Empire State College Offers Alternative to Classrooms

by Fred Tash

Empire State College, a new branch of the SUNY system, offers students the chance to seek education in their own communities. To date, the school's efforts have included an assortment of educational programs, including courses taught by artists, writers, and musicians. The college's philosophy is to provide a range of educational opportunities, from basic courses to advanced study, in order to accommodate the needs of all students.

The campus is located in the town of Chancellor, near Albany, and has a population of about 1,500 students. The college offers a variety of programs, including degrees in art, music, and writing. The college's focus is on providing an educational experience that is both challenging and fun, with an emphasis on individualized learning and creativity.

At a recent campus press conference, Albert Lofise, former student at SUNY New Paltz, cited changes made by the Empire College to improve the educational experience and make it more accessible to students. Lofise indicated that the college is taking steps to ensure that students have access to a broad range of educational opportunities, and is committed to providing a quality education to all students.

There is a need for alternative educational programs, and Empire State College is providing the opportunity to pursue education in one's own community. Students are able to learn in a more comfortable and familiar environment, and are able to pursue their interests in a variety of ways. The college is committed to providing an educational experience that is both challenging and fun.

Senators Charged With Corruption

At a late-night conference Wednesday, Senator Lofise, former student at State University of New York, cited changes made by the college to improve the educational experience and make it more accessible to students. Lofise indicated that the college is taking steps to ensure that students have access to a broad range of educational opportunities, and is committed to providing a quality education to all students.

Cosmic Quad Defies Edward Durrell Stone

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1971

By Anne Baxler

On a wooded slope of our perfectly proportioned campus stands one of Albany's most recent and distinguished additions - the geodesic dome. Located on Cosmic Quad, it boasts such iconoclastic features as fiberglass and burlap insulation. It was designed by Edward Durrell Stone, noted for his innovative architectural designs and his use of modern materials. The dome is a testament to the creative spirit of Albany State's students and faculty. Stone himself was an innovator in modern architecture, and his work has been influential in the field.

Cars Seldom Fill Visitor's New Lot

by Claude Weitekind

The newly constructed visitor's parking lot, which charges 25 cents an hour, is usually empty, but is expected to become more popular as the weather gets colder. The lot, which opened in October, has provided a much-needed solution to the parking problem on campus. The usual parking lot, located on the north side of the campus, is often full, and visitors have had to park on the streets or use the shuttle bus. The new lot has made it easier for visitors to find a parking place, and has helped alleviate some of the parking pressure on campus.

State Quad Residents Back Record Co-op by Wide Margin

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1971

by Walter Chermer

The referendum was held Monday on whether to establish a university-wide co-operative record store. The referendum passed, with 82 per cent of the votes in favor, and 18 per cent against. The store will be located in the State Quad, and will be open to all students, faculty, and staff of the university. The store will sell a variety of records, and will be operated by students, with the profits going to support the university.

Now you can buy Fisher stereo right here on campus.

Pay for Parking?

by Don Brassard

Would you be willing to pay a fixed amount, for example a $5 parking permit, to keep your car on campus? The State Parking Committee has opened the possibility of this in a questionnaire that will be mailed to all students, faculty, and staff, but is asking for your opinion. The committee believes that a fixed amount would be a more fair and equitable way to pay for parking, and would help to alleviate some of the problems that arise from the current parking system. The questionnaire will be mailed to all students, faculty, and staff, and will be available to the public as well.

Women to March
Earth News
Begins around the country is growing for the marchers this Saturday in Washington, D.C. and San Francisco which will demand the repeal of all existing abortion laws. The marchers said that they are concerned about the number of young women who are becoming pregnant and the increased rate of abortion. They also expressed the hope that the marchers will be more than the thousands of women who have already participated in similar protests.

A Little Bit of Purple Prose About Learning to Ski
No one will ever tell you that skiing is easy. I’ll bet that if you’re not an expert, you’ve heard one of the experts say, “It’s easy.” Well, I disagree. I think it’s more like, “It’s not too hard.”

We would respectfully suggest that if you’re interested in learning to ski, you should probably start with a pair of skis that are not too heavy and not too expensive. You should also have a good pair of goggles and a warm hat. The most important piece of equipment is a good pair of pants. The best pants are made of wool, but you can also buy fleece pants or Gore-Tex pants.

A dramatic development.
Recently, according to the new method of ski instruction that has been developed and perfected at Killington, Vermont, all skiers, from the novice to the expert, can learn to ski in as little as one week. The method involves a combination of physical training, mental preparation, and instruction. The instruction is given by a team of experts who have been trained to teach skiers of all ages and abilities. The instruction is given in a group setting, and the skiers are encouraged to help each other. The instruction is given in a fun and relaxed environment.

Some terrific skiing.
Once you learn, you’ll find Killington has some terrific skiing. Among the many great runs, you can find the “High Tider” run, which is a great place to get your ski legs going. The “High Tider” run is a great place to get your ski legs going.

Lack of Foresight

To the Editor:

I write this letter with the hope that the past failings of our Student Press are not repeated and instead of offering other unjustified criticisms, you will see our improvements in the future. I have tried to communicate my understandings with those at our University, but the current editorial board seems to only see past mistakes.

Sincerely,

Your University Community,

I am giving more explanations to the "Russian Revolution" for graduate students in this University. I have tried to communicate this message to the students, but it has not been well received by the Dean.

Camp Dippikill Cabin

Nestled in the forest about one-half mile from the campus, the newest addition of the Dippikill property is The Dippikill Cabin, which will be open for use in the spring.

The plans for the cabin were devised by a summer architecture class. Construction was started in June and is expected to be complete in November. The cost of the project is $21,000. The building is expected to be open for use in the spring.

The cabin offers the most rustic indoor accommodations available at Dippikill. The fireplace provides the only source of heat, and the building is accessible from an outside porch. The cabin is expected to be open for use in the spring.

The cabin is another addition to the varied accommodations available at Dippikill. Arrangements for group or individual rental of this and other facilities can be placed with Fred Cook in the Campus Center.

Proposal For Judicial Reform

1. Rights of Community Members

If the university is to succeed in its purpose of truth and dissemination of knowledge in a setting where the freedom of inquiry and the pursuit of truth and knowledge are not impeded by artificial or arbitrary restrictions, the university community must be free, individually and collectively, to carry on its educational and research activities without interference from outside sources.

2. Freedom of Press

The right to publish without restriction is an essential ingredient of the freedoms of speech and of the press. The university shall not interfere with the publication of any material which the students, faculty, and administration believe to be in the public interest, and shall not be bound by the California Master Plan for Higher Education in limiting the establishment of periodicals.

3. Freedom of Association

Organizations within the university may be organized by the students of the university, subject to the following limitations:
- The organization must be composed of students only.
- The organization must be free from interference with free passage through the campus.
- The organization must be free from discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, national origin, or any other legally protected classification.

4. Freedom to Protest

The right to peaceful protest is a basic freedom of the university community.

5. Right of Privacy

The university will not invade the privacy of students, faculty, or administration except as otherwise provided by law.

6. Right of Due Process

All publications produced by students shall be governed by the principles of due process, including notice and an opportunity to be heard.

7. Freedom from Retaliation

The university shall not retaliate against any student, faculty, or administration member who participates in any activity protected by the provisions of this document.

8. Affirmative Action

The university shall adopt affirmative action policies to ensure that the university community is free from discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, national origin, or any other legally protected classification.

9. Right of Access to University Records

The university shall provide access to all university records, subject to the following limitations:
- The university may refuse to disclose any records that are exempt from disclosure.
- The university may charge a fee for the cost of copying and providing records.
- The university may refuse to disclose records that would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

10. Right to Petition the University

Any student, faculty member, or administration member may petition the university to take action to address any issue of concern to the university community.

University principles of student, faculty, or staff behavior that adversely affects the university community may be disciplined by the university, subject to the provisions of this document.

How the university addresses behavior that adversely affects the university community shall be governed by the principles of due process, including notice and an opportunity to be heard.

The university shall not discriminate against any student, faculty, or administration member who participates in any activity protected by the provisions of this document.
I. Membership

- The board will consist of 18 members, of which eight will serve as ex-officio members.
- Other duties and functions of the board include:
  - Conducting impartial and fair adjudications.
  - Implementing the University Hearing Board's decisions.

II. Appointments

- Appointments to the board will be made by the President of the university.
- Appointments are subject to the approval of the Board of Trustees and the Senate Committee on Nominations.

III. Powers of Board

- The board has the authority to:
  - Oversee the operation of the University Hearing Board.
  - Review and approve the annual budget of the University Hearing Board.
  - Establish procedures for the handling of cases.

IV. Procedure

- The board shall adopt procedures for the handling of cases.
- The board shall meet at least once per month.
- The board may conduct hearings and make decisions in a manner as to do substantial justice, and shall not be limited by the rules of evidence applicable in courts.

V. Decisions

- Decisions of the board shall be final and binding on all parties.
- Decisions shall be made in writing and shall be transmitted to the parties.

VI. Penalties

- The board may impose penalties on persons found guilty of misconduct.
- Penalties may include:
  - Suspension
  - Expulsion
  - Other sanctions

VII. Appeal

- Appeals from decisions of the board may be taken to the University Hearing Board.
- The University Hearing Board may affirm, modify, or reverse decisions of the board.

VIII. Conflicts of Interest

- Members of the board shall disclose any conflicts of interest.
- Conflicts of interest shall be handled in accordance with the rules of the board.

IX. Financial Assistance

- The board may receive financial assistance from the university.
- The board may accept gifts and donations.

X. Removal

- Members of the board may be removed for cause.
- Causes for removal include:
  - Misconduct
  - Inability to perform duties
India Invades

Resendiz, Pakistan (AP) - Pakistan sent four divisions, including one of armor, into east Pakistan Saturday, the government announced.

The move was made as the result of a continuing border war that has claimed over 400 lives and 200,000 refugees since last month.

The Pakistanis claimed they were forcing the Indians to withdraw.

The Indian government official denied it, saying they were just trying to protect their border.

The United Nations Security Council has called for a cease-fire, but there has been no sign of it yet.

One witness said he saw Pakistani soldiers kill civilians in a nearby village.

The Pakistanis said they were responding to reports from locals that Indian troops were attacking them.

The Indian government official said the reports were exaggerated.

The border region has been volatile since 1971, when a war over autonomy led to the creation of Bangladesh.

Egypt Mobilizes

By Martin Duker
Associated Press

The Egyptian government announced today that it had mobilized all its military forces for a possible war with Israel.

The announcement came after several days of tensions on the border.

Egypt has long been a key player in the Middle East peace process, but it has recently stepped up its military preparations.

The Egyptian military is said to have prepared a number of air strikes on targets in Israel.

Israel has also increased its military readiness.

The situation is now described as "very critical" by some experts.

President Sadat of Egypt said he would not rule out the possibility of a military operation.

On the other hand, Israeli Prime Minister Begin has denied that his country is preparing for war.

However, Begin has ordered the Israeli military to be placed on full alert.

The situation is being closely watched by the international community.

The United Nations Security Council has called for an immediate ceasefire and the withdrawal of all troops from the border area.

Cambodia Hit

SAIGON (AP) - Thousands of South Vietnamese troops, supported by airpower and tanks, pushed into Cambodia Saturday to oust a rebel force that has been fighting for control of the South Vietnamese government.

The South Vietnamese forces say they have surrounded the rebel-held areas.

The rebels have been fighting for several years to overthrow the government.

The South Vietnamese government claims it has the support of the United States.

But the United Nations has expressed concern over the situation.

The United States has said it will not support any military action that would lead to a protracted war.

The United Nations has also urged both sides to negotiate a political solution.

Meanwhile, a group of United Nations observers has arrived in the area to monitor the situation.

The observers will work closely with the South Vietnamese forces.

The situation is expected to remain tense in the coming days.
