Wholly-Paid Pensions: Levitt To Continue Support

(Special To The Leader)

ALBANY, Jan. 11 — State Comptroller Arthur Levitt last week told The Leader that he is pleased that Gov.- ernor Rockefeller has recommended increased benefits for State employees in the State’s Retirement System adopting many of the earlier recommendations made by the Comptroller.

The increased benefits would include a non-contributory system, vesting at the end of 10 years of service, instead of the end of 15 years, and vested benefits payable at age 55 for members in the 50 year plan.

The Comptroller, sole trustee of the System, said: “I have made recommendations substantially as made by the Governor today in order to make our Retirement System the progressive, modern plan it should be in keeping with trends in private industry. As I have done in the last three sessions, I shall introduce my own legislative program which embraces these and other points.”

Levitt’s recommendations were reported in The Leader last September.

ALBANY, Jan. 11 — An Albany Supreme Court justice last week ruled that the duties of a proposed new title for the State Division of Employment—that of employment counselor —and the duties of employment interviewer, a title now in existence, are essentially one and the same.

The opinion, handed down late last week by Justice John H. Pennock, resulted in a major victory for the Civil Service Employees Assn., who, the Supreme Court ruled, had the “progressive step” is Mrs. Eve Armstrong, Suffolk County chapter delegate to the board of directors of the Civil Service Employees Assn.

Justice Pennock sent the case back to the Civil Service Commission to act in accordance with his decision. DON’T REPEAT THIS Commission president — and the Governor’s failure to fill the job since then has been a cause for growing concern among the public service employees organization.

While the 1964 election campaign was the occasion for Rockefeller’s inaction to bring the Commission up to full membership (and to campaign on the theme of “Democrats”) it was learned that he was also hampered by pressure from the State Association and labor organizations to name a man from their ranks to the job. The inaction, in effect, was the result of political considerations and labor pressure that were, mainly from lack of expertise in the field, qualified to serve on the Commission, was said.

Organisation support from Wilson’s assignment to the civil service post is certain to get enthusiastic backing from the giant Civil Service Employees Assn. and most other employee organizations.

As chairman of the Assembly Civil Service Committee for many years, he was a strong advocate of many progressive measures affecting public employees, not only in areas concerning matters affecting political subdivisions.

This column was told that news media representatives of the Governor’s press conference were asked to the Democratic majority’s inability to agree on its leadership.

An interesting aspect of the Wilson appointment is that it will result in the need for a special election in Jefferson County to fill his Assembly seat. Wilson ran unopposed for the post.

Addenda

A number of other important commissions’ appointments are also up for reapportionment. The term of Col. E. E. Sencer as chairman of the Workmen’s Compensation Board expired last month. A career man, Colonel Sencer is expected to be re-appointed.

On the other hand, it was learned that Governor Rockefeller in his first attatchement to the Post’s staff, assigned H. L. Morgan, Cortland Democrat, to the State Liquor Authority.

Major assignments to the State Public Service Board and Public Service Commission are also open but no word was available on Administration choices for these jobs.

Donohue Wins Court Upset Of Trooper Sergt. Examination

ALBANY, Jan. 11—The Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court last week upheld a former state trooper's contention that a State Police promotional examination given more than a year ago was of "questionable validity." In ruling in favor of former trooper John H. Donohue, of Poughkeepsie, the Appellate Court unanimously reversed a lower court ruling on the examination. The test, for promotion to ser- geant, was given on Oct. 21, 1963. Some 500 men were promoted to that rank as a result of the examination. Since bringing the court action Donohue was dismissed from the force, an action he is also contesting.

Donohue had challenged the use of an oral examination in the promotional test as being un-precedented. He also contended a service-record rating system applied to the test as not being the same as the day-to-day rating made by a trooper's immediate superiors.

Court's Ruling

Referring to the rating method in the written examination, the court said "the system now formulated involves an evaluation made specifically for pur- poses of the examination by a rating board guided only by general standards. Thus, upon com-pletion with the service-record rating and the oral examination results, an aggregate weight of 40 would be assigned factors constituting judgements largely sub-jective. This dilution of a com-petitive element seems of ques- tionable validity." (Continued on Page 10)

Pension Boost Seen; New Bill Pushed In House

The 700,000 civil service retiree and survivors can look forward to a modest increase in benefits this year, according to Washington observers. The Johnson Administration is expected to go along with the 3% hike.

This would be consistent with the principle in the 1962 law which decrees that benefits must stay in line with living costs.

This is the first break in the Administration's austerity in the retirement system itself. It is also felt that if full retirement at the age 65 after 30 years may be agreed on—full retirement at the age 56 after 30 years may be agreed on—full retirement at the age 56 after 30 years may be agreed on—

Pensioners who have been promised and promised early retirement may be given the option of retiring at the age 60 after 10 years of service. But if the cost of living rises to 3%, then retirement benefits are raised three percent.

If the cost of living were to rise, say, 2.7% in a given year then no increase. The Administration is expected to modify this clause, so that increases of one or two per cent could be given when the cost of living goes up that much.

Ten Per Cent Increase

In another development, a bill has been introduced by Rep. Arnold Olsen (D-Minn.) to give free local offices of the National Federation of Federal Employees. 700,000 civil service retirees and survivors can look forward to a modest increase in benefits this year, according to Washington observers. The Johnson Administration is expected to go along with the three per cent hike.

This would be consistent with the principle in the 1962 law which decrees that benefits must stay in line with living costs.

The Administration plan could reduce the Olson plan, which had the approval of the House Civil Service Committee earlier this year.

P.O. Will Study Sick Leave Use

A high-level committee will be set up to examine the cost, and perhaps misuse, of sick leave by the Post Office Department's 500,000 employees. Postal employee leaders will be invited to take part in the committee.

The inquiry was prompted by the Comptroller General, who has charged misuse of the Government's generous sick leave privilege by employees in several large post offices. Speed is promised by the great variation in leave use from post office to post office.

AFTER the November 3 elections, this page carried an editorial entitled "Message to Rockefeller," which called to the Governor's attention the fact that the election results indicated a mandate for government that is progressive in terms of the needs of its people. The editorial also called the election a challenge to the high quality of leadership in government that Rockefeller has shown in the past.

The Welfare Strike

A long as the Condon-Wadlin Law forbids strikes by public employees we cannot condone the violation of a law by these public employees no matter how serious the grievances.

However, we certainly can examine the pressures that brought on such a strike as well as the attitudes among top City officials that ignored the creation of these pressures. In essence, we lay the blame for this strike (still in effect as we went to press) at the doorstep of Mayor Robert F. Wagner. A mayor who ignores the glaring fact that the Welfare Department has suffered a 40 per cent turnover in personnel for years (a turnover which will bankrupt any ordinary business); a mayor who will allow the City's most expensive and sensitive department outside of education to be run basically by underpaid personnel; a mayor who ignores years of vocal and written warnings on deteriorating morale in a big agency is a mayor who seems not only unconcerned about these employees but also appears to be capable of doing nothing to improve or correct them.

Employee organizations in this town who are well-knit in their leadership and effective in their political activities have done very well in New York. Employees in the Welfare Department are divided into two, warring union factions and do not have a reputation for eagerly ringing doorbells at election time. Therefore, it appears that they are of no political concern to the administrative councils.

The mayor can dispel these charges by showing some imaginative solution to the discontentments wretcheding these employees. It is not only the erosion of their salaries, but some connections of salary and working condition injustices but performing a service to the very people that it is the duty of the Welfare Department to help.

In Comparing Health Plans
Ask A Few Probing Questions
—Like These:

Q. Which health plan gives the broadest coverage—with no ifs, ands or buts?
A. Let the Columbia School of Public Health answer that one. It studied New York health plans and found that "the most complete contract offered for sale in New York State is provided by the Health Insurance Plan of Greater New York."

Q. Does the plan really cover specialist care?
A. Only H.I.P. does a real job of covering specialist care. When it comes to today's vitally needed specialist services, other plans have expensive loopholes. Compare specialist coverage carefully. Note, for instance, that out-of-hospital specialist coverage is only available or major medical plans.

Q. Is the plan concerned with the quality of care?
A. H.I.P. is. It is the only plan in the New York area that checks on the quality of care provided by its affiliated physicians. Every doctor in every H.I.P. Medical Group must be approved by a medical board of distinguished physicians before he can serve members of the Plan. H.I.P. doctors give only the kind of service for which they are professionally qualified.

Q. Can you continue with comprehensive benefits (home and office calls) if you retire or leave your job?
A. Only H.I.P. permits this—with no strings attached. You need only be in H.I.P. for three months to be able to convert to a direct payment policy without loss of home and office coverage, regardless of your age.

Editor, The Leader:

In the issue of December 1st, you published a letter in "Leader" under the heading "Petty Paris Restaurant." This was a letter written by a Mr. M. W. Tebbutts Sons, which I believe to be a fraudulent claim.

I have been a member of the Civil Service Employees Association for many years, and I believe that this letter is a gross misrepresentation of the truth. The letter claims that the restaurant is owned by Mr. M. W. Tebbutts Sons, and that they are offering special rates to state employees.

I am writing to you to ask you to advise the Civil Service Employees Association to contact Mr. Tebbutts Sons and to request a copy of the lease agreement, as well as a list of the employees who are currently employed at the restaurant.

I am a member of the Civil Service Employees Association, and I believe that it is important to protect the rights of state employees.

Sincerely yours,

How It Started

This amazing story began 10 years ago when her present husband, Mr. Wheat, was working for the Civil Service. He was a social worker involved with youngsters in some small way. They write to the Wheats, telephoned them, and returned to their own parents to go to corrective institutions.

On the other hand, some have returned to their records because they have to go to corrective institutions.

"Giving The Extras" Is How Mrs. Clara Boone Works To Create Better CSEA Image

(Utica, Jan. 11—You can include Mrs. Clara Boone of Utica to the long list of CSEA chapter presidents who realize that a good image for public employees stems from serving the public well.

"Giving the extras" and individual attention in doing the job of serving the public will lead to recognition and respect," she believes.

Mrs. Boone made the statement in discussing her role as a CSEA chapter leader. In her fourth year as president of Utica chapter, she does not take her job lightly. "I take great pride in directing State employees in the Utica area in carrying out the policies and directives of our parent organization," she said.

Membership Grows

Her Chapter covers State employees outside of the State hospital in the Oneida County area. The unit has about 250 members, an increase of about 40 over the membership figure at the time she became president.

She is a senior member of the State Department, the Division of Licencing Services. Previously, she was with the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Division of Employment in the State Labor Department.

A widow, Mrs. Boone has a 14-year-old son, Richard, a high school senior and a married daughter in Pedro, California. She serves as assistant and president. Mrs. Boone is active in the Central Conference. She is a member of the state-wide public relations committee and second vice president of the Central Conference through which she serves on the membership and evaluations planning committee.

Believes In Education

One of Mrs. Boone's principal aims in her leadership of the chapter is an educational program which members receive information on the latest developments in health services, retirement benefits and the like.

Keeping the members informed is one of Mrs. Boone's major concerns. "And," she says, "the membership has a great deal on which it could be informed.

"What other organization has such a vital program of education and fringe benefits to its membership? Whenever public employees are faced with vital problems, we are guided by our parent organization. Alone, the employee can do little but together we can meet and solve those problems.

"Ours is a democratic organization. The heritage of democracy with quality and equality depends on the leaders. It is this kind of leadership we have in our local and State organization."

Donahue Wins

Donahue validity and certainly so in the absence of any proof and finding of the practical necessity therefore," the court said.

The status of the petitioners was said by the petitioners, each one of whom was either a member of the public school teaching profession.

Ours is a democratic organization. The heritage of democracy with quality and equality depends on the leaders. It is this kind of leadership we have in our local and State organization.
