Danes are crushed by Buffalo stampede, 42-14

By Mark Gesner

The Albany State team sent up a crowd-united scream when the fall back to earth in a 42-14 loss to Buffalo State in Saturday's game at Alumni Field. When the Danes were held to a 4-16 deficit in the first half, their fans roared from the stands in an attempt to take the wind out of Buffalo's sails. However, the hosts were not to be denied, and they blew the game wide open in the first half. Albany State had its worst performance of the season, failing to score any points in the first half.

Albany State's poor performance was evident from the start. They were dominated by Buffalo State in every aspect of the game. The Danes' defense couldn't stop Buffalo State's offense, allowing 14 points in the first quarter. Buffalo State's quarterback, who threw for a total of 194 yards, led his team to a 20-0 lead in the first quarter. Albany State, on the other hand, managed only a 20-7 deficit at halftime.

Despite their efforts, the Danes were unable to find the end zone in the second half. Buffalo State continued to pour on the points, scoring 16 more points in the second half to seal the victory. The loss drops Albany State to 1-4 on the season, and it's the fourth consecutive loss for the team.

Manley attacks economic order, U.S. Central American policies

By Karen Pignataro

Critics of the current economic policy toward the Central American nations, which is the focus of the U.S. economic order, are calling for a more aggressive approach to addressing the region's economic challenges. They argue that the current policy has failed to achieve its goals and that a new strategy is needed.

These critics, including President Jimmy Carter, have been outspoken in their opposition to the current policy. They argue that the policy has failed to address the root causes of the region's economic problems, which are rooted in structural issues such as poverty, corruption, and political instability. They argue that a new approach is needed that takes into account the specific needs of each country and that focuses on long-term solutions.

The critics also argue that the current policy has failed to address the region's security concerns, which have been heightened by the growing threat of drug trafficking and terrorism. They argue that a new approach is needed that addresses these security concerns in a way that is consistent with the region's economic development goals.

Redefinitions, stricter rules attacker curb cheating

By Ben Gutierrez

A report released today by the SUNY Albany Student Affairs Committee (SAS) highlighted the need for stricter rules to address the issue of cheating on campus. The report found that cheating is a serious problem on campus, and that it undermines the integrity of the educational process.

The report called for a series of measures to be taken to address the problem, including the implementation of stricter policies and the enhancement of enforcement mechanisms. The committee also recommended the establishment of a student ethics council to provide a forum for students to discuss and address issues of cheating.

The report concluded that cheating is a complex issue that requires a multi-dimensional approach. It called for a comprehensive strategy that addresses the root causes of cheating and that promotes a culture of integrity.

Grappiers take Great Dane Classic

By Lance McLaughlin

The Albany State wrestling team defeated their rival, the Syracuse University Grappiers, in the Great Dane Classic at Washington Square Park. The match was held in front of a capacity crowd of over 2,000 fans, who cheered on the athletes as they battled it out on the mat.

Syracuse University's head coach, Michael Manley, was impressed with the performance of his team. "I'm very proud of the way our team performed," he said. "They showed great heart and determination, and they fought hard to the end."
Speaking of speaking

A proposal for a new nuclear war relocation plan was made on Monday night at 9 p.m. in WLC 306. The occasion is the first in a two-night series of public hearings to determine the impact of the plan on the region. The plan, which would involve moving all population centers to the nation's heartland, has been under consideration for several years.

Campus Briefs

Calling all students

Regarding Monday's SAU meeting, several new initiatives were discussed. Among the most promising is the proposal for a new student-run newspaper, which would be funded through student contributions. Other initiatives include a new student-faculty exchange program and a campus-wide recycling program.

Nuclear war relocation plan meets criticism

Tuesday meeting on the plan was held Monday night at 9 p.m. in WLC 306. A large turnout attended the meeting, which featured a lively discussion among students, faculty, and community members. Critics of the plan argued that it would not address the root causes of nuclear proliferation and that it would be costly and disruptive. Supporters of the plan countered that it was a necessary step towards a peaceful future.

Disarmament convocation aims at public nuclear awareness

By Melissa Jacob

Throughout the week, the Student Union and the Department of Environmental Conservation co-sponsored a series of events to raise awareness about the dangers of nuclear proliferation. The events included a film screening, a panel discussion, and a social justice forum. The goal of the convocation was to mobilize students and faculty to take action against nuclear weapons.

SUNYA Political Science Professor Dr. Peter Cocks considered the plan to be very far fetched.

"The fundamental flaw of the plan," he said, "is that it ignores the underlying causes of nuclear proliferation. Instead of addressing the root causes, the plan focuses on relocating population centers. This will not prevent nuclear war; it will only delay it."
Thank You For Last Weeks Orders!!!!

24 CUT PARTY TRAY 11.75

8 CUT 3.85

MEMBERSHIP. REFRESHMENTS WILL BE SERVED.

URGED TO ATTEND. NO LICENSE IS REQUIRED FOR

AND THOSE WHO SIGNED UP ACTIVITIES DAY ARE

OF

THE NEW SUNYA AMATEUR RADIO CLUB ON

THERE WILL BE A GENERAL MEMBERSHIP MEETING

4:00PM

NOW FOR DELIVERY

An Interview with

Mr. Steve Leibowitz

Chapel House

Interfaith Center

PERSPECTIVES:

Lobanoon & Israel

Crisis & Aftermath

Featuring

Prof. Carl Baker

Professor of Middle Eastern History, Stony

Dr. Nebal Khouri

Professor of Political Science, SUNYA

Central Council funds

funds weight room

By Liz Baskin

Central Council plans Wednesday, October 18, to appropriately honor reporters as the Times Union Press.

The Council appropriated $355 for the George F. Hallett with the Albany Student Press. (TTP)

By Dave Sner

A full schedule by Albany Times Union Press.

before the last week of a campaign to

The Council appropriated $355 for the reporter's allday. According to levels. Mila (189-2) is to

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

covered by the same car. She added,

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a

The reportnng is a bit more than 1000

in a separate car. It could have been a
A THEATRICAL SPECTACLE THAT HAS CHARMED THE CRITICS FOR YEARS!

"A WITTY TALE OF TERROR"—Edgar Allen Poe

"THIS IS THE PLAY THAT PUT SEX IN THE THEATER"—Linda Lovelringe

"IF YOU LOVED EQUUS, YOU'LL GO TO PIECES OVER THE BAKKHAI!"—Sweeney Todd

SUNY budget

"Cheating: truth or consequences"

Chessmen tie

University Theater presents THE BAKKHAI by Euripides

University, Albany, N.Y.
Hedged vets

Many state and federal sources had previously off-handedly reported that the 1975 draft lottery was to be used only for Vietnam. The lottery was used to select draftees, with each number being drawn in a random process. Those who had higher numbers were more likely to be selected for military service. However, the lottery was controversial and was eventually replaced by a draft lottery in 1977.

Tom Miller, a draft resister, had been measured for Selective Service in 1967. He was the son of a military man and had always been anti-war. He had joined the Peace Corps and had spent time in the Peace Corps before being drafted. He was 22 years old and had just graduated from college.

Marxism and reality

With domestic turmoil producing the return of nationalism and politics, many in the world have looked to Marxism as a solution. The United States and the Soviet Union are two countries that have embraced Marxism, but in different ways. The United States has used Marxism as a tool to promote economic equality, while the Soviet Union has used it as a tool to promote political equality.

Robert Martiniano

For many, Marxism is a confusing and confusing political theory. It was developed by Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels in the 19th century. The theory is based on the idea that the state is an instrument of the ruling class, which is perpetuated through the ownership and control of the means of production. Marxism advocates for the overthrow of the capitalist system and the establishment of a classless society, in which the state would wither away.

Fouler Fowler

In the current political climate, one that is characterized by a rise in nationalism and populism, Marxism offers a way to challenge the status quo. It provides a framework for understanding how power is exercised and how societies are organized. It also offers a way to challenge the idea of a "natural" or "universal" state, and to question the legitimacy of states that claim to represent the interests of the people.

Column

The collapse of the Soviet Union and the end of communism have led to a re-evaluation of Marxism. Some have seen Marxism as a failure, while others have seen it as a necessary part of human history. The question of what comes next remains open, and different theories and approaches continue to be explored.
Editor's Aspect

There are times in life when I want to talk, when I want to communicate, and then I speak and the utterance is totally meaningless and foolish. I keep talking because I want to verify what I just said, explain myself and make sense. The more I talk the worse it gets, probably because I never should have opened my mouth in the first place. Then I feel even more absurd because I know everyone around me perceives my discomfort with myself and my agony at being seen. Then I feel even more miserable because I really don't think it is bad being seen; but it's unsettling to be vulnerable and place yourself as open target.

At times like that I still look for some certainty, some unexplainable energy to surround me and comfort me in the incredible abyss that already is. I search for answers in everything: books, art, music, or any type of escape I can lay my hands on. Sometimes I think I have found an answer, and for a moment I feel secure and comfortable and happy, then something new comes up to haunt me and the ephemeral mood is shattered and displaced. The same books, etc., somehow lose their "special" meanings and refuse to mold themselves into the brand new "realizations" I have spun myself into. Then I wish to understand how to keep silent, how to forget (or remember), how to listen, how to disappear, how to remain and understand, apprehensively. Somehow in this emotional mess I have come to the conclusion (today) that if you can let yourself really, truly be seen to at least someone, and have them still care about you and help you to feel comfortable about what they "see," it can be the most beautiful experience. It is so goddamn rare to find it, hold on to it; it is worth everything. (To be perfectly frank, I'm amazed friends are still around... thank-you)

In any case, we worked hard to do the best we could with Aspects this week. I feel very proud about some of the stupendous writing; whatever you do, don't miss Hubert's article - it is truly phenomenal.

Debbie Millman

Inside...

4a-5a: Perspectives:
Mr. H.K.-D. at his best and Carter presents a perspective on beauty
The Voices of Albany ring loud and clear

6a-7a: Centerfold:
Guess who is going to dinner!
Boomer dines out in elegance and taste

8a-10a: Sound & Vision:
B.O.'B. explores Gabriel's mind in an extra-special, live interview,
Damian gets caught in a Roche-trap, Metin Fripp's out, and Schneider double doses with Petty and Fagen

12a: Endgame:
WCDB's Top Twenty, Zhe Pudz come to some painful realizations, and of course, Spectrum...

Central Scrutinizer
Joe's Garage act 1
Zappa

Word On A Wing

He may live without books - What is knowledge but grieving?
He may live with hope - what is hope but deceiving?
He may live without love - what is passion but pining?
But where is the man that can live without dining

Owen Meredith, Lucile, I
I would gladly pay you Tuesday for a hamburger today.

Wimpy

Joe gets seduced by a girl who works at the Jack-In-The-Box, named Lucille, who gives him an unpronounceable disease...

Central Scrutinizer
Joe's Garage act 1
Zappa
Not Just Another Pretty Face

B

My girl's gone and she don't care at all
Excuse me but I need your chemistry

A.G. Carter

To Geoffrey, My Brother

D.S.R.

Life is change. Even the Himalayas are changing, it will change by itself, and you will see that it is changing—dissipating and going away, and feel unburdened and you have done nothing.

Hubert-Kenneth Pickley

To Geoffrey, My Brother

I

Dove Tell

Dessert Time

Because, after all, women are not judged by their appearance. Women, not intellect, acumen, athletic prowess, or financial assets. Women may be judged on their intelligence, business acumen, athletic prowess, or financial assets.

Voices Of Albany

Sesame Street and the Wigwam. People, wandering through the exhibits are surprised at their enjoyment of the event.

Reflections on Maggie or Street Seen

Ostrich, who asks what you think of the book at a symposium on the book. As a result, the book becomes a bestseller. But what do you think of the book? As a result, the book becomes a bestseller.

Rubber Nipple Boy

Children, the book becomes a bestseller. But what do you think of the book? As a result, the book becomes a bestseller.
Another pleasant advantage of Diners is that the person who serves you isn’t forced to say “Thank you, have a nice day, come back again,” like a bored actor reading from a script.

In the meantime, the diner’s friend, the late night drinking bunch, your kind of people. While there is a pocket of design consultants in an attempt to group diner goers into a number of categories, as this theory is early in its form, it will appeal to be deep in thought but will not want to show it. They may lie about their reasons for being there. The diner may also be a refuge for some of the older drinking bunch who don’t want to seek out a night club or bar. This is a type of people who know the restaurant staff which is packed up during the day. They come for a cup of coffee or tea, to read their newspaper, perhaps have a beer or two. They may be the last customers before the restaurant closes. They generally don’t order more than one or two things, and always leave the restaurant empty-handed. They have their reasons for being there, and they are willing to share them with you. They are interested in the town, in the people, in the food. They are interested in the diner, as it is a part of their town. They are interested in the town because it is a part of their life. They come to the diner to escape the problems of the day. They may look for a place to sit, to think, to read, to smoke. They may be the last people to leave the town, and they are leaving because they have had enough of the day. They are interested in the diner, as it is a part of their life. They come to the diner to escape the problems of the day. They may look for a place to sit, to think, to read, to smoke. They may be the last people to leave the town, and they are leaving because they have had enough of the day.
The Rhythm And The Rhyme

An Exclusive Interview
With Peter Gabriel

I've long been a fan of Peter Gabriel's music and was thrilled to have the opportunity to interview him for this edition of "Rolling Stone." The way he approaches songwriting and the themes he explores in his music have always been inspiring to me.

Gabriel's music is often characterized by its focus on social and political issues. He has been active in a number of causes and has used his music as a platform to raise awareness about important topics.

I asked Gabriel about his upcoming tour and his plans for future projects. He mentioned that he is currently working on a new album that will be released later this year. He also talked about his collaboration with other artists and the influence of the music industry on his work.

Overall, it was a great interview and I was happy to see that Gabriel is still pushing the boundaries of what music can be and how it can be used to promote change and awareness. I look forward to hearing more from him and his music in the future.

Bob O'Brien

The Roches Keep On Doing

The Roches are a folk-rock duo consisting of two sisters, crest, and Terri, who have been performing together since the 1970s. Their music is characterized by its simplicity and beauty, with a focus on melody and harmony.

In this edition of "Rolling Stone," I had the opportunity to interview the Roches about their latest album and their approach to music. They discussed their musical influences and the role that poetry and literature have played in their work.

I asked the Roches about their upcoming tour and their plans for future projects. They mentioned that they are currently working on a new album and are excited about the possibility of touring again in the future.

The Roches are known for their powerful and emotive vocals, as well as their captivating arrangements and musicality. I look forward to hearing more from them and seeing their music continue to evolve and grow.

Liz Smith

Riff And Summers Advance Together

Riff And Summers are an indie rock band from Brooklyn, New York. They have been making music together for several years and have gained a following for their unique sound and dynamic stage presence.

In this edition of "Rolling Stone," I had the opportunity to interview Riff And Summers about their latest album and their approach to music. They discussed their musical influences and the role that collaboration has played in their work.

I asked Riff And Summers about their upcoming tour and their plans for future projects. They mentioned that they are currently working on a new album and are excited about the possibility of touring again in the future.

Riff And Summers are known for their captivating sound and their ability to move audiences. I look forward to hearing more from them and seeing their music continue to evolve and grow.

Liz Smith

The Lamb

The Lamb is a poetry collection by Elizabeth Bishop, first published in 1946. It is a collection of 34 poems that explore themes of love, loss, and nature.

In this edition of "Rolling Stone," I had the opportunity to interview Elizabeth Bishop about her writing process and the inspiration behind her work. She discussed her relationship with poetry and the role that it has played in her life.

I asked Elizabeth Bishop about her upcoming tour and her plans for future projects. She mentioned that she is currently working on a new collection of poems and is excited about the possibility of sharing her work with a wider audience.

Elizabeth Bishop is known for her precise and evocative language, as well as her ability to convey complex emotions and ideas through her poetry. I look forward to hearing more from her and seeing her work continue to inspire and move generations.

Liz Smith

Keep On Doing is about that exactly - barrelling on boldly or meekly (but still moving) in the stark face of diversity. The beauty of the Roches' lyrics is that the 'enemy' isn't really an 'enemy' - it's either a stranger or ourselves that hold us back.

Bob O'Brien

End View
Steely Dan fans weren't pushy and loud. Pelty's fated legal troubles began. His sound like Steely Dan's would sound awful at this time. For a while he played in the New Orleans area, but he was free to play as he pleased. If he wanted to play the middle two spots in the lineup, he could do so. Opening the show were Steely Dan's Robby Krieger, who was also their keyboardist, and Tom Petty, who was then the lead singer for his own band.

Pelty wisely followed this example and recorded his first solo album, "The Last Heartbreakers." This album was well-received by both critics and fans. With all this success, Fagen has become a solo artist. He has recorded several albums on his own, including "The Nightly," which was released in 1978. In addition, he has worked with other musicians, including instrumentalist Robby Krieger and singer-songwriter Tom Petty.

Many of Pelty's songs have become popular hits, including "Ain't No Sunshine," "It's Not Over," and "Breakdown." His music has a distinctive style that is often described as '70s rock. Pelty's band, Petty and the Heartbreakers, have been a popular rock band for many years.

Petty, who has been blessed with both a strong voice and a reputation as a hard worker, has recorded several solo albums. His first solo effort, "The Last Heartbreakers," was released in 1977. This album included two hit singles, "Ain't No Sunshine" and "It's Not Over." These songs helped establish Petty as a solo artist, and they remain some of his most popular songs to this day.

Petty's second solo album, "After Dark," was released in 1979. This album featured a more polished sound than Petty's previous albums. The lead single, "I'm Gonna Be Me," was a hit, and it helped establish Petty as a serious rock star.

Petty's third solo album, "Breakdown," was released in 1981. This album featured a more country-influenced sound, and it included the hit single "Don't Bring Me Down." This album was a huge success, and it巩固了Petty的明星地位.

Petty's fourth solo album, "Let Me Up," was released in 1982. This album featured a more pop-influenced sound, and it included the hit single "I'm Gonna Be Me." This album was another huge success, and it helped establish Petty as a pop star.

Overall, Petty has had a successful career as a solo artist. He has released several albums that have been well-received by both critics and fans. His music has a distinctive style that is often described as '70s rock, and he has continued to record and perform as a solo artist to this day.
Spectrum

music

Great & Joe Cafe 200-0040
The Bony 777-7777
The Blue Note 777-7777
Parl's 777-7777
The Blue Note 777-7777
Lark Tavern 500-5000
The Cavern 777-7777
Madison Square 777-7777
The Cavern 777-7777
914 Lark St 777-7777
The Cave at 914 Lark 777-7777
Music City 777-7777
The Cavern 777-7777
The Cavern 777-7777
The Cavern 777-7777
288 Lark St 777-7777
The Cavern 777-7777
12, 13 —Lome Munroe, cellist
11-13 —FreeFall
16) Stray Cats
The Days of
13) The Jam "The Bitterest Pill"
12) Peter Gabriel "Security" valor
10) Bruce Springsteen "Mine"
9) The Smiths " Stück"
8) The Farm "Shine"
7) The B-52s "Champagne Supernova"
6) The Jam "Myth"
5) The Beatles "A Day in the Life"
4) The Rolling Stones "Paint It Black"
3) The Doors "L.A. Woman"
2) The Byrds "Turn! Turn! Turn!"
1) The Beatles "A Hard Day's Night"

Coalition's regret

To the Editor:

The Coalition regrets that our efforts to change the course of history were not successful. The struggle for freedom continues, but we are committed to fighting until victory is ours. We must remember that the principles upon which our movement was founded are as relevant today as they were when we first began. The Coalition stands strong, and we will not be deterred from our mission. We must carry on in honor of the brave souls who gave their lives for our cause.

Apoloogy to Manley

To the Editor:

I am writing to apologize to Mr. Manley for any harm that may have been caused by my actions. I understand that my words were not appropriate and I deeply regret them. I hope Mr. Manley can forgive me and that we can work together towards a better future.

Women on the ball

To the Editor:

I would like to congratulate the women who participated in the AMIA softball tournament. Despite the challenges they faced, they demonstrated remarkable strength and resilience. Their success is a testament to the power of teamwork and the spirit of sportsmanship. I am proud of them and hope that they continue to excel in their future endeavors.

LS

NYPIRG strikes back

To the Editor:

NYPIRG is the organization responsible for advocating for consumer rights. We have been fighting for years to protect the rights of consumers, and we are committed to continuing our work. We will not be silenced by those who seek to undermine our efforts. NYPIRG will fight on, and we invite everyone to join us in our mission.

The Editors of TANGENT thank all those who have submitted their work. Because of special circumstances we are able to EXTEND OUR DEADLINE TO MONDAY NOON.

Please use the Tangent Mailbox or the Humanities Lounge box.

ARTISTS — THIS MEANS YOU TOO!
UNIVERSITY CINEMAS
PRESENTS
Friday, Saturday Nov. 12, 13
Cine I LC 7
Cine II LC 18
TAPS
7:30 and 10:00
$1.50 w/tax card
$2.00 w/out
Coming Soon ANIMAL HOUSE
SA FUNDED
Meet Jewish Students! from the Tri-City Area at JSC-Hills

Saturday, Nov. 13th-9:00
Dutch U-Lounge
$1.50 - $1.75 member
$2.00 - with tax
$2.50 - with out

PINE HILLS PIZZERIA
Formerly Westmore Pizzeria
289 Ontario St.

3rd Annual 42nd St. Party
Come Get Streetwise

Friday Nov. 12 9-2pm
State Quad Flagroom
Beer-Soda-Munchies
Midnight Dance Contest

WIRA is stepping out of the intramural shadow

By Mary Sroka

The Albany State women's marching band is on the rise for the 1983 football season. Although only seven members of the band have marched before, the band is expected to have a full squad. The band will perform at parades and at football games. The band is also planning to perform at the Albany State Festival on Sep. 24. The band is looking for new members. Anyone interested should contact the band at the University Center Assembly Hall.

How Much Is A ½ Ct. Diamond Ring?
$900 - $1,100 - $1,300

The answer depends on much more than the weight of the diamond. Prices vary with factors such as clarity and color, but prices could be more for diamonds even in the $500-700 range. Let me know what you're looking for and I'll help you find the best deal.

Dane grapplers journey to prestigious Syracuse Open

By Chris D'Alberto

The Albany State men's wrestling team is on the rise for the 1983 football season. Although only seven members of the band have marched before, the band is expected to have a full squad. The band will perform at parades and at football games. The band is also planning to perform at the Albany State Festival on Sep. 24. The band is looking for new members. Anyone interested should contact the band at the University Center Assembly Hall.

How Much Is A ½ Ct. Diamond Ring?
$900 - $1,100 - $1,300

The answer depends on much more than the weight of the diamond. Prices vary with factors such as clarity and color, but prices could be more for diamonds even in the $500-700 range. Let me know what you're looking for and I'll help you find the best deal.

Dane grapplers journey to prestigious Syracuse Open

By Chris D'Alberto

The Albany State men's wrestling team is on the rise for the 1983 football season. Although only seven members of the band have marched before, the band is expected to have a full squad. The band will perform at parades and at football games. The band is also planning to perform at the Albany State Festival on Sep. 24. The band is looking for new members. Anyone interested should contact the band at the University Center Assembly Hall.

How Much Is A ½ Ct. Diamond Ring?
$900 - $1,100 - $1,300

The answer depends on much more than the weight of the diamond. Prices vary with factors such as clarity and color, but prices could be more for diamonds even in the $500-700 range. Let me know what you're looking for and I'll help you find the best deal.
Danes ready for Red Fox hunt in season finale

By Marc Hauger

The NCAA men's basketball season begins in earnest tonight, and few teams could be more excited about the prospect than the University of Rhode Island Rams. URI is one of the teams that have been favored to win the Northeast Conference this season, and they'll be looking to continue their hot streak during the regular season.

URI has a balanced team that's capable of scoring in a variety of ways. They have a group of experienced players who can handle the ball and distribute it to one another, and they also have a few young players who are capable of stepping up and making big plays.

The Rams have a strong defense that's capable of holding their opponents to low scores. They have a group of players who are skilled at defending the basket and preventing opposing teams from getting easy shots.

URI is playing a tough schedule early in the season that will test their mettle. They'll face several teams that are ranked in the top 25, and they'll have to be at their best if they want to come out on top.

The Rams are looking forward to the challenge of playing against some of the top teams in the country. They're confident in their abilities and are ready to take on anyone who comes their way.

As the season progresses, URI will be looking to improve their record and maintain their place as one of the top teams in the Northeast Conference. They'll be working hard to stay focused and play their best every game.

No matter what happens, URI fans will be cheering them on all the way. They'll be there to support their team and help them achieve their goals.

Excitement and drama of NCAA begins soon

By Bill Fischer

The college basketball season is just around the corner, and the excitement and drama of the NCAA tournament is sure to be just as thrilling as ever. With teams from across the country vying for a spot in the Final Four, it's sure to be an unforgettable experience for fans everywhere.

The NCAA tournament is always filled with surprises and upsets, and there's almost always at least one team that comes out of nowhere to make a deep run. This year, there are sure to be a few teams that will surprise everyone and make a name for themselves.

The tournament will also be filled with heartwarming stories of success and perseverance. There are always a few teams that are fighting for a spot in the Final Four, and it's sure to be an emotional experience for fans to see them achieve their goals.

As the tournament unfolds, there will be moments of pure thrill and excitement that will leave fans breathless. From last-second shots to dominating performances, there's almost always something to cheer about during the NCAA tournament.

With the excitement and drama of the NCAA tournament just around the corner, fans are sure to be on the edge of their seats. There's no telling what will happen during the tournament, but one thing is for sure: it's sure to be an unforgettable experience for everyone who follows college basketball.