President R. A. Brubracher has no intention of leaving State College to become superintendent of schools of Schenectady. In a clear, unequivocal statement today to the State College News, the president at rest the dissolving rumers which have filled the college this week, following word from Schenectady that a school-district movement exists there to ask him to return to that city to succeed A. J. St.典雅尔 as superintendent.

"I am greatly honored," President Brubracher said, "These expressions are of course wholly informal and unofficial, so that it would be an impropriety to say more," he declared in an exclusively personal statement.

"Beyond that, the president refused to comment further. He said it was not his policy to discuss the rumor outside the Schenectady school board."

In Schenectady, however, the movement to bring Dr. Brubracher back has taken a more dramatically annual in educational circles. It is said to be on the verge of making any sort of comment on the matter, for fear of calling attention to the subject of the Schenectady superintendent, for which he is the highest rated.
books: "PENSIONS I'M KNEW" BY J.W.M.

Pensioner For Review and Two New Presidents.
By Pluvius

The two paintings of the advanced dramatics class presented recently, created fantastic memories. First, directed by Eleanor Welch, 29, was a well-known play with a conventional plot. However, it gained great influence to enjoy the evening's best picture when Hazel Goodrich, 30, interpreted the part of a personally sel- f-sacrificing mother who gives up her life to bring back her son. The youngest daughter may have her selfish desires, but she comes at a cost. The second play, directed by Carl Smallwood, 30, was a practically unknown play presented on the stage here last spring. The next play, to be held in late April, will feature a boy, a girl, and a life and love trip. The two plays were directed by Hazel Goodrich, 30, and Eleanor Stephenson, 30, and are delightful characters who completely followed well the stability of the mother's role. The best part from the standpoint of setting was the mother's and Miss Goodrich's interpretations of two plays of a different genre.

The second play, directed by Carl Smallwood, 30, was a practically unknown play presented on the stage here last spring. The next play, to be held in late April, will feature a boy, a girl, and a life and love trip. The two plays were directed by Hazel Goodrich, 30, and Eleanor Stephenson, 30, and are delightful characters who completely followed well the stability of the mother's role. The best part from the standpoint of setting was the mother's and Miss Goodrich's interpretations of two plays of a different genre.

The two paintings of the advanced dramatics class presented recently, created fantastic memories. First, directed by Eleanor Welch, 29, was a well-known play with a conventional plot. However, it gained great influence to enjoy the evening's best picture when Hazel Goodrich, 30, interpreted the part of a personally sel- f-sacrificing mother who gives up her life to bring back her son. The youngest daughter may have her selfish desires, but she comes at a cost. The second play, directed by Carl Smallwood, 30, was a practically unknown play presented on the stage here last spring. The next play, to be held in late April, will feature a boy, a girl, and a life and love trip. The two plays were directed by Hazel Goodrich, 30, and Eleanor Stephenson, 30, and are delightful characters who completely followed well the stability of the mother's role. The best part from the standpoint of setting was the mother's and Miss Goodrich's interpretations of two plays of a different genre.

The second play, directed by Carl Smallwood, 30, was a practically unknown play presented on the stage here last spring. The next play, to be held in late April, will feature a boy, a girl, and a life and love trip. The two plays were directed by Hazel Goodrich, 30, and Eleanor Stephenson, 30, and are delightful characters who completely followed well the stability of the mother's role. The best part from the standpoint of setting was the mother's and Miss Goodrich's interpretations of two plays of a different genre.

The second play, directed by Carl Smallwood, 30, was a practically unknown play presented on the stage here last spring. The next play, to be held in late April, will feature a boy, a girl, and a life and love trip. The two plays were directed by Hazel Goodrich, 30, and Eleanor Stephenson, 30, and are delightful characters who completely followed well the stability of the mother's role. The best part from the standpoint of setting was the mother's and Miss Goodrich's interpretations of two plays of a different genre.

The second play, directed by Carl Smallwood, 30, was a practically unknown play presented on the stage here last spring. The next play, to be held in late April, will feature a boy, a girl, and a life and love trip. The two plays were directed by Hazel Goodrich, 30, and Eleanor Stephenson, 30, and are delightful characters who completely followed well the stability of the mother's role. The best part from the standpoint of setting was the mother's and Miss Goodrich's interpretations of two plays of a different genre.

The second play, directed by Carl Smallwood, 30, was a practically unknown play presented on the stage here last spring. The next play, to be held in late April, will feature a boy, a girl, and a life and love trip. The two plays were directed by Hazel Goodrich, 30, and Eleanor Stephenson, 30, and are delightful characters who completely followed well the stability of the mother's role. The best part from the standpoint of setting was the mother's and Miss Goodrich's interpretations of two plays of a different genre.

The second play, directed by Carl Smallwood, 30, was a practically unknown play presented on the stage here last spring. The next play, to be held in late April, will feature a boy, a girl, and a life and love trip. The two plays were directed by Hazel Goodrich, 30, and Eleanor Stephenson, 30, and are delightful characters who completely followed well the stability of the mother's role. The best part from the standpoint of setting was the mother's and Miss Goodrich's interpretations of two plays of a different genre.

The second play, directed by Carl Smallwood, 30, was a practically unknown play presented on the stage here last spring. The next play, to be held in late April, will feature a boy, a girl, and a life and love trip. The two plays were directed by Hazel Goodrich, 30, and Eleanor Stephenson, 30, and are delightful characters who completely followed well the stability of the mother's role. The best part from the standpoint of setting was the mother's and Miss Goodrich's interpretations of two plays of a different genre.
STATE COLLEGE NEWS, APRIL  5,  1929

3

SCOTS UNIVERSITY HONORS THOMPSON

University Of Edinburgh Gives Him First Di Litt. Degree

Dr. Harold W. Thompson, professor of English, is the first American to receive the Litt. degree from the University of Edinburgh. The degree was conferred on March 2, 1929, at a public ceremony in the university's Old College. Dr. Thompson has been a member of the faculty of the University of Edinburgh for the past three years.

OLGA HAMPPEL BECOMES ENGLISH INSTRUCTOR

Miss Olga A. Hampel, '29, conducts an English conversation class in the third period, Tuesday and Friday mornings. Miss Hampel is teaching English by the method of W. E. Day, who recently visited the United States. The method is based on the study of English literature and is designed to improve the student's command of the language.

COCHRANE IS SOLE Y.M.C.A. CANDIDATE

Will Succeed Herman Koerner As Head Of Organization; Other Nominations

Nominations for offices of student Y. M. C. A. for 1929-'30 are as follows: president, Warren Cochran, '29; vice-president, Robert Bannister, '29; Harold Haskell, '32; and I. B. McCann, '29; for secretary, Hamilton Adelson, '29; and Donald Price, '32; for treasurer, Albert Wiggin, '29; and Floyd Bliss, Harold Haskell and Edward Myers, freshmen.

4 STATE MEN GET ALL 32 POINTS IN A GAME

Three undergraduate men and one alumus scored all the points for a Franklin team in a game with the Tuesday recess. F. Franklin and Joseph E. Ferney, seniors, scored 24 out of the 32 points, the others being scored by Grant Tuttle, '29, and Francis E. Griffin, '29. The game was played in the gymnasium on Wednesday, March 22, 1929. The total score was 32-0.

Time And Lunch Wait Not At All; So Athletic Girls Go Out Window

Time and lunch wait for no man, and nobody ever believed the proverb more than two members of the Girls Athletic council, who recently streamed through the windows in the gymnasium and off to enjoy themselves from starvation after they had found themselves exiled from the gymnasium.

The time of all the trouble was Thursday night, when Ann A. K. Stittscher, junior, and the gymnasium door was closed at 3:45 until Monday and Wednesday.

The two girls found the junior who opened the door on the other and predicted students. The council had been conducting a meeting with Constance M. Schlieker, '29, president of the U.S. Sorority association, president of the Women's council in the American Federation of Women Students, and president of the Women's council of the American Federation of Women Students.

MISS MORRIS AT COLLEGES For Elizabeth H. Morris, assistant professor of English, spent the latter part of her vacation at Brown University and Dartmouth, and other colleges.

31 NEW MEMBERS FOR MATHEMATICS SOCIETY

Thirty-one students were recently received into the Mathematics club at a supper in the cafeteria. A formal initiation followed.

Eligibility or membership in Mathematics association is a successful completion of one semester's work in an analytical course. The new members are: Gertrude Finzer, Gene Hastings, Kathryn Weller and Shady Woller, juniors; Dorothy Allman, Louise Bond, Elizabeth Linn, Lilian Darr, Anna Ritten, Anna Hughes, Elaine Hickey, Wintone Harber, Mary Mooney, Margaret Nolan, Catherine Norris, Beatrice O'Neill, Lila Penley, June Schleter, Alice Van Riebe, Anna Valey, Marjorie Wimberly, Ida Wimble and Beatrice Winters, sophomores.

Schatz, Lur BILLINGHAM, Josephine Spencer, Eulalie Tarpey and Gertrude Tarpey, freshmen.

DR. A. K. BEIK ASSISTS LITERARY COMMISSION

For American

State University recently appointed Assistant Professor of Education, recently served as the state literary commission.

Conquering the Cascades

Snow fills every nook in the year where the Great Northern crosses the Cascades. Deep, ominous grades increase the difficulty of the railroad problem. Nature has added innumerable electric power to the ruggedness. The 88-stage boat was driven in three years—a road impossible without electric power. And electrification has been extended to the entire 75-mile route through the mountains.

The compass of electricity on the land and on the sea, in the air, and underground, are making practicable the impossibilities of yesterday. As our vision encompasses wider horizons, electricity appears as a vital contribution to future industrial progress and human welfare.

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, SCHENECTADY, NEW YORK
CLASS TO PRESENT MISS MILLAY'S PLAY

"Au de Capas." Fantasy, Will Be One Of Three Dramas For May 24, 25

Au de Capas, a fantasy by Edna St. Vincent Millay, will be one of the three one-act plays which will be presented by the elementary dramatics class, according to Miss Emma M. S. Besing, instructor in English. The plays will be presented Thursday, May 24, and Saturday, May 25, the latter, she said.

Miss Millay read selections from her own poetry in Burnham's Hall last year under the auspices of the Dramatic and Art Association.

The other two plays will be "Freed the Bright," a comedy, and "Wrong Numbers," a drama.

LOUISE TRASK HEADS SORORITY COMMITTEE

Staff, 29, in chairmanship of the selection committee for intercollegiate hall according to Mary C. Gann, 29, president of Intercollegiate council. The hall will be May 3, at the Ten Eyck Hotel. Dean Charles announces the following representatives to the other committee: Bernie Gilbert, 30, arrangements; Marian Berlecher, 30, flowers and decorations; Louise McLeish, 29, music; Don't Fail To See

1. Life of an Empress, a fantasy by Edna St. Vincent Millay, the Original WhoopeeGirl in

"Abie's Irish Rose", on Broadway 5 Years-Now A Talking and Sound Picture

ALSO OPERATING ALBANY AND REGENT THEATRES IN ALBANY

PROCTOR'S

HIGH CLASS VAUDEVILLE AND

Benefit for Scientific Research in Shut Down While Posing Made

EDUCATION.

WOMEN'S DEANS PLAN NEW EDITION OF BOOK

Dean Pierce has announced that she will bring the second edition up to date. Instead of

WOMEN'S DEAN PLANS

NEW EDITION OF BOOK

"Catalogue of Literature for Miss Millay's Home Group and Girls" in the fall, according to plans now being carried out, the catalog will be divided into four parts: the text, the mirror, and the exercises. The catalog will represent a work in progress by students of each class period, informal groups have

Women's Deans Plan

NEW EDITION OF BOOK

 groups by Miss J. Isabele Johnston, head of the home economics department, and Miss Alice L. Whitman, instructor in home economics, were assisted by the federal board conference at Washington, D. C, which included

FORMER EDITOR COACH OF PRIZE PUBLICATION

Sara H. Bartley, 26, in faculty advisor of the O-H News, student publication of Oswego High School, which was second prize in the scholasticized section of the 1929 American Scholastic Press Association convention, was her former coach.

The award of the Steuben County News. "Dependable Flowers"

"Wy Telegraph Flowers to All Parts Of The World"

STEBEN STREET

Corner James

Phone 6-773

Boulevard

and Golden

Guernsey

Milk

Delicatessen, wholesale, Pure 100% BOW~ARD AND GUERNSEY MILK - are superbly desirable. Whether for your own use or for the use of those you teach or love, there is no milk that

Boulevard Dairy Co., Inc.

231 Third

Telephone

Streel

4-4159

BUCHEIMS

QUALITY CLEANERS AND DYERS

452 Central Ave.

Albany, N. Y.
"No Cakes, No Apples, No Eskimo Pies — No Nothing."

College Students Mourn When Co-op Goes Eatless

"No cakes, no apples, no dollars, no dollars, no dollars, no dollars, no dollars, no dollars."

The wall that reverberated through the lower corridor of the Co-op this week was the customary Hanson of commodities and jobs that flood the Co-op when students return to class in the fall. Only yesterday were their hands on the snowy clothes here minute minutes to the sorrowing face lately possessed by Miss Laura F. Thompson, whose employees are used to receiving financial news, will be the new home of the Idahos. Their profits are expected to relieve their monetary distress, but Miss Helen T. Thompson, manager of the Co-op, says books will increase in price as a direct consequence. Apple and cake profits, the de- dibles, but have applied to reduce the costs of texts.

"No apples, no cakes, no Eskimo pies — no nothing."

DEAN'S BOOK RECEIVES NATIONAL INDEED ACCLAMATION

Daniel Francois and Margaret Cosgrove, seniors, will each direct one of the remainder of the plays.

LUCILLE BEAUTY SALON

Hewett's Silk Shop

Beauty Salons

86-88 No. Pearl Street

Get Columbia

A Reliable Place to Buy

SILK SHOP

RELIABLE SILKS

WOOLENS, COTTONS

UNIFORMS AND INTERIOR

FURNISHINGS

ARcAY FLoRIST

Thrift is a useful tool. Thrift is one of the tools used to win the sort of success that brings contentment.

ARKAY FLoRIST

in New York State

State College News, April 5, 1929

Play Cast Has Not Learned Its Lines

Unchastened Woman," Receives Favorable Criticism

In New York

Although "The Unchastened Woman" is to be presented next Friday and Saturday, reports current in the college corridors today are to the effect that the members of the cast do not yet know their lines sufficiently to put on a satisfactory performance. Rehearsals will be continued next week.

Lucy Fisk, the New York college student who has spoken several times, says, "The author has invested the most vital character has appeared in American drama for a long time. His spoken words arising from the limits of his plot and containing for existence in the vast expanse of life at large. Like Ficili's Calphini, finding no positive exercise for her abilities, she was driven to flatter the productions of all the people around her."

Reynolds Brown, drama critic of the New York Tribune, and now with the New York World, said in his review of the play, "The Unchastened Woman is a far superior play of the season."

Lucille Beauty Salon

286 Central Avenue (near Robin

Salads - Pastry and Toasted Sandwiches

Every sandwich made up to individual order

arkay florist

Ten Eye's Hotel Building

Branch, 5 St. Pearl Street

Thrift is a Useful Tool

When the hair-dresser lets you down on the eve of a party ... and your new shoes don't come ... and the youth is Unavoidably Detained ... and it's raining ... and the moon is rising between the stars and you're in the middle of a party and no one's looking ... and the moon is rising between the stars and you're in the middle of a party and no one's looking ...

When New System Is Installed

With the installation of a new telephone system this week, State College loses its well-known number, 6200. Each office will now have a full elimination of the telephone exchange switchboard from the front office.

The new toll numbers are:

Hebrews (fellow) 6-2451
President's office 6-2456
Secretary's office 6-2457
Registrar's office 6-2458
Dean's office 6-2501
Miller High School 6-2502
Library 6-2503
Dean of women 6-2504
Home economics 6-2506
Chemistry department 6-2507
Physics department 6-2508

TUESDAY NIGHT IS SET FOR SWIMMING MEET

The annual swimming meet will be held Tuesday night in the Athletic and Ymca pool, watery water, 6-270, swimming captain. "The meet was scheduled for Tuesday, March 19, but since a conflict arose the meet will not be held, it is understood.

Speaking of silver linings

COMMITTEE IS NAMED FOR LOVENHEIM PRIZE

The committee in charge of the Leah Lovenheim prize of $25 for excellence in English composition will be Miss Helen M. Phillips, and Miss Olga Hampel, instructors in English, and Miss Miriam H. Needham, instructor in history.

All undergraduates may try for the prize according to Miss Phillips, and the work and poetry will be culled in the awarding of it. A stipend may also be given for one manuscript.

The prize is offered by Jerome Lovenheim in Amsterdam in honor of his mother, Mary Judith Lovenheim, 20, and two years ago by Edwin R. Van Kleeck, 27.

College Humor Uses Cartoons from Lion

Cartoons by Ruth M. Watts, 29, and Carl Thomas, 29, which appeared in the Christmas issue, are reprinted in the current issue of "College Humor," according to Robert J. Stoddiford, 29, editor of the newspaper. The cartoons also are said to have been reprinted in the latest issue of College Humus.

The prize "home dance" issue of the Elms is now in the hands of the printers, and will be distributed within the next few days, according to the staff.

STATE COLLEGE NEWS, APRIL 5, 1929
GUIDANCE COURSES WILL BE OFFERED

Eight Visiting Instructors Will Conduct New Summer School Courses Here

The paintings exhibited in the round-up this week are those of David Dorenz, who was brought here by the Dramatic and Art Association.

Mr. Dorenz is from New York, and has studied at Cooper Union and later at the National Academy of Design. He won there the Suydam medal and the Hays de Concave. At an exhibition in the Little Carnegie Playhouse, Mr. Dorenz was given favorable criticism. The New York Times speaks of the painting on the harbor view as the best of his works. He is said to have carried out a dramatic portrayal of the roofs of a crowded city under a menacing sky.

The Herald-Tribune says: "He is a clever and able painter, with a gift for representing landscapes and still life. The story - "Marie" - is considered practical in design and well portrayed. Mr. Thomas shows depth of feeling and color sense.

Mr. Thomas turned before fine arts classes Tuesday. He drew several figures of students and illustrated the technical detail involved in causing the style of the building. The exhibition will probably be on display in the round-up for a week. It is under the direction of Samuel Dransky, 32, and Rose Dransky, 29.

PEDAGOGUE TO APPEAR HERE MOVING UP DAY

Courses in art and music included in the round-up this week are those of David Dorenz, who was brought here by the Dramatic and Art Association.

The paintings exhibited in the round-up this week are those of David Dorenz, who was brought here by the Dramatic and Art Association.

Mr. Dorenz is from New York, and has studied at Cooper Union and later at the National Academy of Design. He won there the Suydam medal and the Hays de Concave. At an exhibition in the Little Carnegie Playhouse, Mr. Dorenz was given favorable criticism. The New York Times speaks of the painting on the harbor view as the best of his works. He is said to have carried out a dramatic portrayal of the roofs of a crowded city under a menacing sky.

The Herald-Tribune says: "He is a clever and able painter, with a gift for representing landscapes and still life. The story - "Marie" - is considered practical in design and well portrayed. Mr. Thomas shows depth of feeling and color sense.

Mr. Thomas turned before fine arts classes Tuesday. He drew several figures of students and illustrated the technical detail involved in causing the style of the building. The exhibition will probably be on display in the round-up for a week. It is under the direction of Samuel Dransky, 32, and Rose Dransky, 29.

GORMLEY WILL SPEAK AT Y.W.C.A. MEETING

Florence Gormley, 29, will play Indian music for an hour and will deliver a lecture at a meeting of the Y. W. C. A. at the association's house, 311 Ontario street, Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.