NYC Region Offers Pact Suggestions

MANHATTAN—The executive committee of New York City Region 2, Civil Service Employees Assn., meeting in a special session called by Region president Solomon Bendet to discuss Gov. Hugh Carey's State of the State message to the New York Legislature, last week approved a four-point resolution covering its ideas on the negotiation covering its ideas on the minimum goals to be sought in CSEA-New York State contract negotiations.

The motion covered salaries, health plan, disciplinary procedure and the agency shop issue. It was transmitted to CSEA President Theodore C. Welman as a request that he call a full meeting of the union's Albany headquarters. It was accompanied by a resolution, formulated by William DeMartino, president of the Metropolitan Board of Directors.

LADY 'MAN OF YEAR' — Prior to the January meeting of the Civil Service Employees Assn. Board of Directors, the Civil Service Employees Assn. met in a reopener provision for employees in the State of New York on Friday, Jan. 24 at 11 a.m.

First State Reopener Meeting Now Scheduled

ALBANY—A first meeting to negotiate benefits included in a reopening provision for the third year of the current contracts covering most state workers is scheduled here between representatives of the Civil Service Employees Assn. and the State of New York on Friday, Jan. 24 at 11 a.m.

CSEA bargainers will be seeking improvements in salary, health insurance and the procedure for handling disciplinary cases, as well as the right to an agency shop.

As agreed by both parties to the negotiations, a complete news blackout will be observed on all monetary figures and other details involved in the talks until a tentative agreement is reached.

The target date for the latter is April 1, the start of the state's fiscal year, and the effective date for whatsoever agreement is reached.

PERB Being Sued On Sullivan Vote

ALBANY—The Civil Service Employees Assn. has brought suit against the State Public Employment Relations Board, seeking to overturn the PERB decision last November which fragmented the then-single Sullivan County bargaining unit into three units.

Nassau Employees Get Fully Paid Dental

MINELLA—A fully paid, non-contributory dental plan has been approved for employees of Nassau County, with provisions retroactive to Jan. 1 of this year.

Ford Puts 5% Limit On Wage Hikes For Federal Employees

WASHINGTON—President Ford bluntly told Congress that the State of the Union messages ever delivered, President Ford bluntly told Congress that the State of the Union "is not good." For civil service employees, the outlook is worse than "not good" but borders on the disastrous.

"Only a reduction in spending," Ford said, "leaves room for increases in pay."

McDermott Urges 'Alternatives'

Civil Service Employees Assn. vice-president Joseph McDermott outlined six proposals in a letter circulated last week among chapter presidents and board members.

Critics Of Pilgrim Assailed By Duffy

BRENTWOOD—Officials of a group that has been waging a campaign of negative publicity against the staff and administration of Pilgrim Psychiatric Center faced an angry meeting of the Civil Service Employees Assn. here last week and were unanioumsly denounced.

"You've got a lot of uncooperative people in the hospital," the group was warned by Pilgrim chapter president Betty Duffy as a crowd of about 200 employees headed three representatives of the group, called the Concerned Citizens of Pilgrim.

"I don't want people telling me I am not doing my job—because I am," one employee declared emphatically.

Representatives of the group, which claims to represent relatives of patients, back-handedly ratified their criticisms and protested that they only wanted more employees and better pay. Their statement was only hooked, in view of past attacks.

Motives Questioned

Employers charged that the group's methods were irresponsible and destructive, and many questioned the motives of leaders of the group.

Of the group's leaders, it was charged, visited a relative in the hospital and wound up beating the patient with his belt.

Staffers filed reports on the incident in order to protect themselves.

MCALFORD M-H SURVEY — Civil Service Employees Assn. president Theodore C. Welman, right, discusses problems encountered in partially completed California program to phase out large mental hospitals in favor of small, community facilities with California State Senator Alfred E. Aguiar. CSEA faces identical problems in similar programs underway in New York State. (See story on Page 6.)

"If the county doesn't give us the increments forced to obtain the money, with interest, by using all the avenues provided for in the contract Scanlon backed Mr. Cheney meeting of the executive board at 5:15 p.m. on March 23, at 15th St., Manhattan.

A law passed in 1974 mandated about half the Putnam County criminal patients make less money all aspects of the inmate-training situation in his meeting with Dr. Cahill. "It is a top priority of our region this year to rectify this morally and legally dubious situation," Mr. Lennon wrote to Dr. Cahill. Consequently, it is the intention of this inmate that you at your earliest convenience.

While Mr. Lennon is awaiting a response, CSEA's legal staff is also pursuing possible avenues for court action to transfer inmates. These include lawsuits by CSEA members employed at mental illness, who are personally injured by inmates transferred to their hospitals from Matteawan. Such members are urged to get in touch with Mr. Lennon or by calling the Southern Region headquarters in Fishkill.

Southern Region hospitals that have been receiving Matteawan inmates include Rockland, Mid Hudson, and Medinaton River psychiatric centers.

Claim Increments Are Due To Putnam Inmates Workers

CARMEL—The president of the Putnam County chapter of the Civil Service Employees Assn. declared that 5 percent increments for his 200-member county unit are "due and payable" in their next paychecks to be issued Jan. 24.

Russell Cheney added that he "strongly advises" the county administration to see that the increments are paid in the Jan. 24 checks. "If they aren't due—in fact, they are overdue—and payable retroactive to Jan. 1," Mr. Cheney said. "It's not the government's fault if the county doesn't give us the increments in the next paycheck, we'll be forced to obtain the money, with interest, by using all the avenues available to us, including filing an improper practice charge."

About half the Putnam County CSEA unit is due the Jan. 1 increments. The increments were provided for in the contract which expired Dec. 31.

CSEA field representative Larry Stanek bound Mr. Cheney in his assessment of the situation. "The increments don't give us the time to recite this morally and legally dubious situation," Mr. Lennon wrote to Dr. Cahill. Consequently, it is the intention of this inmate that you at your earliest convenience.

Venzl: Small Mental Unit Scheme Seems Inadequate

(Special To The Leader)

ALBANY — A recent survey of problems stemming from California’s switch from tradi-tional large scale state mental institutions to small, community-based facilities has convinced top officials of the Civil Service Employees Assn. that New York State should not attempt a similar program.

Dr. Wenzl, who headed the explor-toy trip, was accompanied by Cali-fornia State Senator John Bask, the head of the state’s education committee, and Senator John Bask, the head of the state’s education committee.

He reported that the CSEA delegation toured various California Mental Hygiene associations, talking with state officials and agency staff members as well as numerous leaders of the union’s west coast counterparts, the California State Employees Association. The latter organization, also known as CSEA, served as host and escort for the New York CSEA officials during the west-coast survey.

Dr. Wenzl reported that the California phase-out program, which was conceived and under-taken during the Reagan Ad-ministration, was brought to an abrupt halt as more and more unforeseen difficulties including exorbitant costs and community opposition, began to surface. It was decided to stop the program at that point and apply intensive study to the partial imple-mentation of it for the future.

In other words, California State official’s have admitted strong reservations as to whether a complete phase-out of existing institutions is feasible.

Coverage is retroactive to Jan. 1. It was explained, for services rendered on or after that date that the plan be retroactive on services rendered in 1974.

Employees will also be receiving new identification cards and new descriptive material detailing the plan.

It was pointed out that full coverage is provided by these dentists who are participants. Non-participating dentists may be used, but the employee would have to make up the difference in fees if they exceed the established rates.

A list of dentists is available from CSEA’s Subscriber Relations Department. The CSEA Building, 227 West 46th St., New York City 10019, or by telephone: (212) 394-5400.

Subscribers are requested to provide their zip code, and they will be given the names of three participating dentists in the area.

Responsible Government

President John Kennedy's most quoted statement is his admonition to "ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country." In a way, we are reminded of this by Governor Carey's theme of enjoying the simple things in life, getting back to basics. The Governor has never been one to try to set a tone whereby New Yorkers would have picnics in their own back yards instead of driving up to enjoy them in the splendor of the Adirondacks, and to pack baloney sandwiches instead of fried chicken.

Both the Kennedy and the Carey statements, despite the elegance of their wording, were calls to expect less from government. Both statements, too, were in response to the particular crises and issues of their time.

It seems to us, however, that President Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address contained an even more memorable phrasing: "government of the people, by the people, and for the people."

We seem somehow to lose sight of the fact that our government—whether federal, state or local—exists to serve the people. We have agreed to abide peacefully under our elected governments in order to maintain a degree of order within our lives and to provide for the common welfare.

We are a level of leadership that at times accepts charisma in place of experience, because it provides us with hope when things seem to be going wrong.

It is particularly distressing to us, therefore, that the government, at all levels these days, seems to be running scared in the face of the current economic pressures, which have the responsibility to provide for its citizens. It is not a matter of helping some at the expense of others. This should be a matter of concern to all people may have to make in order to reverse the trend.

There is no question that the members of the Board of Education failed to comply with Section 75 of the School Law and because social security has established data processing systems in the public will unquestionably find the state budget in surplus.

Q. I've been hearing about the new Federal program for aged, blind, and disabled people. Why is the social security program still in operation? A. Supplemental security income payments are for people with little or no income and are usually in the range of $40 or older, or blind, or disabled. Social security is handling the Federal program because it is already in touch with many of these people through social security and Medicare. The Appellate Division held, therefore, that the complaint was properly dismissed.
Manhattan — The Citizens Budget Commission, a non-partisan civic group, announced last week that New York City faces the possibility of a 115 point rise in its basic real estate tax unless Mayor Beame intervenes in setting the rate below its constitutional maximum of $8.80 per $100 of assessed value.

"Unless the mayor intervenes decisively in the process of setting the rate below the constitutional limit, the city could reach the constitutional maximum of $8.80 per $100 of assessed value," Robert O'Connor, president of the Commission declared.

"Mayoral intervention to keep the rate below the constitutional limit has occurred before and never was such intervention more important than under present economic circumstances," Mr. O'Connor added.

"Basing its tax rate projection on the debt service requirements in the 1975-76 City Budget, the Commission stated the type of intervention it feels necessary to contain next year's and future years' real estate tax rate.

"For the fiscal year 1975-76, expenditure reductions in excess of one billion dollars are necessary to enable the Mayor to keep the real estate tax rate below the constitutional limit and close the 1975-76 budget gap. Beyond that, the present policy of unstrained borrowing for current expenditures must be stopped if net debt, debt service and the burden on real estate on account of such debt service are to be lessened."

"The best way to prevent the imposition of this staggering rise in the rate is for the city to cut expenditures sharply and promptly, according to the Citizens Budget Commission. They suggest a complete across the board job and wage freeze over the next eighteen months as the most effective way to achieve the approximately 8.5 billion of savings necessary to close the budget gap."

Pilgrim Critics Assailed By Duffy

Another speaker questioned whether or not the group is working in the interests of the private nursing-home operators in hopes of destroying the state hospitals, forcing patients into profit-making nursing homes.

Duffy advised them: "The employees feel that they have been insulted, maligned and defamed by Concerned Citizens."

The hall rang with cheers. "Nowhere in the United States are you going to find a hospital like this," she continued.

She noted that a review of the hospital's two-year accreditation had been completed that day.

Ms. Duffy Cheered

"If we lose our accreditation, this hospital would lose $30 million in medical and medication reimbursements. If we lose that money, we won't be able to take care of our patients," Ms. Duffy declared.

Mr. Schragger offered: "We are here to help the patients the same as you are.

CSEA leaders Ben Konikowski and George Schragger also joined the protest from the floor. "We have been treating the patients with compassion and understanding," Mr. Konikowski advised the leaders of the outside group. Mr. Schragger, vice-chairman of the CSEA Mental Hygiene Council, picking up the theme, advised them that "you have created an organization that seeks to destroy just what you need—the employees.

Legislators Attend

The meeting was attended by four Suffolk County legislators: Michael O'Keeffe, Martin Pollockman, W. Bromley Hall and Richard Lambert.

Ms. Duffy, saying the group had attempted to blackmail CSEA into supporting them, was obscured amidst the cheers. She declared: "We don't want you. We have a union to take care of us."

CSEA Officials Pay Tribute
To A.A. Falk, Past CS Head

(Special to The Leader)

ALBANY—Following the recent death of Alexander A. Falk, former president of the state Civil Service Commission, several high officials of the CSEA Employees Assn. had words of tribute for his contribution to public employees and governmental operation.

Referring to the late commissioner’s passing, CSEA president Theodore C. Wenzl said, “It should remind all of us connected with the employment service that we should not take for granted all the refinements and improvements that the Civil Service Commission under Mr. Falk’s direction has made to make our service better and more efficient. It was devoted entirely to the task of making this service better and more efficient. It was devoted entirely to the task of making this service more for the state’s benefit and for the people for whom we serve.”

Mr. Falk, who was stricken at his home in Margaretville Jan. 12, is a member of the public service body for more than 24 years, heading the group from 1935 to 1953. He is widely regarded by those familiar with civil service as a significant contributor to the numerous improvements made in the state’s merit system and public employee benefits, which occurred during his active years until his retirement from the commission in 1958.

Solomon Bendes, long-time leader of CSEA’s New York City chapter and currently president of the union’s New York City Region 3, recalled Mr. Falk’s tenure as a period of great accomplishment.

“Mr. Falk was a persistent hard worker and, equally important, he was a man you could work with,” recalled Mr. Bendes.

CSEA executive director Joseph D. Lochner, whose career with the union spans more than 40 years, said that, too, regarded Mr. Falk as an outstanding commissioner.

“The various commission presidents I’ve worked with through the years, I can truly say that Al Falk was an unusually keen appreciation of the value of the Merit System,” Mr. Lochner said.

Pickets March in Poughkeepsie

POUCHKEEPSIE—About 250 civil service workers picketed here during their lunch hour last week, claiming that Dutchess County is unwilling to make these refinements come about.

The 706 members of the Dutchess County CSEA have been without a contract since Dec. 31.

Bernie Veit, unit president, said the turnout on the picket line at the entrance to the Courthouse Building demonstrated to county officials and to the public the widespread impatience among union members with the county’s freeze-negotiations. It was declared at impasse.

“They haven’t made any reasonable effort to settle with us at all,” Mr. Veit said. “I think the picketing had good effect in convincing our side and was a good show of union strength.”

The two sides are still far apart on the economic issues of the contract, he said. No new meetings between the two sides had been scheduled.

Other county employees joined their fellow CSEA members on the picket line for at least part of their lunch hour. “We’d probably do it again,” Mr. Veit said afterward, “but I wouldn’t want to see it.”

Because the element of surprise is helpful to us.”

The picketing was led by a collective bargaining specialist, Manny Vitale, chief negotiator for the unit.

OGDENSBURG — The salaried Civil Service Employees Assn. unit here said it proposes to file an improper practice charge against the City of Ogdensburg over a disagreement on increment pay.

The city has refused to pay increments to employees who had been entitled to them in 1975 under the 1974 salary schedule. Police officers and employees considering the filing of such a charge in the New York State Civil Service Employees Assn. unit here said it proposes to file an improper practice charge against the City of Ogdensburg over a disagreement on increment pay.

The city has refused to pay increments to employees who had been entitled to them in 1975 under the 1974 salary schedule. Police officers and employees subsequently filed an objection.

CSEA, in its suit now pending in Supreme Court, claims that Mr. Leftkowski's elevation to the position of executive vice-president 'was arbitrary, capricious and a flagrant abuse of discretion and a violation of the rules and regulations of the Department of Civil Service.'

CSEA leaders elite a precedent cited in the Trumbull Bridge case as precedent in payment of increments without a contract. The city has reached a settlement agreement with its non-salaried employees, but the CSEA salaried workers, together with police and firemen, were not covered by such an agreement.

Office Is Available For Use By Chapters

There is more than one headquarters building for the Civil Service Employees Asso. in Albany. Kitchen facilities are included on the premises, so refreshments can be served at meetings. Division for Youth chapter treasurer Linda Willis seems to be taking count of provisions for recent chapter meeting at the regional office.

Performing some of the necessary clean-up chores after chapter meeting are Stanley Wrona and Carol Drobnicki. Use of the facilities is free to member chapters within the region. A stove, refrigerator and wash sinks are part of the office's equipment.

Making use of the meeting hall facilities recently was the Division for Youth chapter. Here chapter president Roy Dingle, center, discusses a matter with, from left, Les Wooten, Linda Willis, George Donnelley and Anne Choppy. Reservations should be made in advance for use of the office, since many events are scheduled there.

Michelle Agnew, stenographer-secretary for the regional office, runs forms through the duplicating machine. She is probably the first person a visitor would meet at the office, since she also serves as the receptionist.

Melissa Risien works as a typist in the office. She handles various correspondence for the officers and field service personnel who make their headquarters at the Colvin Ave. address.
