Biographical History

Benedikt Fred Dolbin (1883-1971) was a painter, writer, illustrator and cartoonist. In Vienna in the early 1920s, he studied musical composition with Arnold Schnberg and art with Egon Schiele. He served as a journalist in Berlin in the late 1920s and early 1930s before coming to the United States.

Scope and Contents

The collection contains approximately 5,000 original pencil and pen and ink drawings of European and American musicians, writers, and public figures, most of which were drawn by Benedikt F. Dolbin to illustrate his articles in the New York migr newspaper Aufbau and in the magazine Musical America. The collection also includes a small number of pastel landscapes dating from Dolbin's career in Vienna in the early 1920s, and a few drawings dating from his journalistic career in Berlin in the late 1920s and early 1930s. Dolbin's personal papers and most of his drawings from the 1920s are at the Institut fr Zeitungsforschung, Dortmund, and at the Deutsches Literaturarchiv, Marbach am Neckar.

Arrangement of the Collection

The collection is unprocessed and is likely disorganized. Individual items may be difficult to find.
