Suffolk State School
Charter Charges Mail
Is Being Intercepted

(Special To The Leader)

MELVILLE—Civil Service Employees Assn. members employed at the State Department of Mental Hygiene's Suffolk State School here last week asked Federal authorities to investigate alleged interception of employee's personal mail and telegrams.

The appeal, in the form of a telegram to the U.S. Attorney, Southern District, New York, from Joseph LaValle, president of the Civil Service Employees Assn.'s Suffolk State School chapter, said:

"We believe that the positions of institution steward set up in the Narcotic Addiction Control act provide an efficient basis for the prevention of and return of mail and telegrams which have been intercepted . . . and are being destroyed . . . before delivery to the addresses. The letters and telegrams which have been intercepted involve matters not concerned with the administration of the school or the care of the patients. I understand these communications are protected by Federal law, and ask you to investigate the matter. The New York State Commissioner of Mental Hygiene has been examined and has done so.

For Narcotic Steward
CSEA Not Buying Open Exam

ALBANY—The State Civil Service Department's agreement for open-competitive exams for the position of institution steward in the Narcotic Addiction Control Commission is not being bought by the Civil Service Employees Assn.

A front-page headline in CSEA, reflecting a first-round examination from the Civil Service Department, leaves no room for doubt that the Employee Association is firmly opposed to the State's looking elsewhere for the job, among its own employees for candidates to fill the grade 23 positions in the new narcotics control agency.

In pressing the matter to Emmett H. Averill, Jr., president of the State Civil Service Commission, CSEA president Joseph P. Feltz referred to the fact that efforts to fill the jobs have been made through an interdepartmental promotion examination.

"We believe that the positions of steward set up in the Narcotic Addiction Act provide an efficient basis for the prevention of and return of mail and telegrams which have been intercepted . . . and are being destroyed . . . before delivery to the addresses. The letters and telegrams which have been intercepted involve matters not concerned with the administration of the school or the care of the patients. I understand these communications are protected by Federal law, and ask you to investigate the matter. The New York State Commissioner of Mental Hygiene has been examined and has done so.

Dues Increase

Delegates also voted to act on a dues increase in the Fall. In preparation for that action, the present financial situation on the Employee Association's demonstration and the need for money to expand services and increase membership were explained.

On the latter score, it was noted that the new labor relations law guarantees local government employee everywhere in the State the basic right to belong to an employee organization. The CSEA intends to capitalize on this phase of the new law by immediately launching a massive membership drive in the political subdivisions.
The next general council meeting of the Civil Service Council On Constitutional will be held June 2 at the Penn Garden Hotel at 31 St. and 5th Avenue in Manhattan. The meeting will get underway at 6:15 p.m.

Last Call Neans—For Hawaii Tour
Although available space for the annual tour to the Golden West and Hawaii was doubled this year for members of the Civil Service Employees Assn. and their immediate families, seats are still available—under way under a 5:15 p.m.

Program will be devoted to matters directly related to the Council's goals.

There are three separate sessions in the current State Constitution which protect the merit and retirement advantages of the Civil Service System and it has already been proposed by two Constitution delegate, Bernard F. Bloom of the 17th Senate district in Brooklyn and Gordon A. Howe of the 63rd Senate district in Monroe County. That they will be introduced as system for inclusion in the new Constitution.

Last week, William vanden Heuvel, delegate-at-large from Manhattan, introduced to the Convention language to be included in the new Constitution which would combine the safeguards of the three current sections into one, a section which would retain all the protections of the old provision.

In the new Constitution, the purpose of the meeting will be to assess the status of the Council's progress in bringing before the delegate to the State Constitutional Convention the importance of retaining the sections of the present State Constitution which protect the merit system and the civil service employees retirement system. Also, the chairmen, Henry Schein, of the Uniform Fire Officers Assn., hopes to stimulate the membership growth of the organization which already numbers more than 300,000 and find new channels for providing information of the group's activities to the rank and file of the member unions.

Fishing and Joseph Collins will have just returned from Albany at meeting time and will have a program report on their meetings with State leaders, including Senate Majority Leader Earl Brydges.

Your Public Relations 10

By LEO J. MARGOLIN

Mr. Margolin is Professor of Business Administration at the Borough of Manhattan Community College and Adjunct Professor of Public Administration in New York University's Graduate School of Public Administration.

Merchandising-Government Style

ONE DOES NOT think of a government agency with a product to market, merchandise and sell. Government is supposed to be a series of committees and departments, determining its public relations on the quality of service rendered.

In PRIVATE industry the product and its performance for the customer is the usual base on which the reputation of a company depends. If the product is poor, the most expensive six-color advertising in print and on television won't help the company's reputation.

YET THE FACTS are that government sells many products—water, garbage, magazine subscriptions, how-to-do-it pamphlets, textbooks, real estate, and soon will be lottery tickets.

Let's TAKE pamphlets and books sold by the Superintendent of Documents for the U.S. Government Printing Office. The Superintendent of Documents runs one of the most successful bookstores in the world.

Talk about merchandising by direct mail, that office can show us some of the biggest mail order houses a thing or two about merchandising and marketing just get your name on their mailing list for a book in a certain area—for example, reports on estate.

FROM THAT point on, the direct mail solicitation is unending. We're not complaining. In fact, we're rather pleased to see a government agency on its toes in promoting as strongly as possible, material on which we, as citizens, have a hands and mind of every law-abiding citizen in the United States.

This is an excellent public relations for government and for civil service. After all, budget is the most expensive six-color advertising in print and on television.

IS IT WOULD sell public relations like a real estate promotion—will that work?—which achieved this phenomenal result. Every conceivable potential buyer was sent a large brochure, describing the "slivers." The "SLIVERS" went like hotcakes. Not only did the City get $10,804, but it also went to send each owner a real estate tax bill. And every "sliver" owner was given a piece of land in the sliver. It is on the list for the City is going to be sold, right back and sell it all over again—maybe this time for $10,000.

The City's Department of Real Estate is always selling its products—sales families, only left to send each owner a real estate tax bill. And every "sliver" owner was given a piece of land in the sliver. It is on the list for the new home. The Department uses all the tools of the trade, as public relations expert, and many more to be sold on the other side of the world.

The DEPARTMENT uses all the tools. Of course, the sale of water doesn't need too much promotion. Just the opposite, the conservation of water is what needs the strong public relations commitments.

NOT QUITE in the "best seller" category, but selling great popular is the New York City is real estate. We must say that the City's Department of Real Estate is even more at work, which will sell the real estate water doesn't need too much promotion. Just the opposite, the conservation of water is what needs the strong public relations commitments.
Buffalo Meets CSEA Request With 12% Employee Pay Raise

BUFFALO—The Buffalo Police Association, units, raised the pay raise, the Council also agreed starting July 1, to pay the 135 workers who did not get the 12 per cent pay boost that went to other city employees. Doug and the Board of Education to "find the funds" in a $51,932,000 budget to bring the 125 city workers.

Creedmore Chapter Installation June 13

BELLEMORE—The Creedmore Chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, will install a slate of officers headed by Joseph Bucaria at the new law that calls for collection of their appeal. Bucaria's cabinet consists of: John Funk, first vice president; Edward Thiele, second vice president; Erika Harbecke, treasurer; Grace Gormely, secretary; Frank Gormely, vice president. Members of the board of directors are: Bert Dimoniste, Walter Palter, John McCauley, Theresa Wathome, Jean Tournier, Joseph Watson, Dr. J. Kirkby and Frank Gormely.

Hugh McCabe

Hugh McCabe, an assistant toll collector for the State Department of Taxation and Finance, died in his home on Long Island on May 14. He was employed in the department's Mineola office and had been a State employee 15 years. Mr. McCabe was a member of the New York City chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association.

CSEA ORGANIZED hundreds of its members to attend a hearing on the appeal. CSEA represented the toll collector at the hearing.

Mos Elected

GOSK—Vito Mosai has been re-elected president of the Amson chapter. Civil Service Employees Association. Others re-elected include: Grady Owens, treasurer; and Nellie Givens, secretary. Paul Finn was elected vice-president.

Toll Collector Appeal Aided

ALBANY — Support in the appeal of a denied upgrading for Jones Beach State Parkway toll collectors has been filed by the Civil Service Employees Association.

The Employees Association continued its support of the Authority's action in a letter sent to the State Civil Service Commission shortly after the Authority filed its appeal.

The requested upgrading would advance the titles of toll collector and supervising toll collector to grades 10 and 12, respectively—and the toll section supervisor would move to grade 14.

Toll Collector

The pay raise will cost the city about $4,500,000 and most of the funds will come from a 100 per cent increase in water rates approved last week by the Council and Mayor Frank A. Sedita. Agreement on the pay raise ended a month-long legal strike in Buffalo with firemen and other city employees threatening sick-outs, walkouts and other activities short of an outright strike.

CSEA groups never threaten a walkout but Joseph V. Draper, president of the Buffalo Competitive Exam Committee, said the crisis highlighted the State's new labor law that becomes effective Sept. 1.

"It is our belief that after Sept. 1, Draper said, "in the coming of the new law that calls for collective bargaining, many of our present difficulties will be solved."

Draper also pledged that CSEA will continue to campaign for pay raises for 135 civil service employees of the Buffalo Board of Education.

Hugh McCabe

Hugh McCabe, an assistant toll collector for the State Department of Taxation and Finance, died in his home on Long Island on May 14. He was employed in the department's Mineola office and had been a State employee 15 years. Mr. McCabe was a member of the New York City chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association.

Creedmore Chapter Installation June 13

BELLEMORE—The Creedmore Chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, will install a slate of officers headed by Joseph Bucaria at the Bel Air restaurant here June 13.

Bucaria was elected president in voting May 9 supervised by effective Arnold Monroe. Bucaria's cabinet consists of: John Funk, first vice president; Edward Thiele, second vice president; Erika Harbecke, treasurer; Grace Gormely, recording secretary; Frank Gormely, directing secretary; Frank Gormely, delegate. Members of the board of directors are: Bert Dimoniste, Walter Palter, John McCauley, Theresa Wathome, Jean Tournier, Joseph Watson, Dr. J. Kirkby and Frank Gormely.

Joseph Bucaria

Joseph Bucaria, president of the Buffalo Construction Club, was elected president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

In addition to the pay raise, the Council also agreed to hold an open hearing on the appeal.

CSEA ORGANIZED hundreds of its members to attend this hearing at the State Health Department Auditorium in Albany, in connection with the appeal. After a long list of CSEA representatives had finished speaking that day, Mr. Kelly, the head of the Division of Classification and Compensation, agreed to hold an open hearing on the appeal.

WE ASK you to judge for yourself who was right. CSEA, or Council 50, which waited weeks after the public hearing before submitting a brief.

ANOTHER ILLUSTRATION of the union's double-talk is in regard to the new Public Employees Relations Law, which did away with the infamous Condon-Waddlin Act, which penalized public employees severely for striking, but provides absolutely no protection for the injustices which drove them to strike in the first place.

COEIN 50, plain and simply, has pushed panic button over this new Law. The new Law, if it functions as we believe it can, if administered properly, requires organizations which purport to represent public employees to produce results or get out of the game.

CSEA is not satisfied with the benefits it won this year in the state Legislature for its members. We believed and we still believe that the State's new public employee pay law, which has been given a salary increase. They weren't, CSEA will win a bigger increase next year. But, despite our unsuccessful fight this year to win salary increases we didn't resort to calling other or making threats, we kept fighting just as hard to win the other benefits we thought State employees deserved. We won partial non-contributory health insurance. We won a dental plan, and one for crime victims. We are going to have liberally interpreted. We won an area wage differential.

WE ASK you to judge for yourself who was right. CSEA, or Council 50, which waited weeks after the public hearing before submitting a brief.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A Previous Council Commitment

Editor, The Leader:

On May 1 I forwarded three resolutions to the Mayor at the Constitutional Convention on May 8. Those resolutions were based on the present Article V, Section 6; the present Article V, Section 7; and the present Article X, Section 4 of the New York State Constitution.

All Civil Service groups and, in particular, the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees were interested in the retention of these articles in the Constitution because they provide for Civil Service employees. There never was any mention in The Leader of the removal of these propositions.

However, the recent May 16 issue of the Leader made a story to the effect that William J. vanden Heuvel planned to introduce similar resolutions. The objections to my propositions by the Constitutional Convention are 114, 115, and 116.

I would like to have this check this record if you choose.

Before election, I pledged all of the Civil Service employees to study the proposition of this matter and make their feelings known when the matter comes before the entire Council for action.

GORDON A. HOYE
30 Monroe Co.

The Ombudsman

The New York City Council Committee on Codification is now studying a proposed local law which would compel employees to hear complaints against public employees and agencies.

Affected by the law would be all agencies, departments or other governmental units of the City of New York, officials or other employees except those of the City Council, the Board of Estimate, the Judicial or the Mayor and his staff.

The Ombudsman, or those he selects and appoints, will hear cases of complaints against employees who for any reason dispute the union of their rights to a leave of absence from military duty. This is not a matter to be handled by the public employees and agencies.

On May 16 issue you quoted from a speech delivered by the Governor of the City of New York at the State Comptroller Arthur Leet, in which he pointed to the non-contributory feature of the New York State Retirement System and said that it "overcomes the evils of the contributory system in the active working lifetime of the employee."

In the absence of further proof of the invidious impact of the proposed legislation, I hope to set the record straight and to demonstrate that the proposed legislation is not new and that it does not achieve the legislative purpose that was accomplished.

I introduce these propositions.

Promotion Rights

In view of the current build-up of our armed forces, it appears desirable to review the rights of public employees under the Civil Service Law. It is the purpose of this letter to urge that these rights be continued for the benefit of all employees.

Section 242 and 243 of the Civil Service Law, State of New York.

Leave of Absence

A PUBLIC EMPLOYEE entering active military duty is entitled to leave of absence from his position while engaged in and going to and returning from military duty. This is not a matter which, within the discretion of the appointing officer, the employee is entitled to leave of absence as a matter of right. This applies to lecturers, volunteers, and drafted alike.

How To Score High On The National Teacher Examination

College Games Will Place

The seven colleges of the university are preparing to make room for an extra 300 to 400 top students who have sought transfers from other colleges. A special committee was set up last September, Chancellor Albert H. Bowker has announced. Dr. Bowker said he could make possible the admission of most, if not all students who had maintained high school averages that automatically qualified them for senior colleges but who achieved a college index of 2.5 or higher the year at the City College University Centers. The figure is the standard for community college students seeking transfers to senior colleges after their first year.

As soon as the June grades of the top students are in, Dr. Bowker said, "the indices will be calculated. A grade 4, B equals 3, C equals 2. D equals 1. Starting with the students with the highest index, as many will be admitted as will fit in the room, down to the 2.75 mark.”

Where possible students would be admitted to the college of their first choice, as long as they had a sufficient room for all the transfers. Dr. Bowker added that a waiting list for those who were not admitted on the first preference, a mechanism had been set up under which indices may be calculated throughout the semester and admissions made in the early days of June. Meanwhile, he added, students concerned should apply to both the college and the community college of their choice.

Nassau CSEA Closes
Ranks On Proposal For Recognition

(From Leader Correspondent)

MINOLA — Irving Flaumenbaum, president of the Nassau chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, has called for a close rank on the proposal for recognition by the Nassau chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, to their security posed by a labor relations plan last week by county Executive Nicholas Nickerson.

Flaumenbaum, appearing at the Nassau County Board of Supervisors meeting last week, told Nickerson and the board that the CSEA was “disturbed and extremely angry” at the presentation of a plan without prior consultation with the Nassau chapter, Civil Service Employees Association.

Nickerson proposed giving county workers a 3% raise, but the Nassau chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, has called for a 10% raise.

CSEA Files Brief On Upgrading Attendants

ALBANY—a 12-page brief to substantiate its bid for four-grade salary reallocations for 25,000 employees in attendant positions in the State Mental Hygiene Department has been submitted by the Civil Service Employees Assn. to the Compensation Board.

The lengthy statement was filed by the CSEA in an effort to upgrade the mental hygiene attendants, who are currently paid as attendants. The action followed CSEA's official announcements on May 1 that bargaining sessions had begun for the populous State-wide titles.

The brief attributes the present inequities in the attendants' compensation to the State's failure to take adequate corrective measure in 1965 when, in response to a CSEA reallocation request submitted two years earlier, approval was granted for a one-grade upward reallocation of the positions of Attendant and Staff Attendant in the Attendant series to the State Division of Classification and Compensation.

West Islip OK's CSEA As Bargainer

(From Leader Correspondent)

BAY SHORE — The Suffolk chapter, Civil Service Employees Assn., announced success for the fifth unit in demanding exclusive recognition, B, in the West Islip School District unit.

The recognition came in an agreement providing $10 to $350 wage increases, higher retirement contributions and payroll deduction of dues and CSEA life insurance premiums.

Pay hikes of $10 go to cafeteria workers, $200 to clerical workers and $200 to custodial department employees.

Higher take-home pay results from another three per cent increase in the employee’s contribution for retirement, bringing the total contribution to eight per cent.

The unit is still negotiating for vacations for 18-month employees after five years service.

The West Islip unit followed four others which have achieved exclusive recognition. Earlier, recognition was won by units in the Hempstead, Baldwin, and Hempstead, and Nassau County School District 6, Middle County School District 11 and the Conquest School District 11.

Mrs. Fitchpatrick Elected Western Conf. President; Installation Set For June 3

BATAVIA — Mrs. Pauline Fitchpatrick has been elected president of the Western Conference, Civil Service Employees Assn., for a one year term.

Elected with Mrs. Fitchpatrick at the conference’s interim meeting at the Treadway Inn, here recently, were: Lawrence Barnes of West Seneca, first vice-president; Virginia Kielb, of the State University of New York at Geneseo, second vice-president, Kiyon Hime of Alfred University, third vice-president; Andrew Hirs of the State University College at Alfred, secretary and Mrs. Genevieve Keen of the Western Division, State Thruway, treasurer.

Commission should be filled by promotion — Interdepartmental promotion — by persons experienced in the State institutions. Phyl said, adding that “the best possible experienced people can be recruited through interdepartmental promotion.”

The election concluded a two day training session for conference and member chapter officers which was arranged by Miss Celente Rosenkrantz, chairman of the CSEA education committee and Miss Grace Hillier, chairman of the conference’s education committee.

The seminar was conducted by Professors Richard Pubin and Ronald Donavan of the New York State School of Labor Relations at Cornell University.

Chairman of the meeting was Mrs. Melba Byn, outgoing president of the Western Conference.

The employees “don’t want to be fragmented— as proven in the Hempstead Town Banishment Department vote,” he added. In the Hempstead vote earlier this year, employees overwhelmingly rejected a Brooklyn union and voted to stay with the town-wide CSEA unit.

Flaumenbaum said the county’s 11,000 employees “will fight to the bitter end any unions that wish to split us up.”

Nominating Conn. Seeks Candidates

ALBANY—Harry W. Langworthy, State Education Department representative, the Board of Directors of the Civil Service Employees Assn., last week was elected chairman of CSEA’s nominating committee at the committee’s organization meeting here.

The 16 member committee, appointed by the Employers Association Board, is charged with the selection of candidates for the biennial election next October of CSEA’s eight State-wide officers.

Also to be selected are members of the State Executive Committee of the Employers Association.

The nominating committee, which will meet again on June 2, has already begun a canvass of all incumbents to determine if they wish to be nominated again.

Langworthy has requested incumbents to inform the committee of their intention at their earliest convenience to help meet nominating deadlines.

Aug. 6 Deadline

The committee must report a full slate of candidates for all offices by Aug. 6, 85 days before the annual meeting, Oct. 30-Nov. 1.

Langworthy has asked that any CSEA member, chapter or other group forward to the committee, at CSSA Headquarters, 8 E. Broad St. 7, the names of eligible CSEA members they would like to have considered for nomination as candidates for State-wide office or representatives of State Departments.
