CSEA 'Confident' Of Regaining Erie Blue-Collar Aides

(Special to The Leader)

ALBANY.—The head of the Civil Service Employees Assn. has termed his organization's setback in the recent election to represent blue-collar workers employed by Erie County as a "temporary reversal in the cause for these public employees in the Buf- falo area."

CSEA president Theodore C. Wenzl, admitting that he viewed the winning of the election by the Teamsters as "unexpected and unfortunate," emphasized that his greatest concern was the fact that "an important group of employees will for some time be deprived of the most effective collective representation available to public employees anywhere."

"CSEA is recognized throughout the State and the whole Northeast as the pre-eminent force in public sector collective bargaining," Wenzl said. "It is most regrettable that the Erie County blue-collar people have chosen to divorce themselves from the organization that can do them the most good."

"In the months ahead, the superior negotiating skills and protection of employee rights to be put forth by CSEA in behalf of Erie County white-collar workers whom we represent will stand in marked contrast to the less effective representation of the blue-collar group," Wenzl added. "Based on the record of accomplishment CSEA will write for their white-collar (Continued on Page 14)

CSEA Knocks Out Islip Teamsters; Run-off Sept. 17

ISLIP.—The Civil Service Employees' Assn. eliminated the Teamsters from contention in an otherwise inconclusive three-way representation election last week.

"This will be an all-out effort, with rich rewards for those recruiting new members," Emmett said. "It's a modern, in-depth, and comprehensive drive throughout New York State during the eight-week period of Oct. 1 to Nov. 27, according to Sam Emmett, chairman of CSEA's Statewide membership committee.

"It will be held in both State and County divisions or wherever there is a CSEA chapter or unit."

CAST REHEARSES — Rather than simply explain the CSEA SUPER SIGN-UP SEASON membership drive to the delegates at the Annual Meeting in Buffalo, CSEA's Public Relations Dept. and Advertising Agency teamed up to present a 20-minute parody of "The Honeymooners" during which "Ralph" explains to "Nora" how they're gonna clean up when the drive gets under way.

CSEA KO's Teamsters In Babylon Balloting By White-Collar Aides

BABYLON—The Teamsters' last foothold on Long Island was trimmed to a toehold last week as the Town of Babylon white-collar employees voted 4-1 to return the Teamsters from contention in the election process.

The Teamsters retained control of the blue-collar group, but CSEA officials noted increasing support for CSEA in that group and forecast a similar return to the Association fold.

ALBANY—The Civil Service Employees Assn. plans to conduct a gigantic membership drive throughout New York State during the eight-week period of Oct. 1 to Nov. 27, according to Sam Emmett, chairman of CSEA's Statewide membership committee.

Police Need Community Support

IT IS NO longer possible to ignore the pattern of calculated violence against policemen which crystalized during the past 10 days.

STATISTICALLY, assaults on police officers in New York City have risen 25 per cent this year, but statistics do not tell the whole story. What is most shocking is the increase in vicious, premeditated attacks directed against policemen just because they are policemen. These assaults are not the work of deranged patients running amok nor are they part of a boldly logical, hand-eyed revolutionary strategy.

THERE IS NO doubt that there are groups whose avowed goal is to shake up society and overturn our system of government. They have seized on the random murder of policemen as a tactic that will advance their cause. We know this because throughout the country, the textbooks of terror and revolutionary manifestos have repeatedly been found in the belongings of those who have perpetrated such crimes.

IT IS incomprehensible to me that there has been no outcry from the community calling for massive action to stop this reign of terror. Put aside the fact that policemen are not the work of deranged patients running amok nor are they part of a boldly logical, hand-eyed revolutionary strategy.

IT IS easy enough to recognize the escaped psycho-path brandishing a knife. What is not so easy to recognize is the dedicated revolutionary who will walk up to you with a smile—then stab you in the back or shoot you in the belly.

A special 60-minute tribute to the late City Traffic Commissioner Henry A. Barnes, will be presented on the Joe Frank- show on WOR-TV and WOR radio, Sept. 15. The program will be in color from 3 to 4 p.m. and will be repeated again at night.

Traffic Safety Day, a special tribute to the late City Traffic Commissioner Henry A. Barnes, will be presented on the Joe Frank- show on WOR-TV and WOR radio, Sept. 15. The program will be in color from 3 to 4 p.m. and will be repeated again at night.

The WOR radio program will be aired from 9:15 to 10 p.m. on the same night. Featured guests on the program will be City Commissioner Abraham D. Beame, former Mayor Robert F. Wagner and Irving Anker, deputy chancellor of New York City public schools.

Barnes, a renowned public servant, died in his office at the age of 82 on Sept. 14, 1968. Both programs are being written by Alexander D. Novotny, former chief of police relations and director of traffic safety education for Commissioner Barnes. According to Novotny, this is the first time in the history of the police industry that a Commissioner is being honored on television after his death.

Loeb Leading Council On The Environment

ALBANY—John L. Loeb Jr., a New York City investment banker, has been named chairman of the new seven-member State Council of Environmental Advocates.

Other appointees are: Arthur Godfrey, radio and television personality; Donald W. Gleason, president of Franklin National Bank; Dr. Pearl Post, a New York City physician; Dr. Vincent Joseph Schaefer, a research physiologist from Schenectady; Robert B. Greig, president of the State Education Association and Thomas Chappell Field, a specialist in the field of aquatic ecology.

New Facility — Groundbreaking ceremonies took place recently for a $1.5 million H.I.P. Center to serve approximately 30,000 Suffolk residents. Site of the center is Bayshore Rd. at Weeks Rd. in North Babylon. James Brindle, president of the Health Insurance Plan of Greater New York, said that the Center will contain facilities for specialists in internal medicine and pediatrics who will function as personal family physicians, a full range of other medical specialists, physical therapy, 21 consulting rooms, 50 treatment rooms, podiatry specialists, X-ray department, laboratory and pharmacy. H.I.P. is one of the insurance carriers that handle public employees.

CSEA Going To Court To Win Jobs, Back Pay
For 2 Cayuga City Aides

(From Leader Correspondent)
SYRACUSE—Two female employees of nearby Cayuga County are seeking the return of their jobs and back salaries through a Civil Service complaint against County officials.

The women—Ida Casalegglo and Lucille Caccurt—maintain they were ousted from their jobs illegally and unconstitutionally in their contract classifications. Their legal action seeks the return of their jobs and back pay following their ousting from their positions.

County officials say the women were not abolished by the Civil Service Employees Assn. through a Civil Service Employees Assn.-backed suit.

Justice Needed

The Civil Service Employees Assn. was forced, this week, to haul the Troy City Manager into court twice, to protect the rights of its members working for the City.

In one case, an employee was dismissed from his job without explanation. The CSEA is demanding, in the court action, that the employee, Roy LaMere be either reinstated immediately or else served with formal charges.

LaMere is an honorably discharged veteran of World War II. If according to Civil Service Law, must be given a hearing before he can be fired.

The City manager, Ralph DeSantis, has refused to respond to the CSEA’s demands that the hearing be held. Therefore, another case must be added to the Court’s already crowded calendar in order that justice be served.

In the second case, CSEA is demanding that summary judgement be made against DeSantis and the City for arbitrarily increasing the working hours of clerical employees by 7½ hours a week. As pointed out by Thomas Whitney, the union’s Troy representative, this is a violation of the “past practices” clause in the contract which states that no existing (prior to the current contract) working conditions for the employees may be changed during the life of the contract.

CSEA is demanding that the practice be stopped and the employees be compensated for the increased hours which have been in effect since March 30.

Which brings the question . . . What is the good of a labor contract if the employer fails to abide by it?

It is hoped that in addition to granting the judicial relief sought by CSEA, the Court will instruct DeSantis on the responsibilities of a public employer in living up to contracts which they have negotiated in good faith and to the provisions of Civil Service Law.

The necessity of court action in these cases is uncalled for and wastes the time and finances of both sides.

SIF Still On Top

In Premium Field

The New York State Insurance Fund remains the largest insurer of workers’ compensation insurance in this State, according to statistics compiled by the New York Compensation Insurance Rating Board, which pays the premium to the public for workers’ compensation insurance in the State. The Board wrote over $183,371,946 in premiums during the year 1969 as compared to $175,800 for the previous year, an increase of 4.6 percent. The total amount of workers’ compensation insurance written in the State was $186,341,844.

NOW OTHER STATES, including Pennsylvania, Illinois and New Jersey, are also considering plans to compensate crime victims.

THE TOTAL PROBLEM of too much sympathy for the criminals and hardly any for the victims of these criminals is nothing new to readers of this column. In fact, we were among the first to pose the problem and tell about the New Zealand plan which began in 1963.

IT MEANS THAT now, for our readers to say “peanuts” when comparing the amounts to be paid to crime victims and the horrendous incidence of crime. Yet, the public relations facet is tremendous.

IT MEANS THAT at long last society feels obliged to help its crime victims. It means that human beings — not just property — are the victims and they should have as much, if not more, protection under the law as those who break the law.

NOW THAT PEOPLE are accepting the responsibility of helping the victims of crime, we should all benefit from this new public relations plus.
 Masters Necessary To Be A Physical Rehab Coordinator

A single vacancy has been announced by the State for physical rehabilitation coordinator. The job pays a salary of $20,000 per year. The requirements include a Master's degree in one of these subjects: public administration, hospital administration or one of the health professions.

Experientially, candidates must have five years of background in rehabilitation. Of those five years, a master's in one of these subjects is required. A written and oral test, as demanded in Exam Notice No. 23-288, is scheduled for late October. Ask for that bulletin appearing in person at any State Employment Service unit.

MINEOLA—A number of Towns of Hempstead have voted approval of a 10-point package, covering a $1,250 across-the-board pay boost negotiated by the Civil Service Employees Assn.

The two-year contract provides a $750 increase in 1971 plus an additional $500 or cost-of-living adjustment, whichever is greater, in 1972, according to newly re-elected unit president Kenneth Cadeaux, who represents employees of about 2,500 persons.

The voting came Aug. 20 following negotiations between the Town and the unit about 2,500 persons. Talks are progressing in North Hempstead and Oyster Bay Towns in Nassau County.

Nassau chapter president Irving Flau menbaum noted that the promotions are:

- John B. Silver, correction officer, 20 years, to correctional officer, 23 years.
- Robert J. Sullivan, correction officer, 19 years, to correctional officer, 21 years.
- John A. Toohey, correction officer, 23 years, to correctional officer, 25 years.
- Anthony Gaegory, international trade consultant, 1972, according to newly re-elected CSEA local president Anthony Gaegory, international trade consultant, Bureau of College Evaluation.

Promotions have included either a baccalaureate or an equivalent as basic to the job. Another two or three years of State service.

IN MENTAL HYGIENE DEPARTMENT

- James D. Bradley, correctional officer, 20 years, to correctional officer, 22 years.
- Jonathon S. Harris, correctional officer, 23 years, to correctional officer, 25 years.
- Joseph R. Sanchez, senior interviewer, 33 years, to senior interviewer, 35 years.
- Donald E. Irwin, correctional officer, 16 years, to correctional officer, 18 years.
- Robert L. Draper, correctional officer, 25 years, to correctional officer, 27 years.

CSEA asks for three years of investigative experience which must be included either a bachelor or an equivalent as far as training and experience. The Association provides examples of public contact work—such as adjuster or salesman—in its official job announcement.

In Mental Hygiene Department, the requirements are for public contact and communication. Incrementally, these public contact and communication duties are required for the real value of $13,676. CSEA staff personnel are also included holidays and other fringe benefits gotten by other employees.

What will you need? Aside from a high school diploma, CSEA asks for at least three years of "responsible business or investigatory experience which must have involved public contact and not suffer from any mental or physical defects that may interfere with job performance.

Character Standards

In terms of character, conviction of a felony or other law violation shall bar appointment. Personal traits, according to the CSEA, should demonstrate "the ability to get along and deal effectively with others and to secure cooperation and avoid antagonisms." Good powers of observation and a keen sense of ethics are considered essential. You must also be able to "understand and carry out written and oral instructions, changing duties, and more than 3,500 employees.

New Judge Named

ALBANY—Dr. Shepherd Nathan, of Kings Park, has been appointed Kings Park State Hospital in Suffolk County. The salary is $3,537 a year.

He succeeds Dr. Charles Buckman, who retired after 42 years of State service.

"Dr. Nathan's wide experience as a psychiatrist and an administrator at Kings Park and other hospitals and his deep concern for people make this appointment a singularly fitting one for the State Mental Hygiene Commissioner Alan D. Miller declared.

After completing a general rotating internship at Morrista in City Hospital in the Bronx, he began a three-year residency in psychiatric diagnosis at the Tulip State Hospital in 1958.

He has served as assistant director of the Suffolk State School in Melville.

Kings Park has an average of over 400 patients and more than 3,500 employees.
We wish we had time to send out a card like the above everytime one of our subscribers or his dependents were hospitalized.

Obviously, it's impossible.

However, the nicest Get-Well Card that we know of is a paid-up hospital and doctor bill after the illness.

STATEWIDE PLAN subscribers receive very few hospital bills after an illness. Often, all hospital bills are paid in full. THE STATEWIDE PLAN has been revised and improved year after year for so many years, that today, it provides the kind of coverage that protects public employees best.

The combination of BLUE CROSS for hospital bills, BLUE SHIELD for doctor's bills supplemented by Metropolitan's Major Medical in case of a long, lingering illness, gives STATEWIDE subscribers one of the finest packages of health insurance coverage in the nation. In fact, other states and plans use it as a model package.

If you don't have THE STATEWIDE PLAN, we have only one question to ask you. Why?

There isn't a better plan in the state — at least not one that we know about.

CSEA Wins Salary Fringe Benefit Boosts In North Hempstead

(From Leader Correspondent)

MINEOLA—Employees of the Town of North Hempstead have ratified a new labor contract providing first-year pay boosts of $630 to $780 as negotiated by the Civil Service Employees Assn. and the Tax Dept. to work out ground negotiated earlier this year, negotiating president Irving Flaumenbaum.

The contract is for two years. The two-year contract provides "front money" cash benefits of $100 and $200 for the first-year plus fringe benefits and a second-year pay boost, according to Nassau chapter executive Irving Flumeburn.

The contract provides for two years. The new contract replaces the 1904th formula.

Flaumenbaum called it "the best retirement plan there is on the scene today."

The Long Island Conference of CSEA to "unite" behind the contract, said the Palm Beach chapter of the Civil Service Employees Assn., has announced by Albany headquarters, providing a clear mandate for Imholz. Ballots were counted in Albany this morning.

The runner-up candidate for president, Richard Bailey, said he offered his support to the new officers and bade all in CSEA to "unite" behind them.

The voters, who were Ware officers in the officers, told them: "We have a serious responsibility to advance the interests of your fellow representatives. We have a common cause—the success and growth of CSEA and the betterment of public employment."

follow workers, we are confident that when the next election comes around, Eric's blue-collor employees will choose to return to the CSEA fold.

"Naturally, we are disappointed at losing this election, but CSEA victories in these representation battles far exceed our losses. CSEA will continue to win more than it loses, and that is important. The long-range total victory, based on men who will be ours, continues to unfold."

Stephens Retires

Edgar Stephens has retired from the Albany Office of the State Insurance Fund. He began his career with the Fund in 1957, starting as a junior claims examiner. He will be honored with a retirement dinner Sept. 24 at the Shaker Ridge Country Club in Colonie.

DON'T REPEAT THIS!

A Rockefeller for the job.

Juicy State contracts to outside consultants to do the work of regular State employees, Adams said. "The College has policies asserted by the CSEA that students involved in civil service views of the Governor may have to his office."

Taylor Law is a distinct improvement over the Condon-Wadlin law and favors compulsory arbitration as the final resort to break a bargaining impasse in public employee negotiations.

Adams looks at the Urban Development Corporation as "time bomb" which will explode one of these days because of its power to overrule community zoning and other restrictions designed to enhance neighborhood and property values. Adams is also critical of the UDC for having entered into $11 million of consulting contracts without even building a single dwelling unit.

Adams has also been critical of Rockefeller for accepting a second-line endorsement of the Civil Service-Independent Party and called upon the Governor to "explain to civil servants whose votes he is seeking why he has been shunting them aside and paying money to outsiders to do the work they are qualified to do."

CSEA Neutrality

A similar position has been taken by Wenzl in behalf of the CSEA, when he said: "The Civil Service Employees Asso. has maintained a position of bipartisanship and neutrality in all Statewide elections for its entire 60-year history. This policy has been reaffirmed by its delegates and board on every occasion the question has arisen. CSEA does not have any connection with the 'Civil Service-Independent Party' that recently announced Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's acceptance of its invitation to run as its nominee for Governor of NYS."

Adams may have been a novice four years ago, but today he is an experienced and knowledgeable campaigner, who is expected by political experts to exceed by far his votes of four years ago. Win or lose, the Adams candidacy may have a decided impact on the next Governor of the State. (This is the first of a series of three articles on the civil service view of the gubernatorial candidates. Next week "Don't Repeat This" will deal with the views of Arthur J. Goldberg, the Democratic-Liberal candidate, to be followed a week later by the civil service views of Nelson A. Rockefeller, the Republican candidate.)
