Two More Troopers File Suits Against Cornelius

Feily Rebuts Homer Statement
After Rochester City Manager
Raps "Free Choice"Editorial

BY PAUL KYER

ALBANY, Nov. 19—The reply of Rochester City Manager Porter W. Homer to an editorial in The Leader, which charged city employees in Rochester were being denied the basic right of free choice in selecting their representation, was refuted last week by Joseph F. Feily, president of the 100,- 000-member Civil Service Employees Association.

The Leader editorial was republished in full in the Nov. 9 issue of the Rochester Times-Union, followed by a reply in the editorial by Homer. The editorial asked: "When were they (Rochester City employees) given the free choice, through a secret ballot, to determine what employee association they represent them?" It also charged Homer with apparently promising to deliver city employees to one particular union.

Homer's Reply

Here is Homer's reply, followed by Feily a rebuttal of the statement. Homer wrote to the Rochester newspaper saying: "The editorial in The Civil Service Leader ignores a basic concept of employee organization -- the right of a group to select its own bargaining agent.

The city of Rochester has declared no employees to any-
sor. The employees now represented by the State Service and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, chose that organization to represent them.

"Evidence to support this fact is now on file with the city as required by law."

Wyoming Cty. Aides

(From Leader Correspondent)

WARSAW, Nov. 19—Work
by the Wyoming County credited with bringing an 8% pay raise to most County Civil Service Employees.

The raise has been voted by the Wyoming County Board of Supervisors, effective Jan. 1. A pay board for Wyoming County Community Hospital employees was decided by a vote in October. The Worcester County Chapter urged the pay raises at hearings on the 1963 county budget. Miss Josephine Carlin is president of the Wyoming Chapter.

DON'T REPEAT THIS

made one of the most tremendous impressions any governor ever made on state workers. They departed the following year when he kept a promise to move state employees to a par with their counterparts in private industry. That, of course, resulted in a round of wage increases. Prior to that, he accepted a proposition made by the Civil Service Employees Association to increase take-home-pay by having the state pick up the first five percent of contributions to the State Retirement System. This legislation was made possible because the major local government employers have benefited from the act.

On administrative matters, the Civil Service Employees Association and individual employees report a usually harmonious relationship with top level Republicans such as Lieut. Governor Malcolm Wilson, as well as with Legislative leader Walter J. Mahoney, Speaker Joseph Carlozzi and Attorney General Louis Lefkowitz, as well as with Senate Majority Leader Mahoney in address to the Civil Service Employees Association at that organization's annual meeting in Buffalo.

Major Robert Wagner is being pressed on many fronts in the labor scene, particularly by police and firemen, for some substantial action in setting minimum wage increases. It is not secret that the City is hard pressed for money and it is doubtful there will be any major increase in the aid to offset these pressures. As a matter of fact, many observers in the politico feel that State aid was made a campaign issue to the point where it lessened the chances of another re-election.

Wagner therefore is faced with two unpopular actions—at the same time. One is the City's stringers or seeking new and/or higher taxes. Such a climate is not conducive to the expression of a feeling of City employee desires.

Without an increase in income from the Legislature it can probably be said, therefore, that the election results have changed the picture very little for City employees. Their problems are going to have to be settled right at home. Civil Service Strength

One last note. Civil servants have become increasingly aware of the size of their fighting strength. It is so large that it has often been referred to as the "sleeping giant" in politics. Political observers in both parties have noted that large bodies of civil service employees, namely through their employee organizations, are going to keep reminding both Democrats and Republicans that the civil service vote is something that has to be reckoned with. Here is a rundown on the size of that vote in New York State.

The total number of civil servants in the state — Federal, state, city and local is some 300,000. Of these over 181,000 are Federal; 121,000 are state; 300,000 work for public utilities; 260,000 are city employees. In other local jurisdictions and the remainder are in such classifications as transport and public welfare.

A further breakdown shows that the majority of these employees work in the metropolitan area. These figures show 300,000 New York City employees; more than 24,000 state employees and more than 112,000 Federal employees, constituting a public employee population of more than 450,000—and practically every one of them of voting age.

Voting registration in New York City, according to latest available figures, was some 850,000. This means that more than 10 percent of these voters are civil service. Pollsters usually count only 1 to 3 votes per working family, which means the civil service "family" vote in the Metropolitan area is roughly more than 20 to 30 percent of the voting body; an enormous minority, to say the least.

THE PERFORMANCE of the agency or the product made by the company may be super. But all the good public relations can be neutralized or made bad by an unpopular rank and file. The commercial airlines can testify that it can give the world's best service, but a noisy ticket counter or an impatient computer phone operator can make all their good public relations efforts null.

TO REDUCE this possibility to a minimum, the New York City Transit Authority has begun a rank-and-file public relations program. Highly laudable in its objectives, the TA is giving the program to all its 1,800 railroad clerks and porters.

IT TAKES a capable organizer, as well as an executor who thinks big, to carry out such a program. But with the cooperation of the rank and file, the project can be, and has been, a success. The TA's ends are to make sure that these employees are happy to have the same team back.

Change of Attitude

In prior years, legislators and public officials frequently expressed the belief that the large majority of civil service employees showed their gratitude to the Governor for the enactment of the Good will Bill or presented him with the usual gifts—"compare to the State Retirements Office, Comptroller Arthur Kneller as an example. The same figures can be given to New York City employees. As the same figures can be used to give the Governor credit for many of the major actions he has taken. It is true that the Governor has taken a few unpopular actions. But it can be said that Rockefeller is a man that can make all their good public relations efforts and, in time, do little for City employees. The Governor's cabinet also includes the majority of these employees are happy to have the same team back.

Unrest Grows Over Budget OK Delay

STILL A BIG fat zero on the Correction Officer's Report to the Legislature. Most of the boys feel like a yo-yo. Division of Classification says "No." Civil Service Commissioners say "Yes." Director of Budget says nothing.

IN THIS WRITER's travels throughout the State it is amazing how many congratulatory remarks are received on the final granting of R-12 to Correction Officers. Eye-brow really raised when I explain that it still was not approved of that one individual still has the paper after two years of hearings and appeals to deny the approval.

JOSEPH FEILY, president of CSEA, has contacted Bud- get Director T. Norman Hurd and explained the growing concern over the Classification of CSEA members. As delaying tactics on the reallocation of Correction Officer salaries, which was approved by the Civil Service Commis- sion over two months ago.

WHAT JUSTIFICATION can there be for the thousands of dollars expended by the Division of Classification and the Appellant powers of the Civil Service Commission in their delegated authority, if the Division of Budget, fails to follow out their recommendations. It would appear foolish for the Budget Division to assume that other agencies involved in reclassification had not considered the fiscal implications in their deliberations and decisions.

NEW YORK CITY police and firemen have been turn- ing down an offered $700 increase in salary and demon- strating with picket lines to bring attention to their request. Must be a reasonable time when the City of New York is unsuccessfully attempting to recruit applicants and using every gimmick known in employment practices.

LATEST IN LAW enforcement salaries: Los Angeles $9,124 in 4 years and $9,064 in 3 years. Detroit $6,149 in 3 years. Washington, D.C. $6,859 in 4 years and $6,869 in 19 years. Minneapolis $6,012 in 3 years. San Francisco $6,017 and New York City offered $8,124 in 4 years and $9,504 in 20 years. Chicago $6,580 in 4 years. Chicago $6,500 in 3 years. San Francisco $7,505 in 4 years. New York State Correction Officers $6,600 in 6 years. I guess Horace Greeley was right, "Go West, young man."

ATTENTION Correction Officers: Hudson Valley Community College announced a night course in law. College President Otto V. Ginderter stated "If interest is shown, the program may be expanded into a 4 year course with an award of associate degree in Law." Applicants must be full time paid law enforcement officers.

THE JOINT Legislative Committee on Court Re-organiza- tion will recommend to the Legislature that probation activities be removed from Department of Correction and placed under the State Judicial Conference.

FRANCIS A. MacDonald, better known as "Big Mac" and an old time fighter for civil service employees and former CSEA vice president, is having a battle with the medics. Did a card of cheer to Warwick State School, Warwick, New York. It will help a lot to hear from old friends.

JENNETT, chairman of the Orange County Correction Officers Association has been formed. Just what Correction Officers Will this group represent, as far as I know the State Correction Department has no in- stitutions in Orange County.

On May 29, the trooper alleged he received notices that his accumulated sick leave and vaca- tion credits were used up and that he was being placed on sick leave without pay until physically able to return to duty.

Non-Teaching Aides in Syracuse May Form CSEA Unit

(From Leader Correspondent SIRACUSE, Nov. 19—Non- teaching personnel of the Syracuse school system may join Syracuse Chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, according to CSEA leaders here.

The chapter's Board of Directors has authorized discussions with the group, said Miss Leonetta Appel, president of the chapter. The discussions are being handled by Vernon Vesper, CSEA vice president, and John Roberts, chapter representative.

Can Join Under the proposed plan for school personnel, members of the chapter, the separate unit would operate as an individual group, but would be represented on the Onondaga Chapter Board of Di- rectors, it was said.

yet SICKNESS accounts for 70% of all disabilities!

It's a fact, each year millions of American lose billions of dollars in lost wages as a result of accidents and sickness. Statistics show that 1 out of 3 people will be disabled before age 65, and approximately 1,000 people are permanently disabled due to accidents alone each day!

The C.S.E.A. Accident and Sickness Insurance program administered by Ter Bush & Powell, Inc., offers this vital protection to any active C.S.E.A. member. Over 38,000 employees are already covered and many have received benefits which reduced and sometimes eliminated the workmen's compensation benefits they received.

WMCA Makes Plea For Firemen's Fund

Radio Station WMCA, noted for its spirited editorial stands, has taken another stand in behalf of New York City's civil servants. This time, the radio station has spoken out in order to aid the bereaved families of those six, brave firemen whose lives were lost in the line of duty in a fire in Queens.

The broadcast was a plea for donations to the Queen's Firemen's Fund—and we are happy to reprint that radio editorial. It reads:

"Six firemen put their lives on the line for you every day... every night... when they go to work.

Last year, 14 of them died on duty. Just a few weeks ago six more died while putting out a fire in Queens. We want to remember the firemen and respect the funeral procession outside St. Patrick's Cathedral.

"Three thousand off-duty firemen marched in solemn procession their heads bowed, into St. Patrick's Cathedral, this morning for a Requiem Mass for the repose of the souls of the six firemen killed Saturday night in Queens."

These men who gave their lives lie behind grieving families. WMCA urges you to contribute. Send what you can to Fire Commissioner Thompson, New York 7.

After The Election

The votes are in, the choices have been made and it's "back to business" now in the world of politics. Our column "Don't Repeat This" interprets the election results this week and in so doing poses some serious questions concerning employee relationships in New York City.

There are numerous major problems still unanswered by the recent election results, but one of the most important: How can we keep our civil servants, who are necessary to the basic operation of a large city, happy and contented? It would be a good idea for the elected officials to make every effort to determine the answers to these problems and to work for their solution.

The election results, too, are a reminder to local civil servants that they should keep their positions with their heads held high and their work done conscientiously. After all, they have a stake in the future of the city.

A Thanksgiving Wish

Thanksgiving is here and we welcome a holiday that, with the Fourth of July, is so particularly an American one. Our independence is one of the things we Americans have to be thankful for, but one of the most important. The privilege of living in a free society is something to be grateful for at any time.

Each of us will have his own particular "blessings" to count this Thursday. The Editor hopes that the number of those blessings increases for all, not only to be remembered on Thanksgiving Day, but throughout the year.

Letter to the Editor

Letters to the editor must be signed and for publication upon request. They should not be longer than 200 words and we reserve the right to edit published letters as seems appropriate. Address all letters to: The Editor, Civil Service Leader, 97 Duane St., New York 7, N. Y.

"By Harold L. Heiztstein"

Editor: The Leader: After The Election Tuesday, November 20, 1962

The Leader hopes that the number of Indians have to be thankful for this week, but one of the most unexpected is the fact that several hundred city-owned typewriters were being delivered to school in City-owned trucks. Some of these trucks had Public Works, Housing Authority, etc., signs on them.

Instructions from the Civil Service Commission office stated that the candidates were to supply their own typewriters. It is true that the typewriter for just this examination. It also cost me a sleepless night before the examination, worrying whether the machine would arrive on time and whether it would be in good working condition.

If my supervisor would have allowed me to use the typewriter 15 or 30 minutes before the exam, I would have been happy to take it myself and return it to the office. I would not have had to subordinate myself to others and others were allowed to use city-owned typewriters.

"Unfair," she says. I have been reminded that candidates are to use city-owned typewriters until the examination started; a machine with which I had no knowledge and no chance to become familiar with. I have never been so familiar with their machines. If an employer or a board of examiners are held to the same standards, I am sure that several hundred city-owned typewriters would be delivered in City-owned trucks.

Legislative Reforms In New York

On March 20, 1962, Mr. Mudzinski executed a "Designation of Beneficiary" form in which Dorothy Keay Brennan was designated as beneficiary. The Judge wrote: "I immediately after executing the aforesaid form the decedent delivered it to his attorney for the purpose of filing it with the respondent." Mr. Mudzinski died on March 25, 1962. The form was not filed until March 26, 1962, the day after his death. The Retirement System accepted the form, but marked it invalid and has refused to pay the benefits to Miss Brennan, the designated name in it. Miss Brennan then started an action for recovery of her claim of right.

The Law

The Law and you Tuesday, November 20, 1962

Upon the death of a member or if a former member, there shall be paid to his estate, or to such person as he has nominated or shall nominate by written designation duly executed and filed with such board during the lifetime of the member.

The Judge ruled that since the designation was not filed "during the lifetime of the member," that Miss Brennan had no rights in this proceeding. He seemed sorry about it. In fact, he wrote that he dismissed the petition "without prejudice to any other rights the petitioner may possess." However, he decided against her.

Commercial Assn. Urges Mayor Veto

Supports Contract

BUFFALO, Nov. 19 — A city employee asked by the Erie County Chapter, CSEA, apparently has won his fight for higher position.

Ronald B. Hughes, a senior first class state classification employee, said city legal officers have dropped an appeal to the Supreme Court under an order that Grady obtained against the Buffalo Civil Service Commission.

Grady placed first on a four-man list in a competitive examination in 1961 for associate stationery employee. He claimed, and the Board agreed, that he was qualified. After he was passed over for the first appointment the last was "unanimously" so only two names remained.

In another vacancy occurred, no appointment was made, because appointing authorities told him they didn't have a choice of three eligibles.

Mr. Grady is a new employee, without having to take another exam, for a future vacancy.

LAW & YOU

The Law and you Tuesday, November 20, 1962

Act Fast

Retirement officials, with whom I have discussed the subject, are always concerned about the failure of members to act promptly in retirement matters. They have good reason. That brother whom you made your beneficiary when you started to work twenty-five years ago may not be the one you are. Since you designated him you have taken a wife or a husband and have had several children. Get over to your retirement system and straighten things out. Time will not do it.

Retirement officials in this State are sympathetic and serious. They will always give you detailed attention on what you want to accomplish. Call on them as often as you wish.

NOW, LET ME show you what happened in a recent ‘late’ case, with which I might help you to face.

The MUZDINSKI CASE

This month Judge Harold Tender of the State Supreme Court in Queens County demonstrated what happens when a change of beneficiary is sought but the designation is not filed in time (Matter of Mudzinski, Board of Estimate, Supreme Court, Queens County, Special Term, Part I, New York Law Journal, 11/6/62, p. 17, col. 8).

In that case Mr. Mudzinski, an employee of the New York City Transit Authority, had joined the New York City Employees' Retirement System in 1947. At that time he had nominated Mary Mudzinski, his wife, to receive the ordinary death benefit and accumulated salary deductions in the event of his death while in City service. Subsequently, he and his wife separated and remained separated at the time of his death.

On March 20, 1962, Mr. Mudzinski executed a "Designation of Beneficiary" form in which Dorothy Keay Brennan was designated as beneficiary. The Judge wrote: "I immediately after executing the aforesaid form the decedent delivered it to his attorney for the purpose of filing it with the respondent." Mr. Mudzinski died on March 25, 1962. The form was not filed until March 26, 1962, the day after his death. The Retirement System accepted the form, but marked it invalid and has refused to pay the benefits to Miss Brennan, the designated name in it. Miss Brennan then started an action for recovery of her claim of right.

The Law

Judge Tessler rejected her claim. He wrote that the refusal was justified under Section 33-320 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York which provides that:

"Upon the death of a member or if a former member, there shall be paid to his estate, or to such person as he has nominated or shall nominate by written designation duly executed and filed with such board during the lifetime of the member.

The Judge ruled that since the designation was not filed "during the lifetime of the member," that Miss Brennan had no rights in this proceeding. He seemed sorry about it. In fact, he wrote that he dismissed the petition "without prejudice to any other rights the petitioner may possess." However, he decided against her.
