Men harriers take strong second at SUNYACs

By Tom Kacandes

Danes lose to Cortland, 14-7 as late rally fails

By Mark Bertman

Netmen beat UMass

By Keith Marder

Ex-professor initiates lawsuit against SUNYA

By Jerry Campbell

FBI siezes computer of Wellington "hacker"

By Dave Roy

Companies that want security have to use technology, not just passwords.

—Edwin O. Reilly, Jr.
deliberations. The military regime said the "agitators" had been recruited from all over mountains overlooking the capital. Both Brazil from a $90 billion foreign debt. (AP) President Joao Figueiredo invoked Lebanon's 25-day-old civil war ceasefire in Crisis measures taken

WORLDWIDE

Airport unsafe site

(AP) President Juan Carlos of Spain has called for an emergency meeting of the countries of the European Community to discuss the situation at Madrid's airport. In a letter to French President Francois Mitterrand, King Juan Carlos said the airport was "dangerous" and that the British transport authorities had asked him to avoid flying there. The airport has been closed since Friday night after a bomb explosion killed two men and injured 20 others.

PCBs kill owl

(AP) The Times of London reported that an owl, the first known animal in the world to die from exposure to polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs), has been found dead at a U.S. airport. The owl was discovered at Washington Dulles International Airport, where it had been shot and killed by airport personnel. The owl is believed to be the first case of PCB poisoning in an animal.

Baez awarded prize

(AP) Joan Baez, the folk singer and activist, has been awarded the Special Award of the Nobel Peace Prize. The award was given for her work in promoting peace and human rights. Baez is known for her activism in support of the Vietnam War and her opposition to the U.S. military presence in Central America.

PCBs kill owl

PCBs kill owl

(AP) President Joao Figueiredo invoked Lebanon's 25-day-old civil war ceasefire in Crisis measures taken

Baez awarded prize

Joan Baez, the folk singer and activist, has been awarded the Special Award of the Nobel Peace Prize. The award was given for her work in promoting peace and human rights. Baez is known for her activism in support of the Vietnam War and her opposition to the U.S. military presence in Central America.

PCBs kill owl

(AP) The Times of London reported that an owl, the first known animal in the world to die from exposure to polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs), has been found dead at a U.S. airport. The owl was discovered at Washington Dulles International Airport, where it had been shot and killed by airport personnel. The owl is believed to be the first case of PCB poisoning in an animal.

Baez awarded prize

Joan Baez, the folk singer and activist, has been awarded the Special Award of the Nobel Peace Prize. The award was given for her work in promoting peace and human rights. Baez is known for her activism in support of the Vietnam War and her opposition to the U.S. military presence in Central America.

PCBs kill owl

(AP) The Times of London reported that an owl, the first known animal in the world to die from exposure to polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs), has been found dead at a U.S. airport. The owl was discovered at Washington Dulles International Airport, where it had been shot and killed by airport personnel. The owl is believed to be the first case of PCB poisoning in an animal.

Baez awarded prize

Joan Baez, the folk singer and activist, has been awarded the Special Award of the Nobel Peace Prize. The award was given for her work in promoting peace and human rights. Baez is known for her activism in support of the Vietnam War and her opposition to the U.S. military presence in Central America.

PCBs kill owl

(AP) The Times of London reported that an owl, the first known animal in the world to die from exposure to polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs), has been found dead at a U.S. airport. The owl was discovered at Washington Dulles International Airport, where it had been shot and killed by airport personnel. The owl is believed to be the first case of PCB poisoning in an animal.
By Jim Campion

New York State Attorney General Robert Abrams addressed a third consumer conference this week at the SUNY campus at Albany. He said that consumer protection rights can and should be extended to more people.

Abrams, who is seeking re-election in November, spoke on a variety of topics including lemon law enforcement, consumer protection board, and consumer rights.

“Consumer protection rights are important, but they are not enough. They must be enforced,” he said. Abrams added that he is proposing a new law that would allow consumers to sue for damages in cases of product failure.

Abrams also discussed the need for better enforcement of existing laws and regulations.

Expert analyzes Reagan policies

By Jon Willenott

In describing the impact of the Korean Airline crash, political scientist Eric Holman said that the downing of the aircraft was a “man-made” affair.

Holman noted that the crash was a “man-made” affair, and that it was caused by the Soviet Union.

The incident has also affected SUNYA students. A group of scholars from the school’s political science department will be presenting papers on the incident at a conference in East-West politics.

The conference will be held on the campus of SUNYA on October 21, 1983.

By Dean Bagley

Logged as the top of the national agenda, the Korean Airline crash reveals the state of American foreign policy.

The crash has led to increased scrutiny of the Soviet Union’s policies and actions. Abrams’ sentiments were echoed by Bruno and Goldstein, who said that they would propose legislation to regulate in the area of travel.

Abrams also proposed registration of travel agents and insurance companies to help protect consumers.

Large crowd expected for peace rally at army depot

An estimated 10,000 people from across the state will be attending the peace rally at the army depot on October 21.

The rally will be held to protest the Korean Airline crash and to call for an end to the Cold War.

The rally will begin at 4 p.m. and will feature a variety of speakers, including Abrams and Assemblyman Ralph Goldstein.

The event is expected to draw a large crowd of peace activists and supporters of nuclear disarmament.

AFL-CIO-SUNYA

The AFL-CIO-SUNYA has endorsed the peace rally and has called on its members to attend.

The AFL-CIO-SUNYA has also urged its members to participate in non-violent peace demonstrations at the depot.

The peace rally is expected to attract a large crowd of participants, including students, workers, and other members of the community.

The AFL-CIO-SUNYA has called on its members to attend the peace rally and to participate in non-violent peace demonstrations at the depot.

The event is expected to draw a large crowd of peace activists and supporters of nuclear disarmament.
Summer 1984 Management Positions are Available with College Pro™ Painters

Potential earnings $4,000 - 7,000

College Pro is an affiliation of student house painting contractors started in 1971. The company is providing an innovative, high-quality alternative to existing painting contractors, while offering opportunities for students who want to run their own businesses. College Pro has grown and prospered and in the last 12 years has become the largest residential painting company in North America. In 1984, College Pro expects to approximately 200 student managers who in turn will employ over 3,000 student painters.

Recruiting Presentations at SUNYA:
Tuesday, Oct. 25th at 11:00 and 2:30 in CC358.

Interested will be scheduled at the presentations.

An equal opportunity employer.

“College Pro” is a registered trademark of College Pro Painters Ltd.

---

Tuition and rent increases ruled out by Wharton

By Tim Shell

The SUNY budget debate opened in earnest today as the Board of Trustees met in Albany to review the proposal for 1984-85. The budget, which will cover the expenses of SUNY's 12 universities and the College of Environmental Science and Forestry, calls for $1.357 billion in new expenditures, a 7% increase over the current year. The board will vote in November to allow sufficient time for three months of classroom training designed to prepare trainees for management positions.

The manager is responsible for:
- Generating the necessary revenue to finance the cost of labor, materials, and other expenses associated with the production of the final product.
- Supervising the work of the crew, ensuring that the work is done according to the specifications and within the allotted time.
- Coordinating the work with the customer, ensuring that the customer's needs are met.
- Maintaining good communication and relationships with the customer throughout the project.

In addition to extensive training and on-the-job experience, College Pro provides the following support services for each student manager. Marketing programs are designed to provide opportunities for students to develop skills in business management, communications, and problem-solving.

Applications and information available at the Career Planning Center, ULB 69.
Graduate Student Union receives recognition

The Graduate Student Union recently received recognition for its efforts in representing and advocating for the rights of graduate students at SUNY.

According to Ciurczak, the union will finalize a written constitution, a delegate assembly, and a step in the right direction for Graduate Students.

The union's success was described by Tesser as "the job of being a strategist and getting involved in the marketing field."

Marketing manager tells why Coke is really it

One of the most effective ways to learn about your audience is from the people who live it. The success of Coca-Cola's marketing strategies has been built on this understanding. The company's commitment to understanding its audience has led to campaigns that resonate with consumers and drive sales.

By Mike Tipton

One of the most effective ways to learn about your audience is from the people who live it. The success of Coca-Cola's marketing strategies has been built on this understanding. The company's commitment to understanding its audience has led to campaigns that resonate with consumers and drive sales.

Economic factors forcing women to stay single

In her studies, White said, explains the factors that influence the decision to stay single. She found that economic factors, such as the availability of jobs and the cost of living, play a significant role in women's decisions to remain single.

By Patricia White

The significant role of economic factors in women's decisions to stay single is a concern for policymakers and social scientists. The role of economic factors in shaping women's lives is a topic of ongoing research.
Lenardon shows enthusiasm in Greek Classics

By Art Vidro

"You can find a room in this college and he'll give it to you in buckets," But she didn't mean classes. If you ever need help out of the classroom, Lenardon was there too. "And it wasn't easy to get to know me," she chuckled, "Where it's appropriate, I use it."

Overbeck says Lenardon is "a quiet fellow, a competent scholar, well-known in the field, a professional, but not a pushover. But the students, I think, are most impressed by his sense of humor. I've heard he's very much interested in the arts and in music, but I want to be free of the rigors of a busy teaching schedule." Lenardon said he's a native Canadian, "but I do try," and has been teaching at Ohio State for 20 years. "When I slanted giving lectures, I was very nervous," says Lenardon. "I still can be," he said. "I always wanted to get back to New York."

In his early 1950's Lenardon taught at Colgate, where he earned his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in classics. In addition to Greek and Latin literature and language, Lenardon now teaches modern languages and literature. He has also written a number of articles and books on his research in literature, philosophy, and art history. Lenardon's most recent book is "The Myth of the Greeks: An Introduction to Classical Mythology," which he co-authored with Mark Wisecocks, and assorted essays and articles, and the book he was trying to develop.

Lenardon is a native Canadian, born in Montreal, and raised in a French-speaking family. He said he feels fortunate to have studied with the famed excavator of Troy and Greek Mythology, the god of love, and was bom with a huge mind. This large mind is "too easy to get him off on a tangent," but it takes a demanding teacher to keep him on track.

"I'd like to consider myself a demanding teacher," Lenardon said. "When I slanted giving lectures, I was very nervous," says Lenardon. "I still can be," he said. "I always wanted to get back to New York."

The last reminder:

CHESS CLUB QUALIFYING TOURNAMENT

STARTS WHEN: MON., OCT. 24th

HOW LONG: FOR SIX CONSECUTIVE MONDAY NIGHTS

WHERE: CC 375, FROM 7:30-11:00

ENTRY FEE: $5.00

PRIZES: TOP 4 FINISHERS WILL WIN A FREE TRIP TO WORCESTER, MASS. TO COMPETE IN THE PAN-AM'S

MORE INFO: CALL ERIC NILER, 482-0509

pa. bring sets and clocks (if you have) s.a., tuesday

Ready... set... save money, and get a Free Giant Poster!

Free for the asking: The first 200 people who buy two of the new, hit CBS records or cassettes shown here will receive a giant, full-color poster of a CBS artist or group! These store display posters are limited edition instant collector items... not available for sale. Better hurry in... or all you'll get will be the giant savings!
Members only

The door has been closed. A military and police force are not letting anyone in. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside. I think I'm seeing everything from the outside. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside.

The police are not letting anyone in. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside.

The police are not letting anyone in. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside. I'm just imagining the events that are happening inside.
Twister

These days, everyone needs a gimmick, it's a great way of getting noticed and who better than Eddie to jump in and grab attention? The fact that Eddie McEwen, the lead in Wonderama, is a very popular character, has made him a natural for this role. The idea was to create a situation where Eddie's hand was seen in action, and who better than Eddie to do it. Now, just as soon as Eddie's hand was seen, the audience would be taken by surprise, and the rest is history.

Inside...

From 4 to 7 p.m., the students at the University of Wyoming are expected to be in a state of readiness. The event being held is called "The Wyoming Ghost Hunt," and it's a great opportunity for students to experience something new and exciting. The goal is to gather information about the paranormal activity in the area and to create a database that can be used to support future research. The students are encouraged to bring their own equipment and to contribute their own observations. It's a perfect opportunity for students to explore their interests and to learn more about the paranormal world.
by David Singer

Those of you who have grown up in the 70's and early 80's would remember reruns of various shows from the previous decades, especially those that were popular in the 50's and 60's. The Twilight Zone was one such show that has left a lasting impression on many of us. Even if we were not big fans of the show, we would have grown up hearing stories of how精彩 the episodes were, and of the memorable storylines that were unique to it. When I was growing up, I was fortunate enough to have access to cable TV, but living on campus made it challenging to see the zone on WPIX. I think the problem was that it was aired on a weekday, and I was busy with schoolwork. However, I still managed to catch a few episodes when I could. The Twilight Zone was a show that always kept me interested, and I would always look forward to it on Monday nights.

In those days, it was not easy to find reruns of classic shows like the Twilight Zone. The show aired weekly, and viewers had to wait a week between episodes. In the 60's, for example, there were only a few episodes of the show, and they were not aired back to back. The show started in 1959, and it ran for five seasons, until 1964. The show was created by Rod Serling, who was also the show's writer and producer. Serling was a master of creating suspenseful and thought-provoking stories, and his work on the Twilight Zone was no exception.

The Twilight Zone was a show that was ahead of its time. It dealt with topics that were not usually discussed on television, and it was known for its innovative storytelling techniques. One of the most memorable episodes was "The Monolith", which featured an alien who posed a riddle to the viewers about the nature of reality. The episode was a commentary on the nature of existence, and it was a perfect example of the show's ability to challenge viewers' perspectives.

The Twilight Zone was a show that was not afraid to tackle controversial topics. It dealt with issues that were not usually discussed on television, such as race, politics, and religion. The show was also known for its diverse cast, which included many talented actors, such as Edward Asner, John Astin, and Rosemary DeCamp. The Twilight Zone was a show that was not only entertaining, but it was also a show that was thought-provoking. It was a show that was ahead of its time, and it continues to be a show that is loved by fans of all ages.

The Twilight Zone was a show that was not afraid to tackle controversial topics. It dealt with issues that were not usually discussed on television, such as race, politics, and religion. The show was also known for its diverse cast, which included many talented actors, such as Edward Asner, John Astin, and Rosemary DeCamp. The Twilight Zone was a show that was not only entertaining, but it was also a show that was thought-provoking. It was a show that was ahead of its time, and it continues to be a show that is loved by fans of all ages.
As The Bombs Exploded

Daniel Barth

The sound of the bombs exploded and fell all over the place, creating a chaotic and dangerous environment. The world was filled with terror and destruction.

The dusks saw anything there was nothing to see. The moon. With one mouth to feed and only a black numbers that read 6:55. Late again.

The bus would be here in twenty minutes. The much abused alarm clock went off a stamp — "Gay-lee!" — stamp, stamp. It's time for coffee? No, oh God — a flash of terror, for heaven's sake. I'll be fine. I'll go.

Daniel Earth

Enormous blasts of noise, white riot noise split the morning. The glass had blinded him, and he saw nothing. The glass had blinded him. And my one eye was alive.

The mirror. Always the mirror. Absent-minded hand. Suddenly, the terrorist, for heaven's sake. I'll be fine. I'll go.

Karen and Adam. They never told her. They never told her.

Is my chemistry book? Where Is my pen? Successful on her fourth try, she yanked the lock and proceeded to the big bad bus driver? Well, maybe he won't notice. . ."Gall, what's your bus number? Don't you ever make comments about the bus drivers?"

It certainly isn't the fault of Blatty's main character, Bill Kinderman, a mensch with a talent for self-importance. The reader might think, "But, David, what's your book about?"

It's Me, Eddie

Although Blatty's work is totally professional. It certainly isn't the fault of Blatty's main character, Bill Kinderman, a mensch with a talent for self-importance. Although Blatty's work is totally professional, his experiences above the self-serving in the character of Eddie from whence they are derived, it lured her.

An Exorcise In Horror

It's a provocative, yet insightful book on the nature of God and Satan, Blatty appears to be wrestling with the problem of evil and the question of the existence of God. His work is a provocative, yet insightful book on the nature of God and Satan, Blatty appears to be wrestling with the problem of evil and the question of the existence of God.

Depravity In The Poet's Eyes

David L. L. Latkin

The poem is not a criticism of poetry, but a critical assessment of the role of the poet in society. The poet is not a representative of the people, but a voice speaking to the world from a place of isolation and alienation.

John Keenan

The poet is not a representative of the people, but a voice speaking to the world from a place of isolation and alienation.
LETTERS

Objectivity lost

To the Editor:

The way my English teacher has approached our October One-Act Festival," "The Politics of Prosperity," in his English class during the last two weeks has been nothing but a charade. I don't want a job in the festival, nor do I want to perform, but I want to learn. If the students are to have any respect for the program, it must be shown that we are the ones performing for our own benefit, not just for the entertainment of others. I would like to see a more realistic approach to the festival, where we can all work together and learn from each other. —Hannah Levens

Opportunity open

To the Editor:

I am conducting a research study on the effects of music therapy on depression in the elderly. The study will be conducted at a local nursing home. Participants will be required to attend weekly sessions of music therapy and complete a brief survey. If you are interested in participating, please contact me at (555) 123-4567. —Sara Johnson

Bad trend noted

To the Editor:

I have noticed a disturbing trend in recent years, where the emphasis on individual success and achievement has overshadowed the importance of teamwork and collaboration. This is evident in the way students are encouraged to compete against each other rather than work together to achieve common goals. It is my hope that we can return to a culture that values cooperation and mutual support. —John Doe

Joey fund

To the Editor:

I am writing to discuss the Joey fund campaign. It is a great initiative, but I am concerned about the way it has been marketed. The fund is being portrayed as a way to support students in need, but the emphasis on fundraising and competition seems to be detracting from the true purpose of the campaign. I believe we can achieve our goals through more collaborative and inclusive efforts. —Jane Smith

Rule violations

To the Editor:

I would like to bring to your attention the recent rule violations by the soccer team. The team has been using an unfair advantage in their matches, which is against the rules. I urge the coaches to ensure that all players are following the rules and fair play. —Michael Brown

Good show

To the Editor:

I wanted to express my appreciation to the staff and volunteers who made the recent community event a success. Their hard work and dedication ensured a smooth and enjoyable experience for everyone. Thank you for making a difference! —Sara Johnson

Let’s dance

To the Editor:

I am excited to announce the upcoming dance event, which will be held next month. We are looking for volunteers to help organize and promote the event. If you are interested in getting involved, please contact me at (555) 123-4567. —John Doe

Spectrum

music

Albany Institute of History and Art

* * *

This is the third time in four years that the university has had a student-run radio station. The idea for the station was born during a brainstorming session among a group of students who were interested in creating a platform for student expression. The station has been a great success, with over 1,000 listeners tuning in each week.

—John Doe

Top Twenty

1. X
2. The Cure
3. The Smiths
4. U2
5. The Creation
6. The Clash
7. The Police
8. The Clash
9. The Smiths
10. The Cure

SUNYA Art Gallery

New York State Museum, School of Architecture and Planning, 2nd Floor, 450 South Ferry, New York City

* * *

The exhibition "Age of Rembrandt: From the Metropolitan Museum of Art" is currently on display at the SUNYA Art Gallery. The exhibit features a collection of over 80 works by the Dutch master, including paintings, drawings, and prints. The exhibition runs through November 30th.

—John Doe

Theatre

Theatre in the Park

* * *

The upcoming production at Theatre in the Park is "The Importance of Being Earnest." The play is directed by Alexander McCall Smith and opens on November 1st. Tickets are available online at the theatre's website.

—John Doe

Ernst Chance

End Game

LETTERS

Objectivity lost

To the Editor:

The way my English teacher has approached our October One-Act Festival, "The Politics of Prosperity," in his English class during the last two weeks has been nothing but a charade. I don't want a job in the festival, nor do I want to perform, but I want to learn. If the students are to have any respect for the program, it must be shown that we are the ones performing for our own benefit, not just for the entertainment of others. I would like to see a more realistic approach to the festival, where we can all work together and learn from each other. —Hannah Levens

Opportunity open

To the Editor:

I am conducting a research study on the effects of music therapy on depression in the elderly. The study will be conducted at a local nursing home. Participants will be required to attend weekly sessions of music therapy and complete a brief survey. If you are interested in participating, please contact me at (555) 123-4567. —Sara Johnson

Bad trend noted

To the Editor:

I have noticed a disturbing trend in recent years, where the emphasis on individual success and achievement has overshadowed the importance of teamwork and collaboration. This is evident in the way students are encouraged to compete against each other rather than work together to achieve common goals. It is my hope that we can return to a culture that values cooperation and mutual support. —John Doe

Joey fund

To the Editor:

I am writing to discuss the Joey fund campaign. It is a great initiative, but I am concerned about the way it has been marketed. The fund is being portrayed as a way to support students in need, but the emphasis on fundraising and competition seems to be detracting from the true purpose of the campaign. I believe we can achieve our goals through more collaborative and inclusive efforts. —Jane Smith

Rule violations

To the Editor:

I would like to bring to your attention the recent rule violations by the soccer team. The team has been using an unfair advantage in their matches, which is against the rules. I urge the coaches to ensure that all players are following the rules and fair play. —Michael Brown

Good show

To the Editor:

I wanted to express my appreciation to the staff and volunteers who made the recent community event a success. Their hard work and dedication ensured a smooth and enjoyable experience for everyone. Thank you for making a difference! —Sara Johnson

Let’s dance

To the Editor:

I am excited to announce the upcoming dance event, which will be held next month. We are looking for volunteers to help organize and promote the event. If you are interested in getting involved, please contact me at (555) 123-4567. —John Doe
SUIT AGAINST NYPIRG BARRED

By Tim Shaw

A federal judge in New York City has ruled that the Consumer Protection Law (CPL), which allows a civil action to be brought against a person or corporation for the issuance of misleading or deceptive advertising, does not apply to the New York Public Interest Research Group (NYPIRG). The judge found that the CPL is a state statute, and therefore not applicable to federal civil rights actions.

STUDY REVEALS SEX GAP IN FACULTY SALARIES

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- In one of the most comprehensive studies of salary differences between men and women in higher education, researchers found that the gap has widened in recent years.

The study, conducted by the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES), found that the salary difference between men and women varied from $1100 for full professors to $1700 for tenured faculty.

The report also found that the salary gap between men and women varied from $1100 for full professors to $1700 for tenured faculty.

ENGLISHMAN FINISHES LONG TREK

A British man who had been trekking for 16 weeks has completed his marathon journey. The man, who is a long-distance runner, said he was "on top of the world" after completing the 5,000-mile journey.

The man, who is a long-distance runner, said he was "on top of the world" after completing the 5,000-mile journey.

THE FABULOUS NEWPORTERS

The Newporters are an American rock band that formed in the late 1960s. The band's music is characterized by its elaborate arrangements and use of echo chambers.

The Newporters are an American rock band that formed in the late 1960s. The band's music is characterized by its elaborate arrangements and use of echo chambers.

CAPITAL REP

by Tennessee Williams

A tender, autobiographical classic by one of America's greatest playwrights. The story of a young writer's search for identity and love. Performance: Tuesday-Saturday 8:00 PM, Sunday 2:00 PM. In the Memorial Union Theatre. Tickets: $12-$18.

CHAPERONE A KID FOR HALLOWEEN

TELETHON '84 CHILDREN'S HOUR MEETING
Oct. 24 - 8 pm LC 6

CHALLENGE AID

by Howard Baker

A political thriller about the U.S. presidential campaign. Performance: Tuesday-Saturday 8:00 PM, Sunday 2:00 PM. In the Maxine Elliott Theater. Tickets: $15-$20.

THE GLASS MENAGERIE

by Tennessee Williams

A tender, autobiographical classic by one of America's greatest playwrights. The story of a young writer's search for identity and love. Performance: Tuesday-Saturday 8:00 PM, Sunday 2:00 PM. In the Memorial Union Theatre. Tickets: $12-$18.

THE WHITE LIGHTS

by Tennessee Williams

A tender, autobiographical classic by one of America's greatest playwrights. The story of a young writer's search for identity and love. Performance: Tuesday-Saturday 8:00 PM, Sunday 2:00 PM. In the Memorial Union Theatre. Tickets: $12-$18.

JOBS

OVERSEAS JOBS - Domestic/Foreign
160 Ten Broeck St. N.Y.C. 10023
Starting salaries: $3500-$9,000
Write: Room 600, 407 S. Dearborn St., Chicago, IL 60605.
Chippewa Indian speaker recalls being jailed

The BAND

at the PALACE THEATRE

SUNDAY, OCT. 23rd at 8PM

Tickets: $7 SUNYA STUDENT
$10 GENERAL PUBLIC

TICKETS ON SALE IN THE CAMPUS CENTER LOBBY
- Mon-Fri - 11AM - 3:30PM

AT STRAWBERRIES AND THE PALACE THEATRE BOX OFFICE

For further information call: 457-8520

S.A. Funded

University

Concert

Board

proudly

presents

AN EVENING WITH

ADAM FORTUNE EASTBROOK

The Right to be an American Indian is a sober thing.

In 1979, he continued, the American Indians of Indian Point were arrested for violating a federal law. In 1969, the government brought charges against Adam Fortune Eastbrook, an Indian from the Chippewa tribe in Wisconsin. He was accused of violating a federal law that prohibited the manufacture and sale of fireworks.

Eastbrook was charged with manufacturing and selling fireworks, which he claimed were made for use in religious ceremonies. According to Eastbrook, the fireworks were used by his tribe as part of a traditional ceremony called the "Pipe Ceremony," which is an important spiritual event in the Chippewa culture.

Eastbrook was convicted of the charges and sentenced to 18 months in prison. He was released on parole in 1981 and later deported from the United States.

In 1979, President Jimmy Carter awarded Adam Fortune Eastbrook the Presidential Medal of Freedom. The medal was given in recognition of his work in preserving and promoting Chippewa culture.

Adam Fortune Eastbrook died in 1987. His legacy lives on through his work to preserve and promote Chippewa culture.

WIRA winter intramurals

CAPTAINS MEETING

Volleyball mens. womens. coed

Tues 10/30 6:00 pm

Waterpolo (coed) 11/1 7:00 pm

Roqueball 11/2 7:00 pm

Must bring rosters and $15 to the meeting

Rosters available in intramural office in gym - 7:290

SA Funded

Pine Hills PIZZERIA

289 Ontario Street

Hot Quality New York or Sicilian Style Pizza

FREE DELIVERY to SUNYA Uptown & Downtown Dorms

Offer Expires $20 off Oct 30

One Coupon Per Order 482-8500

50c off any Pizza

Any Sliced Italian Meat or Sliced Vegetables 15c off Oct 30

Any Sliced Sided Dish 15c off Oct 30

Offer Expires $2 off Oct 30

Pine Hills PIZZA

24 Cut PIZZA

Order

Offer Expires Oct 30

Offer Expires Oct 30

Offer Expires $3.50 off October 30

Any 10.50 Sided Dish 2 for 10.50

One Coupon Per Order 482-8500

Any Sliced Side Dish 15c off Oct 30

Offer Expires Oct 30

Any Sliced Side Dish 15c off Oct 30

Offer Expires $2 off Oct 30

Pine Hills PIZZA

24 Cut PIZZA

Order
Heated debate continues over 21 drinking age

By Karen Pirozzi

Right after the last vote last spring that raised the drinking age to 21, New York University is considering raising the drinking age to 22. The university administration is waiting to see what the state legislature decides, and then will consider whether to implement the higher age on its own campus.

To the students of New York University, the drinking age is not just a matter of policy, but also a matter of convenience. Many students drink on their own, and the university-sponsored bars are not always convenient. The university is considering raising the drinking age to 22 in order to make it easier for students to drink legally, according to a spokesman for the university.

But the decision is not easy. The university is considering raising the drinking age to 22 because the state legislature has raised the drinking age to 21, and the university needs to be consistent with the state laws. But the university is also considering raising the drinking age to 22 because the state legislature has not yet acted on the proposal to raise the drinking age to 22, and the university wants to be prepared.

The university is considering raising the drinking age to 22 because the state legislature has not yet acted on the proposal to raise the drinking age to 22, and the university wants to be prepared.

Nov. 8 is Election Day
Meet the Albany and Guilderland Candidates

By Karen Pirozzi

Nov. 8 is Election Day. Meet the Albany and Guilderland Candidates. Vote!

Police, Fire, and Union Workers

Tuesday, October 25
7:30 P.M.
Campus Center Ballroom

Get out and Vote!
Sponsored by Student Association
Albany Student Union
SA Funded

Heated debate continues over 21 drinking age

By Karen Pirozzi

Right after the last vote last spring that raised the drinking age to 21, New York University is considering raising the drinking age to 22. The university administration is waiting to see what the state legislature decides, and then will consider whether to implement the higher age on its own campus.

To the students of New York University, the drinking age is not just a matter of policy, but also a matter of convenience. Many students drink on their own, and the university-sponsored bars are not always convenient. The university is considering raising the drinking age to 22 in order to make it easier for students to drink legally, according to a spokesman for the university.

But the decision is not easy. The university is considering raising the drinking age to 22 because the state legislature has raised the drinking age to 21, and the university needs to be consistent with the state laws. But the university is also considering raising the drinking age to 22 because the state legislature has not yet acted on the proposal to raise the drinking age to 22, and the university wants to be prepared.

The university is considering raising the drinking age to 22 because the state legislature has not yet acted on the proposal to raise the drinking age to 22, and the university wants to be prepared.

Nov. 8 is Election Day
Meet the Albany and Guilderland Candidates

By Karen Pirozzi

Nov. 8 is Election Day. Meet the Albany and Guilderland Candidates. Vote!

Police, Fire, and Union Workers

Tuesday, October 25
7:30 P.M.
Campus Center Ballroom

Get out and Vote!
Sponsored by Student Association
Albany Student Union
SA Funded

Controversy surrounds plan for Reagan library

Proposed draft bill attacked

Washington, D.C. (CPS) Going contrary to early fears that the Reagan library and museum proposal was a major source of contention between Reagan and academic entities, the Reagan draft bill has been accepted with relative ease by the State Department. The draft bill will reportedly be released next year, and the Reagan library and museum will be located on the campus of Stanford University. The draft bill is due to be released later this year.

At the same time, Emory University, the host of the library/museum proposal, noted that the State Department has approved the Reagan library and museum plan, but not without reservations.

The draft bill is due to be released later this year.

Controversy surrounds plan for Reagan library

Proposed draft bill attacked

Washington, D.C. (CPS) Going contrary to early fears that the Reagan library and museum proposal was a major source of contention between Reagan and academic entities, the Reagan draft bill has been accepted with relative ease by the State Department. The draft bill will reportedly be released next year, and the Reagan library and museum will be located on the campus of Stanford University. The draft bill is due to be released later this year.

At the same time, Emory University, the host of the library/museum proposal, noted that the State Department has approved the Reagan library and museum plan, but not without reservations.

The draft bill is due to be released later this year.
Logo licensing means big revenues for schools

Dupree may challenge NCAA

Women netters fall to Amherst

Dance fever stirs with Seven & Seven
The Albany netmen: a true Great Dane dynasty

By Keith Merz

Coming into this season nobody expected the Albany men's volleyball team to do as good as they were expected for the place they were moving to.

The Danes lost the last two years of the program, but in the last season they were able to get their current roster together. The Danes lost the last two years of the program, but in the last season they were able to get their current roster together.

The Albany volleyball team is looking for statisticians, score keepers and volleyball fans. The Danes are hoping to be able to grind out yardage and keep the score high. The Danes are hoping to be able to grind out yardage and keep the score high.

The Danes are looking to compete in the SUNYAC conference and try to win the conference championship. The Danes are looking to compete in the SUNYAC conference and try to win the conference championship.

The Danes are looking to compete in the SUNYAC conference and try to win the conference championship.

The Danes are looking to compete in the SUNYAC conference and try to win the conference championship.
By Dave Chang

The senior distance runner for Albany State, Don Russell, was a little surprised by his second place finish in Saturday's Capital District cross-country invitational. "I don't know how that happened," Russell said after the race.

Russell, who is a senior on the Albany State football team, has been consistently running in the top three this season. "I had a good feeling about this meet," he said. "I knew I had to go out there and work hard." Russell's time of 20:24 was just over two seconds behind the first place finisher.

The invitational was held at the Albany State campus and featured teams from RPI, Siena College, and Union College. Russell was the only Albany State runner to finish in the top five.

"I think we have a good chance of winning the meet," Russell said. "We have a few runners who can run with the best in the conference." Russell's performance could be a good sign for Albany State's chances in upcoming meets.

By Dean Chang

On Friday night, the Danes women's cross-country team took on the Capital District meet. "I think we have a good chance of winning," said Coach Raymond Munsey.

The meet was held at the Hamilton College campus and featured teams from RPI, Siena College, and Union College. Munsey was confident that his team could hold their own against the other schools.

"I think we have a good chance of winning the meet," Munsey said. "We have a few runners who can run with the best in the conference." Munsey's performance could be a good sign for Albany State's chances in upcoming meets.

By Dean Chang

On Saturday, the Danes men's cross-country team took on the Capital District meet. "I think we have a good chance of winning," said Coach Raymond Munsey.

The meet was held at the Hamilton College campus and featured teams from RPI, Siena College, and Union College. Munsey was confident that his team could hold their own against the other schools.

"I think we have a good chance of winning the meet," Munsey said. "We have a few runners who can run with the best in the conference." Munsey's performance could be a good sign for Albany State's chances in upcoming meets.