Membership Drive Rolls On

CSEA Nears Majority Representation For Utica City Employees

(Special To The Leader)

UTICA, July 22 — The Civil Service Employees Association continues to gain new members, viewing this city as part of its vigorous membership drive with reliable estimates indicating that CSEA will represent a "vast majority" of city employees, exclusive of policemen and firemen, in "a matter of days."

Last week, representatives of the city unit presented a six-point program for salary and fringe benefits outlined to Mayor Frank Dulan. The unit representatives were accompanied by Vernon A. Tupper, stewards' vice president of the State-wide Association; Joseph D. Lochner, executive director of the CSEA; and Samuel Ber- renell, Oneida County representative of the CSEA Board of Directors.

"No Question" At the meeting, Lochner told Dulan, "We think we now represent a majority of city employees, exclusive of firemen and policemen. When our membership drive is complete, we will approach the vast majority, so there should be no question as to who represents the city employees."

In a later development, Joseph A. Mathews, newly installed presi- dent of the Oneida County chapter, CSEA, announced plans for a seven-point program which includes a concerted membership drive among county and city em- ployees with a goal of 1,300 members by Januaiy of 1964. There are 1,300 county workers and more than 100 city employees eligible for membership in the Association, a CSEA spokesman said.

Membership Drive Rolls On

The Westchester chapter of The Civil Service Employees Association has distributed chapter election ballots to all members of the chapter. Ball- lots must be returned to the Election Committee by Wednesday, July 31.

Candidates for election to one-year terms are as follows: Gabriel J. Carabio, president; Howard Ornstein, vice president; Emanuel V. DeRubio, second vice president; Stanley Fraga, third vice president; Ellen Good- hart, secretary; James Bell, treasurer; and David Smith, assistant treasurer.

Where To Get Ballots Candidates for the Board of Directors are: Solomon Leider, Robert Dorety, Arnold Domin- elli, and James F. Kenna. Terms expire in 1966. Michael Del Vecchio, Robert Ornstein, Edward Senareza, and Arthur Gomes. Terms to expire in 1966. The Westernhdeg chapter member who has not received ballots should contact his depart- mental representative, unit president, or call Mrs. Marilyn Matt- thews, executive secretary, at WH-1-1930, Extension 118.

The Republicans' "Bright Young Men" FEWER "Grand Old Men" dominate the American political scene now than at anytime since the American Revolution, when Alexander Hamilton and Thomas Jeffer- son were only a fraction of the hundreds of young, new Americans committed to establishing a new government in North America. Today, the Democratic Party is headed by youthful President John F. Kennedy, and, as we re- ported here last week, the President and the men around him are credited with attracting innumerable good, young minds throughout the country.

With Saving a Life

By JOE DeARY, Jr.

A bus driver for the Manhattan and Bronx Surface Transit Operating Authority, detailed to the Transit Authority as a photographer, has been cited by Fire Commissioner Peter M. Fox for saving a civilian from the life of a critically wounded civilian last week.

The photographer, Paul Thayer of Valley Cottage, New York, has been a part-time free-lance photographer for over a quarter century, specializing in fire photos.

Several years ago, he was a member of a team of still and movie photographers for the New York Daily News who were awarded a Pullman Prize for a series "Harlem at Night".

While going to a fire which he heard about on his fire radio, he noticed a commotion at the curb of 145th Street and 3rd Avenue. On investigation, he found Herbert Willsen, semi-conscious on the pavement, bleeding profusely from stab wounds of the throat and back. While utilizing his half a compress and applying direct pressure on the wounds, he asked bystanders to call an ambulance.

Before the ambulance arrived.

Meet "Anita" Hill

Administrative Ass't. For the CSEA Insurance Plans

Anita E. Hill, really does not require an introduction to many civil service members, for she has been and is considered "Miss Insurance" of the Civil Service Employees Association Accident & Health plan.

Following graduation from Scotia High School, Anita attended and graduated from the Mildred Elly Secretarial School in Albany. She was then employed by Ter Bush & Powell, Inc. in the Life Accident and Health Department. Shortly thereafter, she was transferred to the Civil Service Department. Anita has worked in most of the administrative phases of the plan and has literally spent her working career in the C.S.E.A. plan.

She occupies herself during leisure hours with reading, knitting and entertaining her nieces and nephews. Miss Hill resides with her mother in Scotia, New York.

RETIRES — Margaret Bowell, head nurse of St. Lawrence State Hospital, being presented with a retirement certificate and fiftieth present from her co-workers by Dr. Amore Del Giudice, Clinical Director of the hospital. Miss Bowell, a 1911 graduate of the School of Nursing of the St. Lawrence State Hospital, has been employed in the hospital since her graduation. She is now retiring from her position as assistant supervisor of Flower Building.
The Department of Personnel is expected to open filing for an examination for the position of cleaner (men) during the October filing period. This examination, one of the most popular in New York City service, is expected to draw a record number of applicants. Advance notice is being given of this examination so that our readers interested in this position may have sufficient time to prepare for this examination.

There is no filing fee for this position. Applicants should not try to pay any filing fee and should not try to fill at this time.

To date, the State Legislature has refused to allow any referendum on the question because, as Assembly Speaker Joseph C. Bruno pointed out: "This is not a constitutional question and we have never placed a non-constitutional question on the ballot."

In BEING NAMED to the first U.S. honors list, they receive the nation's highest civilian award. But they also honor all workers in the vineyard of government. Their awards emphasize the importance of government service to the wellbeing of all.

BUILDERS, we like about our own U.S. honors list is that we weren't the least bit ashamed to borrow the idea from other countries, principally from Britain and France.

One of the best public relations communicators in the world, President Kennedy, summed up the need for the awards:

"IN A PERIOD when the national government must call upon an increasing portion of the talents and energies of its citizens, it is clearly apparent that we have to recognize and reward the work of personal who contribute significantly to the quality of American life."

We hope that the Independence Day honors list is the stars of a great American tradition, which will go a long way toward giving the United States of America the good public relations it has earned and deserves.

Incentive & Awards

IT'S ABOUT time that the public relations image of the United States was lifted up a bit, and we think the idea of establishing a Presidential Day honors list is a long way toward applying some polish to the tarnish.

EVERY LITTLE achievement in the public service, whether performed by a civil servant in an obscure government entity, or by the President of the United States, adds up to good public relations for our country.

AWARDS HAVE always been an excellent tool to beef up the good public relations of an organization, or of a country. These awards have the potential for better performance in the public interest, as well as goals to which all in the public service can aspire.

WHAT WE LIKE about the new idea of the President's annual honors list, is that it is effective in dramatizing the achievements of Americans in government, in the public service, in science, the arts, and educations.

TRUE, THAT IN the honors list are two foreigners—M. Kauppinen, Finnish Consul, working hard for a United States of Europe, and Pablo Casals, more honored in his new home than in his birthplace, Spain.

Of the 31 designated by President Kennedy to receive the Presidential Medal of Honor, a list is that we weren't the least bit ashamed to borrow the idea from other countries, principally from Britain and France.

In Britain, the twice-yearly Queen's Honors List recognizes hundreds of civil servants who have served loyally and well, and elevates a number of outstanding citizens to the nobility.

IN THE LEGION OF Honor is the French contribution to the honors system, and it's a capital idea because it has won immemorable friends for France. Legion of Honor members have been liberally bestowed on approximately 200,000 citizens and foreigners. From the public relations standpoint, this gives France 200,000 roosters and boosters.

One of the best public relations communicators in the world, President Kennedy, summed up the need for the awards:

"IN A PERIOD when the national government must call upon an increasing portion of the talents and energies of its citizens, it is clearly apparent that we have to recognize and reward the work of personal who contribute significantly to the quality of American life."

We hope that the Independence Day honors list is the stars of a great American tradition, which will go a long way toward giving the United States of America the good public relations it has earned and deserves.

The safety valve takes much of the danger out of steam engines. It is a contrivance which automatically relieves the pressure of steam in a boiler before it reaches the bursting point. (However, folklore tells of paddlewheel steamers racing madly on the Mississippi with their safety valves tied down to convert every bit of steam pressure into speed . . . and exploding in midstream)

Pioneers in Protection

Just as the invention of the safety valve helped make James Watt's steam engine (1769) the first great mechanical servant of man . . . so the Statewide Plan was the first program of protection against the costs of hospital, surgical-medical and major medical care for the employees of the State of New York. This three-part program — Blue Cross, Blue Shield, and Major Medical — offers most State employees, active or retired, the most liberal benefits at the lowest possible cost. That's why more than 435,000 State employees and employees of many local subdivisions of New York State and their dependents are now subscribers. If you are not a subscriber and would like all the facts on the Statewide Plan, see your payroll or personnel officer.

The proposition also relates to the position of attorney trainee which is to be proposed. If the junior attorney were placed in the same classification as the attorney trainee, then, since the requirements for these two positions are different classification and designation, the senior attorney, the assistant in the Attorney Occupational group.

Only the most recent step toward appointment is listed.

SYRACUSE July 22—Assignments were scheduled today in the Supreme Court here on legal secretaries and their appointments. The assignment of three deputy police chiefs and transfers of policemen began when the final investigation divisions of the Syracuse Police Department were brought simultaneously by the Syracuse Police Department on its own. Announcements of the State Civil Service Law.

The action on deputy chiefs came as a surprise locally.

Switching of the deputies from the competitive to the appointive classification was the subject of a near-year-old battle. The local law permitting the switch in classification finally was approved after a local battle—by both bills of the Civil Service Commission, and was considered settled.

Action Expected

The other legal action had been expected since last month when the PBA authorized the legal proceedings in a special meeting following Police Chief Patrick V. Connors' announcement that the men were being transferred from the Criminal Investigations Division to duty as patrol personnel and five road patrol policemen to the CID.

State Supreme Court Justice George H. Vittone signed orders in the case directing Chief Mayes and County Personnel Director Louis Harolds show cause why the orders of the chief should not be voided.

Patriot William Smith, PBA president, in a petition asking one order, says the appointment of deputy chiefs violates the law because, he alleges, the deputies were appointed to specific duties rather than to "act generally." The result is to "dilute police chiefs' powers and the chief decisionally," Smith's petition says the local law states that the deputy chiefs in their appointments "to act generally" and in the place of the Chief of Police, and the changes in classification for these officers "was approved on this basis."

Specific Duties

But in a legal opinion, Chief Murphy's appointment order "signifies specific duties and responsibilities of deputy chiefs and extends and expands their authority over the personnel of the State Civil Service Law, the county's Civil Service Rules, and the regulations of the Police Department."

A copy of the order, filed with the department, shows that Depuy Chief Samuel Napiol was appointed commanding officer of the CID, Deputy Chief F. Harold Biber, as chief of administration.

Smith, who says in the petition he is in action "buttressed by the others similarly situated" in the department, asks the court to:

• Void such and the certain of appointing the deputy chiefs.
• Declare the local law making the appointive status—appointive unconstitutional.
• Compel the Civil Service Commission to vacate the orders for the deputy chiefs post.

Smith alleges that police chief's actions have deprived him and other policemen of the right to "go on the eligible list of positions.

In another action—on the parole-CID transfers—Smith contends that the police chief violated the Civil Service Law on the grounds that the sworn men are working out of title and are therefore entitled at the proper rate of pay.

Both the positions of detective and deputy were abolished earlier this year and all detectives are now subject to competitive examinations.

Smith states, and the transferred policemen are entitled for the positions through tests.

Also, he alleges, the detectives transferred are not entitled to appointment to the positions.

He contends, that "the duly sworn order of the chief's order and direct that the men be returned to their former positions.
