ALBANY—The Civil Service Employees Assn. has announced plans to challenge this summer the bargaining status of Council 82, AFSCME, the union which currently represents more than 7,000 State employees in the Security Services Unit.

The announcement came following a series of meetings under the Janus Act, where 2,800 employees selected representatives to petition the union to negotiate as a bargaining agent.

A recent small sampling was conducted of some 2,000 employees in the unit, asking them such questions as, whether they were a member of Council 82; whether they voted for that union in the 1969 election; whether they wanted to continue to be represented by AFSCME, and other questions pertaining to the service they receive from the AFSCME affiliated unit.

A CSEA spokesman said more than 55 percent of those questionnaires sent out had already been returned and that more were coming in each day. "The results are extremely gratifying and prove conclusively that Council 82 has not been doing its job for the last two years," the spokesman said.

Poll Results
An overwhelming number of those responding noted that Council 82 had not provided them good service in the last two years and that they would not vote for that union in the next election.

An equally large number voted the questionnaires in for a CSEA representative and acknowledged that they knew of no effort on the part of that union to prevent the firings of State employees in the Security Services Unit.

The CSEA spokesman said that the number of returns received thus far was "surprising" and indicated a "general feeling of dissatisfaction with Council 82 among employees in the Security Unit." As a result of this initial sampling, he said, "CSEA intends to canvass every employee who has not been reached." (See ballot on Page 16.)

Campaign Begins
Metro Conference Hosts
State Office Candidates
By MARVIN BAXLEY

NEW HYDE PARK—Civil Service Employees Assn. president Theodore C. Wenzl stated that he "stood on his record" and first vice-president Irving Flumenbaum listed a four-point program as the two candidates in this year's Statewide presidency election.

A four-point program as the two candidates in this year's Statewide presidency election appeared before a meeting of the Metropolitan Conference at the New Hyde Park Inn here on June 26.

The two men head a large contingency of candidates for Statewide office, as well as a number of candidates for the Statewide Executive committee, as they made their first official campaign appearances. Eventually they will have visited each of the Conferences throughout the State.

It was also the fourth Conference to be visited by the CSEA restructuring committee as it tours the State to inform the membership of its progress and to seek new ideas before it makes a presentation at the annual meeting in New York City this September.

President Wenzl, seeking his third term as president, said that under his administration the Association had become a "household word". The press and legislature have been watching the Association closely and lending them support.

The Floodgates are open—schools are out, vacation start and a tide of humanity rushes out of the city toward the beach. It begins rolling in this week, when the Summer begins. For the New York City resident, especially from middle- and low-income families and the elderly, this is the end of fighting for sheltered apartments and a steaming neighborhood.

For these New Yorkers, there may not be air conditioning in the apartments, there are no air-conditioned rooms or restaurants. For these New Yorkers, there is only the means of fast and economical transportation, the transit system—subways, buses, and trains. These are the individuals who are hell-bent to year-round to create trouble. These are the individuals who disrupt classrooms, foment campus disorders, throw courtrooms into turmoil and inconvenience others by sit-ins, affairs, and block-ups. Fact-Finder Suggests
Johnson City Contract

(From Lead Correspondent)

JOHNSON CITY — State Public Relations fact-finder Byron Yafee, an assistant professor of labor and industrial relations at Cornell University, has submitted recommendations to negotiators for the Johnson City School District, the Civil Service Employees Assn., and the Johnson City Central School District designed to effect a settlement in the contract dispute between the two factions.

In his recommendations, Yafee proposed a two-year agreement providing for:

- Bus drivers—a 15 cents across-the-board hourly increase at each level plus increments in each year.
- Driver-mechanics—$900 plus increments which would total about $350 for each year of the two-year pact.
- Head mechanics—a salary of $7,000 in the first year of the agreement increased by $450 the second.
- Malowis and cleaners—a $100 across-the-board increase plus increases amounting to about $200 each year for those at the top of the schedule, a 5½ percent annual cost-of-living adjustment.
- Custodians and groundsmen—A $200 across-the-board increase plus increments totaling an additional $340 each year for those at the top of the increment schedule, a 5½ percent cost-of-living increase.
- Cooks and cook-managers—Increases of five cents per hour across-the-board, added to each step plus annual increments.
- Cook helpers—Increase of 7½ cents per hours across-the-board added to each step plus increments.
- Yafee also recommended the implementation of a non-contributory retirement plan for employees and improved health insurance coverage. Under Yafee's recommendations the Johnson City Central School System would pay 79 percent of the individual's health insurance plan and 20 percent of the family plan. He said the proposed contract should afford the parties a substantial period and stabilize relations without the strains generated by the annual negotiation process.

The Statistics Game

STATISTICS can be used in any number of ways but a popular usage is the compiling of data to prove one's own point. This game is now being played by the City of New York as it resumes negotiations with the unionized categories of public employees, all of whom are in the prime of their ability to perform.

The zinger, however, is that even the much-vaunted public sector is again to become a career sought largely by those seeking substandard wages in order to gain job security. Government is too complex to be run by the non-teaching personnel; civil servants in the prime of their ability to perform are bound to seek greener fields, and the old "pros" are already shaking their heads in disgust and planning early retirement.

The ringer, however, is that even the much-vaunted job security aspect of civil service is fast disappearing. In the long run, this statistics game is bound to boomerang. Government is too complex to be run by the second or third choices in picking worker talent; civil servants in the prime of their ability to perform are bound to seek greener fields, and the old "pros" are already shaking their heads in disgust and planning early retirement.

There is little doubt that New York State, preparing now for its negotiations with the Civil Service Employees Assn., as the representative of the vast majority of State workers, will engage in some form of the same statistics game.

Before this thing goes too far, we suggest that it would be far wiser for both the City and the State to see how many high-paying programs can be cut down or eliminated; to call back or eliminate any number of unneeded building projects and to stop proposing new money programs designed to get votes. Government's essential responsibility to the public is still service—and service requires people before programs.
Why do we Recognize Blue Shield?

Because they know what they're doing.

Blue Shield for physician's charges is the one plan that makes sense. Blue Shield invented the whole idea of prepayment for medical and surgical services and over the past 25 years they've worked out the problems with experience. They've cut red tape to a minimum which means their operating costs are probably the lowest in the business.

Another thing, Blue Shield is non-profit. And while others are too, Blue Shield benefits are the realistic, important benefits that spell the difference between worry-free recovery and financial hardship.

An overwhelming number of physicians in New York State participate in Blue Shield. In fact, most doctors cover their own families with Blue Shield. If there was a better plan — you know that we would have it.

But the fact is, there isn't.

At H.I.P. we urge you to use your health insurance plan coverage.

We urge you to seek preventive health care.
We urge you to bring your children to see their pediatrician.

There was a story told about a man in Furry who was the most decorated man in Furry was about to receive his 12th medal.

Now this of itself was good news, but it gave me much food for thought and, in a sense, I think it made the idea of having to make up this column on my own even harder.

Right now, this writer is 23 years young. Of those 23 years, I have been spending most of my time and effort on working with the members of Furry. Going back through the years, I recall many stories, eagerly and accurately told by the many daily newspapers that we had at the time, about incidents and the characters who performed these heroic acts.

The reporters in those days appreciated the color and the glamour which made for a good fire story, and no opportunity was ever wasted up if possible. These were the days of "iron men and wooden hydrants."

In writing, together with evidence upon which such protests are based.

According to the hospital director, about the only major occupational area now existing is that of refrigeration and air conditioning. Journeyman men rather than trainees are wanted, it was stressed, in calling for those interested in these answers.
