At Committee Meeting

Respect For CSEA Grows In Legislature—Bendet

ALBANY, May 4—Approval of wage and pension benefits for the State's public employees this year by the State Legislature was termed not only an act of political courage but a mark of respect for the dedicated efforts of the State's devoted civil servants.

The statement was made here today by Solomon Bendet, chairman of the Salary Committee of the State Civil Service Employees Assn., at the final meeting of the committee.

The committee successfully negotiated salary and pension benefits with the Rockefeller administration which were subsequently approved by the Legislature. The benefits amounted to an approximate 5 to 11 cent per hour increase for all State employees.

"In previous years," Bendet said, "we have had reason to know the Rockefeller Administration's concern for salary equality for all of our workers. In four different years," he said, "the Governor has approved wage increases for State workers. Our negotiations with our Administration team have shown good faith and honesty on both sides," Bendet said.

He noted that full parity between private and public employment had not yet been reached but, he said, "the courage of the leaders of the Legislature, in defending a pay raise this year in the face of unusually heavy demands for money for other purposes, was evidence that the goals and purposes of the Employee Association had been impressed upon the Legislature with forceful dignity."

"It would be less than grateful for this Association not to express the fullest appreciation to the Governor and the leaders and members of the Legislature for their strong efforts in proposing and defending, in a strenuous session, these needed wage and pension improvements in the State civil service," Bendet said.

Committee Members

At the meeting, in addition to the committee, were Joseph P. Poit, CSEA president; Harry W. Albright, associate counsel; Joseph D. Lochner, CSEA's executive director, and William L. Feily, CSEA president; Harry W. Albright, research director. Members of the committee are Balvico Luce, Ray Corcoran, William A. Haseltine of Albany, Raymond Stitt, H. Emil Impress of Buffalo, Albert C. Killian of Utica, Arthur W. Moon of Albany, Jacob R. Schenck of Kenmore, Frank Talomie of Canandaigua, Max Weinmann of Albany, and John J. Hennessey, counsel, of Kenmore.

Mitchell Resolution To Set Aside Every June 1 For Civil Service Day

Sen. MacNeil Mitchell (R-Manhattan) announced last week that he will introduce a resolution in the 1965 session of the Legislature that will call for the Governor of New York and the President of the United States to set aside every June 1 as "Civil Service Day" in order to pay tribute to America's legion of public employees. By proclamation as a day to pay tribute to all public employees every year, Mitchell declared that "I feel that this proposal has great merit and that no recognition for our civil servants is long overdue."

Taken for Granted

The legislator's resolution called attention to the fact that public employees are responsible for the education of children, the guarding of public health, the protection of food inspection, etc., the administration of law and government, the pioneering in space and a host of other services that are so much a part of our daily life we tend to take all of them for grant. Senator Mitchell called public service the "tribute of dedication and devotion" and declared that the need to draw talented and gifted people to public service is a pressing one. "In providing our civil servants with the recognition they so justly deserve we cannot only pay tribute to the dedicated legions of civil servants who serve on so many levels but can also help add to the dignity and image of American public service." Job Protection

Veto Called Grossly Unfair

ALBANY, May 4—Governor Rockefeller's veto of a bill that would have granted job protection to some 18,000 non-competitive State employees last week was termed "grossly unfair and entirely without rhyme or reason."

Joseph P. Poit, president of the Civil Service Employees Assn., said the bill's disapproval was grossly unfair to thousands of employees in the non-competitive jobs who have been denied, by CSEA APPRECIATION: Sen. Warren M. Anderson, of Brome County, is seen after he was presented with a certificate of appreciation by A. Solomon Bendet, chairman of the Brome chapter of the Civil Service Employees Assn., for the senator's aid in obtaining CSEA goals in the Legislature. The presentation took place at a recent meeting of the CSEA Central Conference in Binghamton. (See Page 10 for other photos.)
Governor Says No To Dozen Bills Affecting Civil Service

(Special To The Leader)

ALBANY, May 4—Governor Rockefeller said "no" to 12 legislative proposals this week, which, as of Friday, had gathered more than 500 signatures of groups of public employees.

Rockefeller Yanks Take-Home Bill

This bill would make permanent the practice of the New York City police and fire departments to provide pensions for officers who retire after having more than 25 years of service and after completing at least 10 years of continuous employment. The Governor stated, "on the ground that the provision is not provided."

New York City Police Bill

This bill would amend the Judiciary Law to provide that no officer or employee of the United States Government could receive a diminution of salary or loss of position by reason of the fact that he is disbarred or suspended from practice as an attorney and counselor at law. "The State Administrative Committee of the Judicial Conference, the New York City Bar Association, the County Lawyers' Association, and the New York County Bar Association, urge the Governor to disapprove the bill," the Governor wrote.

Sick Leave Bill

The bill provides for the sick leave of teachers in the City of New York. It also allows for the sick leave of teachers in the city of Yonkers to provide for persons who are not otherwise employed to make the program permanent. The Governor stated, "on the ground that the provision is unnecessary since a participating employer which has elected to make the program available to its employees cannot require its election. To the extent that it seeks to displace the program permanent for employees of the City of Yonkers, it conflicts with the present policy of the state to extend the program uniformly to all members of the system on a uniform basis."

County Officers Bill

This bill would provide for the $10,000 for the New York City Police Department. The Governor stated, "on the ground that the provision is not provided."

Teacher Pension Bill

This bill is a compromise between the Teacher Retirement System and the Teachers' Retirement System. The Governor wrote, "On present law, a member who is an attorney and counselor at law who engages in the practice of law must be admitted to the New York State Bar Association, and in the absence of any explanation as to the necessity for the bill, I am without committee."

Court Pay Bill

The bill provides for the payment of a recent survey indicating that a teacher dying in service in the City of New York, and the New York City Teachers' Association recommended the Governor to disapprove the bill. The Governor wrote.

Disapproval is recommended by the Division of the Budget. The recommendation is supported by the State School Boards Association, New York City Board of Education, and the New York City Board of Education Retirement System. This bill would authorize the Governor to make the provisions governing the purchase of prior service credit by members of the New York City Police Retirement System. The Governor wrote, "Under present law, a member who is an attorney and counselor at law, who engages in the practice of law, must be admitted to the New York State Bar Association."

Eligible List Bill

This bill proposed by the Teachers' Retirement System in order to deprive the city of New York of the right to make a new examination for a position. The Governor wrote, "in order to disapprove the bill."

Some Faces For Horses

ALBANY, April 6—Two members of the New York State Legislature have introduced a bill for the sale of horses for a period of ten years. The bill would have required municipalities to add Columbus Park at the poet office at New York, by first-class postage paid. October 3, 1964.

Seventy-Six Troopers Upped To Sergeants By State Police

ALBANY, May 4 — Thirty-eight state troopers have been promoted to the rank of sergeant and will assume their new duties. Thirty-eight troopers promoted on April 29.

The promotion list was made public by Superintendent Arthur Cornuiels Jr., who said the new noncommissioned officers had qualified for the promotion in a recent competitive examination.

The superintendent added that the promotions would “increase first line supervision throughout the state.”

Prior to assuming their new duties, the troopers will attend a comprehensive in-service training program.

The Question of Public Service Relations IQ

Mr. Margolin is Head of the Division of Business Administration and Professor of Business Administration at the Borough of Manhattan Community College and Adjunct Professor of Public Relations in New York University's Graduate School of Public Administration.

Today's Menu: Four Miracles

WE WOULD LIKE to discuss four miracles, all possessing strong and affirmative public relations overtones—and all inter-related.

MIRACLE NO. 1: Restoration (in 48 hours) of the Grand Central-Times Square subway shuttle service by more than 300 civil service workers of the New York City Transit Authority after the worst subway fire in the city's history.

MIRACLE NO. 2: The superhero efforts—in 1,200-degree, smoke-covered, water-soaked conditions—to put out the fire that engulfed that subway fire, which buckled steel girders like ten-pins and burned leder metal like paper.

MIRACLE NO. 3: The New York World's Fair, a breathtaking experience, which even excited this old warhorse.

MIRACLE NO. 4: The public relations program at the Fair, particularly the press relations, comprising the best planned, best organized, best implemented, and most effective publicity procedures of the last 50 years.

LET'S TALK ABOUT MIRACLE NO. 1. We must caution any sharp-toned critic of civil service that they better swallow their words after this absolutely superb display of civil service efficiency and dedication to duty. Those Trans- sit Authority technicians are the "whiz kids" of the civil service. Literally with their bare hands, they restored subway service in two days, when even the experts were certain it would take 90 days.

MANY THINGS were at stake in the fight against seemingly impossible odds. The Grand Central subway complex is the gateway to the Fair. It is also the busiest subway station in the world. Yet, not a single cash customer was hurt, and the inconvenience to World's Fair visitors was minimal.

WHILE WE CALL IT MIRACLE NO. 2, the performance of the small army of 1,200 workers was considered "routine." If working in an inferno is "routine," then those firefighters are government's best public relations examples.

WE VISITED MIRACLE NO. 3 and haven't recovered yet. Government does not have to take a back seat in private industry in its ability to produce great public relations feats. The New York World's Fair is a memorable experience. You can't help but be impressed, especially when the lighting is changed from dawn to night.

THE CITY OF NEW YORK's show can hold its own with General Motors "Futurama." The simulated helicopter ride around a giant model of New York City—200 feet by 100 feet, looking over 800,000 buildings in the five boroughs—is a memorable experience. You can't help but be impressed, especially when the lighting is changed from dawn to night.

THE NEW YORK CITY model is spectacular, if only for one feature. Each of the 23 bridges linking New York City, including the new Verrazano-Narrows suspension span, is meticulously reproduced in a scale of one inch to 100 feet. THIS 800,000-scale model of the city, will eventually be installed at a permanent place for City Planning study, after the Fair. It is in the exact location it will go, and it is hoped that some new ideas will flow from it.

AS FOR MIRACLE NO. 4, we can testify that the media people covering the Fair "never had it so good." The press relations are a model of the highest standards of professional operation. Both government and private industry could profit from close study of the Fair's success in this specific area.

A Salute to H.I.P. From a Transit Authority Employee

Dear Doctor:...
...I have been for some years a member of the Transit Authority section of your Medical Group. Up until last December I had no great need of its services, but it was then discovered that I suffered from a brain tumor. The tumor was removed successfully on December 24 and my health is now, I feel, excellent.

My reason for writing you, doctor, is to call to your attention the truly splendid efforts of the various doctors responsible for, in fact, the preservation of my life. First, among these is Dr., my family physician who made the original diagnosis. His generosity, affability and competence should not go unacknowledged!

Secondly, I should like to cite your neurologist, Dr. . . . . . . .

for the excellence of his interest, concern and personal skill. It was he who admitted me to the Methodist Medical Center and followed the case with meticulous and daily attention. Dr., the surgeon is entitled to my highest recognition also.

Finally, my condition required the attention of and I found him equipped with the same combination of professional competency, which one would expect, united to a personality and wisdom not in any way usual. The Medical Group has provided care and personnel for which it should be truly proud. You and your staff surely represent the finest tradition of American medical practice. My gratitude is extended to the doctors above and to you and your entire staff.

Gratefully yours,

The brain tumor operation described above was provided without charge to this H.I.P. subscriber by one of the comparatively few surgeons qualified to perform surgery of this type. And, of course, the services of the other specialists and the family doctor were also fully covered.

In cases requiring rare medical skills and techniques H.I.P. Medical Groups arrange for the services of physicians with recognized qualifications in these highly specialized fields.

The names of the physicians mentioned in the letter have been omitted for reasons of medical ethics.

Miss Civil Service Contest To Be Feature
At N.Y.'s World's Fair

Civil Service Day, June 1, at the New York World's Fair, will feature a beauty contest and demonstrations of the work done by the civil service community. Employees of the City, the State, of the Federal government, and of local governments will take part in both pageants.

Visitors to the Fair will be shown during the day how their daily lives are affected by civil service. They will have a chance to meet the firemen, the policemen, the bus drivers, the tax collectors, the weathermen, the insurance supervisor, the councilmen, and the commissioners. These are the people without whom no government could function.

Four winners of the beauty pageant will be presented at Civil Service Day—one each from the Federal, State, New York City and local governments.

business is run, can take its business elsewhere, but when he is dealing with a civil service employee, he must treat him as he gets and like it for who else can be taken his business to?

No more rant and rile, but concrete action is needed on the part of all agency people to see that a better image is created in the minds of the public. "We must be wary of the战术, omissions and omission," the public relations expert added.

"The premise that all civil service employees are inferior is unfounded as a matter of fact, there is no question that the majority of the workers in state government are dedicated hard workers, and not inferior by any means.

"The civil service employee must be better than the private enterprise, as he is dealing with people secondarily uses the image and also commented that there had been enough talk, and now action was needed. "It's a clean house—but not immaculate," Shibrack concluded.

Hal Vandecar, of Vandecar and Depoito, suggested that one of the ways to create a better image would be a liaison with Federal and local civil service employees.

"What is needed to start the campaign against this nature off the right foot is a better press relations, the extensive use of radio and television and the time and effort of everyone who is a civil service employee," the ad executive stated.

'You Are Appreciated'

Albany banker G. Brandon Donahue gave the audience a lift when he told them that his employees were dedicated hard workers, and not inferior by any means.

Survivor Benefit Bill Disapproved

concluding the seminar, said that "I feel deeply that you are appreciated in this area," he said.

Donahue said that he felt the image of the civil servant, at least in the Capitol District, was "as good as any other sector of our community. I feel deeply that you are appreciated in this area," he said.

Donahue was introduced by Grant Daniele, district administrator for the Workmen's Com-monation Board.

More than 200 persons attended the seminar and the dinner, for which A. Victor Costa, Conference president, was toastmaster.
