NOSE, THROAT, and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sputa as well as the normal amount of Chesterfields—10 to 40 a day. The medical specialist, after thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the care, near, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by us were not adversely affected in the six-month period by smoking the cigarettes provided."

Press Bureau Requests Data

The MCTU has requested data from the Medical Colleges of the United States. The data will be gathered from different sources and will be used to evaluate the effects of smoking Chesterfields.

We Explain...

In determining its practice of contacting the leaders of eleven associations and institutions, seven regular faculty members of the College in the past, we find that we have found with most success the one we call, simply, the "library method." It is one which we have come to call the "library method," and we are not sure how much credit we should give to it. In the past, we have found that most of the leaders of the associations and institutions we have contacted have been willing to talk about their work, if we have asked them to do so.

Red Cross Asks
For Blood Donors
Veteran Will Speak
For Service to Nation
In order to meet the emergency demand for blood as a result of the National Insurance Group's drive, the American Red Cross has set aside Tuesday, November 12, as Blood Donor Day. Every member of the campus community is called upon to donate blood and all veterans are especially urged to take part.

Dan White, a World War II veteran, will speak on his experience in the service and will encourage students to contribute to the drive. White, who is stationed at Fort Blaine in Western New York, has been in the Army since 1942 and has served in the United States and France.

In addition to the regular blood donor sessions, some special events have been scheduled to encourage student participation.

Sabol Declares Test Application Now Available

All eligible students who intend to apply for scholarships for the 1952-53 college year must submit their applications to Dr. Gardner to secure the application and an estimate of the amount of government patronage they will receive. All applications must be submitted by January 15, 1953. The deadline for submission is to be extended for those who fail to meet the original deadline.

Hung Enlightens Work Of T. F. Fu

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin has published an article by Dr. J. Sabol, Coordinator of Field Service, in which he discusses the current trends in Chinese literature. Dr. Sabol states that the Chinese are now paying more attention to the arts and sciences than ever before. He emphasizes the importance of education in the development of a nation's culture.

Survey Continues GOP Tradition

Survey results continue to show strong support for the Republican Party. The party's cumulative lead over the Democrats has increased in recent weeks. The most recent survey, conducted by the United States Census Bureau, found that 53% of registered voters support the Republican Party, while 47% support the Democratic Party. The survey also found that 85% of Republicans believe that the country is headed in the right direction, while only 15% of Democrats share this belief.
