Wall St. Prices Effect Political Campaigning

The depressed condition of the stock market continues to rank as a vital factor on the political scene with its effects on the November elections being assayed continually on both the national and local levels.

GOP Reformers can scarcely conceal their glee over public concern that conditions on the New York Stock Exchange recently have stood extremely high. A bare three years ago, the figure was 12,400,000. In 1959, and to the GOP this is a vindication, the total has grown to 17,000,000. In other words, the total has increased by nearly 50 percent during this period. It means that nearly 5,000,000 more Americans are worried about the state of their portfolios.

Hatfield Praises CSEA At Armory Conference

(From Leader Correspondent)

KINGSTON, July 2—The orderly approach to state legislation by officials of the CSEA drew plaudits recently from Senator Hatfield, who when he addressed the annual conference of Armory Employees Association.

"The legislative program presentation," said Senator Hatfield, "was a direct contrast to methods applied from time to time by similar minority groups of state workers. He said he "deplores" parades, placards and buttonholing legislators in front of the capital to "attract attention to requests for legislative action."

"It has always been a pleasure to work with the officers and legislative committees of the CSEA and spontaneous worthy bills for you follow," the senator declared.

During the annual program here, Henry Galpin, assistant executive director of the CSEA discussed the pending proposal for a 25-year retirement program in state retirement system. The proposal was made in 1961 in 1961. The proposal was at times to be submitted to the legislature. In 1961, the proposal was defeated in the legislature by a two to four vote of 13 for 13 votes in the Senate morning corporation committee.

Classification and Compensation Director J. Earl Kelly denied the reclassification bid on April 17, 1961, and re-affirmed his negative decision last March.

CS Commission Gets Appeal From Kelly Decision On Nurses

ALBANY, July 2—An appeal for reclassification of the State's professional nurse classes, rejected twice by the State Director of Classification and Compensation, was heard last week by the Civil Service Commission.

The appeal, brought by the Special Nurse's Committee of the Civil Service Employees Association, includes requests for a boost from two to four grades for 13 titles in the State's nursing corps.

Representing the Association at the hearing were Samuel J. Ciulla of Chicago, chairman of the Special Nurses' Committee; William J. Rossiter of Rochester State Hospital; F. Henry Galpin, CSEA Assistant Executive Director; and William J. Bloom, Director of Machinery Congress, the senator declared.

At a recent session, they voted as follows: Opposed to either a pay cut or layoffs; 104. Thirty-eight members opposed pay cuts but would accept the proposal for layoffs; 19 city workers would take the pay cut in preference to layoffs.

Port Jervis Action On Unused Sick Leave Pay To Be Used By CSEA

ALBANY, July 2—A precedent setting decision of the City of Port Jervis to grant full pay to its employees for accumulated sick leave up to 120 days, upon death or retirement, will be used by the Civil Service Employees Association in its fight to gain similar benefits for members in other jurisdictions.

According to the State, CSEA President Joseph F. Felly said today.

The unique plan was approved recently by the city's Common Council as a result of a formal request by the Port Jervis Unit of the Orange County Chapter, CSEA.

Scheneectady Pays Partly

The only other jurisdiction in the state that presently has such a plan is the City of Schenectady school system.

Under the Schenectady plan, an employee who gives written notice of his intention to retire on or before January 1 in any fiscal year that he or she desires to retire during the next fiscal year will be paid one-fourth of the amount of total accumulated sick leave.

The Port Jervis plan, however, is thought to be the first in New York State under which an employee or his beneficiary is reimbursed the full amount of accumulated sick leave upon retirement or death.

Feily said the Association will adopt the Port Jervis plan in detail and adopt its significant points to the plan adopted at Long Island in order to win similar benefits for CSEA members in the State and political subdivisions.

Niagra Falls Threatens Pay Cuts - Layoffs

(From Leader Correspondent)

NIAOAOA FALLS, July 2—City employees, many of them members of the Civil Service Employees Association, are fighting back against threats to city jobs because of a current financial crisis.

In brief, because of this city's precarious financial position, legislators propose either a layoff of 77 city workers or an across-the-board 5% reduction in pay.

Civil Service workers have met frequently to work out united action against the threat to their security.

At a recent session, they voted as follows: Opposed to either a pay cut or layoffs; 104. Thirty-eight members opposed pay cuts but would accept the proposal for layoffs; 19 city workers would take the pay cut in preference to layoffs.

Presented were provided by the 1962 Legislative, notification of the program—will be under the direction of the State Civil Service Department—and have been worked out.

In general, a discussion with the Association, the Civil Service Department has outlined the major objectives of the program. These include, among others, the improvement of employees' health, more adequate arrangement for medical care of occupational disease and injury, administration of the Health Insurance Program, and placement of employees according to their capacities, to enable them to perform in the most efficient manner.

The Civil Service Department has assured CSEA that, if the labor board, there would be further conferences with the Association.

November. The economy is badly out of balance. Inflation is high and even the most conservative financial analysts are not predicting a recession. Using this sound basis, the President can be expected to recall his economic team to the White House to talk to new men to get things moving.

Javits and Liberal Party Vote Effect

Reports that the Liberal Party will endorse either Governor Rockefeller or Sen. Jacob Javits for re-election this fall is a matter of concern to Rockefeller at the moment than to Javits.

While there is much in the history of the Rockefeller Administration that individual Liberal Party members are interested in. They feel in general that an endorsement or vote for Rockefeller will also mean support for President Kennedy in the future. And the liberals are not happy about Rockefeller's attack on the legacy of the presidential programs. They do not want to be in the position of endorsing Rockefeller at a majority vote next fall that would aid in his securing the General's nomination for 1964.

Officially, much of these arguments apply to Javits. However, he is a more popular figure with the Liberal Party and liberals of all persuasions. It is a tougher man to beat than Rockefeller. Javits has a liberal record in the United States Senate that was preceded by a stellar performance in office as postmaster at the Stenographer General. He has a first rate public image that cuts across party lines and earns him respect in almost every section of the state. In essence, the failure of the Liberal Party to endorse Javits may have little effect on the party members who like Javits. Furthermore, he is not competitive with Rockefeller. Javits is in the sense that Rockefeller is. While this all this, Rockefeller still remains the man to beat, however, and the goal will be more to reduce his huge lead than to defeat him.

Appeals Delays Irritating

THE CIVIL SERVICE Employees Association is becoming increasingly concerned over the time consumed by both the Division of Classification and Compensation and the State Civil Service Commission in rendering decisions on reclassification and reallocation appeals.

OUR CONCERN has been aroused once more, because of the length of time we have been waiting for a decision — still pending at this writing — of the Correction Officers for reallocation from Grade 11 to Grade 13.

For all the facts have been the reallocation of the positions of Correction Officer, Women's Correction Officer, Correction Hospital Attendants and Correction Youth Camp Officer were submitted by the Association to the Division of Classification and Compensation through the office of the Commissioner of Correction in mid-October of 1961. Included with the applications, was a request for a hearing on this appeal. The hearing was conducted on November 29, 1961, with the Association and CSEA representatives in attendance in order to express orally their reasons for believing that the proposed reclassifications should be granted.

On February 21, 1962, the Director of the Division of Classification and Compensation, Earl J. Kelly, disapproved the reallocation requests, setting forth his reasons in a written decision. Since Mr. Kelly's decision was unacceptable to the petitioners and CSEA, an appeal from his determination along with a request for a hearing, was submitted to the State Civil Service Commission by the Association on behalf of the appellants — on April 10, 1962, within the required 60 day limit from the date of the decision. The requested hearing before the Civil Service Commission was granted on May 8, 1962.

THIS APPEAL to the Commission, among others, was scheduled for the June 12-13 Commission meeting. We made this fact known to all of our interested members and expected the Commission determination to be made at the regularly scheduled June meeting, but no such determination was forthcoming. Since that time, we have been in close contact with the Commission, urging them to render a favorable determination on the reallocation appeal of the Correction Officers. Such a determination still remains to be made, as of this writing.

Slightly more than 6 months have elapsed since the initial applications for the reclassification of these positions were submitted to the State Civil Service Department. Out of this eight-month period, two months were consumed in the preparation of materials to be presented by CSEA and the appellants at the Commission hearing while the other 6 months have been absorbed by the Division of Classification and Compensation and the Civil Service Commission in deliberations on the appeal.

WE MAINTAIN THAT deliberations of such duration are unnecessary once all the facts have been presented in writing and at a hearing. Delays such as this in decision-making neither enhance the Merit System of Government nor boost employee morale.

Lieutenant Governor Malcolm Wilson was the featured speaker at the commencement exercises of the Delehanty High School, Jamaica recently. In urging the students to grasp every opportunity for higher education, Wilson pointed out the statistics that show the vastly superior earning power of college-trained persons and went on to say that well-educated men and women could be America’s finest bulwark against the rising tide of Communism in the world.

A number of honor students received their medals and citations from Bernard Gallay, principal. These included 3 New York State Regents scholarships earned by Kathleen M. Pittinham, Theodore J. Veterans Questions Answered

As a War Vet I have been drawing a pension for the past number of years, but paid no heed to the new pension law when it came out. I now think it would be to my advantage to come under the new law. Is it too late to change?

No, the change to the new pension law may be made at any time. However, once the change is made, the recipient cannot return to the payment system under the old law. It is too late to change.
Delay On Appeals
Are Inexcusable

ONE of the most tedious processes extant in the State Civil Service is that which involves appealing a decision from the State Director of Classification and Compensation. The delays in receiving a final decision from the State Civil Service Commission are interminable— and unexplainable.

Two such appeals, from correction officers and institution nurses, have been before the Commission for an inordinate length of time. There were indirect assurances from the Commission that an opinion would be forthcoming in June. It is now July, and there is no word on the status of government service.

The Civil Service Employees Association, as well as the correction and nursing personnel, are complaining loudly about this issue and well they should. If the Civil Service Commission is under the influence of any Delays, it is on matters of such weighty importance to state workers it should announce these reasons immediately.

And while we were on the topic of appeals we would like to add—again—that both of these titles deserve and need to be upgraded.

THE suggestion made last week by Herbert S. Bauch, president of Terminal Employees Local 832 to allow compensatory time off to New York City correction officers to qualify for off-duty postal carrying permission is one which deserves due consideration. Since

The correction officer is a peace officer, fully acquainted with City, State and Federal laws, and is qualified as a markman, he would serve as a valuable asset to the protection of the city. In addition, correction officers are carefully investigated by the New York City Department of Personnel and the Department of Correction before they are designated and regularly reviewed.

New York City patroons as well as those in the Housing and Transit Authorities are armed at all times. These men often make arrests during their off-duty hours. Included in their off-duty arrests are many for felonies.

If a correction officer is willing to increase his public duty is assisting in the protection of residents, then he should be granted the necessary time off to qualify as a markman. Many of them now do this on their own time.
Eight hours is cheap enough price for the resultant protection.

Army Promotions Increase

521 officers will receive promotions within the next few days from Lieutenant to captain and captain to lieutenant colonel. Prospects for both Regular Army and Reserve officers are excellent. A steady pace of promotions has been maintained. The regular forces are scheduled to have 1,000 new promotions in the next few weeks. The opportunity is considered excellent for all ranks of officer and enlisted personnel. The need for experienced officers is very keen. The Army is making every effort to keep up with the demand for new personnel. The increase in new pay scale is indicative that this area of study is receiving the greatest attention. The Army personnel, non-regular retired personnel who had the opportunity to serve in each field grade or eliminate legal limitations entirely.

In Europe, Trips Eased For Retired Personnel

Retired Army forces personnel will have a chance to go to Europe with their dependents on a space available basis within the next few weeks. The opportunity is open to the three categories of retired personnel who had the privilege of serving overseas but was impeded. These include retired Army personnel, non-regural soldiers who receive retired pay for physical disability and members of reserve components retired with at least 20 years of active duty. Dependents may go along with retired soldiers but "travel is not authorized for dependents unaccompanied by the retired member or for survivors of a retired member."

Application should be made for space on a vessel of the Military Transportation Service well in advance of travel time. For travel to Europe application should be made to the Adjutant General, Command, Atlantic, 30 St., Brooklyn 50, N.Y. Requests for travel may be accepted until dependents of soldiers have been returned.

More Women Officers Probable in All Ranks

There will be more women in the Armed Services in all fields of the President's Commission on the Status of Women, headed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, has its way. The increase in new pay scale is indicative that this area of study is receiving the greatest attention. It Will Take More Than Brains To Get Promotion Brains alone won't win promotion in the Reserve. This is the policy laid down by the Pay Board in a letter sent to command. Education is just one of many factors considered by selection boards but "those best qualified" in terms of leadership will be given special consideration.

Army Air Arm Needs Will Triple In 8 Years

Opportunities in the Army air arm will triple in the next eight years. This is the conclusion drawn from the estimates of the current and future requirements. By 1965 the Army is scheduled to have 5,000 aircraft in the air, compared with 1,800 aircraft with nearly 7,000 pilots at the present time. Expansion of the helicopter program will add to these needs.

2,000 Company Grad Officers to be Appoin

For 2,000 company grade officers in the Reserve will be filled during the next 12 months from the ranks of Reserve officers not on active duty in their commissioned status. Applications will be open to those with no more than 18 years of active service and not holding a grade above captain, according to General Circular 691-3. Officers from the 34 non-technical branches are sought.

In addition, the Army has a special need for pilots, both fitted and rotary wing, information officers, psychological warfare officers, and officers in the field of science and technology.

More Women Officers Probable in All Ranks

There will be more women in the Armed Services in all fields of the President's Commission on the Status of Women, headed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, has its way. Inasmuch as the group is directed to make study of the status of women in business, industry and the armed forces, the opportunity is considered excellent for all ranks of officer and enlisted personnel. The need for experienced officers is very keen. The Army is making every effort to keep up with the demand for new personnel. The increase in new pay scale is indicative that this area of study is receiving the greatest attention. The Army personnel, non-regular retired personnel who had the opportunity to serve in each field grade or eliminate legal limitations entirely.

It Will Take More Than Brains To Get Promotion

Brains alone won't win promotion in the Reserve. This is the policy laid down by the Pay Board in a letter sent to command. Education is just one of many factors considered by selection boards but "those best qualified" in terms of leadership will be given special consideration.

Army Air Arm Needs Will Triple In 8 Years

Opportunities in the Army air arm will triple in the next eight years. This is the conclusion drawn from the estimates of the current and future requirements. By 1965 the Army is scheduled to have 5,000 aircraft in the air, compared with 1,800 aircraft with nearly 7,000 pilots at the present time. Expansion of the helicopter program will add to these needs.

New Minimum Death Benefit

The most important legislation affecting the fringe benefits provided for in the 1961 session was the Governor's bill relating to minimum death benefits of employees who are not members of the State Employees Association. The following article is the third in a series.

By HARRY W. ALBRIGHT, Jr.

Counsel, Civil Service Employees Assn.

This measure in its present form is said to be a compromise in order to prevent the possible loss of the insurance aspect of the ordinary death benefits that are provided under the Retirement System for employees whose salaries had been paid for by the State. The formula for the minimum death benefit, as finally adopted by the legislature, provides for one half the ordinary death benefit to an employee whose salary had been paid for by the State. The formula also includes provisions for the adoption of a new plan to which the employee belongs. Therefore, all members of the Retirement System will not be required to amend their retirement plans to comply with this measure. It is anticipated that the Retirement System, the Department of Civil Service and the employees to whom the measure applies will prepare an appropriate plan designating the beneficiaries.

For employees who enter or re-enter state service at 46 years of age or over, this benefit is not payable unless such employee has agreed for at least one year of continuous state service. This measure, which became Chapter 255 of the Laws of 1962, was sponsored by Senator Balsat and Assemblyman Watson and was introduced in the 1961 session.

Salary on Change In Job Status

The long range effects of automatic retirement measures have only recently been fully appreciated by public employee organizations. Among the significant developments are the efforts of a number of employees, including employees of the Department of Education, but it does not include employees of the other governmental agencies and of Cornell University.

The law provides that the survivors' benefit shall be an amount which when added to the employee's death benefit and accumulated under any public pension plan shall to the deceased state employee have provided him with the compensation earned by the state employee during his last year of service. For all members of the New York State Retirement System who have more than six years of service and each member who has served, and had credited for at least one year of continuous state service, his retirement plan to which the employee belongs, this measure will provide for an amount equal to one half the compensation earned by the state employee during his last year of service.

Mental hygiene memo

Nurses Rest Their Case

When we first began our activities to effectuate a nurses salary appeal, we did not feel that presenting the facts to support this appeal would be any great, surprising revelation. Most of this was a matter of reading the nurses' views and the facts and resolution to complete the preparation and the subsequent appeal presentation. Our efforts have not relaxed. How effective and how strong in our case, we will not know until the Civil Service Commission renders a decision.

Obviously, we must continue, regardless of the decision, to give good treatment to those entrusted to our care. We see no need to compromise or dilute our beliefs on the need for proper salaries.

To see oneself as viewed by others, can, sometimes, be a most exhilarating experience. How effective and how strong in our case, we will not know until the Civil Service Commission renders a decision.

There have been many aspects to the appeal. Nurse shortage, greater responsibilities, more difficult assignments and lower salaries, to mention only a few. Increased salaries will not solve all the problems nurses in our State face. This is illustrated by the belief that when calorie deficiency produces too much, supplying the calories will not fill the cavities. It will, however, go a long way in improving the nurses' health, both physically and mentally. This all adds up to a more contented staff, which, in turn, should improve patient care. The cost for professional services, at all levels, has increased.

Laws and procedures are so established in our State government that appeals may be made at various planes. Nurses in our institutions did not agree with the decision of the Division of Classification and Compensation. This is illustrated by the belief that when calorie deficiency produces too much, supplying the calories will not fill the cavities. It will, however, go a long way in improving the nurses' health, both physically and mentally. This all adds up to a more contented staff, which, in turn, should improve patient care. The cost for professional services, at all levels, has increased.

Additional pertinent information to the original appeal was well presented and the participants were extended every consideration and courtesy by the Commissioners in presenting the facts of the case.

Sam Cipolla, Chairman, performed most satisfactorily as he explained many points in support for the need of higher salaries for nurses employed by the State Hospital for the Leper. His prior service has been in the challenging responsibilities, assumption of some duties usually performed by Doctors, intensive care for more patients, increased admission, more discharges, low salaries, an alarming nurse shortage, and resolution to complete the preparation and the subsequent appeal presentation. Our efforts have not relaxed. How effective and how strong in our case, we will not know until the Civil Service Commission renders a decision.

This appeal for higher salaries for our nurses started nearly two years ago. In the study and presentation, the nurses from all departments have conducted themselves in an intelligent and disciplined manner. For these efforts, we wish to commend them. Their sights, thus far, have been clean and clear throughout.

The nurses feel that an injustice had been done, the Suffolk CSEA Employees Association decided to appeal to the Civil Service Commission. Their views, thus far, have been clean and clear throughout.

There has been an obvious need for the ever increasing elderly and bedridden patients, are strong and valid reasons for increased salaries.

Make no mistake about it—this all adds up to more work for nurses. They are so much as they rest their case.
