Potsdam Nips Danes In Triple OT Thriller

Ray Cesare drives for an easy basket against top-ranked Potsdam State. In the closing seconds — unusual, it wasn’t really seem to be in full control of the game at points. But it was a typical Albany-Saurs. “We couldn’t do our best,” said Jachim, “but it was more than just a game to us.”

Franko's 10-foot jumper with no time left in the first overtime tied, 56-56. The lead grew to as much as four points, but Albany chipped away, with the biggest onefour point halftime advantage, 36-28, but Albany chipped away, with the biggest difference being seven ties and five lead changes at every opportunity,” said Jachim, “We were just trying to be predictable and unexpected.”

Two Despondent Fans of Lennon Take Their Lives

New York (AP) Two fans, accused of killing John Lennon, took their lives Wednesday night, police said.

John Lennon was shot dead by Mark David Chapman, a 22-year-old New York resident, outside his Manhattan apartment early Wednesday morning.

Lennon's family immediately expressed their grief.

Lennon was 40. He was a major force in the recording industry, a leading figure in the music world, and a member of the Beatles, the most popular group in the world.

Lennon was killed at his home in New York City, where he had lived for the past 10 years.

Wishful students should remain on the University Senate. I do not think that the student body has the maturity, experience, and knowledge to run the administration of the university. I would urge that students not be allowed to participate in the making of policy decisions. It is not in the best interest of the student body to have students on the Senate. The Senate is a policy-making body, and it is not the place for students to have a voice.

Students on Senate

I would like to dispel those myths about student senators and their function. I have been involved in many arguments and discussions with faculty, and I have found the student senators split tigh on both issues. I would, therefore, request that the Senate makes the student body split 50-51 on both issues.

I have spoken to faculty members in an attempt to make things easier, I would, therefore, make provision for students to vote on the Senate. They do not affect the student body.

Students have worked on Senate. The proposals take effect with the next freshmen class. They do not affect the student body.

An Open Letter To The Son Of A Poet, A Composer, And A Loving Man

December 10, 1980

Sean Lennon
New York, New York

Dear Sean,

I'm writing this letter in your honor. I don't know if you'll ever read it, but I hope you will. This is the first time I've ever written anything like this, so please try to understand what I'm saying.

I'm writing to you because I love your father. He was a poet, a composer, and a loving man. He was my partner, my soulmate, and my best friend. I knew him for 30 years, and he changed my life forever.

I wanted to tell you about your father because I believe it's important for you to know who he was and what he meant to me. I hope you'll understand my words and feel the love I have for him.

Your father was a great artist, and he was a great human being. He was kind, gentle, and compassionate. He had a way of making people feel special, and he was always there for me when I needed him.

I remember the day your father came home from the hospital after his surgery. He was so weak and pale, and I could see the pain in his eyes. But he was still smiling, and he was still alive. I held him in my arms and promised him that everything would be okay.

Your father was a fighter, and he never gave up. He fought for what he believed in, and he never gave in to the pressure of the world. He was a true artist, and he was a true man.

Your father was a father, and he loved you very much. He wanted you to be happy, and he wanted you to be successful. He was proud of you, and he was proud of your mother.

I hope you'll remember your father the way I do. I hope you'll remember his smile, his voice, his laughter. I hope you'll remember the love he had for you.

Your father was a poet, and he wrote some beautiful words. Some of his poems were about love, and some of them were about life. He wrote about the mists of youth and the lull of smoke with men, and he wrote about the heat whispered trees and the notes of poetry.

Your father was a composer, and he wrote some beautiful music. He wrote about the lull of smoke with men and the heat whispered trees, and he wrote about the notes of poetry and the words of poetry.

Your father was a philosopher, and he believed in the power of reason. He believed in the power of love, and he believed in the power of music. He believed in the power of art, and he believed in the power of words.

I hope you'll remember your father the way I do. I hope you'll remember his love, his kindness, his compassion. I hope you'll remember his art, his music, his words.

I love you, Sean. I love your father. I love your mother. I love you both.

Your loving

When you register, not only do you register with the draft. In another year or two you'll be asked to register your cooperation with all their force and being. Since this terrible choice, we have lost a generation.

These choices disrupted and destroyed the promise of a generation. We stand behind all young people who for reasons of conscience feel compelled to register this past summer (Selective Service estimate), 100,000 refused to list their Social Security numbers. OR: 250,000 refused. (The propaganda is aimed at young people under 18.)

We support the courage of those young people who have taken a stand against the draft. I have seen the draft, and I have heard the horror stories. I have smelled the smoke, and I have heard the stories. I have seen the draft, and I have heard the horror stories.

I left it before I came to understand it because I felt something. When I joined the Army, I thought I would see the essence of a happy, healthy, and constructive life. I was wrong.

It was worth it — in tenfold!

I resisted — you can too.

Steel Curtain: End of an Era?

AP: Art Rooney's Pittsburgh Steelers, my favorite football team, has been around since 1933, and as a team we've won many Super Bowls. But, in this era, we've had to fight through a lot of obstacles. And, with the exception of the 1970s, we've been missing the playoffs the last few years. But, I think we're about to make a comeback.

Women's Basketball Team Massacres New Paltz

by Karl Cohen

One Hoop in the game was all it took for the game. That one hoop was all it took to show New Paltz in the women's basketball tournament at the University of Albany. New Paltz women's basketball coach, Richard L. Walker, summed it up in a few words. "We played well at the start, but then we had an offensive problem. The other team had trouble in the second half."

The key was late -they轰炸ed -and late -they were able to go on a 15-2 run to blow the game open and ended the half with a 35-14 lead. None of the scoring came from the Danes. The Danes had a difficult time getting the ball in the paint, but they managed to get it in there in the second half. They ended up with a 74-64 win.

Third Consecutive Albany Loss

by Alex Loew

Another day began with the same news - the J.V. Danes lost to Army, 72-61. This is the third consecutive loss for the Danes. They lost to Binghamton, 79-64, and to Stony Brook, 78-61. The Danes are now 2-7 for the season.

On Wednesday, the Danes were down 16 points late in the game, but they managed to get back within 10 of the score. However, they were unable to get closer and eventually lost by 11 points. The Danes struggled offensively, with only 35 points scored.

"We knew if we scored, we would win," said a relieved Albany coach Amy Kidder. "We were able to get the ball up and down the court with two or three seconds left, and we were able to score a basket."
