Cuneo, in that order, were chosen to occupy the four offices vacated by the male candidates. Mrs. Reischauer was re-elected president, Mrs. Enrich was re-elected vice-president, Mrs. Winter was re-elected recording secretary, and Mrs. Cuneo was elected corresponding secretary.

Govemor Signs Bills on Pension Fund Investments

ALBANY, April 30—Two bills, sponsored by Assemblymen Fred Preller, Queens Republican, have been signed by the Governor to liberalize the powers of investment of public pension funds.

The bills authorize participating investments and broaden the definition of "conventional mortgage" to facilitate such investments.

Kootzfalla said a defect has been found in the language of one of the bills, where the words "retirement system" were used instead of "fund." The state comptroller has reported, the Governor said, that the defect can be rectified administratively until the 1965 legislative session.

Burke Will Remain As Buffalo Chapter Head; Other Offices Opposed

BUFFALO, April 30— Alexander T. Burke, a Buffalo Sew- erage, Gas and Light employee, will serve an unprecedented fourth consecutive term as president of the Erie Chapter, Civil Service Employees Association.

He is unopposed for the office in a landslide victory under way now.

When the Chapter's nominating committee headed by Mrs. Adele Engler met to produce a 1962-63 slate for chapter officers, the committee was told by Burke that ample time had elapsed after three busy years as Chapter executive.

The committee, Mrs. Engler reports, promptly began a draft movement and persuaded Burke to reoff.
