Last May, out of a creative mind arose startling plans for a State College Student Union—a project that would serve as a model for the Student Association and Student Assocations to come. These were set down for the realization of the idea and its affirmation. The idea was increased to 50 units, and the idea was suggested that the Student Association give the Student Union a new name. Popular vote sanctioned this turn of events.

The first day of Student Union was introduced into Assembly, the student body was asked to vote on it. The idea of increasing the Student Union from 50 to 500 was proposed by a bill that would have made the Student Union a reality, and $2500 would be turned into a fund. Instruction was given to the students to decide what students this money would be. The decision was made to put the Student Union into a reality, and $2500 would be turned into a fund. Dear Editor:

May I have a word with you about the student council?

We believe that the council is going to have to grow up in a hurry. It's disconcerting to see a group of students who are supposed to represent the student body spending their time on such trivial matters as the price of the Student Union plans. How long does it take to make a decision?

We realize that we constitute only a fraction of the total student body, and we have been questioned as to whether or not we have a voice in such important matters. We believe that the council ought to consider the feelings of the entire student body, and not just those who happen to attend the meetings.

We are concerned about the welfare of the student body, and we believe that the council has a responsibility to the student body. We would like to see the council take a more active role in the affairs of the university, and not just sit back and watch the world go by.

We look forward to hearing your thoughts on this matter.

Sincerely,
[Signature]
