Enthusiastic Debaters Return
From Syracuse Conference

Members of the critical debate team that attended the national conference at Syracuse, April 29, returned yesterday with a story of professional achievements. The team, which included representatives from various State colleges, was invited to participate in the conference after being selected through a series of trials.

President of the club, Dr. Brubacher, announced the team’s acceptance of the invitation to participate in the conference. He said that the team had been selected after a rigorous process of screening and selection, and that they were proud to represent their college and their State in this prestigious event.

Dr. Brubacher also thanked the members of the team for their hard work and dedication. He said that they had worked tirelessly to prepare for the conference, and that they were excited to share their knowledge and experience with others.

The team’s performance at the conference was praised by Dr. Brubacher, who said that they had demonstrated their skill and expertise in the field of critical debate. He said that the team had been a credit to their school and had set a high standard for others to follow.

Dr. Brubacher concluded by encouraging the students to continue their studies in this area, and to continue to develop their skills and knowledge. He said that they had a bright future ahead of them, and that they would be a valuable asset to their college and their State.
