Creedmoor Director Defends His Staffers With Highest Praise

NEW YORK CITY — "We have the finest state employees," Dr. William Werner, director of Creedmoor State Hospital, told a press conference at Civil Service Employees Assn. Headquarters here, "but they are being demoralized by the blowup of charges of crime at Creedmoor."

The chief of the big mental hospital in Queens came to the CSCA New York City Region offices at 11 Park Place on Jan. 18 to defend the reputation of his 2,700 employees at a press briefing. The late-morning gathering was called by Region president Solomon Bendet, who sought to counter the effects of highly publicized charges by State Senator Frank Pedersen about the supposed high incidence of crime at the hospital. Senator Pedersen's charges had included allegations against the employees for some of the crimes.

In the question-and-answer period, Dr. Werner was questioned about a statement he had purportedly made that outsiders and insiders were responsible for the crime incidents at Creedmoor. Dr. Werner replied that he never intended and never did cast doubt on the integrity of the employees. A very few members might be involved, he said, but it is unfair to level charges so that the whole staff feels victimized. "The great majority of our employees are simply marvellous," said Dr. Werner. "They just don't get enough credit for what they do. These civil servants are being blasted by charges of crime at Creedmoor." (Continued on Page 14)

Suffolk Wins in Three Demands

RIVERHEAD — This week, Suffolk chapter Civil Service Employees Assn. president Dr. William Werner, announced a settlement with the county eliminating a practice of placing some employees on the prior year's pay scale, and granting increased allowances in such as nurses' uniforms.

The agreement will affect about 350 employees one to two grades.

It also provides a reimbursement to some employees whom the county had claimed after leaving, they had been placed on the wrong pay scale.

The settlement agreement affects about 500 members. The cash payment has been sought by employees. In addition, allowances will be increased by $50 to $100, maximum of $100 to $40.

In another agreement settling a CSEA complaint, Mr. Porter paid "special commendation" to the chapter's labor-management committee for successfully resolving the grievances after tedious negotiations in which the county at first appeared unusually inflexible. The committee is chaired by Ewa Feld, with Frank Randall and Dominick Ciordano as members. They were assisted by Bill Griffin, CSEA field representative.

The pay scale agreement provides that all employees shall be placed in the 1974 pay scale step applicable, and new employees will be hired in the proper steps. Step increments shall be effective at the start of each year.

The misplacement of employees had affected only a small percentage of county employees but the inequity had been a major irritant to the CSEA.

Statewide Officers Lend Support For Acceptance Of Oneida Pact

UTICA — With Civil Service Employees Assn. executive vice-president Thomas M. McDonough attending hearings inside, and CSCA Syracuse Region No. 5's president Richard Cleary and executive vice-president Louis Sundershaft among the informational pickets outside, Oneida County legislators knew the employees union meant business.

An average of 50 people a day took part in the informational picketing during most of the last week as Oneida County's Legislature met on a fact-finder's report on a contract settlement for county workers.

Mr. Sundershaft, who is also president of the Oneida County chapter, was joined by fellow officers and chapter members, as well as statewide officers McDonough and Cleary, during the orderly demonstration on behalf of the report's acceptance.

The legislative hearing is the final stage in settling the dispute between CSEA and Oneida County over terms of a new work agreement for county employees. Among participants were, left, Kenneth Bennett, president of SUNY at Geneseo chapter. Huddled at right are Edmond O'Brien, Newark State School president, and Newark delegate Frank Napoleoni. Thomas Gettle, president of SUNY at Brockport chapter, is identifiable in background. (Additional photos and story begin on page 2.)

ON THE ISSUES — Samuel Grossfeld, president of CSEA's Rochester chapter, emphasizes advantages of four-day work week during current energy crunch. This and other topics, such as cost of living, agency shop and insurance, were discussed at meeting last week between representatives of chapters of the Genesee Federation (an informal grouping of CSEA chapters in the northeastern area of the union's Buffalo Region) and 11 state senators and assemblymen from the area. Among participants at the session were, left, Kenneth Bennett, president of SUNY at Geneseo chapter. Huddled at right are Edmond O'Brien, Newark State School president, and Newark delegate Frank Na

The Agency Shop

RECENTLY an arbitrator issued a decision that provision for an agency shop be included in the bargaining agreement for employees of the Ramapo-Catskill Library System in Orange County.

This case, argued successfully by a field representative of the Civil Service Employees Assn., is an exception to the rule, unfortunately, as far as its relevance to other public employee unions is concerned. The traditional view of the Civil Service rules is that they are a bit complex, but, in essence, certain library systems in the state receive moneys from private sources as well as from state funds. As a result, regulations of the Civil Service Employees Assn., is an exception to the rule, unfortunately, as far as its relevance to other public employee union leaders. At a meeting discussion for public employees.

It is on this key point, moreover, that we believe the government workers, in our view, is that if an employee is willing to accept the services of the union—and that includes negotiated pay raises and other so-called fringe benefits—that he must be given a nominal, fair share of the expenses for those services.

If everyone is to be treated equally, then everyone should contribute equally. Fair is fair.
Anthony DeFalco got his knife out of the pocket of his jacket and a running battle among Bill Heyman, Gene Soares and Tony DeFalco to be the master chef of Engine 37. They couldn't decide. Tony was the number one chef.

When he worked, he took the whole damn town for the day. When he heard that people trapped in rooms beyond the fire, smoke or no smoke, water or no water, was always the same. "Hey Lou ... I'm going after them," and false alarm or not, after they went. In 1965 he put in his papers for Engine 299 in Queens. He came through and Tony left Harlem.

A few months ago, Tony ran for U.P.A. Company Delegate and in accordance with the rules automatically put a smile back upon the face of the Captain's group. Had he lost the election he would most probably still be alive today because his normal groups would not have been working that night. Between 5 p.m. and 2:46 a.m. there were five runs, the last of which was an all hands where the company was first due and got their brains beaten in. At 2.46 a.m. Box 982 slammed in and they were first due at that one too.

The fire was in the windows of the first floor on the side of the building. Taking advantage of the fact that he was first due, Tony slammed the mask, took the pipe, entered the first floor, belied the fire down and then stretched up the inside stairway to the second floor - the "Queen Anne" frame building where the fire was spreading fast and needed attention.

As the truck opened up, Tony hit the fire with the line - standard procedure. Suddenly he heard a heart attack. He was the second man in three days to die that was while operating at a fire.

He was a little guy. Wiry and tough. If Tony couldn't make it down the long hallway, no one could.

I think Saint Peter is in for several shocks upon the arrival of Tony DeFalco. He's going to find that you don't need a mask when life is involved. And he's going to learn new ways to cook spaghetti a la manera and he better believe it.

O’Hagan Tries To Halt 25% Cut Of Probies

As of Leader press time Friday the Fire Department was continuing to urge its recommendation against reducing the classes of probationary firemen from 152 to 112 appointments. Final decision on the size of classes was expected to be made by Jan. 21.

If the effort fails, only 112 eligibles will enter the fire training session Jan. 26.

Fire Commissioner John O’Hagan told The Leader the Department ‘‘needs the problem’’ and would like to be able to comply with a court order which sets the number of appointees at 152.

The move to reduce the classes by about 25 percent came from the city after studies showed the actual attrition rate of the Fire Dept. was lower than projected.

The civil service list from which fire eligibles will be appointed was split into two groups—one of minorities and one of non-minorities—when a federal judge said the exam was racially discriminatory. The two lists would be used to make appointments at the rate of three per week each for black or Hispanic, not to exceed a total of 152, the court said.

If the class of 112 is approved, no. 7,794.5 will be the last minority appointed, and no. 1,056 will be the last non-minority. The class would consist of 84 non-minorities, and 28 minorities.

This will be the third class to be hired under the court order, and the next class is expected to be appointed March 23.

The nomination committee of the Nassau chapter, Civil Service Employees Assn., has proposed 50 names for election to chapter offices in the spring. The committee proposed chapter president Irving Flaumenbaum and Carl Pugliese, for sergeant-at-arms, as Nassau picks nominees.

MATERNITY LEAVE IS CONSIDERED COMPARABLE TO DISABILITY LEAVE

ALBANY — The Civil Service Employees Assn. reminds state employees that, as the result of an agreement negotiated by CSEA with the state Civil Service Commission last year, maternity leave is now to be considered comparable to disability leave.

Under the provisions of the memorandum of understanding between the State and CSEA, a pregnant employee shall be allowed to perform the duties of her job as long as she is medically able to do so.

Although the pregnant employee may be encouraged to report her condition, she is not required by her agency to do so.

At her request and upon filing of appropriate medical evidence that she is unable to perform the duties of her position due to pregnancy, an employee shall be granted a pregnancy leave of absence.

That leave is to be considered a disability leave, and the employee is entitled to return to the post of employment she held when she went on leave or to an equivalent post, or, if there is no equivalent, to one of comparable pay and privilege.

PUBLIC SPIRITED — A check for $1,500 toward funding of a center for research on affections of the brain at the Brain and Spinal Cord Center, the center's executive director for multi-handicapped persons is to be established at the Livingston County Campus in Mt. Morris.

the Albany plan to the Rochester area because doctor and hospital fees are much higher there, said Carmen Farrugia, former president of the Industry chapter.

"We must make up the difference, and it's a big difference," said Michael Alletto, of the Rochester State Hospital chapter's political action committee.

He said he had knee surgery in Rochester, where the surgeon charged $250 and the semi-private hospital room cost $46 daily. Under the Albany plan, Mr. Alletto would have to pay $146 for the surgery and only $46 daily for the hospital.

"I don't think it's legal for them to pay a rate from an area where you don't live," Mr. Frey said. "Maybe we can correct this by getting Blue Cross and Blue Shield to obey the law."

Assemblyman Harry confirmed that legislators, too, were being affected since the changeover to the Albany plan, and cited his own experiences after a recent operation.

Assemblyman Cook agreed that the present arrangement "hurts us just as much," and he and the other legislators agreed to work for a change.

Under Civil Service Law, said Charles Peritore, president of the Craig State School chapter, state employees who are suspended must be on the job 90 days after they return to work to be eligible for the death benefit.

"We should receive coverage the day we return," he said.

Senator DeHond said "corrections are on the way."

Melba Binn, president of the Rochester Area Retirees chapter, asked that the supplemental pension be available for all retirees. Because "inflation is eating up our pension," she asked for a permanent cost of living escalator clause instead of one that is dependent upon annual legislative action.

"We also want the Taylor Law amended so CSEA can represent all retired employees," she said. She also asked that retirees' health insurance credit paid by unused sick leave be transferable to the spouse or another dependent.

Mr. Grossfield asked legislators to consider a four-day week of nine hours a day. "The state would save fuel, and production might even improve because people are tired on the fifth day," he said.

Several CSEA representatives recommended a Taylor Law amendment to penalize public employers as well as employees for a strike.

"A county manager or chief executive in an employee just like anyone else," Mr. Pomidoro said.

"You fine a mayor $1,000 and next year the council raises his pay by $1,000," said Assemblyman Emery.

Mr. Frey said binding arbitration might be the answer.

Mr. Grossfield said contracts no longer can wait for "last-minute approval by state legislators."

"I'd like to vote on the contract by March 1, but it's up to you people how soon we receive it," said Assemblyman Raymond J. Lill (D-Elmira District).

"Once we get the contract, it doesn't take long to vote on it," Assemblyman Cook said.

Other legislators attending the meeting were Senator Frederick L. Winstead (R-King District), and Assemblymen Thomas A. Hanna (R-13th), William M. Steinfield (R-140th) and Frank Carroll (R-133rd).

Representatives came from the Rochester, Monroe County, Rochester State Hospital, Rochester DOT, Gennesee Valley Armory, Newark State Hospital, Rochester Retirees, Industry, Brockport SUNY, Gennesee SUNY and Craig State School chapters.

Also as a result of the change, any employee may continue to use any or all leave she has accumulated while on maternity leave.

And, at her request, an employee may be granted a leave of absence without pay for three months to two years.

This agreement was negotiated during the Administrative Services Unit negotiating sessions last year, but applies to state employees in all four units represented by CSEA.

John Conoby, CSEA collective negotiating specialist for the Administrative Services Unit, said that the maternity leave provisions were being resisted at this time because of recent inquiries on the subject received at CSEA Headquarters.
