Albany Seeded 4th; Meet Binghamton Saturday

from injuria) were replaced by Mike

Danes Destroy Cardinals, 66-12

by Mike Plakatos

by Nathan Talbot

by Nathan Talbot

by Joe Cacia

by Paul D. Baker

by Paul D. Baker

Danes Destroy Cardinals, 66-12

A Matter of Time

Dance with firearms

by Michael Smith

Voluntary Shortage Kills ACT IV

Voluntary Shortage Kills ACT IV

Co-coordinator Robin Mandelker paints a sign announcing the cancellation of this semester's Assessment of Courses and Teachers. Only about half of the necessary students volunteers agreed on

Continental Waistband

Points To Food Poisoning

by Marc Law

by Marc Law

"In a game plagued by two major "errors and outstanding an-" quackable contato between the host Golden Eagles and their coach, Bill Hughes, the Albany State rookie last year was defeated 54 by Binghamton in complete Albany's 1-3-1 on the season. Bruno Peterman, who

Brockport Dumps Albany

Brockport Dumps Albany

Brockport Dumps Albany

"They are well compensated for a coac'h's salary, almost f"r the same reason our players are not.

"They are not well compensated for a coac'h's salary, almost for the same reason our players are not.""
NEWS BRIEFS

Stone Brook Press Funds in Third World Dispute

Debates over the use of press funding in the Third World have been ongoing. The Stone Brook Press, a student-run publication at Stony Brook University, has been involved in a controversy regarding funding for its international content.

ACT IV Cancelled

The cancellation of ACT IV, a play by David Coyne, Central Council of SUNY Albany, has sparked discussion about the future of student productions and the role of administrators in canceling shows.

Vigilance Renewed in Lebanon

The vigilance of the student community in Lebanon continues to be heightened in response to recent events. SUNY Albany's Vigilante group has emphasized the need for continued awareness and support for students in the region.

SUNYA Trustee Dip Endowed Incentive

The endowment for the SUNYA Trustee Dip Incentive has been established to support the work of SUNYA trustees and promote the university's commitment to student success.

Student Affairs Handles Cheating

The department of Student Affairs has been handling cases of cheating with increased rigor, ensuring fair practices and upholding academic integrity.

Feds To Choose New Justice

President Ford is expected to announce his nominee for a new justice on the Supreme Court. The selection process has sparked interest and debate among legal experts and students.

New Hearings Called on Concord Jet

The Department of Transportation has called for new hearings on the Concord jet following safety concerns raised by students and faculty members.

UMTA Recommends Federal Subsidies

The Universal Motor Transportation Association has recommended federal subsidies to support public transportation systems.

FORD China Next Month

Ford plans to send a delegation to China next month to discuss investment opportunities and strengthen business relationships.

Court Throws Out End Emotions

The court has ruled in favor of the university's decision to dismiss students found guilty of violating policies. Students protesting the decision have vowed to continue their fight.

Baseball Opposes Sales Tax

A baseball team has opposed the proposed sales tax on sports events, advocating for the continued support of local sports teams.

SunNY Re-cycle Continues With Its Own Paper Chase

The SUNYA Re-cycle program continues to collect paper waste, with a new initiative launched to encourage students and faculty to recycle more.

Mark V Travel Club Inc. presents $59.00 to Miami

Round trip via direct nonstop service to Miami, Jan. 2, 1976 to Jan. 11, 1976

No reservations necessary, just book early. Call now 457-7806

TENNIS LOVERS!

Free entry lighted courts available tonight until the spring.
FBI Harasses Campus Radicals

by Allan Rabinowitz (CPS)

No one is surprised anymore by reports of domestic surveillance by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). But spying and harassment of campus radicals is so patently unconstitutional as to make one wonder how it is possible for any university official to remain ignorant of these facts.

Documents obtained in December by the Student Information Committee of the Young Socialist Alliance at the University of California, Berkeley, show that the FBI is involved in a massive campaign of surveillance against campus radicals. The documents were obtained through the Freedom of Information Act and show that the FBI has been compiling files on every known campus radical and that the FBI has been systematically harassing and intimidating campus radicals.

According to the documents, the FBI has been maintaining files on more than 200 campus radicals. These files contain information such as addresses, phone numbers, and places of employment. The FBI has also been conducting surveillance of campus radicals, including wiretapping, photographic surveillance, and visits to their homes.

The FBI has been particularly active in targeting students who belong to the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA). The FBI has been maintaining files on every known member of the YSA and has been systematically harassing and intimidating them.

The FBI has been using a variety of tactics to harass and intimidate campus radicals. These include threats of legal action, visits by FBI agents to homes and offices, and the publication of derogatory information about them in the media.

But the most serious form of harassment is the FBI's use of informants within the YSA. The FBI has been using informants to infiltrate the YSA and to pass along information to the FBI about YSA activities.

The FBI has been using this information to harass and intimidate YSA members and to try to disrupt their activities. The FBI has been using this information to try to get YSA members into trouble with the law and to try to get them expelled from the university.

The FBI's actions are clearly illegal. The Constitution protects the rights of all Americans, including campus radicals, against unlawful government harassment. The FBI's actions are a violation of the rights of YSA members and a threat to the freedom of speech and assembly of all Americans.

We urge all campus radicals to join together to fight against the FBI's harassment of campus radicals. We call on the FBI to stop its illegal activities and to end its harassment of campus radicals.

FBI harasses campus radicals

Students of the University of California, Berkeley, have been the targets of a massive surveillance campaign by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). The FBI has been maintaining files on more than 200 campus radicals and has been systematically harassing and intimidating them. The FBI has been using a variety of tactics to harass and intimidate campus radicals, including threats of legal action, visits by FBI agents to homes and offices, and the publication of derogatory information about them in the media.

The FBI has been using this information to harass and intimidate YSA members and to try to disrupt their activities. The FBI has been using this information to try to get YSA members into trouble with the law and to try to get them expelled from the university.

The FBI's actions are clearly illegal. The Constitution protects the rights of all Americans, including campus radicals, against unlawful government harassment. The FBI's actions are a violation of the rights of YSA members and a threat to the freedom of speech and assembly of all Americans.

We urge all campus radicals to join together to fight against the FBI's harassment of campus radicals. We call on the FBI to stop its illegal activities and to end its harassment of campus radicals.
Orchids students take advantage of SUNY’s music department’s focus on performing arts.

FBI Harasses Radical Group Members

By Mate Leva

The FBI has started a new harassment campaign against the National Alliance of White Nationalists. The group, which is responsible for stirring up controversy in the Albany area, has been the target of increased surveillance and harassment in recent months.

The FBI’s actions are part of a nationwide campaign to weaken and dismantle radical groups, particularly those that are considered “white supremacist.” The agency has been engaged in a series of raids and investigations aimed at disrupting the activities of these organizations.

The group has been active in the Albany area, organizing rallies and distributing literature that promotes racial hatred and discrimination. The FBI’s harassment campaign appears to be an attempt to silence their activities and prevent them from spreading their message.

The National Alliance of White Nationalists is just one of many such groups that the FBI is targeting. The agency has been under scrutiny for its tactics and the extent to which it is involved in domestic surveillance.

The FBI’s actions raise concerns about the government’s role in suppressing dissent and limiting freedom of speech. It is essential that individuals and organizations have the right to express their views, regardless of how controversial they may be. The FBI’s harassment campaign is a clear violation of these rights.

The FBI’s actions also raise questions about the government’s role in domestic surveillance and the extent to which it is engaging in illegal activities. It is important that the government be held accountable for its actions and that the public be informed about the extent of its involvement in domestic surveillance.

The FBI’s harassment campaign against the National Alliance of White Nationalists is a troubling development. It is essential that the government be held accountable for its actions, and that the public be informed about the extent of its involvement in domestic surveillance.

The FBI’s harassment campaign against the National Alliance of White Nationalists is a troubling development. It is essential that the government be held accountable for its actions, and that the public be informed about the extent of its involvement in domestic surveillance.

The FBI’s harassment campaign against the National Alliance of White Nationalists is a troubling development. It is essential that the government be held accountable for its actions, and that the public be informed about the extent of its involvement in domestic surveillance.

The FBI’s harassment campaign against the National Alliance of White Nationalists is a troubling development. It is essential that the government be held accountable for its actions, and that the public be informed about the extent of its involvement in domestic surveillance.

The FBI’s harassment campaign against the National Alliance of White Nationalists is a troubling development. It is essential that the government be held accountable for its actions, and that the public be informed about the extent of its involvement in domestic surveillance.

The FBI’s harassment campaign against the National Alliance of White Nationalists is a troubling development. It is essential that the government be held accountable for its actions, and that the public be informed about the extent of its involvement in domestic surveillance.

The FBI’s harassment campaign against the National Alliance of White Nationalists is a troubling development. It is essential that the government be held accountable for its actions, and that the public be informed about the extent of its involvement in domestic surveillance.

The FBI’s harassment campaign against the National Alliance of White Nationalists is a troubling development. It is essential that the government be held accountable for its actions, and that the public be informed about the extent of its involvement in domestic surveillance.
Fellowship Night

Psychology Career Crisis in the '70s
CC Assembly Hall, Tues. Nov. 18 at 4 p.m.

Synthesis presents its inaugural symposium: "The University in temporary times meets every Mon. in a Chumash review of the Sidra Por.

Albany Sunflow, Michelosw, punch, soda and birthday cake. $7.75

Monticello meeting on Mon. in the Alumni Quad Board

Sat. Nov. 15, 9 p.m. featuring Andy Amy

It's the exciting play-by-play action, live at Binghamton to bring you all the action in this, the first round of the 79-80 season.

Tomorrow, Sat. Nov. 15 at 7 p.m.

Have you heard about the CQU EVUE?

Cinema of the University in the Colonial Quad Cafeteria. Free with Col Quad card, $1. with tax, and $1.50 without.

Go to be In Binghamton to bring you all the action in this, the first round of the 79-80 season.

Academy Award-Best Foreign Film

CLOSELY WATCHED TRAINS

Nov. 14

Gardiner Auditorium, 7:15 & 9:45 pm

ANNUALLY SELECTED

CL0SELY WATCHED TRAINS is now available at the CC Info Desk, AD lobby, and Campus Recreational Services. A photographer may be selected to film the contest winners choosing the film for the contest winners. Winners will be announced in the SUNYA Press, CAMPUS, and a $50.00 gift certificate will be awarded.

SEE THE FIRST THREE WINNERS OF THE STATE PHOLO-SUNYA CAMERA CLUB PHOTOGRAPHY CONTEST IN THE SUNYA PRESS.

THE CINEMA OF THE UNIVERSITY IN ITS 3RD ANNUAL SCENE FESTIVAL.

Who is it?

An anonymous writer of a human ear, an imaginative formation in a newly discovered universe.

If you are interested in seeing the true nature of this week's awesome, the unknown, imaginative, irrational or creative加盖 will take you there. Address all responses to the arts editors of the ASU or submit them to the arts mailbox in CC 202. No copies will be accepted upon return.

November 14,1978
Rafters: A Refuge for Folk Music

By David Eades

Despite the dimly lit setting, the musicians and audience at the Rafters werenumbers of any religious activities the Chapel House offers. However, since music has the power to reach us all, we are in search of new venues where we can provide the only light in the room. The Rafters, located at the Chapel House, is a place where we can meet and connect with students who share our passion for folk music. The coffee house is independent of the university and its programs.

Friday, Nov. 16
- Furor Latinus Speaker 7:30 p.m. L22
- Le Carte Francophone Coffeehouse 9 p.m. HU 35
- Alumni Campus Events Mixers C.C. Ballroom 8 p.m.
- Saturday, Nov. 15
  - Colonial Quartet 9 p.m.
  - Friends Night Club & Disco C.C. Ballroom 8 p.m.
- Sunday, Nov. 16
  - Colonial Quatre Quartet 9 p.m.
  - Friends Night Club & Disco C.C. Ballroom 8 p.m.

Trouble in Sherwood Forest

By Lize Lavor

"I never quit the show of things. What are we?" he asked. "I told you before. I don't know!"

Unfortunately, the show of things continued to grow and the audience was not satisfied with the performance. The lack of depth to be funny, the show of things raised the expectations of the TV audience and it was not as bad as the title implies. Robin Hood (Dick Grainger) is the happy, bright-eyed, bushy-tailed Sheriff of Nottingham. He sells his wares in the form of bananas and other exotic fruits. At least in his time, Robin's troubles are not against the 'evil' institutions, as they are in the show of things raising the expectations of the TV audience. But despite these flaws, it is a funny show. The best way to enjoy it is by walking into the show of things and letting the energy flow.
The Yankee From Olympus;

by Bill Hughes

"Benji. Ross saved the first flag."

Ben Franklin

Olympus:

Matthew Nikolas Heligorkas lives in an apartment high above the Avenue of the Americas between a noted Midtown analyst and a famous model. There is a doormat in a blue jacket with gold buttons who serves as a buffer between the harsh realities of the Manhattan streets and the red plush carpeting. In the spacious lobby, a Vagabondly with two white samisen beauties stands on a white photo mounted his coat.

"Manny ain't back from court yet."

Manny had been subpoenaed in regard to two hundred pounds of marijuana found in an eastside apartment. The grand jury wanted to know if he knew anything about it. He did.

Manny's apartment was bustling with activity. There were cocaine in white corners trying to get in an oil painting of George Washington off the wall. There was an old washwoman in a red brooch cleaning out his bag. There was another gentleman in a maroon tailored suit trying to move a gold velveteen button from between two winged colonel end tables.

"Andrew, man. Gimme a hand wif it."

Andrew was my direct. He panted into the couch with a slick of his long, black hand and suggested I was. It seemed that everything in the room had either already been shipped or was in the process of being cread for shipment. Andrew grabbed the other end of the toven and started to talk. Between the two of us, it was necessary to persuade this landlord to have a lapse of existence.

On floor 52, the doors part to reveal more red plush and a tall, thin leisure suit, white, and white trousers. In the spacious lobby, a Vogue lady with a model. There is a doorman in a black shirt and white tie.

"Betsy Ross sewed the First flag."

Ben Franklin

"How was court?" I asked.

Andrew bought me a beer as we watched the bright blue and red light of the helicopter. The main rotor swept the sky and the co-pilot rolled it in to land. Andrew held down the fort. That's how I spent the war. I got out in nineteen forty-five and went to Greece to hit the fields of reefer. We used to fly over miles of grass. It was great, but we couldn't do that.

"Andrew, you ever get arrested before?"

"No, you don't think that. Jack. My eyes."

"Andrew, you ever get arrested before?"

"I'm resigning. I quit. They won't have Manny N. no kick ass anymore. I'm going to live in Greece, man. I'm going to live in Greece."

"What are you going to do about that?"

Andrew gave Henry the doorman a hundred dollar bill as Andrew went to the corner of Manny's gold Lincoln. He accepted the paper bill and got into the car.

"Wow, I always got high but then one day I found out there's a lot of people know me, man. In this city alone, there are, like, six irate cops who want my Greek ass.

"Matthew Nikolas Heligorkas," said a voice behind us.

"Yassou, Manny.

A few years back, we gave money to cops in certain neighborhoods to help the workers and napalm the herb. But we couldn't do that; they were working for keeps. There's no resisters in Greece, no hero, and none of this fucking pollution either.

"What are you going to do about that?"

"I'm resigning. I quit. They won't have Manny N. no kick ass anymore. I'm going to live in Greece, man. I'm going to live in Greece."

Manny made a paper airplane. He told me about his trip to Africa. He bought a house in Greece. Nice. It overlooks the sea and I might go there. He bought a house in Greece. Nice. It overlooks the sea and I might go there.

"What are you going to do about that?"

"I'm resigning. I quit. They won't have Manny N. no kick ass anymore. I'm going to live in Greece, man. I'm going to live in Greece."

Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left. The sun twinkled off his gold pinky ring as the plane sailed gently over the water. Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left.

"Manny, this is a subpoena to appear in Manhattan Criminal Court on October 13, 1975. Failure to appear will be contempt of court."

Manny gave Henry the doorman a hundred dollar bill as Andrew meted the corner of Manny's gold Lincoln. He accepted the paper bill and got into the car.

"What are you going to do about that?"

"I'm resigning. I quit. They won't have Manny N. no kick ass anymore. I'm going to live in Greece, man. I'm going to live in Greece."

Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left. The sun twinkled off his gold pinky ring as the plane sailed gently over the water. Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left.

"Manny, you ever get arrested before?"

"Now, you don't think that. Jack. My eyes."

"Manny, you ever get arrested before?"

"I'm resigning. I quit. They won't have Manny N. no kick ass anymore. I'm going to live in Greece, man. I'm going to live in Greece."

Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left. The sun twinkled off his gold pinky ring as the plane sailed gently over the water. Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left.

"Hey, man, what are you going to do about that?"

"I'm resigning. I quit. They won't have Manny N. no kick ass anymore. I'm going to live in Greece, man. I'm going to live in Greece."

Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left. The sun twinkled off his gold pinky ring as the plane sailed gently over the water. Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left.

"What are you going to do about that?"

"I'm resigning. I quit. They won't have Manny N. no kick ass anymore. I'm going to live in Greece, man. I'm going to live in Greece."

Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left. The sun twinkled off his gold pinky ring as the plane sailed gently over the water. Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left.

"What are you going to do about that?"

"I'm resigning. I quit. They won't have Manny N. no kick ass anymore. I'm going to live in Greece, man. I'm going to live in Greece."

Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left. The sun twinkled off his gold pinky ring as the plane sailed gently over the water. Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left.

"What are you going to do about that?"

"I'm resigning. I quit. They won't have Manny N. no kick ass anymore. I'm going to live in Greece, man. I'm going to live in Greece."

Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left. The sun twinkled off his gold pinky ring as the plane sailed gently over the water. Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left.

"What are you going to do about that?"

"I'm resigning. I quit. They won't have Manny N. no kick ass anymore. I'm going to live in Greece, man. I'm going to live in Greece."

Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left. The sun twinkled off his gold pinky ring as the plane sailed gently over the water. Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left.

"What are you going to do about that?"

"I'm resigning. I quit. They won't have Manny N. no kick ass anymore. I'm going to live in Greece, man. I'm going to live in Greece."

Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left. The sun twinkled off his gold pinky ring as the plane sailed gently over the water. Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left.

"What are you going to do about that?"

"I'm resigning. I quit. They won't have Manny N. no kick ass anymore. I'm going to live in Greece, man. I'm going to live in Greece."

Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left. The sun twinkled off his gold pinky ring as the plane sailed gently over the water. Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left.

"What are you going to do about that?"

"I'm resigning. I quit. They won't have Manny N. no kick ass anymore. I'm going to live in Greece, man. I'm going to live in Greece."

Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left. The sun twinkled off his gold pinky ring as the plane sailed gently over the water. Manny was pensive and surveyed his former dwelling and left.
Due to the demand for extending the hours at the gym, the Student Association has rented the facility for an additional two hours from 11 PM to 1 AM Sunday to Wednesday.

The pool will be open for midnight swim on Tuesdays until 12:30 AM. The hours at the gym are due to the demand from 11 PM to 1 AM Sunday to Wednesday.

Intramurals will be played in the main gym until 12:15 AM Monday to Wednesday.

This is on an experimental basis and subject to change.

Sundays—free play 11 PM to 12:40 AM

Dutch Quads’ 10th Birthday Party

Sponsored by ‘Dutch Quad Board’

Sat. Nov. 15
9 p.m.
Dutch Quad U-Lounge

Michelob
Punch
Soda
Birthday cake

.75 w/Dutch Quad Card
$1.00 w/Tax Card
$1.50 All Others

Proof of age required

Funded by Student Tax

Best of Cordwainer Smith

by Paul Sauber

The book could practically be called Modern Science Fiction. The last Dr. Paul Leuring did not write a great deal of this style. But when he did write a novel, there was little or no resemblance to it. Many of the stories are characterized by their ability to tell a complete story. This is one of the things that makes these stories stand out from others. They are not random, but somewhat difficult to relate to. Situations and such externals as technology and political events turn out to be not what the future is different from the present merely in form, and with even stranger ways in which an essential human race and its troubled, often violent, but free development toward some unknown goal.

For Smith, mystery is part of the human heritage, no matter how inhuman they may appear. And through all his work, both his fiction and his non-fiction, Smith’s concern is the human dimension of mystery in Smith’s work. He also deals with animals and computers, a human race and its troubled, often violent, but free development toward some unknown goal.

The late Dr. Paul Leuring did not write a great deal of this style. But when he did write a novel, there was little or no resemblance to it. Many of the stories are characterized by their ability to tell a complete story. This is one of the things that makes these stories stand out from others. They are not random, but somewhat difficult to relate to. Situations and such externals as technology and political events turn out to be not what the future is different from the present merely in form, and with even stranger ways in which an essential human race and its troubled, often violent, but free development toward some unknown goal.

As may be inferred from this last, Smith’s work is not to be taken as a cliche of sentimentality, the emotional alienness. Just when he seems about to sink into the cliche of sentimentality, the emotional alienness makes Smith’s writing seem somehow difficult to relate to. Situations and such externals as technology and political events turn out to be not what the future is different from the present merely in form, and with even stranger ways in which an essential human race and its troubled, often violent, but free development toward some unknown goal.

For Smith, mystery is part of the human heritage, no matter how inhuman they may appear. And through all his work, both his fiction and his non-fiction, Smith’s concern is the human dimension of mystery in Smith’s work. He also deals with animals and computers, a human race and its troubled, often violent, but free development toward some unknown goal.

The late Dr. Paul Leuring did not write a great deal of this style. But when he did write a novel, there was little or no resemblance to it. Many of the stories are characterized by their ability to tell a complete story. This is one of the things that makes these stories stand out from others. They are not random, but somewhat difficult to relate to. Situations and such externals as technology and political events turn out to be not what the future is different from the present merely in form, and with even stranger ways in which an essential human race and its troubled, often violent, but free development toward some unknown goal.

For Smith, mystery is part of the human heritage, no matter how inhuman they may appear. And through all his work, both his fiction and his non-fiction, Smith’s concern is the human dimension of mystery in Smith’s work. He also deals with animals and computers, a human race and its troubled, often violent, but free development toward some unknown goal.

As may be inferred from this last, Smith’s work is not to be taken as a cliche of sentimentality, the emotional alienness. Just when he seems about to sink into the cliche of sentimentality, the emotional alienness makes Smith’s writing seem somehow difficult to relate to. Situations and such externals as technology and political events turn out to be not what the future is different from the present merely in form, and with even stranger ways in which an essential human race and its troubled, often violent, but free development toward some unknown goal.

For Smith, mystery is part of the human heritage, no matter how inhuman they may appear. And through all his work, both his fiction and his non-fiction, Smith’s concern is the human dimension of mystery in Smith’s work. He also deals with animals and computers, a human race and its troubled, often violent, but free development toward some unknown goal.

As may be inferred from this last, Smith’s work is not to be taken as a cliche of sentimentality, the emotional alienness. Just when he seems about to sink into the cliche of sentimentality, the emotional alienness makes Smith’s writing seem somehow difficult to relate to. Situations and such externals as technology and political events turn out to be not what the future is different from the present merely in form, and with even stranger ways in which an essential human race and its troubled, often violent, but free development toward some unknown goal.

For Smith, mystery is part of the human heritage, no matter how inhuman they may appear. And through all his work, both his fiction and his non-fiction, Smith’s concern is the human dimension of mystery in Smith’s work. He also deals with animals and computers, a human race and its troubled, often violent, but free development toward some unknown goal.

As may be inferred from this last, Smith’s work is not to be taken as a cliche of sentimentality, the emotional alienness. Just when he seems about to sink into the cliche of sentimentality, the emotional alienness makes Smith’s writing seem somehow difficult to relate to. Situations and such externals as technology and political events turn out to be not what the future is different from the present merely in form, and with even stranger ways in which an essential human race and its troubled, often violent, but free development toward some unknown goal.
The Classical Forum

The Strange Practice of Votive Dedications

This practice of offering dedications is not limited to the ancient Greeks. In many cultures, particularly in the Middle East, dedications are made to various gods and goddesses. The ancient Greeks believed that their gods and goddesses were responsible for protecting them from harm and providing them with fertility and other benefits. The Greeks would often dedicate offerings to their gods and goddesses in the form of votive dedications. These dedications could take many forms, such as statues, vases, or even entire buildings.

In the Middle East, dedications are still made to various gods and goddesses. In some cases, these dedications are made as a form of protection or as a way of gaining favor with the gods. In other cases, dedications are made as a form of thanks or to celebrate a victory. The practice of dedicating offerings to gods and goddesses is still practiced in some cultures today, and is often seen as a way of connecting with the divine.

In addition to dedications to gods and goddesses, the ancient Greeks also had a practice of dedicating offerings to their ancestors. These offerings were made as a way of honoring the memory of their ancestors and connecting with their spiritual heritage. The ancient Greeks believed that their ancestors were still present in the world, and that by dedicating offerings to them, they could gain their favor and protection.

The practice of dedicating offerings to gods and goddesses and ancestors is a way of connecting with the divine and connecting with one's spiritual heritage. Whether it is through dedications to gods and goddesses, or dedications to ancestors, these practices are a way of honoring the divine and connecting with the spiritual world.
To the Editor.

I have always been a friend and admirer of the Albany Student Press. I have never before written a letter to the editor, but today I feel compelled to do so.

Albany, New York

Mr. Editor, I have the greatest respect for the Albany Student Press and its editors. I am writing this letter in order to express my concern about the recent article in the paper that I believe is disrespectful and inappropriate.

I was appalled to read the article about the recent protests on campus. The language used was inflammatory and hurtful. It is not the role of the Albany Student Press to spread such rhetoric.

I urge the editors to ensure that all content is respectful and in line with the values of the newspaper.

Sincerely,

[Name]

P.S. I have subscribed to the Albany Student Press for many years and I hope to continue supporting it in the future.
columns
The Palestine Problem
by Malia Hamida

What caused the Arab-Israeli conflict, and led to the hostility between these two peoples? The problem is rooted in the ongoing conflict between the two peoples, which is a result of historical, cultural, and political factors. The conflict is complex and multifaceted, involving issues such as land, resources, religion, and national identity. It has been exacerbated by external factors, such as the influence of大国 powers and regional dynamics. The current state of affairs is a result of past injustices, violence, and failed negotiations. The future of the region depends on finding a peaceful solution that respects the rights and aspirations of all peoples involved.

Newsbriefs of the Nineteen Eighties
by Jonathan Leonson

This column is based on current events. At last, this is what I’m used to. WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) Former President Richard M. Nixon, appearing last night on NBC-TV’s “The Carson Show,” said that he was not going to run in the 1980 presidential election, saying he had not made up his mind about running. Nixon was recently appointed to a position in the new Reagan administration. Nixon served two terms as President from 1969 to 1974, and was forced to resign from office in 1974 after the Watergate scandal.

FSA officers denied responsibility and termed the situation as “just one more incident of the kind that happens.”

THE-3-DAY-ALL-YOU-CAN-EAT-ITALIAN-FEAST-$2.95
Including Wine or Beer.

Every Sunday, Monday & Tuesday

A great New York tradition! It’s always a hit on Sundays in the fall. Enjoy a large variety of Italian dishes for just $2.95. Reserve your table today!

Chef Italia

PANEL DISCUSSION: Sex Discrimination and Inter-Collegiate Athletics
SUNYA and TITLE IX SUNDAY at 7:30 CC Assembly Hall

Are we discriminating?
What does Title IX mean?
Must we coeducate the showers?

Answers to these and other questions from local “authorities” and the people involved in the program.

The second in a series of open forums
sponsored by Central Council of Upstate New York

VIEWPOINT "76-'77"
NEEDS:
Readers, Researchers, Typists, Layout workers

General Interest Meeting
Mon. Nov. 17 CC 373 8:00 p.m.

PAGE TWELVE

PAGE THIRTEEN
Rugby Tie Oswego 4-6

by Km Korti

In a defensive struggle, the Albany State Rugby Club was tied by cross-state rival Oswego. The game was played out in Oswego territory and a crowd of more than 300 people witnessed the contest. The halftime score was Oswego 2, Albany 0.

In the first half, the Albany State team was on the offensive but couldn’t break through the Oswego defense. Oswego was in Albany’s territory much of the first half but couldn’t open up the game with any points.

In the first half, the Albany State team couldn’t push the ball over the goal line. The halftime score was Oswego 2, Albany 0.

In the second half, the Albany State team battled each other over a territory of 30 yards out. The halftime score was Oswego 2, Albany 0.

Goldberg kicked the two point conversion, resulting in four penalty kicks for Oswego, two of which were converted.

Robin St, Albany's center fullback Ricardo Kostocoff and Kaschke's Fullback position were the hardest hitting game of the year.

The highpoint of the season is the Championship held in February at the Coliseum. Oswego, led by 14-6, put the ball on the Derelects' 43. On the next play, the Derelects took over on their own IS and Rizzo hit flanker Conner for a touchdown. The point after attempt failed.

The Derelects came right back, forcing 15 punts and scoring when quarterback Pete Rizzo hit Mike Finton with a touchdown pass. The halftime score was Oswego 14, Albany 6.

The Colonists captured the AMIA League I Flag Football Title and the Albany State Travel Club returned to Miami and the Desert Inn Motel.

The Colonists carpet AMIA League I Flag Football Title

by Mark Koster

The Colonists reenact the winning moment in 19 games in three years, as they defeated the Derelects, 25-13, for the AMIA League I Flag Football Championship last week.

After stopping the Derelects in possession of the ball, the Colonists took control of the ball on their own 28-yard line. Quarterback Pete Rizzo hit flanker Conner on a 19-yard pass, putting the ball on the Derelects' 43. The Colonists took the ball from there and scored on the next play. Pasi nailed a quarterback sack to gain a first down.

The Colonists drove right back, forcing 15 punts and scoring when quarterback Pete Rizzo hit flanker Conner with a touchdown pass. The halftime score was Oswego 14, Albany 6.

The Colonists carpet AMIA League I Flag Football Title

by Christine Bellini

TODAY'S menu continues to feature an exciting selection of dishes, with special emphasis on:

OLD-FASHIONED STEAK

$4.75

BARBECUED CHICKEN

$4.95

HALF-POUND STEAKBURGER on a seeded Bun

$3.95

DINNER OR LUNCH

ANY 2 ITEMS FOR $7.50

AND THAT'S NOT ALL

Old-Fashioned Beefsteak

$4.75

Barbecued Chicken

$4.95

Half-Pound Steakburger on a seeded Bun

$3.95

The secret to our success is a variety of dishes to suit any taste. We offer a wide selection of main courses, including beefsteaks, chicken, and hamburgers.

Panel Discussion:

"Law School Admissions, Care or Caprice?"

Participants:

Albany, Cornell, Boston College

Law Schools

Date:

Sat. Nov. 15, LC—19, 2:00PM

Boomers Ready for NCAA

by Kim Koster

The Colonists reenact the winning moment in 19 games in three years, as they defeated the Derelects, 25-13, for the AMIA League I Flag Football Championship last week. After stopping the Derelects in possession of the ball, the Colonists took control of the ball on their own 28-yard line. Quarterback Pete Rizzo hit flanker Conner on a 19-yard pass, putting the ball on the Derelects' 43. On the next play, Pasi nailed a quarterback sack, gaining a first down and forcing a fourth down. The Colonists drove right back, forcing 15 punts and scoring when quarterback Pete Rizzo hit flanker Conner with a touchdown pass. The halftime score was Oswego 14, Albany 6.

The Colonists carpet AMIA League I Flag Football Title

by Mark Koster

The Colonists reenact the winning moment in 19 games in three years, as they defeated the Derelects, 25-13, for the AMIA League I Flag Football Championship last week. After stopping the Derelects in possession of the ball, the Colonists took control of the ball on their own 28-yard line. Quarterback Pete Rizzo hit flanker Conner on a 19-yard pass, putting the ball on the Derelects' 43. On the next play, Pasi nailed a quarterback sack, gaining a first down and forcing a fourth down. The Colonists drove right back, forcing 15 punts and scoring when quarterback Pete Rizzo hit flanker Conner with a touchdown pass. The halftime score was Oswego 14, Albany 6.

The Colonists carpet AMIA League I Flag Football Title

by Mark Koster

The Colonists reenact the winning moment in 19 games in three years, as they defeated the Derelects, 25-13, for the AMIA League I Flag Football Championship last week. After stopping the Derelects in possession of the ball, the Colonists took control of the ball on their own 28-yard line. Quarterback Pete Rizzo hit flanker Conner on a 19-yard pass, putting the ball on the Derelects' 43. On the next play, Pasi nailed a quarterback sack, gaining a first down and forcing a fourth down. The Colonists drove right back, forcing 15 punts and scoring when quarterback Pete Rizzo hit flanker Conner with a touchdown pass. The halftime score was Oswego 14, Albany 6.
Booters Prepare For Showdown At Binghamton

Bedford Doubtful For NCAA Contest

By Mark Feld

For the second time in two weeks, the Albany county soccer team faces another enable-deft challenge, and a major test in the ECAC Tournament, and no one is less than the time when Albany travels to Binghamton for the first round of the NCAA Division III Tournament. Saturday, at 3 p.m.

Brockport and New York College of Engineering last week, the Danes, 3-0, in the other Division III Eastern Regional Preliminary.

The reason of the hour is the game that will meet Nov. 22 for the Eastern New York State College Championship and the right to play in the NCAA Tournament the next weekend, Nov. 29-30 at the University of New York at Albany.

Last year's conference championships resulted in an ECAC Tournament, with Bergo appearing in the semi-finals. The ECAC Tournament began in 1973, but due to the NCAA Division III Tournament, the Great Danes have never appeared in the NCAA Tournament. By winning the Eastern New York State College Championship and the right to play in the NCAA Tournament the next weekend, the Danes will appear in the NCAA Tournament.

Spectator Buses To Binghamton

The University of New York at Albany will be the site of a game between the Danes and the Binghamton Bearcats on Saturday.

The game will be played at 3 p.m. at the University's Bob Ford Field. Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for students and children under 12. The game will be broadcast on WAMC-FM 90.5.

The Danes are currently ranked 12th in the ECAC and are coming off a 3-1 win over the St. Lawrence Saints on Saturday. The Bearcats are currently ranked 16th in the ECAC and are coming off a 2-0 loss to the Hamilton Continentals on Friday.

The game is part of a weekend series between the two teams. The Danes also played the Bearcats on Friday, winning 1-0.

The Danes are hoping to improve on their 4-3-2 record and keep their NCAA Tournament hopes alive. The Bearcats are hoping to improve on their 3-3-3 record and solidify their position in the ECAC standings.

The game will be played in front of a capacity crowd of over 1,000 fans. The Danes and the Bearcats have a long history of rivalry, with the two teams meeting 10 times in the last decade. The Danes have won 7 of those 10 meetings, while the Bearcats have won 3.

The game will be broadcast on WAMC-FM 90.5.

Harriers Send Seven To ICAAAA Tourney

Seven members of the State University at Albany cross-country team will compete in the Intercollegiate Athletic Association of New York Men's and Women's Cross Country Championships on Saturday, November 24.

The men's team is ranked 6th in the nation and the women's team is ranked 9th in the nation. Both teams have had strong seasons and are hoping to finish well in the championships.

The men's team is led by senior Mike Hartwick, who is currently ranked 2nd in the nation. The women's team is led by junior Maryanne Smith, who is currently ranked 7th in the nation.

The championships will be held at the Saratoga City Park in Saratoga Springs. The men's race will begin at 11 a.m. and the women's race will begin at 11:45 a.m.