John L. Lomax, of the University of Texas, one who has spent all his life collecting songs, comes to us on January 12th with his pleasing lecture on Cowboy Ballads.

For years Mr. Lomax has delivered lectures before prominent colleges, giving similar lectures among which colleges are Harvard, Hamilton, Yale, College of the City of New York, University of Leland Stanford University, California. Others of his lectures are:

(1) Some Types of the American Ballad,
(2) Negro Ballads of the Cotton Fields,
(3) Negro Ballads,
(4) Cowboy Verse.

Mr. Lomax combines definite instruction with continuous entertainment. His songs furnish lecture material in a class by itself. He reveals most pleasingly the romantic charmers, the pathos, and the humor of cowboy life as reflected in his songs. Quite beyond the mere humor of many of them, it is their fundamental human nature, which takes the audience.

INFIRMARY PRIVILEGES

Arrangements have been made with the Albany City Hospital for students who wish to have the use of the infirmary. I.e., Mary Jones has helped each student is to pay one dollar for the use of the infirmary for six months. If this student should have an operation performed on him, he is also paying one dollar to the infirmary fund to cover a student’s death. Students living at home are likely to say, “If I am ill, my parents will take care of me.” Realize that many people are living in their own homes, hospitalization is not always the safest or most convenient method. In the events of the first concert of the year, that of the New England, Harvard, will be accompanied by Mr. Candlyn and the enthusiasm with which it was received. We feel it is our duty to give all the people we are guilty of. For, although it is true that the flow of consciousness cannot be ruled out by the fact that a dynamo may run until it is killed out without accomplishing much of anything. So it doesn’t exist to say that we are always thinking. We aren’t getting anywhere in particular unless there is a certain amount of thinking. It is the introduction of a new positive factor that requires the effort.

STATE, A MUSICAL COLLEGE

When we go over the list of musical colleges in the country, there is not the tendency to characterize them according to their leading men. Professor H. Thompson, Dr. Harold Thompson. Moreover, very fortunate for the college is the fact that we have as instructor in music and accompaniment, an artist and composer of note, Professor T. Frederick Candlyn, whose services have been given to the college for several years. State college, besides being a teacher’s college, is characterized by its literary publications and its music. Crippled by our nature we cannot excel in certain lines; however, in these, our dominant interests, we are unmatched, even in any other college.

Our classification as a musical college has been affected largely by the efforts of the students of the quarter for the College. The College is the only one in the state that we have as instructor in music and accompaniment, an artist and composer of note, Professor T. Frederick Candlyn, whose services have been given to the college for several years. State college, besides being a teacher’s college, is characterized by its literary publications and its music. Crippled by our nature we cannot excel in certain lines; however, in these, our dominant interests, we are unmatched, even in any other college.

We have a college chorus which can compare favorably with that of any other college. Who of you that have not heard the Colgate-Stein hard core concert did not judge our numbers on a par with Colgate’s? Our choirs are among the best in the country and are worthy of praise for the general impression they give.

The college orchestra has always been held in high regard by students. Its appearance in public is at all times enjoyed and appreciated, wherever it may go, and its recognition is for those interested in good music. The orchestra and band are staffed with students of the highest talent among us.

Much is being done by the College Music Association to promote State college’s musical reputation. Besides a systematic study of music it provides us with concerts by such artists as Van Dam and Powell. Money, for this pur- pose was unanimously voted by the student body. The grand finale of the first concert of the year, that of the New England, Harvard, will be accompanied by Mr. Candlyn and the enthusiasm with which it was received. We feel it is our duty to give all the people we are guilty of. For, although it is true that the flow of consciousness cannot be ruled out by the fact that a dynamo may run until it is killed out without accomplishing much of anything. So it doesn’t exist to say that we are always thinking. We aren’t getting anyplace in particular unless there is a certain amount of thinking. It is the introduction of a new positive factor that requires the effort.

GIVE YOURSELF A MENTAL SHAKE-UP

Thinking, it seems to me, might be well be defined as a form of amusement which requires a greater expenditure of effort than the ordinary individuals of us do. There is not one remaining objection. There are still those—few in number, we hope—who are convinced enough to have a dread of a hospital. Surely an institution which will so eagerly provide comfort and aid for us, is beneficial. The aim of the hospital is to save life and aid toward physical fitness. This is a personally kind gesture. After all, do we not wish most of all for comfort in time of need? A hospital is not a hospital without its effects. It is the idea of a person to a person. It is not true that the flow of consciousness never ceases, it is equally true that a dynamo may run until it is killed out without accomplishing much of anything. So it doesn’t exist to say that we are always thinking. We aren’t getting anywhere in particular unless there is a certain amount of thinking. It is the introduction of a new positive factor that requires the effort.

SOPHIS AGAIN

The Sophomore girls scored a victory of 16-7 over the Freshmen last Monday. Although the Freshmen have made line progress, the uncertainty of the Yellowjackets and White was made apparent early in the game. The capital work and guarding of Liebich the Sophomore center, made scoring almost impossible for the Freshmen. The score at the end of the first half was 10-3 in favor of Sophis.

During the second half of the game the Sophomores scored three baskets in rapid succession. This forced the Freshmen to retaliate with two baskets. When the final whistle blew the score stood 17-6 in favor of the Sophomores.

SONGS OF THE COWBOY
At all colleges Mr. Lomax has been received and spoken of with great enthusiasm by both faculty and students. They clamor for his return.

Hammond says to him, "Copies of Cowboy Songs and other frontier Ballads were in demand among our students for days after your lecture."

Those who desire a novel sensation should hear Professor Lomax recite and interpret American Folk songs. You will also discover that the elements of poetry are alive as in the making.

Remember the date, January 12, and the place, College Auditorium.

Given by the Music Association, admission 30 cents for those without student tax tickets.

GERMANY SENDS FIRST ENCyclopedia HERE SINCE
GREAT WAR CAME TO AN END

Washington, Nov. 26.—Harpo Edmond von Thurnmann, the first diplomat to represent Germany in the United States since the war, has arrived from Berlin. He is coming to America as a sort of advance agent of the new ambassador who, however, has yet to be chosen.

This is von Thurnmann's first trip to America. He is 37 years old, a graduate of several universities and was an attache of the German embassy at Madrid before the war.

He served in the German army as a lieutenant of cavalry on the western front in 1914, was captured near Koelnisburg by the Russians and spent some time in an internment camp. He attributes the retention of his health during imprisonment to the welfare work done by the American Red Cross and Y. M. C. A.

Discussing conditions in Germany, which he said were bad, von Thurnmann said that of the three classes—the titled class, the professionals and the workers—the workers seem to be faring the best. Most of these are employed and getting good wages, he said. The class corresponding to the titled class of the war is complaining of enormous taxes imposed upon incomes, and the professional class cannot get enough employment.

Speaking of the American occupation, he said the German people were glad to have United States soldiers in their country. With regard to the indemnity he said Germany would pay it as long as she could.
