Travel Regulation Study Is Ordered By Comptroller

(Special to the Leader)

ALBANY, Aug. 5—State Comptroller Arthur Levitt has ordered a broad study of the requested by the Civil Service Employees Association last week for review and comment. The study will focus on the areas of travel regulations and employee benefits.

Fiscal Training Offered By State

A training school for fiscal officers and municipal clerks will be held September 16, 17 and 18 at the Schine Ten Eyck Hotel in Albany. The school is sponsored by the State Department of Audit and Control, Division of Municipal Affairs in cooperation with the Conference of Mayors.

BULLETIN

The Leader learned at press time that representatives of Civil Service Employees Association, led by Joseph F. Felly, president, were meeting with the Division of the Budget relative to the controversial rules on overtime. Also at press time a special committee on non-teaching school employees was in session in Albany. Purpose of the meeting was to discuss problems of such employees and to make specific recommendations for consideration by the CSEA Resolutions Committee and the delegates.

Details of both meetings will be carried in next week's Leader.

Among hers of her nomination was Mrs. Hortense Ocello, Mr. City's Rent and Rehabilitation Administrator. She has been described as "a woman of marked ability who has shown her staff how to work as well as her abilities," Mrs. Mayor Robert Wagner. She knows how to get headlines; the right kind, he says.

"Also keep your eye on Joyce Austin, Mayor Wagner's aide for Religion. Mrs. Joyce Austin is soft-spoken, well-spoken and good-looking. She doesn't exude any sense of the 'political' but those who have watched her work, mark her as a person with great political potential."

Then, our correspondent continued, "There is Frances Costikyan, Mayor Wagner's aide for Women, Mrs. Costikyan is well known for her wise and educated politics and she's credited with writing some of his best speeches. She contributes good ideas also."

"And how about Mrs. Robert M. Morgenthau of the 29th district? She is an ambitious, personable and in-"
INVESTIGATORS HONORED: Ira M. Hall (seated, center) chairman of the State Thruway Authority CSEA, and James J. Harwood (seated, right) vice chairman of the State Thruway Authority CSEA, were honored at the CSEA's quarterly meeting in New York City on Aug. 22 at the Firematic Training Center, Yaphank. The two were honored for their work in helping to secure passage of the new state health insurance plan.

Suffolk CSEA Gains Further Support For Health Insurance Plan

(From Leader Correspondent) YAPHANK, Aug. 5—Suffolk County chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, asking for its most strenuous battle for improved working conditions, has won new support in its drive to install the state health insurance plan.

The new support came from Babylon Town Supervisor William T. Lauder. Previously the plan had won approval from Suffolk County Executive H. Lee Demott, a Democrat; and Governor N.Y. Griffith of Babylon, a Republican and chairmen of the Suffolk County Board of Supervisors. A vote on the matter will take place in the fall where the new county budget for 1964 is drawn.

Lauder's Stand

Lauder, meeting with Suffolk chapter President Tom Dobbs and other Suffolk chapter officers and members, said that he favored installation of the health plan at the county level. Lauder noted that his employees in the town of Babylon already enjoy this benefit and he said he felt that county workers were also entitled to the program, Dobbs reported.

Of the 10 townships in Suffolk, eight of them, Babylon, Brookhaven, Huntington already have the health plan, while Smithtown is now developing the plan for its employees. Many Suffolk County residents who work in the county have been covered, as state workers, under the health plan for three years.

Dobbs reported that, at the same meeting, he and chapter members were disappointed to hear that Lauder was in support of the state health insurance plan. Lauder also reported that he had taken his own advice and valued the benefits.

In calling for the salary increases, the chapter said, "Salaries paid to county employees lag behind those paid by the State Department of Mental Hygiene by approximately 11 per cent... and salaries to city employees lag behind those paid by the State, comparable positions by 9 per cent."

Gouverneur Chap. Names 9 Candidates

Levitt's Travel Study

The New York City Labor Department is to be cited for its proposal to mediate the differences between the New York City Civil Service Commission and employees in the clerical-administrative force.

Each side argued its different points of view during last week's public hearing on the proposal by the Commission to create a new job title in the clerical-administrative force.

This title would be open-competitive and would allow entrance to City service of college-trained personnel at a point traditionally in the promotional line of the career civil service.

The backers of the new title claim that the move will allow a higher caliber employee to enter City service.

However, we must point that present examination system words out those of questionable ability. We urge both sides to submit to this mediation and suggest to the Labor Department that one way out for both the employee and the Civil Service Commission is to give simultaneous open-competitive and promotional examinations for this title, if it should be approved, with the promotional eligible list to be used first.

We should assure justice for the career civil servant and allow the Civil Service Commission to attain their goal.

Official Recognition

PUBLIC RELATIONS—ever in government—now has the official recognition of the U.S. Census.

According to a "detailed characteristics" study in the 1960 Census, undertaken by the U.S. Bureau of the Public Relations Society of America, there are 31,141 public relations people and publicly writing in the United States.

But what we like best of all, is the U.S. Census further breakdown which shows 1,200 PR people and publicly writing in public administration and another 630 in government educational services.

Frankly, we think the figures are low. We suspect there are many more hidden by such anonymous titles as "assistant to the commissioner," "consultant to the director," "executive secretary to the mayor," or "secretary of the department."

These titles are nonexistent, but there is usually no alternative. Sometimes, its the only way to get PR professionals into government, but we hope that the vast majority of people engaged in public relations work is undoubtedly far greater than is shown in the census.

In New York State, public relations professionals total 5,765. The census gives the following breakdown:

- Albany-Schenectady-Troy—131; Binghamton—21;
- Buffalo—125; Rochester—114; Syracuse—133; Utica—104; and the New York City area—1,691.

Of course, we know that the count in government is highest. Most are employed by private industry, but again we must reiterate our doubt that all are included in the eligible count. We feel certain that the U.S. Bureau of Census, which always does a fine job, will do an even better count on PR people in 1970.

Short count or no, we feel that more trained PR people, particularly in government, are an absolute "must" within the near future.

This is a decade of change, sometimes violent change, and well trained public relations professionals will be needed to cope with and control the new problems ahead.

Most of these problems will be in the "people relations" category of public relations, and precisely because the human element is present, "people relations" will be the most difficult.

We think there is a great opportunity for civil service people in public relations. We feel that more civil service people should study public relations, either with a view toward becoming professionals or to help them understand the radical changes which will be taking place.

Now is the time for civil servants to make their plans for study beginning next month at one of the many educational institutions throughout New York State.

We urge that you seek out those schools which offer public relations courses. Those which do are usually the alert and progressive institutions aware of the urgency of this situation.

Civil servants who sign up for this expanded study will make their jobs easier, and will make the addition to the public relations status of civil servants as people who "know the score."
MMS Denied Special Bargaining Category By Labor Department

The New York City Department of Labor has refused to allow a proposition by the Municipal Management Society which would have taken the supervising clerks from the supervisory unit of the bargaining for clerical-administrative services by themselves for collective bargaining purposes.

The MMS does not represent any New York City employees in collective bargaining.

The society had objected to the request by a recognized bargaining agent for the supervisory and administrative employees in the Department of Public Service, but the supervisory clerks were not correctly placed in the bargaining unit.

In its decision, the Labor Department stated:

The objections filed by the Municipal Management Society to the appropriateness of the unit . . . merely because the objectionants hope, in the future, to make organizational inroads among the employees of the unit . . . is no reason for a different unit . . .

The argument by the objectionant that certification of one unit for both groups works to the disadvantage of the latter is not to the advantage of the supervisory clerks because the latter are numerically in the majority, has not been sustained.

Terminal Employees Local 832, which led the fight to retain the supervising clerk title in the supervisory unit, contended that the supervising clerk title was properly allocated within the unit in which the administrative employees were placed.

Herbert A. Bjoestad, president of the local, hailed the decision of the Labor Department and said that the decision in this case, used by MMS as an experiment, had bolstered the claims of all city employees in civil service and in the Department of Labor.

Highway Dept. Has Two New Organizations

Two Highway employee organizations have been formally recognized by Commissioner John T. Carroll: Boley Society, headed by Michael Klein, and Columbus Association Chapter 11, whose President is Peter J. Madison.

Filing will close August 12 for the open-competitive examination for the position of IBM key punch operator.

The position offers five yearly increments of $160 which allows the applicant to earn $4,205 within the first five years from time of appointment.

Requirements for the position are that the applicant have at least three months experience with the IBM type key punch machine or variope machine; or successful completion of an acceptable course of study with either of these machines.

The pneumatic tire was invented in 1845,
by a Mr. Thompson, replacing the metal tire which had protected wooden wagon wheels. No more bumpy rides! The rubber pneumatic tire with its cushion of air, was a dream of resilience and reduced vibration . . . and convenience. For while it may be a nuisance to change a modern tire, it's nothing like having to heat a metal band
while it way be a nuisance to change a modern
tire, it's nothing like having to heat a metal band white-hot fit it to your wheel with pincers and then douse it v'ith water so if II shrink into place.

Pioneers in Protection

Just as the pneumatic tire was the first practical replacement for the spine-jarring metal tire
. . . so the Statewide Plan was the first program of protection against the costs of hospital, sur-6ical-medical and major medical care for the employees of the State of New York.

This three-part program — Blue Cross, Blue Shield, and Major Medical — offers most State employees, active or retired, the most liberal benefits at the lowest possible cost. That's why more than 425,000 State employees and employees of many local subdivisions of New York
State and their dependents are now subscribers.

If you are not a subscriber and would like all the facts on the Statewide Plan, see your payroll or personnel officer.

by FRANK V. VOTTO
Director, New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs

ALBANY, Aug. 5.—The legal staff of the Civil Service Emp- loyment Commission is preparing to make a final ruling on the recent dismissal of a court bid to grant overtime compensation to parole officers of the New York State Service so that it can be determined what further steps should be taken.

The Association contends that the law which provides for overtime compensation applies only to the Budget Director to exclude certain people over the minimum overtime regulations in wage laws. If the Budget Director had acted on the matter, the parole officers would have been excluded because they were not within the criteria to be excluded contained in the statute.

CORRECTION CORNER

By CHARLES LAMB

Onions and Orches

THE UNIFORMED Supervisors Association of the State Department of Correction will hold their annual meeting in Albany on September 4th and 5th. Delegates have been requested to submit items for inclusion on the agenda prior to August 15 for discussion and presentation to departmental officials.

CSA PRESIDENT, Joseph Pelly, has submitted the following letter to Governor Rockefeller for consideration.

"THE CORRECTION Officers feel that the Budget Director, in rejecting their appeal to a higher grade, has treated them with manifest unfairness. The comparison of duties and responsibilities of the New York State Correction Officers with those of the New York City Correction Officers leaves no doubt that the State Correction Officers should at least be enjoying as much compensation as the City Officers. The City Correction Officers are approximately four grades higher than the State.

"THE CIVIL SERVICE Commission, after lengthy study of the appeals, recommended that we be reallocated one grade. Because of the many issues involved in the varied options of the State departments, the Correction Officers request a resolution providing that the Governor appoint an arbitrator or a special board of three to study and make recommendations regarding such appeal and that their decision be reported to the Budget Director and that the Governor urge the Budget Director to abide by the decision of this arbitrator or board of arbitrators."

DAVID L. WILLIAMS of Matteawan State Hospital has informed this column that a "Caliopo Carnival" will be held on August 16th and 17th at the Villa Theresa Hotel, Lake Hopatcong, New York, for the officers and their families. Employees from other departments and areas will also attend. Entertainment and an original Steel Band will be there for dancing. Contact Dave at Box 397, Beacon, New York.

CORRECTION OFFICER Reginald McKissick, Bellevue Prison Ward, captured and arrested after a chase a man who had been breaking into and stealing from parked automobiles. The man escaped and had previous arrests.

CORRECTION OFFICER Albert Horowitz, driving his car in Brooklyn noticed two men, one armed running from a robbery. He pursued them and in a struggle captured them at Officer Horowitz. As he tackled them patrolmen Alfred Klages and Carmine Prato of the 75th Precinct, arrived and assisted Horowitz in the arrest.

CORRECTION OFFICERS Robert Smith and James W. Pearson, while parking their car, were informed by a woman that she had just been robbed at knife point and pointed out a man running away. The officers pursued and captured the man. At the police station it was found he was a parole violator.

DO YOU KNOW that the entire village government of Attica, New York, the Mayor and four trustees, are all personnel from Attica State Prison.

THIS IS the kind of public relations the Correction Officers need to alert the public that Correction Officers are not the type generally depicted on TV and in the movies.
